(c) Butterfat differential. Each handler shall, in making payments to each producer for milk received from him, add for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content above 3.7 percent, or deduct for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content below 3.7 percent, an amount per hundredweight which shall be calculated by the market administrator as follows: divide by 33.48 the weighted average price per 40-quart can of 40 percent bottling quality cream in the Boston market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the period between the 16th day of the preceding month and the 15th day, inclusive, of the delivery period during which such milk is delivered, subtract 1.5 cents, divide the result by 10: [Provided, That if no such cream price is reported, multiply the average price reported for such period by the United States Department of Agriculture for 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market by 1.4 subtract 1.5 cents, and divide the result by 10].

(d) Country receiving plant and freight differential. The payments to be made by handlers, pursuant to (a) of this section, for milk delivered by producers at a receiving plant located 20 miles or more from the city hall in Lowell or Lawrence, shall be subject to a deduction of 13 cents plus the average of the lowest freight rates from the railroad shipping point for such handler's plant to Lowell and Lawrence, according to the tariff currently approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the transportation in carload lots of milk in 40-quart cans (considering 85 pounds of milk per 40-quart can).

(e) Statement to producers. In making the payments required by this section, each handler shall furnish each producer with a supporting statement in such form that is may be retained by the producer, which shall show:

(1) The delivery period, and the identity of the handler and of the producer;

(2) The total pounds and average butterfat test of milk delivered by the producer;

(3) The minimum rate or rates at which payment to the producer is required under the provisions of (a), (c), and (d) of this section;

(4) The rate which is used in making the payment, if such rate is other than the applicable minimum rate;

(5) The amount or the rate per hundredweight of each deduction claimed by the handler, including any deductions claimed under § 934.11, together with a description of the respective deductions; and

(6) The net amount of payment to the producer.

§ 934.11 Marketing service—(a) Marketing service deduction. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 934.10, each handler shall, with respect to all milk delivered by each producer during each delivery period, except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, deduct 3 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the market administrator shall determine to be sufficient, and shall, on or before the 18th day after the end of such delivery period, pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator only in providing for market information to, and for verification of weights, samples, and tests of milk delivered by, such producer. The market administrator may contract with an association or associations of producers for the furnishing of the whole or any part of such services to, or with respect to the milk delivered by, such producers.

(b) Marketing service deductions with respect to members of a producers' cooperative association. In the case of producers who are members of an association of producers which is actually performing the services set forth in (a) of this section, each handler shall, in lieu of the deductions specified in (a) of this section, make such deductions from payments made pursuant to § 934.10 as may be authorized by such producers and pay over, on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, such deduction to such associations.

§ 934.12 Expense of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration hereof, each handler, except as set forth in § 934.8 (a), shall, on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, pay to the market administrator 4 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the market administrator shall determine to be sufficient, with respect to all milk received by him during such delivery period, from producers and from his own production, except that this assessment shall not be deemed to duplicate any amount paid to the market administrator under a separate agreement by the Massachusetts Milk Control Board for cost of administration.

(b) Suits by the market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of expense set forth in this section.

§ 934.13 Effective time, suspension and termination of order—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof or any amendments hereto shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Termination of order. The Secretary may terminate this order whenever he finds that this order obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

This order shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handlers, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, (i) shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (iii) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 904.15 Agents. [The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States, or name any bureau or division of the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.]

APPENDIX

Simplification of presentations. In order to conserve time and avoid expense and travel, as well as the inconvenience of attendance on the hearing in a congested city, it is strongly urged that persons finding themselves with common interests in the proceeding shall, to the greatest possible extent, endeavor to consolidate their presentation of testimony, and arrange for cross-examination by as few counsel as possible. The same course should be followed upon oral argument. All persons who can do so should tender verified statements in lieu of appearing personally.

Exhibits. In the preparation of exhibits Rule 84 of the Rules of Practice should be followed. If possible, all documents submitted by a witness should be embraced in a single exhibit, with pages consecutively numbered, suitably indexed and bound together. In order to supply the State Commissions, members of this Commission and counsel in the proceeding, at least 150 copies of each exhibit should be prepared. Parties will be expected to distribute copies of their exhibits reasonably in advance of their presentation at the hearing.

Prepared statements. Witnesses who expect to read from a written statement must comply with Rule 77 of the Rules of Practice.

Verified statements (affidavits). Evidence in the form of verified statements (affidavits) without personal appearance of the affiant as a witness will be received in the absence of objection as hereinafter specified. Parties desiring to offer such statements should send the original and 15 copies to the Commission at its office, Washington, D. C., 50 copies to John E. Benton, General Counsel, for the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners, New Post Office Building, Washington, D. C., for the use of the State Commissions, and 25 copies to R. V. Fletcher, Counsel for the applicants, Transportation Building, Washington, D. C., on or before January 26, 1943. Copies of such statements must also be furnished to any other interested parties who specifically request them. Any objection to the receipt in evidence of any verified statement must be made on the record at the hearing, and the parties submitting such statements should be so advised prior to the end of the first session of the further hearing. If no such notice of objection to a particular statement is given, it will be considered that objection thereto is waived, subject to the reserved right of objection to the weight to be accorded the statement.

Such statements should conform to Rule 15 of the Rules of Practice in respect of style, mimeographing, printing, etc. They should be limited strictly to statements of fact, and should contain no argument, and if not so limited may be excluded. The Commission on its own motion or on objection may exclude a verified statement or any portion thereof which (a) is not material or relevant to the questions presented on further hearing, (b) is obviously incompetent, or (c) is argumentative in character. In the absence of objection to the introduction of the verified statement it will be unnecessary for the affiant to appear personally at the hearing. All verified statements received in evidence will be part of the record upon which the Commission will base its decision.

Notice of intention to introduce testimony. Persons who desire to be heard will facilitate the arrangements necessary by sending notice to the Commission at Washington of their intention, so as to reach the Commission on or before January 29, 1943, which shall state the number of witnesses, and the approximate amount of time necessary to the presentation of direct testimony. If such notices are given generally and sufficiently in advance, the Commission will endeavor to program the testimony so that witnesses may know on what day their testimony may be given.

Request to produce certain testimony and to discuss the same in argument. The Commission requests the applicants and other parties in the presentation of evidence and argument on further hearing to discuss the desirability, feasibility, and legality of a requirement that the revenue received by them from the authorized increases in rates, fares, and charges, heretofore or hereafter made, shall be kept separate from other operating income of applicants, and be expended solely for additions and betterments to the operating plant or for the reduction of funded or unfunded debt.

M. ROTHSCHILD AND CO.

ORDER DENYING PETITION

Order No. 2 under § 1375.9 (c) of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

On November 7, 1942, M. Rothschild & Co., New York, New York, filed a petition for relief from § 1375.9 (c) of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, pursuant to the provisions of that section.

The petitioner sells to a distributor in Brazil and invoices directly to the distributor's buyers, who are private firms or individuals, at the distributor's selling prices. This practice permits of easy evasion of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, and makes impossible its enforcement unless certain safeguards are present. These safeguards are not present in the instant case. Petitioner presents no special circumstance in his case sufficient to justify an exception without the presence of these safeguards. Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, it is hereby ordered that the petition be denied.

Issued and effective this 7th day of January 1943.

LEON HENDERSON,
Administrator.

Chapter XI—Food Distribution Administration

PART 1450—TOBACCO

ALLOCATIONS OF 1942 CROP BURLEY TOBACCO

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 4 dated January 7, 1943, issued under the authority of Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to effectuate the purposes of those orders, It is hereby ordered, as follows:

§ 1450.2 1942 crop burley tobacco, allocation and regulations—(a) Meaning of words. Words in this section in the singular form shall be deemed to import the plural and vice versa as the case may demand.

(b) Definitions. When used in this order the terms as defined in Food Distribution Order No. 4,[1] shall have the same meaning. In addition and except as may be provided otherwise herein:

(1) "Dealer" means any person other than a manufacturer who buys and sells leaf tobacco.

(2) "Tobacco" means "burley tobacco" (tobacco of Type 31), as defined in Food Distribution Order No. 4.

(c) Allocations—(1) Manufacturers. Any manufacturer is authorized to purchase or otherwise acquire tobacco of the 1942 crop, in an amount which shall not exceed 90 percent of the average number of pounds purchased or otherwise acquired by him (including acquisitions of predecessors in interest) of the crops of 1939, 1940, and 1941: Provided, That no manufacturer may purchase on auction markets or from producers, either directly or through dealers with whom he places buying orders, an amount of 1942 crop tobacco which shall exceed 90 percent of the average number of pounds of tobacco so purchased by him annually of the crops of 1939, 1940, and 1941, computed according to the number of years, if less than three, during which he made such purchases, less the total pounds of tobacco of the 1942 crop purchased or acquired by him prior to the effective date of this order.

(2) Dealer. Any dealer may purchase for his own account on auction markets or from producers, 1942 crop tobacco in an amount which will not exceed his average annual purchases of tobacco for his own account by the same methods of the crops of 1939, 1940, and 1941, computed according to the number of years, if less than three, during which he made such purchases: Provided, That dealers, who are now engaged in buying and selling tobacco, but who were not so engaged during the marketing of the 1939, 1940, and 1941 crops of tobacco, who have the organization and facilities to purchase and pack tobacco, may apply to the Director for relief by way of specific allocation under the provisions of § 1450.1 (c), of the Food Distribution Order No. 4.

(3) Purchases of tobacco of the 1939, 1940, and 1941 crops resold at auction shall not be included in the computation of the amount authorized to be acquired under allocations.

(4) The execution of manufacturer's buying orders by dealers are not purchases for the dealer's own account and are chargeable to the manufacturer's allocation hereunder.

(5) Conversion to undried basis. The poundage figures used in computing allocations shall be reduced to an undried (green weight) basis. Tobacco in the steamdried or airdried condition and in unstemmed form shall be converted to the undried basis by multiplying the number of pounds by the factor 1.11. Tobacco in the steamdried or airdried condition and in stemmed form shall be converted to the undried basis by multiplying the number of pounds by the factor 1.48.

(6) Modification and amendment. Allocations as set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) are subject to amendment or modification by supplemental order.

(d) Reports. Every manufacturer and dealer to whom this order applies shall:

(1) Within ten days from the effective date of this order submit a report to the Director showing his purchases from the 1939, 1940, and 1941 crops of tobacco, including the manner of acquisition (i. e. at auction, from dealers, from producers), together with a statement of his computations with respect to the number of pounds of the 1942 crop of tobacco that he may acquire under this order.

(2) File a report with the Director within ten days after the close of the tobacco auction marketing season showing the total amount of tobacco purchased on auction markets or from producers. (Reporting Requirement approved Bureau of the Budget No. 40-ST 022-43)

(e) Provisions incorporated by reference. The provisions of Food Distribution Order No. 4 with respect to reports and records, audits and inspections, petitions for relief from hardship, and violations shall apply to persons to whom this order applies with the same force and effect as if set forth herein.

(f) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref: FD-4.1.

(g) Effective date. This order shall be effective as of the date of its issuance.

They shall also maintain currently records of the brands, marks, and other identifying characteristics of livestock located in the State from which such agency or association will operate, and with reference to which the authorization has been granted.

§ 201.84 Fees; deduction and accounting. Persons registered as market agencies selling livestock on a commission basis, at stockyards where an agency or association has been authorized under the provisions of section 317 (a) of the Act to collect a reasonable fee for the inspection of brands, marks, and other identifying characteristics of livestock shall deduct from the proceeds of the sale of such livestock on which such inspection has been performed, the fee as set forth in the tariffs filed by the agency or association and in effect at the time the services are rendered, and shall pay over to the authorized agency or association the amount of such fees. Said market agencies in accounting to the owner or consignor of the livestock on which such fees are collected shall clearly show the amounts deducted from the proceeds for the payment of such fees and the purpose for which the payments are being made. All other persons receiving at posted stockyards livestock which is subject to inspection by an agency or association which has been authorized under the provisions of section 317 (a) of the Act to collect a reasonable fee for the inspection of brands, marks, and other identifying characteristics of livestock, shall pay, upon demand, to such agency or association the fees authorized by the Act to be assessed and collected.

§ 201.85 Inspections; reciprocal arrangements by authorized agencies or associations. An authorized agency or association may make arrangements with an association or associations in the same or in another State, where branding or marking livestock prevails by custom or statute, to perform inspection service at posted markets on such terms and conditions as may be approved by the Director: Provided, Such arrangements will tend to further the purposes of the Act and shall not result in duplication of charges or services.

§ 201.86 Maintenance of identity of consignments; inspection to be expedited. All persons having custody of livestock subject to inspection shall make it available to the inspection agency authorized under the Act in such manner as to preserve the identity of the consignment until inspection has been completed. Agencies authorized to conduct such inspection shall perform the work as soon after receipt of the livestock as practicable and as rapidly as is reasonably possible in order to prevent delay in marketing, shrinkage in weight or other avoidable losses.

§ 201.87 Existing contracts between authorized agencies; recognition and continuation. The provisions of existing contracts between agencies authorized to collect fees and market agencies engaged in selling livestock on a commission basis, with reference to disposition of proceeds arising from the sale of livestock as to which ownership has been questioned, shall not be affected by these regulations to the extent that such contracts contain no provisions which are in conflict with the law or these regulations. Copies of all such contracts shall be filed promptly with the Director at Washington, D. C.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS AND ADDITIONS

The following amendments and additions to the regulations contained in Part 81 are hereby prescribed. These regulations are also contained in War Department Procurement Regulations dated September 5, 1942,[1] as amended by changes No. 9, December 16, 1942.[2] In section numbers the figures to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective paragraph numbers in the procurement regulations.

MISCELLANEOUS PROHIBITIONS

The section headnote of § 81.110 is amended to read as follows:

§ 81.110 Prohibition against use of troop labor. * * *

NEGOTIATED PURCHASES

Paragraph (g) is added to § 81.205 as follows:

§ 81.205 Special instructions. * * *

(g) Scheduling of deliveries. Overordering and improper scheduling of deliveries must be avoided in order to preclude the possibility of causing disruptions of industries. When orders are placed with manufacturers calling for immediate delivery of yearly requirements it necessitates a sudden increase in manpower and eventually leads to their being forced to close their plants for lack of orders. It is apparent that this practice of overordering and failing to schedule deliveries properly tends to disrupt the Army Supply Program by not having industry available and in production when and as needed. Existing contracts should be reviewed with a view to re-scheduling deliveries so that deliveries will be made only a short time in advance of the time that the supplies are actually needed, and deliveries under future contracts should be scheduled in the same manner.

AUTHORITY TO MAKE AWARDS, CONTRACTS, AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF; REQUIRED APPROVALS

Sections 81.308, 81.308a, and 81.308b are redesignated §§ 81.308a, 81.308b, and

[1] 7 F.R. 8082.

[2] For previous changes see 7 F.R. 8163, 9268, 9660, 10184, 10247, 10640 and 10906.

81.308c, respectively, and new §§ 81.308 and 81.308d are added as follows:

§ 81.308 Supplemental agreements and clauses prescribed by §§ 81.322 to 81.359. Except as otherwise specifically provided to the contrary in § 81.1206 or in any other paragraph of these procurement regulations, whenever any contract (either as originally drawn or as the same may have been modified, amended or supplemented) contains a provision covering the same subject matter as a clause prescribed by §§ 81.322 to 81.359, but in a form different from that therein prescribed, it will not be necessary, in executing any supplemental agreement or change order in connection with said contract, to amend such provision either with respect to the items which are the subject of the contract or with respect to the items which are the subject of the supplemental agreement or change order.

§ 81.308a Supplemental agreements and change orders not involving receipt of consideration. * * *

§ 81.308b Correction of mistakes. * * *

§ 81.308c Contracts or supplemental agreements providing for advance payments. * * *

§ 81.308d Ratification of prior action. In any case where an existing War Department contract or any section of these procurement regulations requires that any action affecting a War Department contract be approved by a contracting officer, chief of a supply service or other representative of the War Department in advance of the taking of such action or that it be so approved in writing by such officer or representative of the War Department after such action has been taken or after such stated time, such action may be ratified in writing by such officer or representative of the War Department after such action has been taken or after such stated time. Such ratification will take effect retroactively as of the date specified in the written instrument of ratification. In general, cases which are appropriate for the exercise of the authority contained in this section will fall into one of two categories, namely: (a) cases where, in the interest of expediting production and without obtaining the requisite prior approvals, action has been taken in reliance in good faith upon assurances of a person in authority, or (b) cases where the action taken without such assurances was of a nature which would have been approved had approval been sought seasonably. The prosecution of the war will be facilitated by the liberal use of the authority contained in this section.

FORMALITIES IN CONNECTION WITH EXECUTION OF CONTRACTS AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF

Section 81.314 (d) is amended as follows:

§ 81.314 Consent of sureties to modifications. * * *

(d) Examination of consents of sureties. The original of each consent of surety required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, together with the original signed number of the supplemental agreement or change order to which it relates will be forwarded through the Judge Advocate General to the General Accounting Office. The Judge Advocate General will examine the consent of surety as to form, execution and legal sufficiency and will then forward it together with the supplemental agreement or change order to the General Accounting Office for filing.

* * * * *

DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACTS AND ORDERS THEREUNDER

Section 81.318 (a) is amended as follows:

§ 81.318 Special cases—(a) Purchases under contracts of Procurement Division, Treasury Department; Navy Department; Post Office Department; etc. (1) Purchase orders covering such purchases will be distributed in accordance with § 81.317.

(2) The chief of the supply service concerned will secure compliance with all special instructions of the respective agencies which make the contracts.

(3) Vouchers submitted to the General Accounting Office may relate to less than all of the items covered by the purchase order.

* * * * *

MANDATORY AND OPTIONAL CONTRACT PROVISIONS

Clause (f) of the "Advance Payments" clause quoted in § 81.347 is amended as follows:

§ 81.347 Advance payments with interest. * * *

(f) On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half per cent per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor; credits arising from deductions from payments to the contractor under this contract shall be made as of the dates the checks for such payments are drawn, and credits arising from cash repayments to the Government by the Contractor shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made, the interest so determined shall be deducted from the payments otherwise due to contractor under this contract: Provided, however, That in no event shall deductions on account of interest exceed five per cent (5%) of the gross payment due the contractor prior to any deduction under this paragraph or paragraph (e) or any other provisions of this contract. In the event the accrued interest exceeds such five per cent, the excess of such interest shall be carried forward and deducted from subsequent payments. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) hereof, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract for other than the fault of the contractor, or upon the date found by the Contracting Officer to be the date upon which the contractor completed his performance under the contract.

* * * * *

Section 81.348 is amended as follows:

§ 81.348 Advance payments without interest. A clause substantially as follows will be included in fixed price contracts when it is contemplated that advance payments without interest will be made thereon:

* * * * *

Section 81.349 is added as follows:

§ 81.349 Advance payments; additional provision. The following sentences may be inserted immediately following the second sentence of clause (c) of the Advance Payments Articles set forth in §§ 81.347 and 81.348 when (a) a contractor has more than one contract with the supply service concerned and segregation of materials and separate accounting between the contracts are difficult or impracticable and (b) the contracts to be included within the pooling arrangement run concurrently or substantially overlap each other in time of performance:

When so authorized in writing by the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, funds received as advance payments under this contract and any other contract or contracts now in existence or hereafter entered into between the _____ _____ and the Contractor, together with any or all payments under this contract and such other contracts which are required to be deposited in a special account, may be considered to be a single revolving fund which may be used by the Contractor for the purposes of any or all of said contracts without regard to the origin of such funds. In such event, any provision of this contract inconsistent with the foregoing provisions shall be automatically modified accordingly.
(Chief of supply service)

Under like circumstances a similar insertion may be made after the second sentences of Article 3 of War Department Contract Forms Numbers 20 and 23. (See §§ 81.1320 and 81.1323.)

PROCUREMENT RESPONSIBILITY AND PURCHASE RESPONSIBILITY

In § 81.604 paragraph (a) is rescinded, paragraph (b) is redesignated paragraph (c), and new paragraphs (a) and (b) are added as follows:

§ 81.604 Assignment of procurement and purchase responsibility. The Procurement and Assignment Board shall have authority, with the approval of the Director of Procurement, to assign procurement responsibility and purchase responsibility in regard to all items or classes of items. Such responsibilities for a specific item or class of items may be assigned to the same service or to different services. Appendix I to these regulations contains a list of items and classes of items, for which procurement and purchase responsibility have been assigned by the Procurement Assignment Board. Additions to and changes in this list will be made from time to time. Procurement responsibility and purchase responsibility for a given item or class of items will remain with the service or services exercising such responsibilities unless and until otherwise assigned by the Board.

(a) In any given transaction, purchase of any item may be effected by a service other than the service having purchase responsibility: Provided, That either

(1) The item is required within a brief period of time and in the judgment of the service requiring the item cannot be provided in such time by the service having purchase responsibility for the item, or

(2) The service having purchase responsibility has first been consulted and has expressed its agreement.

In either case a report of the transaction should be made to the Procurement Assignment Board, Headquarters, Services of Supply, promptly after the completion of the transaction if the amount thereof exceeds $500.

(b) In any case where pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (1) or (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, a purchase is made by a service other than the service having purchase responsibility, the voucher submitted to the General Accounting Office will contain, or be accompanied by, a statement (1) indicating that the service having purchase responsibility was first consulted and expressed its agreement, or (2) giving the specific reasons why the time element made such purchase necessary, as the case may be. It is to be emphasized that when such purchase is to be justified on the basis of the time element, a mere conclusion is not sufficient but a full and complete statement giving the specific reasons why the time element made such purchase necessary should be furnished.

(c) The purpose of assigning purchase responsibility as a separate and distinct function is (1) to permit centralization of purchase or purchase control and thereby to eliminate competition among the several supply services purchasing from industry, (2) to secure for the War Department the advantages incident to mass buying, and (3) to facilitate the control of purchasing procedure in cases where War Production Board Limitation Orders affect the supply of raw material and manufactured articles. Responsibility for inspection and acceptance in regard to a particular item or class of items may be assumed by the service having procurement responsibility: Provided, Such procedure is agreed upon by the service having purchase responsibility in regard to such item or class of items.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL PURCHASES

In § 81.606 paragraph (a) is amended, paragraph (b) and (c) are redesignated paragraphs (c) and (d) respectively, and a new paragraph (b) is added as follows:

§ 81.606 Purchases under contracts of Procurement Division, Treasury Department—(a) Requirement. Purchases will be made from Contracts of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department (General Schedule of Supplies), when so directed by the chief of the supply service concerned or when required by the terms of the contracts unless the item can not be furnished under such contracts within the time that the item is required by the supply service concerned.

(b) Emergency purchases. In any case where pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section purchase of an item listed in the General Schedule of Supplies, is not made under a General Schedule of Supplies contract because the item could not be furnished under such a contract within the time that the item was required, the voucher submitted to the General Accounting Office will contain, or be accompanied by, a statement showing clearly that the time element made such purchase necessary. It is to be emphasized that a mere conclusion is not sufficient, but a full and complete statement giving the specific reasons why the time element made such purchase necessary should be furnished.

(c) Procedure. Chiefs of supply services are responsible for advising contracting officers as to the terms and conditions of all such contracts and as to whether purchases therefrom are mandatory.

(d) "Schedule of Stock Items". This publication of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department lists the items which are carried in stock in the warehouse of that Division in Washington, D. C., primarily to supply the needs in that city. Field agencies of the War Department will not place orders on the Procurement Division for items which are stocked in the warehouse in Washington, D. C., for shipment outside the District of Columbia. This publication should not be distributed to War Department field agencies outside of Washington, D. C.

STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

Section 81.810 is amended and § 81.810a is added as follows:

§ 81.810 Applicable tax directives. While the various state and local tax laws are not uniform in their application, as a general rule Government purchases are exempt from such taxes. Neither are such laws uniform in their application to purchases by Government contractors. Information will be published from time to time as to the procedure to be followed with regard to state and local taxes. Information already published is contained in a series of memoranda for the Chiefs of the Supply Services and others as follows:

Alabama, January 12, 1942 (past transactions); January 23, 1942 (future transactions) as amended June 12, 1942.

(a) Information as to the situation in other states or advice with respect to particular problems in the states listed above should be obtained from the Office of The Judge Advocate General by inquiry addressed to the attention of the Chief, Tax Division.

(b) The instructions contained in the memoranda listed above are modified by the provisions of § 81.810a (a) as they relate to the form of certificates required on invoices of subcontractors and suppliers under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts.

§ 81.810a Certificate of non-inclusion of state or local taxes in amounts billed. Where purchases of materials or services by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors are exempt from state or local taxes, the vendor's invoices, except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, should contain the following statement:

State or local sales, use and similar taxes are not included in the amounts billed.

Where purchases by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors are not exempt from state or local taxes the above statement may be omitted from vendor's invoices, but such taxes must be separately itemized.

(a) Tax provisions of purchase orders issued by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors may include in their purchase orders covering supplies or materials the following statement:

Any state or local sales, use, or similar tax, included in the amounts billed must be separately stated and itemized. It is understood, and the acceptance of this order shall constitute an agreement, that unless such taxes are separately stated and itemized, no such taxes are included in the amounts billed.

If this statement is included in the purchase order and if no state or local taxes are included in the amount billed to such cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor, the supplier of such supplies or materials need not include upon his invoice the statement quoted in § 81.810a that certain state or local taxes are not included in the amounts billed. However, even where the purchase order contains the statement quoted above in this paragraph, the invoice of the supplier under the purchase order must separately state and itemize all state or local sales, use or similar taxes which are in fact included in the price billed.

* * * * *

WAGE AND SALARY STABILIZATION

Section 81.977 is amended; paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) are redesignated §§ 81.977a, 81.977b, and 81.977c, respectively; and §§ 81.977d to 81.977kk are added as follows:

§ 81.977 Regulations of Commissioner of Internal Revenue. From time to time the Commissioner of Internal Revenue issues regulations, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, establishing procedures and rules for the administration and interpretations of such portions of Executive Order No. 9250 and of the regulations of the Economic Stabilization Director approved by the President on October 27, 1942 (§ 81.976 (p)) as are administered by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. These regulations are set forth in §§ 81.977a to 81.977kk.

§ 81.977a Salary Stabilization Unit (§ 1001.1). There is established a Salary Stabilization Unit, which shall be under the supervision of a deputy commissioner of internal revenue, appointed in accordance with law, and which shall be independent of all other units of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

§ 81.977b Authority of Unit (§ 1001.2) The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may confer upon the deputy commissioner in charge of the Salary Stabilization Unit such powers and duties as he shall deem necessary for the effective administration of the provisions of this Treasury decision.

§ 81.977c Regional offices (§ 1001.3). The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may establish such regional offices as he shall deem necessary for the effective administration of the provisions of this Treasury Decision.

§ 81.977d General terms (§ 1002.1). When used in these regulations unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(a) The term "Act" means the Act of October 2, 1942, (Public No. 729, 77th Congress) entitled "An Act to amend the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, to aid in preventing inflation, and for other purposes".

(b) The term "Board" means the National War Labor Board created by Executive Order No. 9017, dated January 12, 1942 (7 F.R. 237).

(c) The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(d) The term "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code, as amended and supplemented.

(e) The term "person" has the same meaning as when used in the Code.

(f) The term "General Regulations" means regulations (relating to wages and salaries) issued by the Economic Stabilization Director, approved by the President on October 27, 1942 (7 F.R. 8748), and as amended or supplemented by subsequent regulations issued by the Economic Stabilization Director relating to wages and salaries.

(g) The term "in contravention of the Act" means in contravention of the Act of October 2, 1942 (referred to in paragraph (a) above), Executive Order No. 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), the General Regulations, these regulations and other rulings and regulations promulgated under such Act.

§ 81.977e Employee and employer (§ 1002.2). An employee, for the purposes of these regulations, is an individual who performs services for compensation where the relationship between him and the person for whom he performs the services is the legal relationship of employee and employer. An employer is any person for whom an individual performs any services, of whatever nature, as the employee of such person. The term "employer" is not limited to private persons engaged in trade or business, but includes organizations which, under section 101 of the Code, are exempt from income taxation, and also government departments and agencies. The existence of the legal relationship of employer and employee is to be ascertained in the light of the general purposes of the Act and the General Regulations.

Generally, the legal relationship of employer and employee exists when the person for whom services are performed has the right to control and direct the individual who performs the services, not only as to the result to be accomplished by the work done, but also as to the details and means by which that result is accomplished. An employee is generally subject to the will and control of the employer not only as to what shall be done but how it shall be done. In this connection it is unnecessary that the employer actually direct or control the precise manner in which the services are performed; it is sufficient that he has the right to do so.

The right to discharge is also an important factor indicating that the person possessing that right is an employer.

Other factors characteristic of an employer, but not necessarily present in every case, are the furnishing of tools and the furnishing of a place to work to the individual who performs the services. In general, if an individual is subject to the control or direction of another merely as to the result to be accomplished by the work and not as to the means and methods for accomplishing the result, he is an independent contractor. An individual performing services as an independent contractor is not an employee as to such services. Physicians, lawyers, architects, contractors and others who follow an independent trade, business or profession in which they offer their services to the public are generally independent contractors and not employees. Whether the relationship of employer-employee exists will be determined upon an examination of the particular facts of each case.

If the relationship of employer and employee exists the designation or description of the relationship by the parties as anything other than that of employer and employee is immaterial. If such relationship exists, it is of no consequence that the employee is designated as a partner, co-adventurer, agent or independent contractor. The measurement, method, or designation of compensation is immaterial if the relationship of employer and employee thus in fact exists.

An officer of a corporation is an employee of the corporation but a director as such is not. A director may be an employee of the corporation, however, if he performs services for the corporation other than those required by attendance at and participation in meetings of the board of directors.

§ 81.977f Executive employees (§ 1002.3). An individual "employed in a bona fide executive capacity" means any employee:

(a) Whose primary duty consists of the management of the establishment in which he is employed or of a customarily recognized department or subdivision thereof, and

(b) Who customarily and regularly directs the work of other employees, and

(c) Who has the authority to hire or fire other employees or whose suggestions and recommendations as to the hiring or firing and as to the advancement and promotion or any change of status of other employees will be given particular weight, and

(d) Who customarily and regularly exercises discretionary powers, and

(e) Who is compensated for his services on a salary basis at not less than $30 per week (exclusive of board, lodging, or other facilities), and

(f) Whose hours of work of the same nature as that performed by employees not employed in an executive, administrative or professional capacity do not exceed 20 percent of the total number of hours worked in the workweek by the employees under his direction; Provided, That this paragraph (f) shall not apply in the case of an employee who is in sole charge of an independent establishment or a physically separated branch establishment.

§ 81.977g Administrative employees (§ 1002.4). An individual "employed in a bona fide administrative capacity" means any employee:

(a) Who is compensated for his services on a salary or fee basis at a rate of not less than $200 per month (exclusive of board, lodging, or other facilities), and

(b) (1) Who regularly and directly assists an employee in a bona fide executive or administrative capacity (as such terms are defined in these regulations), where such assistance is nonmanual in nature and requires the exercise of discretion and independent judgment; or

(2) Who performs under only general supervision, responsible nonmanual office or field work, directly related to management policies or general business operations, along specialized or technical lines requiring special training, experience, or knowledge, and which requires the exercise of discretion and independent judgment; or

(3) Whose work involves the execution under only general supervision of special nonmanual assignments and tasks directly related to management policies or general business operations involving the exercise of discretion and independent judgment; or

(4) Who is engaged in transporting goods or passengers for hire and who performs, under only general supervision, responsible outside work of a specialized or technical nature requiring special training, experience, or knowledge, and whose duties require the exercise of discretion and independent judgment.

§ 81.977h Professional employees (§ 1002.5). Any individual "employed in a bona fide professional capacity" means any employee who is:

(a) Engaged in work:

(1) Predominantly intellectual and varied in character as opposed to routine mental, manual, mechanical, or physical work, and

(2) Requiring the consistent exercise of discretion and judgment in its performance, and

(3) Of such a character that the output produced or the result accomplished cannot be standardized in relation to a given period of time, and

(4) Whose hours of work of the same nature as that performed by employees not employed in an executive, administrative or professional capacity do not exceed 20 percent of the hours worked in the workweek by such employees: Provided, That where such non-professional work is an essential part of and necessarily incident to work of a professional nature, this subparagraph (4) shall not apply, and

(5) (i) Requiring knowledge of an advanced type in a field of science or learning customarily acquired by a prolonged course of specialized intellectual instruction and study, as distinguished from a general academic education and from an apprenticeship, and from training in the performance of routine mental, manual, or physical processes; or

(ii) Predominantly original and creative in character in a recognized field of artistic endeavor as opposed to work which can be produced by a person endowed with general manual or intellectual ability and training, and the result of which depends primarily on the invention, imagination, or talent of the employee, and

(b) Compensated for his services on a salary or fee basis at a rate of not less than $200 per month (exclusive of board, lodging, or other facilities): Provided, That this paragraph (b) shall not apply in the case of an employee who is the holder of a valid license or certificate permitting the practice of law or medicine or any of their branches and who is actually engaged in the practice thereof.

§ 81.977i Salary payments (§ 1002.6). The terms "salary" and "salary payment" mean only such salaries over which the Commissioner has jurisdiction. (See § 1002.10 of these regulations.) These terms are not used in any restricted, narrow or technical sense, but encompass all forms of direct or indirect compensation for personal services of an employee which is computed on a weekly, monthly, annual or other basis, other than wages (as defined in the General Regulations and in orders or rulings of the Board). Bonuses, gifts, loans, commissions, fees, additional compensation and any other remuneration in any form or medium whatsoever are considered as falling within the concept of "salary" or "salary payment". Any compensation which is not regarded as wages in the commonly accepted sense of the term is salary notwithstanding that it may be computed on an hourly, daily or piecework basis.

Retainer fees paid to an individual, not otherwise an employee, are not to be considered as salary. Insurance and pension benefits in a reasonable amount (see § 1002.8) are likewise excluded from the terms "salary" and "salary payment".

Although the terms "salary" and "salary payment" do not include any compensation other than for personal services of an employee, the Commissioner is not precluded from determining, after investigation, that amounts denominated, for example, as rents or royalties are in fact salary payments subject to the controls set forth in these regulations.

All amounts paid to, authorized to be paid to, or accrued to the account of any employee during a calendar year for services rendered or to be rendered are to be included as salary for such year.

§ 81.977j Salary rate (§ 1002.7). The term "salary rate" means the rate or aggregate of rates or other basis at which the salary for any particular work or service is computed, either under the terms of a contract or agreement, express or implied, or in conformity with custom or usage existing in the employer's business establishment. (For treatment of commissions and bonuses on a percentage basis see § 1002.14.)

§ 81.977k Insurance and pension benefits (§ 1002.8). Compensation may include insurance and pension benefits. In determining the amount of salary of an employee, the insurance or pension benefit inuring to such employee is not measured by what he will be entitled to receive after the happening of certain contingencies, but rather in terms of the amount of contributions or premiums paid by the employer. To the extent that an insurance and pension benefit inuring to an employee is reasonable in amount, such benefit is not considered as salary as defined in § 1002.6.

Section 165 (a) of the Code sets forth the conditions under which a trust forming part of a stock bonus, pension or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries shall not be taxable for Federal income tax purposes. Contributions by an employer to an employee's trust or under an annuity plan, which trust or plan meets the exemption requirements of such section 165 (a) (as of the date the contributions are made), shall be considered as reasonable, regardless of the amount of such contributions. On the other hand, contributions by an employer to an employee's trust which is subject to Federal income taxation because it does not meet the requirements of such section 165 (a) shall be treated, for purposes of these regulations, as salary.

To the extent amounts paid by an employer on account of insurance premiums on a policy on the life of an employee are deductible by the employer in computing net income under the conditions set forth in section 23 (a) of the Code (relating to deductions for ordinary and necessary business expenses), such amounts are not considered as salary. The amount of insurance premiums that will be considered as falling outside the concept of salary cannot exceed the amount of such premiums deductible by the employer for Federal income tax purposes. If, however, such insurance premiums are includible in the gross income of the employee (for whose benefit the insurance has been taken out), as well as deductible by the employer, the amount which shall not be considered as salary in respect of such employee may not exceed 5 percent of the employee's annual salary determined without the inclusion of insurance and pension benefits.

The application of the preceding paragraph may be illustrated by the following examples. An employer having 20 salaried employees takes out life insurance policies on each of such employees in favor of beneficiaries designated by them. The premiums paid for 10 of the employees are in each instance 7 percent of the employee's annual salary (exclusive of insurance and pension benefits). As to the remaining 10 employees the premiums in each instance are 5 percent of the employee's annual salary (exclusive of insurance and pension benefits). It is assumed that with respect to each employee the premium paid would be includible in his gross income under the Code and would be deductible by the employer under section 23 (a) of the Code. As to the first 10 employees 2 percent of the premiums in each instance will be considered as salary, whereas no part of the premiums will be considered as salary in the case of the second group of employees. If, however, none of the premiums were deductible in computing the net income of the employer, then the entire amount of the premium in each instance would be considered as salary to the employee involved.

Premiums paid by an employer on policies of group life insurance without cash surrender value covering the lives of his employees, or on policies of group health or accident insurance, the beneficiaries of which are designated by such employees do not constitute salary (regardless of the amount of salary otherwise received annually by such employees) if such premiums are deductible by the employer under section 23 (a) of the Code.

§ 81.977l Approval by Commissioner (§ 1002.9). Wherever the terms "approval by the Commissioner" and "determination by the Commissioner" are used in these regulations they shall, except as otherwise provided, include an approval or determination by a regional officer of the Salary Stabilization Unit established by the Commissioner under Treasury Decision 5176, which officer is authorized to make such determination. If an approval or determination made by such regional officer is subsequently modified or reversed by the Commissioner such approval or determination shall be deemed to have been continuously in effect from its original date until the first day of the payroll period following reversal or modification, or until such later date as the Commissioner may provide in his ruling.

To illustrate, an employer obtains the approval of a regional officer of the Salary Stabilization Unit that a proposed increase in certain salaries is permissible. The approval is given on January 2, 1943, and the salary increase is to become effective January 15, 1943. On March 15, 1943, the Commissioner determines that the salary increase was not proper and reverses the approval given by the regional officer. The Commissioner provides in his ruling that the increase in salary shall be discontinued after March 31, 1943. For purposes of these regulations, no part of the salary for the period between January 15 and March 31 shall be considered to have been in contravention of the Act.

§ 81.977m Amount of salary payment (§ 1002.10). (a) The General Regulations provided that the Commissioner shall have authority to determine, under regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, whether salary payments are made in contravention of the Act. The Commissioner's jurisdiction is confined to:

(1) Salary payments in excess of $5,000 per annum, in the case of individuals employed in any capacity whatsoever; and

(2) Salary payments of $5,000 or less per annum, in the case of individuals (i) who are employed in bona fide executive, administrative or professional capacities, and (ii) who, in their relations with their employer, are not represented by duly recognized or certified labor organizations, and (iii) whose services are not within the meaning of "agricultural labor" as defined in paragraph (l) of § 4001.1 of the General Regulations.

Other salary payments are subject either to the jurisdiction of the Board or the Secretary of Agriculture, as prescribed in the General Regulations. If, for example, a salary is to be increased from $4500 per annum to $5200 per annum (and subparagraph (2) is inapplicable), approval of such increase, if required, must be obtained from the Board.

§ 81.977n Conclusiveness of determination (§ 1002.11). (a) Any determination by the Commissioner that a salary payment is in contravention of the Act is conclusive in every respect upon all executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government for the following purposes:

(1) Determining costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, or any maximum price regulation thereunder;

(2) Calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States; or

(3) Determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States.

(b) Any such determination of the Commissioner is final and not subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings. Nothing herein is intended, however, to deny the right of any employer or employee to contest in The Tax Court of the United States or in any court of competent jurisdiction the validity of:

(1) Any provision of these regulations, on the ground such provision is not authorized by law, or

(2) Any action taken or determination made under these regulations, on the ground that such action or determination is not authorized, or has not been taken or made in a manner required, by law.

(c) No increase in salary rate shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

§ 81.977o Geographical scope (§ 1002.12). The provisions of these regulations shall not apply to salaries in any Territory or possession of the United States, except Alaska and Hawaii.

§ 81.977p Commissioner's approval required (§ 1002.13). Section 1 of the Act provides in effect that salaries, so far as practicable, shall be stabilized at the levels which existed on September 15, 1942. In the case of a salary rate of $5,000 or less per annum existing on October 27, 1942, or established thereafter in compliance with these regulations, and in the case of a salary rate of more than $5,000 per annum existing on October 3, 1942, or established thereafter in compliance with these regulations, no increase shall be made by the employer, except as provided in § 1002.14, without prior approval of such increase by the Commissioner. Any salary increase made before the required approval of the Commissioner is obtained is from the date of such increase in contravention of the Act. (See §§ 1002.28 and 1002.29 for the consequences of a salary payment made in contravention of the Act.) The Commissioner may, however, approve an increase in salary rate to be effective as of the date of the application for approval.

The burden of justifying an increase in salary rate shall in every instance be upon the employer seeking to make such increase. Increases in salary rates will not be approved unless necessary to correct maladjustments or inequalities, or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war. A promise made by an employer to his employees prior to October 3, 1942 that salaries would be increased in the future is generally to be ignored in determining whether an increase after that date should be approved. The same rule is applicable with respect to a promise made by an employer prior to October 27, 1942, in the case of employees whose salary rates are $5,000 or less per annum. A salary increase, however, may be approved, as to salaries below $5,000 per annum, if to deny such increase would be to force the continuation of a salary which is below the general level existing for the same or comparable work in the local area on September 15, 1942.

An employer who has established a new job classification, or who has begun business, after October 3, 1942, must obtain approval of the Commissioner for the payment of salaries for such job classification or in such new business: Provided, however, That if the salary rates in question are not in excess of those prevailing for similar job classifications within the local area, the approval of the Commissioner is not required. An increase in a salary rate for a job classification established after October 3, 1942, shall be subject to the limitations provided in this Subpart.

A mere change in the name, organization, or financial structure of an employer, whether such employer be an individual, partnership or corporation, will not in itself be sufficient for a finding that, for the purposes of these regulations, a new business has been begun or new job classification established after such change.

Any change in a salary rate, regardless of its effective date, which results from an award or decision of an arbitrator or referee made after October 3, 1942, in the case of salaries of more than $5,000 per annum, and after October 27, 1942 in the case of salaries of $5,000 or less per annum, is subject to the provisions of these regulations notwithstanding that the agreement or order for arbitration or reference was made on or before October 3, 1942 or October 27, 1942, as the case may be.

Unless otherwise expressly exempted, any change in a salary rate, provided for in any agreement existing as of October 3, 1942 in the case of salaries of more than $5,000 per annum, or as of October 27, 1942 in the case of salaries of $5,000 or less per annum, which is to take effect at some future date or on the happening of some future event, is subject to the provisions of these regulations regardless of when the agreement was made.

Payment for overtime will constitute an increase in salary rate, and thus will require the approval of the Commissioner, unless the customary practice of the employer has been to pay for overtime, and the rate has not been changed.

Except as may be otherwise provided from time to time by the Commissioner, an application for the approval of a salary increase shall be filed by the employer with the regional office of the Salary Stabilization Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in whose territorial jurisdiction the main office or principal place of business of the employer is located. Such application shall be filed on forms prescribed by the Commissioner and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner.

§ 81.977q Commissioner's approval not required (§ 1002.14). The Commissioner's approval is not required where an increase in salary rate is made in accordance with the terms of a salary agreement or salary rate schedule in effect on October 3, 1942, or approved thereafter by the Commissioner, and is a result of:

(1) Individual promotions or reclassifications,

(2) Individual merit increases within established salary rate ranges,

(3) Operation of an established plan of salary increases based on length of service,

(4) Increased productivity under incentive plans,

(5) Operation of a trainee system, or

(6) Such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed in rulings or regulations promulgated by the Commissioner from time to time.

For purposes of this section, the term "salary agreement" or "salary rate schedule" may include a salary policy in effect on October 3, 1942, even though not evidenced by written contracts or written rate schedules. For example, a salary policy may be determined from previous payroll records or other payroll data. The existence of such policy, however, must be established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, and the burden of proof rests upon the employer. In such cases, the employer in advance of making an increase in salary rate may reduce the salary policy to writing and secure approval thereof by the Commissioner.

A bonus or other form of additional compensation which does not exceed in amount the bonus or other additional compensation to such employee for the last bonus year ending before October 3, 1942 does not require approval by the Commissioner. In addition a bonus based upon a fixed percentage of salary where the percentage has not been changed, does not require approval by the Commissioner even though the amount may be increased due to an authorized increase in salary. Any other bonus or other form of additional compensation, requires approval by the Commissioner. Where the compensation, or part thereof, is paid on a commission basis and is based upon a fixed percentage (which has not been changed) of sales made by the employee, a payment does not require approval by the Commissioner even though the amount may represent an increase due to increased sales by the employee. (See, however, Subpart F of these regulations.)

The provisions of this section may be illustrated as follows:

(1) The X Corporation began business in 1940. As of July 1, 1942, pursuant to a corporate resolution duly passed in January 1942, all of its salaried employees received more than $5,000 per annum. No approval of the Commissioner is required to increase the salary of an employee who is promoted in November 1942 from a salesman to general manager and who receives a salary within the salary range paid previously to individuals occupying the position of general manager.

(2) The X Corporation in December 1942 wishes to establish a new salary rate schedule raising the level of compensation of all its salaried employees. Approval by the Commissioner of such schedule is required. Assuming that such approval has been obtained, further approval by the Commissioner of any adjustment under such schedule coming within this section is not required.

(3) The Y Corporation begins business on November 1, 1942. The salaries paid by it to its employees are commensurate with salaries paid by other emplcyers in comparable businesses in the same local area. Payment of such salaries does not require the approval of the Commissioner. Any increase in salary rates, however, requires the approval of the Commissioner.

(4) The M Corporation, which has manufactured furniture since 1925, is reorganized in November 1942 and emerges from the reorganization proceedings as the N Corporation. There is no change in the nature of the business although there is a substantial alteration in the financial structure of the company. The N Corporation is not to be treated as a new employer beginning business after October 27, 1942. Consequently, any general increase in salaries over and above those paid by the M Corporation requires the prior approval of the Commissioner.

(5) Employees of the Z Corporation have customarily received a bonus of 5 percent of their annual salary at the end of each calendar year. If, for example, one of the employees received $6,000 in 1941 but received salary of $7,000 in 1942 due to a salary increase on July 1, 1942, a bonus of $350 may be paid to him for 1942 without prior approval of the Commissioner, notwithstanding that his bonus for 1941 was only $300.

§ 81.977r Salaries under $5,000 (§ 1002.15). In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, or established thereafter in compliance with these regulations, under which an employee is paid a salary of less than $5,000 per annum for any particular work, the general rule is that no decrease can be made by the employer in such salary rate below the highest salary paid for such work in the local area between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942. A decrease is permitted, however, with the approval of the Commissioner, in order to correct a gross inequity in any case or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war. Where such decrease is permitted the salary rate may be reduced below the highest salary rate paid for the work in question between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942. Except as otherwise provided in this section, any decrease in such salary rate after October 3, 1942 shall be considered in contravention of the Act if it is made prior to the approval thereof by the Commissioner.

Except as may be otherwise provided from time to time by the Commissioner, an application for approval of any salary decrease shall be filed in the same manner as in the case of an application for approval of a salary increase. (See § 1002.13 of these regulations.)

The Commissioner's approval is not required, for example, in the following cases where salary decreases are made after October 3, 1942.

(1) The new salary rate does not fall below the highest salary rate existing between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942 for the particular work in question or for the same or comparable work in the local area.

(2) An employee has been demoted to a lower position than that filled by him between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942 and the salary rate for such lower position is not less than the highest salary rate existing for that position during the same period.

(3) An employee has been relieved of substantial duties and responsibilities.

A disparity between salaries paid by a particular employer and those paid by employers generally in the local area does not necessarily constitute justification for decrease in salary rates paid by such employer.

§ 81.977s Salaries over $5,000 (§ 1002.16). In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, or established thereafter in compliance with these regulations, under which an employee is paid a salary of more than $5,000 per annum, the employer is permitted to make, without approval by the Commissioner, a decrease to a rate not less than $5,000 per annum. If, however, by virtue of a decrease the new salary paid to the employee is less than $5,000 per annum, then the decrease below $5,000 per annum is subject to the limitations of § 1002.15 of these regulations. To the extent that prior approval by the Commissioner of a decrease is not required under § 1002.15 or this section, such decrease shall not be considered as being in contravention of the Act.

§ 81.977t State and local employees (§ 1002.17). An adjustment in salaries (not fixed by statute, see § 1002.32) may be made by a State, or any political subdivision thereof, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any of the foregoing, on certification to the Commissioner that such adjustment is necessary to correct maladjustments, or to correct inequalities or gross inequities. The certification procedure shall not apply to any adjustment which would not otherwise require the Commissioner's approval or which would raise salaries beyond the prevailing level of compensation for similar services in the area or community. A certificate by the official or agency authorizing the adjustment stating the nature and amount of such adjustment, and briefly setting forth the facts meeting the foregoing requirement, will be accepted by the Commissioner as sufficient evidence of the propriety of the adjustment, subject to review by the Commissioner. Modification by the Commissioner of adjustments made by a governmental official or agency acting pursuant hereto shall not be retroactive.

In exceptional cases where such an adjustment is sought, and in all cases where the agency seeks an adjustment other than by the certification procedure, application for approval shall be filed with the appropriate regional office of the Salary Stabilization Unit.

§ 81.977u Basic allowance (§ 1002.18). In addition to setting forth limitations on increases and decreases in salary rates, the General Regulations provide a ceiling on the amount of salary which may be paid to any employee during a calendar year. The general rule is that no amount of salary may be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the calendar year 1942, and in each succeeding calendar year, which, after reduction by the Federal income taxes on the amount of such salary, computed as below without regard to other income and without regard to deductions or credits, would exceed $25,000. Additional allowances of salary which may be permitted in certain circumstances are described in §§ 1002.19 to 1002.22 inclusive.

The amount of Federal income taxes referred to in the preceding paragraph shall be determined:

(1) By applying to the total amount of salary (but not including any amounts allowable under § 1002.19 to 1002.22, inclusive, of these regulations) paid or accrued during the calendar year in question, undiminished by any deductions, the rates of taxes imposed by Chapter 1 of the Code (except section 466 thereof relating to withholding) as if such total amount of salary were the net income (after the allowance of the appropriate credits), the surtax net income, and the Victory tax net income, respectively; and

(2) Without further allowance of any other credits against any of such taxes.

Assume that the rates imposed under Chapter 1 of the Code, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, are applicable with respect to the calendar year 1943. Under the formula described in the preceding paragraph, the basic allowance of salary for 1943 (which after reduction by the Federal income taxes would yield $25,000) is $67,200. This latter amount is the maximum amount of salary which an employee would be permitted to receive for 1943, Provided, He is not entitled to further allowances under §§ 1002.19 to 1002.22, inclusive. If the rates of Federal income tax applicable for 1943 should be increased above those now existing in the Code for 1942, the basic allowance of salary will be an amount greater than $67,200.

The basic allowance of salary as described in this section represents an amount against which the appropriate tax rates are applied and remains the same regardless of whether the employee is married or single or of the number of his dependents, if any. It is likewise unaffected by the nature or amount of his other income (taxable or exempt) or by the extent of his deductions allowable for tax purposes generally.

For purposes of this Subpart an amount of salary, in addition to the basic allowance of salary, will be permitted for any expenses paid or incurred by an employee which are ordinary and necessary for the performance of the services for which the employee is compensated. No such additional amount, however, shall be permitted for expenses which would not be deductible in computing individual Federal income taxes.

§ 81.977v Charitable contributions (§ 1002.19).

An amount of salary, in addition to the basic allowance of salary described in §1002.18, will be permitted in certain circumstances to allow an employee to maintain his customary contributions to charitable, educational or other organizations described in section 23 (o) of the Code. Such additional amount of salary will be permitted if the employee established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that after resorting to his other income from all sources he would suffer undue hardship in maintaining his customary contributions out of the basic allowance of salary described in the preceding section.

For purposes of this section and §§ 1002.20, 1002.21, and 1002.22, "income from all sources" includes income which is exempt under the Federal income tax laws.

What constitutes "undue hardship" for purposes of this section and §§ 1002.20, 1002.21, and 1002.22, is dependent upon all the circumstances in each case.

Contributions may be customary within the meaning of this section even though in the particular year in question the organizations to which the contributions are made are different from those to whom contributions were made in previous years.

§ 81.977w Insurance premiums (§ 1002.20). An amount of salary, in addition to the basic allowance under § 1002.18 may be permitted to an employee under this section to meet certain payments during the employee's taxable year for insurance premiums. To be entitled to such extra allowance of salary the employee must establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that after resorting to other income from all sources (see § 1002.19) he is unable, without disposing of assets at a substantial financial loss resulting in undue hardship, to meet premium payments on policies of life insurance in force and effect on October 3, 1942 on his life.

The premium payments referred to in the preceding paragraph are those which are required to be met during the calendar year in question. No allowance for salary is permissible for payments of premiums which are due in future calendar years.

If any insurance has been permitted by an employee to lapse after October 3, 1942, no allowance for salary is permissible for payments of premiums on policies taken out after such date, even though the total annual premiums on the new policies are not in excess of the total annual premiums due on policies in effect on October 3, 1942. Renewal of policies in effect on October 3, 1942 (even though new premiums are higher) will not preclude applicability of this section to premium payments on the renewed policies. Generally, in the case of a conversion of a policy in effect on October 3, 1942 to a new policy requiring payment of higher premiums, this section is inapplicable to the annual amount by which the new premiums exceed the premiums in effect on October 3, 1942.

As used in this section, and §§ 1002.21 and 1002.22, substantial financial loss is not necessarily confined to a loss suffered on disposition of assets at depressed prices substantially below cost to the employee. The present value in use or in production of income and the potential future value are factors to be considered. For the purpose of this Subpart, the provisions of the Code governing the determination of loss upon disposition of assets are not controlling.

§ 81.977x Fixed obligations (§ 1002.21). An amount of salary in addition to the basic allowance under § 1002.18 may be permitted to an employee under this section to make required payments during the employee's taxable year on fixed obligations. Before any amount will be allowed under this section, the employee must establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that after resorting to his income from all sources (see § 1002.19), he is unable, without the necessity of disposing of assets at a substantial financial loss resulting in undue hardship, to meet required payments of fixed obligations for which he was obligated on October 3, 1942. (See § 1002.20.)

The term "fixed obligations" as used in this section means any enforceable liability of the employee the amount of which liability was fixed and determined on October 3, 1942. In no event is an allowance for salary permissible under this section for the payment of any amount due in future years.

§ 81.977y Federal taxes (§ 1002.22). An amount of salary in addition to the basic allowance under § 1002.18 may be permitted to an employee, under this section, to meet payments during the employee's taxable year of certain Federal income taxes. To be entitled to such an additional allowance of salary the employee must establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that after resorting to his income from all sources (see § 1002.19), he is unable, without disposing of assets at a substantial financial loss resulting in undue hardship, to meet payments of certain Federal income taxes, more fully described below. (See § 1002.20.)

An allowance for additional salary is permissible in order to pay Federal income taxes owed by the employee himself for any prior taxable year, but is not permissible in order to pay any Federal income tax due on the basic allowance of salary under § 1002.18, except as this allowance is applicable for 1942. (See § 1002.24.) Thus, an amount for additional salary might be allowable in 1943 to meet the payment of the entire Federal income tax due on a salary received in 1942. In 1944 an amount for additional salary might be allowable to meet the payment of Federal income tax due on additional salary allowances permitted for 1943 under § 1002.19, 1002.20, 1002.21 and this section for 1943; but no amount, however, would be allowable to meet the payment of the Federal income tax due on the basic allowance under § 1002.18 for 1943.

§ 81.977z Multiple employers (§ 1002.23). Salaries payable to an employee from more than one employer may, for purposes of Subpart F, be treated as if all such salaries were payable by a single employer, regardless of the financial or other relationship of the several employers. For example, individual A received a salary as an employee of the X Corporation and also as an employee of its subsidiary, the Y Corporation. Both the X Corporation and the Y Corporation are required to adjust their salary arrangements with such employee to conform with the provisions of these regulations. If individual B is employed by the M Corporation and the N Corporation, both of whom are owned, directly or indirectly, by the same person or persons, the M Corporation and the N Corporation must adjust their salary arrangements with B to conform with the provisions of these regulations. If individual C is employed by the R Corporation and the S Corporation and both corporations have knowledge of that fact, they must adjust their salary arrangements with C to conform with the provisions of these regulations.

Where an individual is employed by two or more employers who, under these regulations, are required to make salary arrangements in order to conform with the provisions of Subpart F, such individual and employers will be deemed to be acting in contravention of the Act and these regulations if proper salary arrangements are not made. In any event, no employee may receive any salary in excess of that allowed under Subpart F. (See § 1002.30.)

§ 81.977aa Limitation on 1942 salaries (§ 1002.24). Unless payment thereof is required under a bona fide contract in effect on October 3, 1943, no amount of salary shall be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him after October 27, 1942, and before January 1, 1943, if the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1942 exceeds the amount of salary which would otherwise be allowable under § 1002.18 (but not under §§ 1002.19 to 1002.22, inclusive) and also exceeds the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1941. For purposes of this section, the term "bona fide contract" means a legally enforceable agreement, written or oral. Such an agreement may be evidenced by a bona fide resolution of a board of directors of a corporate employer passed on or before October 3, 1942. The amount allowable under § 1002.18 for 1942 (before reduction by any Federal income taxes) is $54,428.57.

§ 81.977bb Community property (§ 1002.25). The limitations on salaries provided for in §§ 1002.18 to 1002.24, inclusive, shall in nowise be affected by any community property law. For example, an employee resident in the State of R receives a salary in 1943 of $100,000. Under the laws of that State, $50,000 of that salary is deemed to be the property of the employee's wife. For purposes of these regulations, the employee's salary is $100,000, not $50,000.

§ 81.977cc Taxable year (§ 1002.26). For purposes of Subparts F and G of these regulations, the term "taxable year" of an employee shall mean the calendar year during which the salary in question is paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of such employee or received by him. This rule is applicable regardless of whether the employer or employee, or both, file Federal income tax returns for a fiscal year or report income, for Federal income tax purposes, on an accrual basis or on the cash receipts and disbursements basis.

§ 81.977dd Effective date (§ 1002.27). The provisions of this subpart, except as provided in § 1002.24, shall be applicable to all salaries paid or accrued after December 31, 1942, irrespective of when payment or accrual of such salary was authorized and irrespective, also, of any contract or agreement made prior to or after such date.

§ 81.977ee Amounts disregarded (§ 1002.28). (a) Section 5 (a) of the Act provides in effect that the President shall prescribe the extent to which any salary payment made in contravention of regulations promulgated under the Act shall be disregarded by executive departments and other governmental agencies in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purposes of any other law or regulation. In any case where a salary payment is determined by the Commissioner to have been made in contravention of the Act, the entire amount of such payment is to be disregarded by all executive departments and all other agencies of the Federal Government for the purposes of:

(1) Determining costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, or any maximum price regulation thereof;

(2) Calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States; or

(3) Determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States.

A payment in contravention of the Act may be disregarded for more than one of the foregoing purposes.

(b) In the case of salaries decreased in contravention of the Act, the amount to be disregarded, as required by paragraph (a) of this section, is the amount of the salary actually paid or accrued by the employer at the reduced rate. Thus, if, for example, on November 1, 1942, a weekly salary rate of $100 has been unjustifiably reduced to $50 for the remainder of the calendar year 1942, the amount to be disregarded under paragraph (a) of this section is the total amount of salary paid at the weekly rate of $50.

(c) In the case of salaries increased in contravention of the Act, the amount to be disregarded, as required by paragraph (a) of this section, is the amount of the salary actually paid or accrued by the employer at the increased rate and not merely an amount representing an increase in such salary. Thus, if, for example, on November 1, 1942, a weekly salary rate of $100 is unjustifiably increased to $150 for the remainder of 1942, then the amount of salary to be disregarded for purposes of paragraph (a) of this section is the total amount paid at the weekly rate of $150. Also, if, for example, on February 1, 1943, a weekly salary rate of $100 is increased to $150 without prior required approval, but is restored to $100 on June 1, 1943 after formal disapproval by the Commissioner or regional officer, then the amount of salary to be disregarded for purposes of paragraph (a) of this section is the total amount at the weekly rate of $150. Neither in the cases described in this paragraph nor in the case described in paragraph (b) of this section are the total amounts paid at the weekly rate of $100 to be disregarded for purposes of paragraph (a) of this section. (See § 1002.31 relating to salary allowances under section 23 (a) of the Code.)

(d) In the case of a salary in excess of the amount allowable under Subpart F of these regulations which is paid to, authorized to be paid to, or accrued to the account of an employee during his taxable year (as distinguished from the taxable year of the employer) in contravention of the Act, the amount to be disregarded is the full amount of such salary and not merely the amount representing the excess over the amount allowable under such Subpart F of these regulations. Thus, if, for example, under such Subpart F an employee would be entitled to receive a total salary during his taxable year of $67,200 for services rendered in such year, but actually receives $100,000 for such services, then the entire amount of $100,000 is to be disregarded for purposes of paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 81.977ff Criminal penalties (§ 1002.29). Section 5 (a) of the Act provides in substance that no employer shall pay, and no employee shall receive, any salaries in contravention of the regulations promulgated by the President under the Act. Section 11 of the Act provides that any person, whether an employer or employee, who wilfully violates any provision of the Act or of any regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be subject, upon conviction, to a fine of not more than $1,000, or to imprisonment for not more than one year, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 81.977gg Salary allowances under Code (§ 1002.30). Under section 23 (a) of the Code reasonable allowances for salaries are allowed as deductions in computing net income. The tests which determine whether an allowance for salaries paid or accrued is reasonable within the meaning of section 23 (a) of the Code are in nowise suspended by any provision of these regulations. An employer may be exempt from the operation of these regulations yet be denied deductions for purposes of section 23 (a) of the Code with respect to the salaries paid or accrued by him. Also, a basic allowance under § 1002.18 and additional allowances under §§ 1002.19 to 1002.22, inclusive, may nevertheless be disallowed in whole or in part as deductions under section 23 (a) of the Code.

§ 81.977hh Exempt employers (§ 1002.31). The provisions of these regulations, except those contained in Subparts F and G thereof, shall not apply in the case of an employer who employs eight or less individuals in a single business. An employer is subject to the provisions of these regulations if at the time a salary increase is to take effect he has in his employ more than eight individuals in a single business. It is not necessary that each employee be paid a salary provided all the individuals employed receive compensation for their personal services. If it is subsequently determined that the number of employees has been temporarily reduced by the employer, or that the employer has utilized any other improper device, for the sole purpose of claiming the exemption provided in the General Regulations and these regulations, then such exemption shall be deemed to have been improperly obtained and of no force or effect.

An employer may be exempt under this section notwithstanding that shortly after the effective date of a salary increase he enlarges his personnel in good faith to more than eight employees. Any further adjustment in salary will then be subject to the provisions of these regulations.

§ 81.977ii Statutory salaries (§ 1002.32). The provisions of these regulations are applicable in every respect to any salary paid by the United States, any State, Territory, or possession or political subdivision thereof, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing, except where the amount of such salary is fixed by statute. The term "statute" for purposes of this section does not include a municipal ordinance or resolution enacted by a governmental unit inferior to a State, Territory, or possession. Salaries covered by the Federal Classification Act of 1923, as amended, are excluded from the operation of these regulations. Likewise, salaries, for example, of public school teachers which are paid under salary schedules fixed by a state legislature and providing for mandatory increments are excluded from the operation of these regulations. (See § 1002.17.)

§ 81.977jj Services in foreign countries (§ 1002.33). The provisions of these regulations shall not be applicable in the case of any individual employer, resident in the United States or any Territory or possession thereof, or of a corporate employer organized under the laws of the United States or any State, Territory or possession, with respect to salaries paid by such employers to employees for services rendered exclusively in foreign countries.

§ 81.977kk Foreign employers (§ 1002.34). The provisions of these regulations shall not be applicable in the case of nonresident foreign employers except that if any salary is paid to an employee residing in the United States payment of such salary is subject to all the provisions of these regulations.

PLANT FACILITIES EXPANSIONS

POLICY

Section 81.1004 is amended as follows:

§ 81.1004 Tax amortization. Under the provisions of section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code, the cost of facilities which are acquired by corporations, partnerships, individuals or fiduciaries may be amortized over a period of sixty months (or, under certain circumstances, a shorter period) for the purpose of computing taxable income. The amortization provisions do not apply when the facilities expansion is financed under a plan of the type described in Plans III, IV, or V, in § 81.1006 (c), (d), and (e). In order to secure the benefits of such amortization, the applicant must obtain from the War Department or the Navy Department a Necessity Certificate which certifies to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the facilities therein described are necessary in the interest of National Defense. The duties of the Services of Supply with respect to processing applications for such certificates are set forth in §§ 81.1014 to 81.1017.

FORMS OF CONTRACTS

§ 81.1320. W. D. Contract Form No. 20. * * *

ART. 6. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor; credits arising from deductions from payments to the Contractor under this contract shall be made as of the dates the checks for such payments are drawn; and credits arising from cash repayments to the Government by the Contractor shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made, the interest so determined shall be deducted from the payments otherwise due the Contractor under this contract, Provided, however, That in no event shall deductions on account of interest exceed five percent (5%) of the gross payment due the Contractor prior to any deduction under this Article or Article 5 or any other provisions of this contract. In the event the accrued interest exceeds such five percent, the excess of such interest shall be carried forward and deducted from subsequent payments. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of Article 4 hereof, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract, for other than the fault of the Contractor, or upon the date found by the Contracting Officer to be the date upon which the Contractor completed his performance under the contract.

§ 81.1322 W. D. Contract Form No. 22. * * *

ART. 6. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor. It is agreed that pending the execution of the moral formal contract contemplated by Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order that the Contractor may, if he so elects, make direct repayment to the Government on account of advances made out of his own free funds, or may be required to make repayment out of the special account or otherwise as provided by Article 5. Credits arising out of such cash repayments shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made, the interest charge shall be allowed to accrue, and shall not be payable until such time as provision is made for such payment under the provisions of the more formal contract contemplated by Paragraph 2 of the Letter Purchase Order, except as provided by Article 5 hereof. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of Article 5, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor.

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

CONTRACT CLAUSES PROVIDING FOR PERIODIC ADJUSTMENT OF PRICE WITH POWER OF EXEMPTION FROM STATUTORY RENEGOTIATION

Section 801, Revenue Act of 1942, has amended section 403, Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, so as to authorize exemption of contracts for specified periods from renegotiation under the act if the provisions are otherwise adequate to prevent excessive profits.

It is a major policy of the War Department to promote efficiency in operation and production, reduction in costs by its contractors, and lower prices to the Government. It is believed that this basic policy will be served by full use of the power conferred by the Revenue Act of 1942. Accordingly two forms of contract articles have been developed for this purpose with instructions for their use. These articles are inserted in Procurement Regulation No. 3 by a new section to be numbered § 81.360, and the instructions for their use are added to Procurement Regulation No. 12 as nine new sections to be numbered §§ 81.1220 to 81.1228 inclusive.

As a further aid in obtaining close prices without allowances for contingencies, a new article has been developed to allow equitable adjustments in price and time of performance when Government action interrupts production schedules and increases costs. This is added to Procurement Regulation No. 3 as § 81.361.

These changes in procurement regulations are also contained in Services of Supply Memorandum S5-1-43, dated January 2, 1943. Figures to the right of the decimal point in section numbers correspond with paragraph numbers in procurement regulations.

§ 81.360 Periodic adjustment of price. The following articles for periodic adjustment of price will be used in accordance with §§ 81.1220 to 81.1228:

(FORM I) ARTICLE ____ —PERIODIC ADJUSTMENT OF PRICE

(a) Price periods. The Government and the contractor agree to adjust the contract price under this contract periodically in accordance with this article and agree that the performance under this contract will be divided into _____ successive periods for that purpose. The first period will extend from _____ to _____; and the second and each succeeding period will extend for _____ months from the end of the preceding period.

(b) Estimates and prices for first period. (1) The contractor and the Government have agreed upon the following estimate of costs for the items to be delivered during the first period hereunder: [1]

A. Factory cost.
1. Direct materials.
2. Direct productive labor.
3. Direct engineering labor.
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges.
5. Indirect factory expenses [2] (state basis of allocation).
6. Total factory cost.
B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing, and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(2) The contractor and the Government have agreed upon the price fixed in article ____ hereof for the first period. The contracting officer hereby finds that the provisions of this contract are adequate to prevent excessive profits hereunder during the first period without any renegotiation pursuant to section 403, the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended. The contractor and the Government therefore agree that the prices fixed in article ____ hereof shall be paid for items delivered hereunder during the first period and that such prices for that period shall not be subject to renegotiation under said statute as amended or article ____ hereof.

(c) Periodic statements. Fifteen days before the end of each period hereunder, except the last, or at such other time or times as the contracting officer may fix, the contractor will submit to the contracting officer the following data:

(1) Statements showing the actual cost of producing all items completed for delivery during such period for which cost figures are available, and such other statements as the contracting officer may require.

(2) Estimates of the cost of items to be delivered during the next succeeding period, based upon the previous cost experience of the contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(3) Proposed prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period.

(d) Periodic price adjustment—exemptions. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the contractor and the contracting officer will negotiate in good faith to agree upon adjusted cost estimates and prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period under this contract.

(2) Prices so negotiated and agreed upon may be in excess of or less than the prices stated in article _____ hereof. In negotiating such prices consideration will be given to all pertinent factors which have affected the contractor's costs for items delivered hereunder during any preceding period, or which are likely to affect such costs for items to be delivered hereunder during the next succeeding period, and to all pertinent factors bearing upon the profit margin which is reasonable for the contractor to earn during the succeeding period. Whenever the contractor, by skillful management, careful buying, or efficiency in production, has reduced costs experienced during the next preceding period below the estimated amount thereof, and the Government will benefit therefrom by reduced prices for the succeeding period, the contemplated margin of profit for the succeeding period may be increased in recognition of these facts.

(3) After each negotiation, the agreement reached will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the cost estimates and adjusted prices for the succeeding period. In the discretion of the contracting officer, the supplemental agreement may contain a finding that the provisions of this contract and said supplemental agreement are adequate to prevent excessive profits during the applicable succeeding period, and an agreement that the prices fixed for such period will not be subject to renegotiation under section 403, the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or under article ____ hereof.

(4) A disagreement between the contracting officer and the contractor as to an adjusted price for any period will not be subject to article ____ (Disputes), and during that period the contractor shall be paid the price fixed for the preceding period.

(e) Payments. During the first period the Government shall pay to the contractor the price set forth in article ____ for all items delivered. During each succeeding period the Government will pay to the contractor the prices negotiated hereunder for items delivered in that period. If the price for any succeeding period hereunder is still under negotiation and not agreed upon at the beginning of that period, then until an adjusted price for that period is agreed upon, the contractor will be paid the price fixed for the last preceding period; but after the contractor and contracting officer have agreed by supplemental agreement upon the adjusted prices, an amount equal to the difference between the prices paid on the items delivered in that period and such adjusted prices will be added to or deducted from payments for subsequent deliveries under this contract or will be paid by or returned to the Government, as the contracting officer may direct.

(f) Accounts and records—statements. The contractor will maintain books, records, and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the contracting officer finds that it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. All statements showing costs experienced by the contractor under this contract will be based upon such books, records, and accounts, and will be certified as correct by two officers of the contractor or by an independent auditor, approved by the contracting officer. The contractor will submit its books, records, and accounts to such examination and audit as the contracting officer may request. The contractor represents that the estimates of future costs contained in paragraph (b), and hereafter submitted pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) reflect the best judgment of the contractor as to probable costs on the basis of previous cost experience and all other relevant factors, and contain no provisions for reserves or allowances not revealed therein.

[1] This break-down may be altered to suit particular circumstances.

[2] State separately the estimated amount of each of the following included: (a) normal depreciation; (b) special amortization.

(FORM II) ARTICLE ____—PERIODIC ADJUSTMENT OF PRICE

(a) Price periods. The Government and the contractor recognize that the costs of performing this contract cannot be accurately estimated at the time of its execution and that the price fixed in article ____ may therefore be either too high or too low in the light of actual experience under the contract. The contractor and the Government agree that for the purpose of adjusting the contract price in accordance with this article the performance under this contract will be divided into ____ successive periods. The first period will extend from ____ to ____; and the second and each succeeding period will extend for ____ months from the end of the preceding period.

(b) Estimate of costs. The contractor represents that the contract price fixed in article ____ is based on a total estimated cost of $____ itemized as follows:[1]

A. Factory cost.
1. Direct materials.
2. Direct productive labor.
3. Direct engineering labor.
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges.
5. Indirect factory expenses[2] (state basis of allocation).
6. Total factory cost.
B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing, and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(c) Periodic statements. Fifteen days before the end of each period hereunder, except the last, or at such other time or times as the contracting officer may fix, the contractor will submit to the contracting officer the following data—

(1) Statements showing the actual cost of producing all items completed for delivery during such period, for which cost figures are available, and such other statements as the contracting officer may require.

(2) Estimates of the cost of items to be delivered during the next succeeding period, based upon the previous cost experience of the contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(3) Proposed prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period, and, at the end of the first period, proposed adjusted prices for items delivered during the first period.

(d) Periodic price adjustment. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the contractor and the contracting officer will negotiate in good faith to agree upon adjusted cost estimates and prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period under this contract. In addition, upon the first such negotiation, they will negotiate to agree upon adjusted prices for the items delivered during the first period.

(2) Prices so negotiated and agreed upon may be in excess of or less than the prices stated in article ____ hereof. In negotiating such prices, consideration will be given to all pertinent factors which have affected the contractor's costs for items delivered hereunder during any preceding period, or which are likely to affect such costs for items to be delivered hereunder during the next succeeding period, and to all pertinent factors bearing upon the profit margin which is reasonable for the contractor to earn during the period involved. Whenever the contractor, by skillful management, careful buying, or efficiency in production, has reduced costs experienced during the next preceding period below the estimated amount thereof, and the Government will benefit therefrom by reduced prices for the succeeding period, the contemplated margin of profit for the succeeding period may be increased in recognition of these facts.

(3) After each negotiation, the agreement reached will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the cost estimates and adjusted prices for the succeeding period and, after the first such negotiation, also stating the adjusted prices for the proceeding first period. At the discretion of the contracting officer the supplemental agreement may contain a finding that the provisions of this contract and said supplemental agreement are adequate to prevent excessive profits for the first period or during the applicable succeeding period, and an agreement that the prices fixed for such period will not be subject to renegotiation under section 403, Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or under article ____ hereof.

(4) A disagreement between the contracting officer and the contractor as to an adjusted price for any period will not be subject to article ____ (Disputes), and during that period the contractor will be paid the price fixed for the preceding period.

(e) Payments. (1) During the first period the Government will pay to the contractor the price set forth in article ____ for all items delivered. During each succeeding period the Government will pay to the contractor the prices negotiated hereunder for items delivered in that period. If the price for any succeeding period hereunder is still under negotiation and not agreed upon at the beginning of that period, then until an adjusted price for that period is agreed upon, the contractor will be paid the fixed price established for the last preceding period.

(2) After the contractor and contracting officer have agreed by supplemental agreement upon the adjusted prices for the first period, or for any other period in which payment of the prices fixed for the preceding period has been continued pending agreement upon the adjusted prices, an amount equal to the difference between the prices paid on the items delivered in that period and such adjusted prices will be added to or deducted from payments for subsequent deliveries under this contract or will be paid by or returned to the Government, as the contracting officer may direct.

(f) Accounts and records—statements. The contractor will maintain books, records, and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the contracting officer finds that it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. All statements showing costs experienced by the contractor under this contract will be based upon such books, records, and accounts, and will be certified as correct by two officers of the contractor or by an independent auditor, approved by the contracting officer. The contractor will submit his books and accounts to such examination and audit as the contracting officer may request. The contractor represents that the estimates of future costs contained in paragraph (b), and hereafter submitted pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) reflect the best judgment of the contractor as to probable costs on the basis of previous cost experience and all other relevant factors, and contain no provisions for reserves or allowances not revealed therein.

§ 81.361 Changes in delivery schedules. Whenever a change in the production schedules of the contractor will substantially affect his costs of performance and there is serious risk of such interruption as a result of Government action, the following article may be included in the contract, if the chief of the supply service is satisfied that the contractor has suitably adjusted his price by eliminating therefrom allowances and reserves to provide for such contingencies.

Article ____—Changes in delivery schedules.

(a) If the Government reduces the rate of deliveries hereunder by partial termination for the convenience of the Government or if, without fault or negligence on the part of the contractor, the Government or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, by any preference, priority, or allocation order, or by any other act, at any time prevents the contractor from delivering any of the items under this contract in accordance with the delivery schedules then in effect, and such reduction or delay so changes or interrupts the contractor's schedules of production as substantially to affect the cost of any of the items procured hereunder, the Government shall make an equitable adjustment in the contract price and time for performance hereunder.

(b) The contractor will assert any claim for adjustment under this article within 90 days after the date any such reduction is ordered, or any such delay first occurs, or within such further period as the contracting officer may allow before the date of final settlement of the contract. The contracting officer may agree with the contractor for such adjustment, if any, in the contract price or time of performance hereunder or both, as he deems justified. If the parties fail to agree as to the cause of the delay or upon the adjustment to be made, the dispute will be determined in accordance with article ____ (Disputes). The adjustment shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract.

CONTRACT ARTICLES FOR PERIODIC READJUSTMENT OF PRICE

§ 81.1220 Articles authorized. Alternative contract articles providing for periodic readjustment of the contract price, and for exemption from renegotiation under the Act of April 28, 1942, (sec. 403, Public Law 528, 77th Cong.) as amended, under certain conditions are set forth in § 81.360 (Form I) and § 81.360 (Form II). These articles, which are hereafter called Form I and Form II, respectively, are approved for use in lump-sum or fixed price contract in accordance with this section. Except as expressly authorized in this section or subsequent instructions, deviations from the standard articles will not be used.

§ 81.1221 Effect of articles. Both Form I and Form II divide performance under the contract into specified periods for the purpose of adjusting the contract price. Under Form I the original contract price is exempt from statutory renegotiation for the first period of performance, but under Form II, the price for the first period will be adjusted at the end of that period and appropriate credit or refund made, and this adjusted price may be exempted from statutory renegotiation by the contracting officer, as hereafter described. Under both forms the contracting officer and contractor will negotiate at the end of each period (except the last) to fix the price for the succeeding period on the basis of cost experience and other data, and the contracting officer, at his discretion, may exempt the price so fixed from statutory renegotiation, if he believes that the cost data are sufficiently accurate and that the price is fair to the Government and will not result in excessive profits to the contractor.

§ 81.1222 Purpose of articles. These articles are intended to carry out the policy of the War Department to promote efficiency in operation and production, reductions in costs by its contractors, and lower prices to the Government. They are designed to obtain these results as follows:

(a) Since the periods for which prices are fixed are to be relatively short, uncertainty and the risks of future changes in conditions are reduced, and the need for reserves and allowances for contingencies should be correspondingly decreased. At the end of each period, the prices for the next period will be fixed on the basis of recent past experience, current conditions, and more accurate forecasts.

(b) If a firm price exempt from statutory renegotiation during the specified period is granted, the contractor is expected to agree in return to a close price with a narrow profit margin and to rely on his managerial skill to increase his profit by improved methods and efficiency.

(c) If costs are reduced in one period through efficiency then when the prices are adjusted for the succeeding period, the Government and the contractor will share the benefit of the reduced costs in the form of lower prices but with a higher allowed profit margin.

§ 81.1223 Use of articles. In using these articles the following principles will be observed:

(a) Since the operation of these articles requires reliable and accurate data on the actual costs of performance, they will be used only when the contracting officer is convinced that the contractor can and will supply reliable cost information in accordance with the contract provisions. Before using these articles in any contract, the contracting officer will therefore examine and analyze the cost accounting system of the contractor and satisfy himself that it is accurate and adequate for these purposes.

(b) These articles also assume that the costs of performance during a succeeding period can be predicted with reasonable accuracy; otherwise there is no sound basis for predicting the probable profits with assurance, or for exempting them from statutory renegotiation. According, it will not ordinarily be feasible to use these articles unless the contractor has had previous experience in producing substantially similar articles, or the costs are reasonably standardized, or can be accurately determined after a short period of performance.

(c) Form I, which provides for a firm price exempt from statutory renegotiation for the first period of performance, will be used only where accurate data are available at the time the contract is made, on the cost of producing substantially the same articles under substantially the same conditions. In general, it will be used only for repeat orders for materials or equipment previously produced by the same contractor.

(d) Form II, under which the contract price for the first period is readjusted at the end of the period, will be used when the available data on costs of performance are insufficient to allow Form I to be used, but where reasonably accurate costs data will become available toward the end of the first period of performance.

(e) Use of these articles will be limited to contractors who are willing substantially to eliminate allowances in the price for contingencies in view of the short-term pricing and to accept a smaller original profit margin in return for the other benefits of the contract.

(f) The length of the periods of performance to be specified for adjusting the price will depend upon the circumstances of each case. When Form II is used, the first period should be sufficient to allow costs of production to become reasonably stable. The succeeding periods under Form II and all periods under Form I should range from three or four months in most cases up to a maximum of six months where conditions are unusually stable and costs are accurately predictable. Where it will be simpler or more convenient to do so, the contract article may fix the periods by reference to the production or delivery of a prescribed number of articles instead of in terms of days or months, if the length of the periods so fixed will substantially conform to the required duration.

(g) When either Form I or Form II is used, the contract will not include any other provisions for price adjustment (such as escalation, redetermination, upward renegotiation) except (a) the statutory renegotiation article in accordance with § 81.1224 and (b) provisions for equitable adjustment of the price in case of changes in specifications, deliveries, rates of production, or increased expenses resulting from allocations or other Government action (see § 81.361).

(h) Form I or Form II will be used only with the permission of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. Requests for such permission will state (1) the experience of the contractor with similar production, (2) the adequacy of the cost system and cost data of the contractor, (3) the price and profit margin which the contractor will agree to if the article is included, and (4) the reasons for recommending approval of the use of the article in the particular contract.

§ 81.1224 Insertion of statutory renegotiation article. Under both Form I and Form II of the articles for periodic price adjustment, the contract price for any period (except the first period under Form I) will remain subject to renegotiation under the Act of April 28, 1942 (sec. 403, Public Law 528, 77th Cong.), as amended, unless it is exempt under the terms of the statute or is exempted by the contracting officer in the exercise of his discretion under the contract article. Accordingly any contract which contains an article for periodic adjustment of the contract price will also include the contract article for statutory renegotiation (§ 81.342 (a)), if it is required by the provisions of §§ 81.1201 to 81.1214 of these regulations, but an additional sentence will be added at the end of section (a) of the statutory renegotiation article (§ 81.342 (a)) in such cases. When Form I is used this added sentence will read as follows:

Sections (a) and (c) of this article do not apply to the prices fixed for the first period under this contract and exempt from statutory renegotiation by article ____ or to the prices fixed for any other periods thereunder which are exempted from statutory renegotiation by the contracting officer in the exercise of his discretion under that article.

When Form II is used this added sentence will read as follows:

Sections (a) and (c) of this article do not apply to the prices fixed for any period under article ____ of this contract which are exempted from statutory renegotiation by the contracting officer in the exercise of his discretion under that article.

§ 81.1225 Changes in termination article. When Form I or Form II is used, the contract article entitled "Termination for the Convenience of the Government" (§ 81.324) will be amended by adding at the end of (d) (3) (A) and of (g) of that article the following additional sentence:

For this purpose the contract price for the uncompleted portion of the contract shall be computed on the basis of (1) the prices agreed upon for the price period in which the notice of termination takes effect, if adjusted prices have been agreed upon for that period, or (2) such estimated prices as the contracting officer deems reasonable under all circumstances, if adjusted prices have not been agreed upon for that period.

§ 81.1226 Use of articles without provisions for exemption. Where a supply service desires to provide in a contract for periodic readjustment of the contract price but does not desire to provide for exemption or for the power to exempt the contract price from statutory renegotiation in accordance with Form I or Form II, either Form I or Form II may be revised to eliminate exemption of the contract price from statutory renegotiation or the power of the contract-officer to exempt it therefrom, by deleting the second and third sentences of paragraph (b) (2) from Form I and the second sentence of paragraph (d) (3) from Form I and Form II. With these deletions Form I or Form II may be used at the discretion of the chief of the supply service without special permission from the Director, Purchases Division. When these articles are used in this revised form, the contract price will be adjusted for each period in the manner provided in Form I and Form II, but will remain subject to statutory renegotiation unless otherwise exempt under the Act of April 28, 1942, (sec. 403 (i) Public Law 528, 77th Cong., as amended by Public Law 753, 77th Cong.). Accordingly any such contract will include the standard form of contract article for statutory renegotiation (§ 81.342 (a)) if required by §§ 81.1201 to 81.1214 of these regulations.

[1] This break-down may be altered to suit particular circumstances.

[2] State separately the estimated amount of each of the following items included: (a) normal depreciation: (b) special amortization.

§ 81.1227 Price adjustments under the articles. In the operation of contracts containing Form I and Form II, contracting officers will observe the following principles:

(a) When the contractor submits the cost data, estimates, and proposed prices in accordance with the contract terms, the contracting officer will make such tests or checks of the data submitted, by examining the records of the contractor or otherwise, as he deems necessary to satisfy himself of their accuracy and sufficiency.

(b) Negotiations with the contractor to adjust the price will be begun and completed as expeditiously as possible in order to avoid delay in fixing the adjusted price. If, in the opinion of the contracting officer, the contractor unreasonably prolongs or delays the negotiations or refuses to agree upon a reasonable adjusted price, the contracting officer will promptly report the facts to the chief of the supply service who may then initiate appropriate action to protect the interest of the Government either by termination of the contract, by statutory renegotiation of the contract price for any period not exempt therefrom, by compulsory order, or by other means.

(c) In determining the price for the first period under Form II or for succeeding periods under Form I or Form II, the contracting officer will allow more liberal profit margins where the contractor by skillful management, careful buying, or efficiency has reduced costs, and will demand lower profit margins where performance has been inefficient or below standard.

(d) The contracting officer will exercise his power to exempt from statutory renegotiation the adjusted prices agreed upon for the first period under Form II or for succeeding periods under Form I or Form II, only if he is convinced (1) that the cost data and cost estimates on which the adjusted prices are based are reliable and accurate, and (2) that the adjusted prices are fair to the Government and the exemption from renegotiation will not result in excessive profits. The contracting officer has full responsibility for granting or withholding the exemption, and is under a serious duty to make certain that excessive profits will not result from his action. When he is convinced that the foregoing conditions are met, however, he should ordinarily grant the exemption for the period involved. In making this determination he will consult with the Price Adjustment Section of the Supply Service.

(e) Whenever the contracting officer grants an exemption under a contract containing either Form I or Form II, he will make a report to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, stating the adjusted price agreed upon, and containing copies of the data submitted by the contractor and any other data on which the adjusted price was based.

(f) After the entire contract is completed, the contracting officer will request from the contractor a statement showing the actual costs of performing the entire contract, and the prices paid during each period, and will send a copy of the statement to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

§ 81.1228 Inserting articles in existing contracts. Where it is practicable and to the advantage of the Government to do so, existing contracts may be amended by supplemental agreement to insert either Form I or Form II upon the conditions prescribed by these regulations, and, with the permission of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

Oversea Movement of Individuals on Army Transports

§ 91.2 Commercial passengers. Army transports will not normally be used for carrying commercial passengers. In an unusual public emergency and where military necessity demands, Army transports may be used for this purpose provided commercial space is not reasonably available. A reasonable charge for such transportation will be made as mutually arranged between the Chief of Transportation and the Maritime Commission. (Op. JAG, June 11, 1918, and October 17, 1941) [Par. 3]

§ 91.3 Transportation of individuals—(a) General. Requests for transportation of persons from the continental United States to oversea ports, except for officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, must contain a statement whether the respective oversea commander has either requested the personnel or approves their entrance into the military area under his jurisdiction.

(b) Officials and civilians. Requests for passage of all officials and civilians not provided for in Army Regulations will be directed to the Chief of Transportation for approval and forwarding to the proper port of embarkation for action.

(c) Female passengers. No female personnel except Army nurses and authorized Red Cross workers may be taken on outward voyages from the continental United States except when specific authorization has been given by the Chief of Transportation.

(d) Dependents. Transportation of dependents of military personnel and civilian employees to oversea departments and bases, including Alaska, by Army transport or otherwise, is prohibited.

(e) Civilian employees of Government stationed overseas. Requests for transportation from an oversea post will be submitted by the local representative of the bureau with which the employee is connected, inclosing true copy of orders.

(f) Secretaries of Young Men's Christian Association. Secretaries of the Army and Navy Department of the Young Men's Christian Association may be furnished transportation on Army transports upon request of the headquarters of that organization when accommodations are available.

(g) Panama Canal employees. Transportation may be furnished on Army transports, when accommodations are available, for male employees of the Panama Canal on outward voyages from the continental United States and for the employees and their immediate families on inward voyages from the Canal Zone upon payment of the same rates as are applicable upon vessels of the Panama Line. Transportation for officers and employees of the Puerto Rican Government from Puerto Rico is arranged through the Governor of Puerto Rico, and from the United States through the Director of Territories and Island Possessions, Department of the Interior. Children and female passengers may not be taken on outward voyages from the continental United States. [Pars. 4, 8, and 16 a, b, c, d, e, f, and g)

§ 91.4 Stowaways and workaways. The transport commander, agent, the master, and ship officers will use every precaution to prevent persons boarding Army transports as stowaways.

(b) In order to prevent unauthorized persons from boarding transports in the uniform of enlisted men, the commanding officers of units to embark immediately prior to embarkation will conduct a roll call inspection to see that only members of their organization are present in ranks. Before anchor is weighed if there is any reason to suspect that stowaways or other unauthorized persons are aboard, the transport will be searched by the ship's officers under the direction of the master. The transport commander will form the troops in ranks or otherwise dispose them so as to facilitate a thorough search of every part of the ship.

(c) The transport commander will see that all stowaways, whether alien or claiming American citizenship, and all workaways are reported to the port debarkation officer immediately upon arrival. The port debarkation officer will make necessary arrangements with immigration authorities, and the stowaways or workaways will not be permitted to leave the ship until they have been properly cleared.

(d) In the Philippines, they will be given the option of remaining aboard and returning on the transport or being turned over to the civil authorities for prosecution as vagrants. In other oversea ports they will be confined in a military guardhouse until disposed of in accordance with instructions from the immigration officials.

(e) In addition to the record in the office of the ship transportation officer or transportation agent, the master will cause to be entered in the ship log a record of all stowaways and workaways. [Pars. 17*g, h, i, j,* and k]

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T.D. 5210]

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

OWNERSHIP OF AND INTERESTS IN MINERALS

Regulations 103 amended to conform to section 145 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942.

In order to conform Regulations 103 (Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.) to section 145 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 19.23 (m)-1 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting in the part designated (3) of the division designated (f) of the fourth paragraph immediately after the words "iron ore" the following: ", ball and sagger clay or rock asphalt,".

(B) By striking from the part designated (4) of the division designated (f) of the fourth paragraph the words "or silver" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "silver or fluorspar".

PAR. 2. Section 19.23 (m)-3 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking from the heading of the section "(other than metal, coal, or sulphur mines)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(other than metal, coal, fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt, or sulphur mines)".

(B) By striking from the first sentence "(other than metal, coal, or sulphur mines)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(other than metal, coal, or sulphur mines; and with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, other than fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt mines)".

(C) By inserting in the fourth paragraph immediately after the words "apply to" the following: "fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt mines with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; nor to".

PAR. 3. Section 19.23 (m)-5 is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the heading of the section to read as follows: "Computation of depletion based on a percentage of income in the case of coal mines, metal mines, fluorspar mines, ball and sagger clay mines, rock asphalt mines, and sulphur mines or deposits".

(B) By inserting in the first sentence immediately after the words "metal mines" the following: "and with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, in the case of fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt mines,".

(C) By inserting at the end of the first paragraph a new sentence to read as follows:

• • • In no case shall the deduction computed under this section in respect of a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, be less than it would be if computed upon the cost or other basis of the property provided in section 113.

(D) By changing the second paragraph to read as follows:

A taxpayer may for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, compute the depletion allowance provided in this section, or in § 19.23 (m)-2, without regard to any election previously made in respect of computation of the allowance. Computation of depletion based on a percentage of income is applicable to fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt mines, however, only for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941. Subject to the qualification specified in the last sentence of this paragraph, a taxpayer making his first return under chapter 1 (for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, and before January 1, 1942) in respect of a property (other than a fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt mine) must state as to each such property whether he elects to have the depletion allowance for each such property for the taxable year computed with or without reference to percentage depletion. For the purpose of this section the taxpayer's first return under chapter 1 in respect of a property is the return made under that chapter for his first taxable year (beginning after December 31, 1938, and before January 1, 1942) for which he has any item of income or deduction with respect to such property. An election once exercised under section 114 (b) (4) and this section in respect of any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1942, cannot thereafter be changed by the taxpayer, and the depletion allowance in respect of each such property will for all succeeding taxable years (beginning prior to January 1, 1942) be computed in accordance with the election so made. If the taxpayer fails to make such statement in the return in which the election should be so indicated, the depletion allowance for the year for which an election must be first exercised and for all succeeding taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, will be computed without reference to percentage depletion. The method, determined under section 114 (b) (4) and this section, of computing the depletion allowance shall be applied in the case of the property for all taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, in which it is in the hands of such taxpayer, or of any other person if the basis of the property (for determining gain) in his hands is, under section 113, determined by reference to the basis in the hands of such taxpayer, either directly or through one or more substituted bases, as defined in that section. In respect of taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, the right of election specified in this paragraph is subject to the qualification that section 114 (b) (4) shall, for the purpose of determining whether the method of computing the depletion allowance follows the property, be considered a continuation of section 114 (b) (4) of the Revenue Act of 1934, and the Revenue Act of 1936, and the Revenue Act of 1938, and as giving no new election in cases where any of such sections would, if applied, give no new election.

PAR. 4. Section 19.23 (m)-8 is amended by striking from the first sentence "other than coal, sulphur," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "other than fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, and coal, sulphur,".

PAR. 5. Section 19.23 (m)-10, as amended by Treasury Decision 4968, approved March 25, 1940, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking from that part designated (d) "(and for subsequent taxable years" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(and for subsequent taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942".

(B) By inserting at the end of that part designated (d) a new sentence to read as follows:

• • • For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, the owner of an economic interest in fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt mines may take as a depletion deduction in respect of any bonus or advance royalty from the property 15 percent of the amount thereof, but the deduction shall not in any case exceed 50 percent of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property.

PAR. 6. Section 19.23 (m)-13 is amended by inserting in the first sentence immediately after the words "metal mines," the following: "fluorspar mines, ball and sagger clay mines, rock asphalt mines,".

PAR. 7. Section 19.23 (m)-14 is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the heading of the section to read as follows: "Discovery of mines other than coal, metal, flourspar, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt, or sulphur mines.".

(B) By striking from the first sentence "(other than a coal, metal, or sulphur mine) or minerals (other than oil or gas, coal, sulphur, metal, or metallic ores)," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "other than a coal, metal, or sulphur mine, or, with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, a fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt mine) or minerals (other than oil or gas, coal, sulphur, metal or metallic ores, or with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, or rock asphalt),".

PAR. 8. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.114-1 the following:

SEC. 145. PERCENTAGE DEPLETION FOR COAL, FLUORSPAR, BALL AND SAGGER CLAY, ROCK ASPHALT, AND METAL MINES AND SULPHUR. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I)

(a) Percentage depletion. Section 114 (b) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) Percentage depletion for coal, fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt, and metal mines and sulphur. The allowance for depletion under section 23 (m) shall be, in the case of coal mines, 5 per centum, in the case of metal mines, fluorspar, ball and sagger clay or rock asphalt mines, 15 per centum, and, in the case of sulphur mines or deposits, 23 per centum of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. Such allowance shall not exceed 50 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance under section 23 (m) be less than it would be if computed without reference to this paragraph.

(b) Discovery depletion not applicable to fluorspar, ball and sagger clay or rock asphalt mines. Section 114 (b) (2) is amended by striking out "metal, coal, or sulphur mines" and inserting in lieu thereof "metal, coal, fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt, or sulphur mines".

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 9. Section 19.114-1 is amended by inserting in the first sentence immediately after the words "metal mines," the following: "fluorspar mines, ball and sagger clay mines, or rock asphalt mines,".

(Sec. 145 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Cong.) and sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed., 62))

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

ECONOMY OIL AND KEROSENE CO.

Stanley L. Hughey, doing business as the Economy Oil and Kerosene Company, Tampa, Florida, is engaged in supplying motor fuel to and operating twelve (12) service stations in and near Tampa, Florida, and is a supplier within the meaning of Limitation Order L-70. During the months of April, May, June, and from July 1 to July 21, 1942, the Economy Oil and Kerosene Company made deliveries of motor fuel to eleven (11) of its twelve (12) stations 204,262 (two hundred and four thousand and two hundred and sixty two) gallons in excess of its established quota for those eleven stations of 190,774 (one hundred and ninety thousand and seven hundred and seventy four) gallons. The Economy Oil and Kerosene Company failed to compute the proper quota for these deliveries, and failed to report to the War Production Board its anticipated deliveries and its actual deliveries to the said eleven service stations as required by Limitation Order L-70. Stanley L. Hughey was aware of the existence of Limitation Order L-70 but was grossly negligent in that he failed to ascertain the terms and restrictions of that order. Consequently the over deliveries and the failure to report constituted willful violations of Limitation Order L-70.

These willful violations of Limitation Order L-70 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing facts: It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.203 Suspension Order S-203. (a) Stanley L. Hughey doing business as the Economy Oil and Kerosene Company, or under any other name, their lessees, successors, and assigns, shall not accept delivery at the service stations listed below of any motor fuel as the same is defined in Limitation Order L-70, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

4302 Florida Avenue, Tampa.
2502 Tampa Street, Tampa.
706 13th Street, Tampa.

Lisbon and Memorial, Tampa.

(b) No person shall deliver any motor fuel as the same is defined in Limitation Order L-70 to the service stations listed in paragraph (a) hereof, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Stanley L. Hughey, individually or doing business as the Economy Oil and Kerosene Company, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on January 11, 1943 and expire on June 11, 1943 at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further force or effect.

PART 923—TUNGSTEN

[General Preference Order M-29 as Amended Jan. 9, 1943]

Whereas, the national defense requirements have created a shortage of tungsten, as hereinafter defined, for defense, for private account, and for export and it is necessary, in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, to conserve the supply and direct the distribution thereof;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 923.3 General Preference Order M-29—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Tungsten" means and includes:

(i) Ores and concentrates, including beneficiated or treated forms, containing commercially recognized tungsten;

(ii) The element tungsten in pure form, in any shape into which the same may be fabricated;

(iii) Ferro-tungsten, tungsten metal powder and any other ferrous combination of the element tungsten in semi-manufactured or manufactured form, excluding alloy steel, high speed steel and tool steel.

(iv) All non-ferrous mixtures or alloys containing tungsten, prepared for any purpose requiring further processing, whether the same are manufactured by means of melting, pressing, sintering, brazing, soldering or welding, including but not limited to mixtures or alloys to be used in the production of tools and tool blanks or as hard facing materials, but not including any finished tool;

(v) All chemical compounds having tungsten as a recognizable and essential component from which tungsten is commercially recoverable.

(vi) All scrap or secondary material containing commercially recoverable tungsten as defined in (ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) above, excluding tungsten bearing iron and steel scrap.

(2) "Producer" means any person who mines or otherwise produces natural materials containing recoverable quantities of tungsten.

(3) "Processor" means any person who prepares ores concentrates or any chemical or metallurgical forms of tungsten for any industrial use.

(4) "Dealer" means any person who procures tungsten either by importing or from domestic sources for sale or resale without change in form, whether or not such person receives title to or physical delivery of the material, and includes warehousemen, brokers and jobbers.

(b) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries—(1) Allocations. Except as permitted by paragraph (c) (2) of this order, no person shall make or accept delivery of tungsten without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

The Director will from time to time allocate the supply of tungsten and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or for particular uses shall be made or withheld. The Director may also require any person seeking to place a purchase order for tungsten to place the same with one or more particular suppliers. Such allocations and directions will be made primarily to insure satisfaction of all defense requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders.

(2) Permissible deliveries. Until further order or in the absence of a contrary direction by the Director General for Operations, the following transactions are permitted without specific authorization by the Director General for Operations:

(i) Tungsten in any form may be delivered by any person to the Metals Reserve Company or to any other Corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (15 U.S.C., section 606 (b)), or to any duly authorized agent of any such Corporation.

(ii) Tungsten in any form (except in the form of wire, rod, sheet or metal powder) may be delivered by any person to any person in quantities of 25 pounds or less of contained tungsten, provided that the total quantity in terms of tungsten content which any person may receive pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph during any one calendar month, beginning with the month of July, 1942, from all sources of supply shall be limited to 25 pounds.

(iii) Tungsten ores or concentrates may be delivered by any producer, dealer or processor:

(a) To any processor for the purpose of being concentrated, further concentrated or beneficiated by the processor receiving such delivery, or

(b) To any dealer, provided that no dealer shall store or otherwise hold for more than 120 days any material acquired by him under the provisions of this subparagraph.

(d) Reports and applications. (1) Each processor and dealer shall file with the War Production Board on or before the 20th day of each calendar month reports on form PD-9-d, or such other form as said Board may from time to time prescribe.

(2) Any person who desires an allocation of tungsten shall apply therefor to the War Production Board not later than the 20th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery of the material is desired, on Form PD-9-c, or such other form as the War Production Board may from time to time prescribe, and shall file a copy of such application with each supplier with whom he places a purchase order for tungsten. All such applications to the War Production Board must be accompanied by reports on behalf of the applicant on form PD-9-d, or on such other form as may be prescribed for this purpose from time to time by the War Production Board. Failure by any person to file an application in the manner and on the date required by this paragraph may be construed as notice to the Director General for Operations and to all suppliers of tungsten that such person does not desire an allocation of tungsten during the next succeeding month.

(e) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Effect upon other orders. Nothing contained in this order shall be construed as altering or modifying any of the terms or provisions of General Imports Order M-63, as the same may be from time to time amended.

(g) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Tungsten Branch, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Reference: M-29.

Director General for Operations.

PART 962—IRON AND STEEL

[Interpretation 3 of Supplementary Order M-21-d]

CORROSION AND HEAT RESISTANT CHROME STEEL

The following interpretation is issued with regard to Supplementary Order M-21-d:

Paragraph (a) of Supplementary Order M-21-d (§ 962.5) places certain restrictions on the use and delivery of corrosion and heat resistant chrome steel except where specific authorization or direction has been given by the Director General for Operations. For the purposes of this order, the approval of an order for melting or delivery on forms PD-391 or PD-707 constitutes specific authorization or direction by the Director General for Operations. Therefore, an order for such steel rated lower than AA-5 can be melted, processed and shipped, if approved on forms PD-391 or PD-707, and the purchaser can use such steel in his own operations or processes or complete fabrication of articles from such steel and ship to his customer.

Issued this 9th day of January 1943.

ERNEST KANZLER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 996—CHLORINATED HYDROCARBON SOLVENTS

[General Preference Order M-41 as Amended Jan. 9, 1943]

Whereas the national defense requirements have created a shortage of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents, as hereinafter defined, for defense, for private account, and for export, and it is necessary, in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, to conserve the supply and direct the distribution thereof;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 996.1 General Preference Order M-41—(a) Definitions. (1) "Chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents" means:

(i) Carbon tetrachloride,
(ii) Trichlorethylene,
(iii) Perchlorethylene,
(iv) Ethylene dichloride, and includes mixtures containing the foregoing, provided said mixtures are suitable for any of the uses hereinafter in paragraph (c) specified.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents and includes any person who has chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Dealer" means any person who purchases chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents for purposes of resale.

(4) "Base period" means the twelve months' period ending September 30, 1941. In the event that a person shall not throughout such period have been in the business of using chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents, the base period shall be such period as the Director General for Operations shall select, having regard to such person's consumption of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents at other or different times.

(b) Applicability of Priorities Regulation 1. This order and all transactions in chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(c) Assignment of preference ratings. Unless a higher preference rating has been specifically assigned by the Director General for Operations, whether by certificate, preference rating order or otherwise, orders for chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents for each of the uses set forth below are hereby assigned the preference rating set opposite such use as follows:

Use	Preference rating
Fumigation of stored products, including grain	A-10
Charging and recharging fire extinguishers	A-10
Plant control laboratories, hospitals, educational institutions and public institutions, for own consumption	A-10
Processing and manufacture of food, chemicals, rubber, petroleum and plywood, where substitution of other materials is impractical	A-10
Cleaning of metal parts of electrical equipment	A-10
Manufacture of chlorinated hydrocarbon refrigerants	A-10
Degreasing machines specially designed to use such solvents, where used in the manufacture of aircraft, motor vehicles, arms and other direct war material pursuant to contracts or subcontracts with the Army or the Navy of the United States and where, because such solvents are not incorporated in the end product, the rating assigned is not extendable by the contractor or subcontractor; provided that the contractor or subcontractor shall have certified to such fact on his order for such solvents	A-10
Degreasing machines specially designed to use such solvents in a manufacturing process (except as described in the preceding paragraph) or in the repair of public carriers; provided such machines use the solvents at or near their boiling point	B-2
Packaged spotting and cleaning preparations	B-2
Dry cleaning establishments	B-2
Manual cleaning of non-absorbent articles other than metal parts of electrical equipment	B-2

(d) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) No person requiring any chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents for any use to which a preference rating of B-2 is assigned by paragraph (c) of this order shall in any month receive delivery of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents intended for such use in an amount in excess of fifty (50) percent of such person's average monthly consumption of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents in such use during the base period: Provided, however, That any person requiring carbon tetrachloride for any use to which a preference rating of B-2 is assigned by paragraph (c) of this order may receive delivery in any month of an amount of carbon tetrachloride up to but not in excess of one hundred (100) percent of such person's average monthly consumption of carbon tetrachloride in such use during the base period.

(2) No person other than a dealer shall receive delivery of any chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents from any other person for any use to which a preference rating lower than A-10 has been assigned by this order or otherwise unless prior to receiving delivery thereof he shall have furnished such other person with a duly executed purchaser's certificate, in duplicate, on Form PD-127 except that no purchaser's certificate shall be necessary where the quantity received is one gallon or less.

(3) Except as authorized by the Director General for Operations, no person shall receive chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents, whatever the quantity, except for the purpose of filling orders to which a preference rating has been assigned by this order or otherwise.

(4) Nothing in this paragraph (d) shall be construed to prevent:

(i) The delivery by producers of or dealers in chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents within the restrictions contained in paragraph (f) hereof and after provision has been made for filling defense orders, to and among themselves, for purposes of resale.

(ii) The acceptance of delivery of spent chlorinated hydrocarbon solvent residues by a reclaimer for purpose of reclamation, whether by way of purchase or with retention of title in the deliveror, and, where title is retained by the deliveror the return to the deliveror of the reclaimed solvents: Provided however, That the reclaimed solvents be held subject to the provisions of this order by such reclaimer or deliveror, as the case may be.

(iii) Nothing in this order shall be construed to prevent a person's accepting chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents in his customary delivery unit (tank car, drum or other container) provided, in the event that the quantity received exceeds the amount permitted by paragraphs (d) (1) and (f) hereof, that the person accepting such delivery shall not be entitled to receive additional chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents until the end of the period within which such quantity would be consumed at the rate of consumption authorized by this order.

(5) No person shall make delivery of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents to any other person where such other person is not permitted by this order to receive the same nor, where acceptance of a limited quantity thereof is permitted by this order, in a quantity in excess of such permitted quantity.

(e) Records and reports. In addition to the records and reports required by Priorities Regulation 1 as amended, each producer or dealer shall, on or before the tenth day of each month, file with the War Production Board, Ref.: M-41, the duplicate of each purchaser's certificate (Form PD-127), submitted to him, in connection with which he has made delivery during the preceding month of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents.

(f) Inventory restrictions. In addition to the inventory restrictions contained in Priorities Regulation 1, hereinabove referred to, no person other than a producer shall, except as provided in paragraph (d) (4) hereof, accumulate inventories of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents in excess of a 30 day supply thereof, at the expected rate of use or resale.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions. (1) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of materials conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may appeal to the Director General for Operations. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(2) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M–41.

(i) To the Metals Reserve Company or to any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (15 U.S.C., sec. 606 (b)), or to any duly authorized agent of any such corporation.

(ii) By any distributor in lots of three long tons or less up to but not exceeding a total of five long tons to any one customer in the same calendar month, Provided, That the aggregate of such deliveries which any person may receive from all distributors pursuant to the authority of this paragraph shall in no event exceed five long tons in any calendar month; And provided further, That any person seeking such a delivery shall, at the time of placing his purchase order, file with the distributor a statement substantially in the following form, signed by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The Undersigned hereby certifies:

(a) That no allocation of pig tin has been made to the undersigned by the Director General for Operations during the calendar month in which delivery of the pig tin covered by the accompanying purchase order is specified;

(b) That such pig tin if delivered will not cause the undersigned's total receipts of pig tin from all distributors during the same calendar month pursuant to the authorization of paragraph (f) of General Preference Order M–43, as amended, to exceed five long tons; and

(c) That such pig tin will not be used or disposed of by the undersigned in violation of any order or regulation of the War Production Board

(Duly authorized official)

(2) On or before the 10th day of each calendar month, each distributor shall report to the War Production Board in such form and detail as said Board may from time to time prescribe, his transactions in all pig tin during the previous month.

(g) Allocations. The Director General for Operations will from time to time allocate the supply of pig tin, including all pig tin released by the Metals Reserve Company, and issue specific directions as to the source, destination, and the amount of pig tin to be delivered or acquired. The Director General for Operations may also specifically direct the purposes and end products for which any person may convert, process or fabricate pig tin allocated to him.

(h) Applications for pig tin. Applications for allocations of pig tin or for specific authorization to accept delivery thereof under paragraph (g) shall be made to the War Production Board not later than the 20th day of the month next preceding the month in which delivery is desired, on Form PD–213 or such other form as the War Production Board may from time to time prescribe.

(i) Prohibitions against sales or deliveries with knowledge of intended misuse. Notwithstanding the authorization by the Director General for Operations of a sale or delivery of tin, no person shall sell or deliver any tin or tin bearing material or product thereof in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts or sub-assemblies to any person if he knows or has reason to believe such material or any product thereof is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(j) Limitation on inventories. No manufacturer shall receive delivery of tin, or products thereof, in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts or sub-assemblies nor shall he put into process any raw material, in quantities which in either case shall result in an inventory of such raw, semi-processed or finished material in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, taking into consideration the limitations placed upon the production of tin products by this order. In the absence of special permission to acquire or hold a greater supply of tin, forty-five days' inventory shall, for the purposes of this order, be deemed a practicable working inventory. Application for such special permission may be made by letter addressed to the Tin and Lead Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., reference M–43.

(k) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing form PD–229 with the War Production Board. Such appeal shall refer to the particular provision appealed from, state fully the grounds of the appeal and furnish such other information as may be required on the prescribed form.

(l) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall apply to the use of material in all items or articles hereafter manufactured irrespective of whether such items or articles are manufactured pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to January 9, 1943, or pursuant to a contract supported by a preference rating. Insofar as any other order of the Director General for Operations may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided the use of tin in the production of any item or article, the limitations of such other order shall be observed.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(n) Communications to War Production Board. All reports to be filed hereunder, appeals, and other communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Tin and Lead Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–43.

PART 1133—MOLYBDENUM

[General Preference Order M-110 as amended Jan. 9, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of molybdenum for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1133.1 General Preference Order M-110—(a) Definition. (1) "Molybdenum" means and includes:

(i) Ores and concentrates containing molybdenum (commercially recognized), and molybdenum compounds for further purification or refining;

(ii) The element molybdenum in pure form, ferromolybdenum, and all chemical or other combinations of the element molybdenum with other materials in manufactured or semimanufactured form, from which molybdenum is commercially recoverable, prepared either for further processing or for other purposes.

(iii) All scrap or secondary material containing commercially recoverable molybdenum as defined in (i) and (ii) above, excluding molybdenum-bearing iron and steel scrap.

(b) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries and processing—(1) Allocations. Hereafter no person shall make or accept delivery of molybdenum unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations. The Director will from time to time allocate the supply of molybdenum and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons and for particular uses shall be made or withheld. The Director may also, in his discretion, require any person seeking to place a purchase order for molybdenum to place the same with one or more particular suppliers. Such allocations and directions will be made primarily to insure satisfaction of all defense requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made in the discretion of the Director General for Operations without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders.

(2) Reports. Unless otherwise ordered by the Director General for Operations, no person shall be entitled to receive an allocation of molybdenum unless, not later than the 20th day of the month next preceding the month in which delivery is desired, he shall have filed with the War Production Board reports on Forms PD-358 and PD-359, and an application for Molybdenum on Form PD-360, or in any case, on such other form as the War Production Board may from time to time prescribe, and in addition, shall have filed with any supplier with whom he may place a purchase order for Molybdenum, a copy of Form PD-360: Provided, however, That, subject to all the other provisions, restrictions and limitations of this order and until further order by the Director General for Operations, any person may receive deliveries during any calendar month up to but not exceeding an aggregate of 50 pounds contained molybdenum for consumption in the manufacture of nonmetallic products, without filing the reports required by this paragraph. Failure by any person to file an application and reports in the manner and on the date required by this paragraph may be construed as notice to the Director General for Operations and to all suppliers of molybdenum that such person does not desire an allocation of molybdenum during the period to which the same would have been applicable.

(3) Processing restrictions. Hereafter, no person shall melt or otherwise process molybdenum except pursuant to approval of his melting schedule under the provisions of Supplementary Order M-21-a, as the same may be from time to time amended, or pursuant to specific authorization by the Director General for Operations.

NOTE: Subparagraph (3) effective August 8, 1942

(d) Violations or false statements. Any person who wilfully violates this order, or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order may be prohibited from receiving further deliveries of materials subject to allocation, and such further action may be taken as is deemed appropriate, including the making of a recommendation for prosecution under section 35A of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 80).

(e) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Reference: M-110.

(f) Effective dates. This order shall take effect March 18, 1942, and shall continue in effect until revoked by the Director General for Operations.

PART 3041—WATER HEATERS

[Interpretation 1 of General Limitation Order L-185]

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 3041.1, General Limitation Order L-185:

Any appliances, including those commonly known as laundry stoves or laundry heaters, which have permanently built-in coils for water heating, or which have water jackets as integral parts of such appliances, are "water heaters as defined in L-185, and are subject to the restrictions of that order.

Such devices as water backs, water fronts, reservoirs and coils, which perform a water heating function when connected or fixed to domestic cooking appliances as defined in L-23-c, and are detachable or replaceable, are water heaters as defined in L-185 (although the domestic cooking appliances will be subject to the restrictions of L-23-c) and will be subject to the restrictions of that order.

[F. R. Doc. 43-534; Filed, January 11, 1943; 11:16 a. m.]

PART 3051—SCALES, BALANCES AND WEIGHTS

[Interpretation 2 of Limitation Order L-190]

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 3051.1 Limitation Order L-190:

Paragraph (a) (7) of Order L-190 defines "Class One scales" as including "scales for household use." "Scales for household use" as defined by paragraph (a) (4) includes all scales commonly used for household purposes except dietetic scales. Spring type scales with a retail list price of $5.00 or less and equipped with postal charts are a type of scale commonly used for household mailing and other household purposes. Hence they are "scales for household use" within the definition of paragraph (a) (4) and are included in "Class One scales" under paragraph (a) (7). Accordingly the fabrication and assembly of that type of scale are restricted by paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2). Moreover, those scales fabricated and assembled prior to the dates specified in the latter paragraphs may be sold without regard to the requirement of a rating of A-9 or higher which paragraph (c) (1) requires for scales of other classes.

"Class Three scales" is defined by paragraph (a) (9) to mean "mailing and parcel post scales." This definition refers to scales of the types commonly used by postal services and for business mailing and parcel post work, and not to those scales commonly used for household mailing and other household purposes.

Issued this 11th day of January 1943.

Director General for Operations.

(b) Prohibition. * * *

(1) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy.

(2) Where, during June, 1942, a room was rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy except that he is not required to rent for that term more than the greatest number of rooms which were rented for the term at any one time during June, 1942. However, if, during the year ending on June 90, 1942, a landlord had regular and definite seasonal practices with reference to the renting of rooms on a weekly or monthly basis, he may request the Administrator to approve such practices. When approval is given the landlord shall offer rooms for rent for weekly and monthly terms of occupancy pursuant to the practices so approved. The Administrator may withdraw approval at any time if he finds that the landlord has failed to conform to such practices, or if he finds that the effects of the approval are inconsistent with the Act or this maximum rent regulation or are likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(3) Any tenant on a daily or weekly term of occupancy shall on request be permitted by the landlord to change to a weekly or monthly term unless the landlord is then renting for such term a number of rooms equal to the number which he is required to rent for that term under subparagraph (2). If the room occupied by such tenant was not rented or offered for rent for such term during June, 1942, the landlord may transfer the tenant to a room, as similar as possible, which was so rented or offered for rent.

(e) Registration and records. * * *

(1) Every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall preserve, and make available for examination by the Administrator, all his existing records showing or relating to (i) the rent for each term and number of occupants for which such room was rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for such room, (ii) the rent on any date determining a maximum rent for such room for a particular term and number of occupants under § ---[1] (c), and (iii) rooms rented and offered for rent on a weekly and monthly basis during June, 1942.

* * * * *

(22) "Primary supplier" means:

(i) Any person who refines fuel oil within the limitation area; or

(ii) The first person, in point of time, who has possession of fuel oil within the limitation area (other than as a carrier). Two exceptions to this subdivision (ii) appear in subdivisions (iii) and (iv).

(iii) The first person to have possession is not the primary supplier if he is a consumer who takes delivery of the fuel oil on direct shipment from without the limitation area in some way other than by pipeline, barge, tank ship or railroad tank car. Instead, the primary supplier is the person who had possession of the fuel oil (other than as a carrier) immediately prior to its entry into the limitation area.

(iv) The first person to have possession is not the primary supplier if the person from whom he purchased the fuel oil maintains a regular place of business within the limitation area. Instead, the primary supplier is the person from whom the purchase is made.

A person who is a primary supplier with regard to any fuel oil received or transferred at an establishment shall be regarded as a primary supplier as to all fuel oil which he receives or transfers at that establishment. A person is a primary supplier as to the establishments maintained by him at which he carries on any operations constituting him a primary supplier, and as to any other establishments which he chooses to register in his primary supplier registration (under paragraph (a) of § 1394.5701), except that if he does not maintain stationary storage facilities within the limitation area, he is a primary supplier as to all mobile facilities operated by him within the limitation area.

Delivery to a carrier for shipment, or by a carrier in the course of or in completion of shipment, shall not be deemed a transfer to or by such carrier. Any delivery of fuel oil into stationary storage facilities designated by the Petroleum Administration for War as a terminal to receive principal petroleum products pursuant to Petroleum Directive No. 59 of the Petroleum Administration for War shall be deemed a transfer of fuel oil to the owner or operator of such terminal, and delivery of fuel oil from such terminal to a person other than the owner or operator shall be deemed a transfer of fuel oil by the owner or operator to such person.

§ 1394.5745 Cessation of business as a primary supplier. (a) Any primary supplier who ceases to be a primary supplier at any place of business registered by him shall, immediately after such cessation, surrender to the Control and Audit Unit, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington D. C., for cancellation, the registration certificate in which such place of business was included, and he shall notify the Board at which he filed his registration application of such surrender. If, however, he continues in business as a primary supplier at any other place of business as to which he is registered as a primary supplier, he shall request the cancellation of his registration of the place of business at which he has ceased to do business as a primary supplier by forwarding to the Control and Audit Unit, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., together with his next monthly report after the termination of operations as a primary supplier at the place of business, a statement, in duplicate, showing:

(1) The name, firm name and business address of the registrant and the address of the place of business at which he has ceased to do business as a primary supplier.

The registrant shall forward a triplicate copy of such statement to the Board at which he filed his original registration application. If the primary supplier terminates operations as a primary supplier at all places of business included in his registration certificate, he shall submit to the Control and Audit Unit, together with his monthly report to such Unit for the period in which he terminated operations, an exchange certificate representing all coupons and other evidences which he is required, pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.5731, to submit with respect to such place of business, but has not yet submitted.

[Rev. MPR 122]

SOLID FUELS SOLD AND DELIVERED BY DEALERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The title, preamble and §§ 1340.251 to 1340.262, inclusive, are renumbered and amended to read as set forth below:

The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices prevailing on sales of such solid fuels between October 1 and October 15, 1941 and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this revised regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, issued October 2, 1942, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 is hereby issued.

§ 1340.251 Where this regulation applies. (a) This regulation shall apply to all sales and deliveries of solid fuel from or to any point in the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, unless:

(1) Made by the producer or distributor at or from a mine, a preparation plant operated as an adjunct of any mine, a coke oven or briquette plant; or

(2) Subject to Maximum Price Regulation No. 189[1]—Bituminous Coal Sold for Direct Use as Bunker Fuel.

(b) Where the dealer has more than one business establishment, each establishment shall be considered a separate dealer. (Under Supplementary Order No. 13 (7 F.R. 6523) retail sellers operating more than one establishment and having had a uniform pricing practice as to two or more of them may apply for authorization to determine and use uniform maximum prices.)

§ 1340.252 What this regulation prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall:

(a) Sell, or, in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuel at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, or

(b) Obtain a higher than ceiling price by:

(1) Changing his customary allowances, discounts, or other price differentials, or

(2) Increasing any service charge or any interest rate on debts over that charged in December 1941 except where he may be ordered by the Bituminous Coal Division to apply a higher interest rate, or

(3) Using any other device by which a higher than ceiling price is obtained, or

(c) Use any tying agreement or make any requirement that anything other than the fuel requested by the buyer be purchased by him.

§ 1340.253 Less than maximum prices may be charged. Less than maximum prices may be charged, paid, or offered but this regulation shall not authorize or excuse any sale in violation of any order of the Bituminous Coal Division setting minimum price.

§ 1340.254 How maximum prices are calculated under this regulation. How to use the maximum price rules in paragraph (b). Rule 1 is intended to be used generally, but a dealer, if in doubt, may instead calculate his maximum price by optional Rule 1A or Rule 1B. If a dealer cannot calculate his price by using Rule 1, and does not wish to use Rule 1A or 1B, he must use Rule 2. If he cannot use Rule 2, he must use Rule 3 or Rule 4, depending on which covers his situation. Supplemental rules covering four special situations (sales for railroad fuel use; sales by brokers of lake cargo coal; dealers' gradual adjustments of maximum prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 122)[2] are stated in § 1340.[illegible]. The meanings of terms printed in quotation marks when first used in this section are given in § 1340.255 which follows this section.

(b) The maximum price rules. Rule 1. The maximum price for any solid fuel shall be:

(1) "The highest price charged by the dealer" in December 1941 for "the same fuel", plus

(2) Any increase in his "supplier's maximum price" for the same fuel over "the highest of all prices charged the dealer on the same fuel supplied to him" during the last calendar month of 1941 in which the dealer took deliveries of such fuel from a "supplier".

The maximum price of a solid fuel received from a supplier who is the same person as the dealer shall be: The highest price charged by the dealer in December 1941 for the same fuel; plus the difference between the highest price charged by the supplier during the same month to an independent dealer and the same supplier's maximum price for sales of the same fuel to the same independent dealer or any other of the same class.

If the dealer did not deliver a solid fuel to a certain class of purchasers during December 1941, his maximum price for sales to that class shall be based upon the maximum price for sales of the same solid fuel to other classes of purchasers, adjusted to reflect his customary price differentials between or among the classes of purchasers.

Rule 1A. The maximum price of a dealer who chooses to set his maximum price by his highest offering price for delivery during December 15–31, 1941, inclusive, shall be such highest offering price for a "like sale" if, either advertised by him after October 1 1941 in a medium of general circulation, such as a newspaper, in his locality, or listed in the last price circular, list or schedule he issued and made available to the purchasing public in 1941.

Rule 1B. The maximum prices of any dealer who chooses to use the maximum prices which he has calculated by using the weighted average price formula (§ 1340.261 (c)) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 and which he has posted as it requires (§ 1340.261 (j)) before the effective date of this revised regulation are the maximum prices so calculated and posted for a like sale.

Rule 2. The maximum price shall be the maximum price of the "most closely competitive dealer of the same class" for a like sale.

Rule 3. The maximum price shall be the sum of: First, the per net ton cost to the dealer, f. o. b. supplier's shipping point; Second, the actual transportation cost to the dealer's yard, dock or other terminal facility; and Third, "the margin over delivered cost" on the dealer's similar sale of solid fuel most nearly like the sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is calculated under this Rule 3, taking into account similarity in size, kind, quality, use and quantity of fuel, class of purchasers, method of delivery (e. g., by truck, rail, etc.) and terms of delivery (e. g., delivered price, f. o. b. dealer's yard, etc.). But a dealer eligible for compensatory adjustment under Compensatory Adjustment Regulation No. 1[4] shall, in place of the item marked Second in this Rule 3, substitute the lowest transportation cost he would have incurred during December 1941 in bringing the fuel to his terminal facility, plus not more than five (5) cents per net ton if he would then have used rail transportation.

Rule 4. If Rule 3 cannot be applied because the dealer made no similar sale, his maximum price shall be the price set by the regional office of the Office of Price Administration in line with the level of maximum prices set by this regulation. The dealer shall apply to the regional office, stating in writing:

First: the size, kind, quality and possible use or uses of the solid fuel to be priced;

Second: the name of its producer and its origin and, for bituminous coal, its price classification and group, size group, and mine index number in the minimum price schedules of the Bituminous Coal Division;

Third: the per net ton price, f. o. b. supplier's shipping point;

Fourth: the actual transportation cost to the dealer's yard, dock, or other terminal facility;

Fifth: a proposed schedule of prices for each class of purchaser involved, stating price variations for different quantities, methods and terms of delivery;

Sixth: his margin over delivered cost on sales of solid fuel serving the same purpose;

Seventh: any other pertinent information which the regional office may request.

§ 1340.255 The meanings of certain terms used in the maximum price rules. (a) The following quoted words, when used in this regulation, have the meanings given below:

(1) "A like sale" means one sale of solid fuel is like another if the same solid fuel is delivered under the same terms and by the same method to a purchaser of the same class as in the sale to which comparison is made.

(2) "The highest price charged by the dealer" means the highest price he charged for a like sale of fuel delivered during December 1941.

(3) "Same fuel" or "same solid fuel" means one solid fuel shall be deemed to be the same as another if the first is the same size and kind as the second, is of the same quality, has the same use, affords the purchaser equivalent serviceability, and is interchangeable with the second. In the case of bituminous coal, if the two coals compared are in the same or equivalent price classification and group and size group number as set forth in Maximum Price Regulation No. 120[5]—Bituminous Coal Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant, they are the same; this is the basic test although it is possible bituminous coals may be the same if they do not meet this test. Egg, stove and nut sizes of Pennsylvania anthracite as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 112[6] shall be deemed to be one size of such anthracite for the purposes of this regulation.

(4) "A supplier" means any person who in 1941 or 1942 sold the dealer solid fuels for resale. Any person who sells to the dealer after 1942 is also a supplier if he performs the same functions in the selling of the same solid fuels at the same level of distribution and sells to dealers of the same class as did the suppliers who sold to the dealer in 1941 or 1942.

(5) "A supplier's maximum price" means the maximum price of an independent or affiliated supplier for deliveries to the dealer (before deducting any allowance or discount or adding any special service charge), f. o. b. supplier's shipping point. Maximum prices of suppliers are established by one or more of these regulations: Maximum Price Regulation No. 112—Pennsylvania Anthracite; Regulation No. 120—Bituminous Coal Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant; Regulation No. 121—Miscellaneous Solid Fuels Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant;[7] and this regulation.

(6) "The highest of all prices charged the dealer on the same fuel supplied to him" means the highest of all prices charged the dealer before the deduction of any discount or allowance or the addition of any special service charge.

(7) "The margin over delivered cost" means the difference between (i) the maximum price of the solid fuel under this Regulation, and (ii) the sum of (a) its most recent cost per ton to the dealer, f. o. b. supplier's shipping point, and (b) the actual transportation cost to the dealer's yard, dock, or other terminal facility.

(8) "Dealer of same class" means (i) a dealer performing the same function (trucking from a mine, yard or dock, a yard or dock operator), (ii) dealing in the same solid fuels, and (iii) selling to purchasers of the same class.

(9) "Most closely competitive dealer of the same class" shall be a dealer of the same class who (i) is selling the same solid fuel, (ii) is closely competitive in the sale of solid fuel, and (iii) is located nearest to the dealer.

(10) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the dealer in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale, including methods and terms of delivery.

(b) Other definitions. Meanings of the following words and phrases are given in § 1340.265: "person", "producer", "distributor", "solid fuel", "f. o. b.", "sell", "dealer", "affiliated supplier", "Bituminous Coal Division."

maximum price for the sales covered by this section shall be a price calculated as required in the paragraphs following:

(a) Maximum dock prices for railroad fuel. (1) If solid fuel is sold for railroad fuel use at or from a dock on the west bank of Lake Michigan or the United States side of Lake Superior, its maximum price shall be the sum of (i) the purchase price per ton, f. o. b. the mine for sales to the dealer, (ii) the dealer's actual transportation cost to the same dock, and (iii) his handling and storage charge in effect during December 15–31, 1941, but not to exceed fifty-five (55) cents per net ton.

(b) Maximum prices for sales by competitive bidding. If solid fuel is sold under contract awarded the dealer in public competitive bidding, the maximum price shall be the dealer's maximum price calculated by the rules in § 1340.254 for like sales to business purchasers.

(c) Lake cargo coal. The maximum price of solid fuel received via water transportation facilities by any dealer on the Great Lakes or their connecting or tributary waters shall be the dealer's offering price, calculated by Rule 1A, for like sales or, if he chooses, a maximum price calculated by Rule 1B of § 1340.254 for like sales.

(d) Dealers previously granted adjustments of maximum prices. The maximum price of a dealer granted an adjustment of his maximum prices by order of adjustment issued under Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 shall be the higher of the following prices:

(1) The maximum price for a like sale established by this regulation, or

(2) The dealer's maximum price for a like sale as adjusted by order plus the difference between (i) the current delivered cost to him of the same fuel and (ii) the cost of the last delivery of such fuel to him prior to the effective date of the order of adjustment of his maximum price.

§ 1340.257 When the amount of the railroad freight rate increase may be added to the maximum price. A dealer who calculates his maximum price for the sale of solid fuel by Rules 1, 1A or 1B in § 1340.254 of this regulation may add to his maximum price the exact amount of the railroad freight rate increase incurred as a result of the Interstate Commerce Commission's order in its Docket Ex Parte 148, effective March 18, 1942.

§ 1340.258 Adjustable pricing. A price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the solid fuel has been completed; but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations, where a petition for amendment or an application for adjustment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator, may upon application grant permission to agree to adjust prices on deliveries made during the pendency of the petition or application in accordance with the disposition thereof.

§ 1340.259 Petitions for amendment and applications for adjustment. (a) The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this regulation in the following cases:

(1) Local shortages. In the case of any dealer or group of dealers when it appears:

(i) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a solid fuel which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(ii) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such dealer and of like dealers for such solid fuel; and

(iii) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Each Regional Administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this subparagraph (1).

(2) Equalization for river transport. In the case of a dealer delivering bituminous coal, produced by an affiliated supplier, from river terminal facilities at a maximum price established by this regulation which permits the producer a realization less than the applicable maximum price, f. o. b. the mine for the kind, size and quality of coal delivered from the river terminal facilities, the dealer may present the special circumstances of the case in an application for adjustment filed with the Secretary, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. Unless notified to the contrary, the dealer may, after a lapse of fifteen (15) days from the date of the filing of such application, adjust his maximum price by an amount which will permit his affiliated supplier to realize no more than the applicable maximum price set forth in Maximum Price Regulation No. 120.

(3) Abnormally low retail price. In the case of any dealer at retail who shows:

(i) That such maximum price is abnormally low in relation to the maximum price of the same or similar solid fuel established for other dealers at retail; and

(ii) That this abnormality subjects him to substantial hardship.

No application for adjustment filed after November 30, 1942, will be granted under subparagraph (3).

(4) Abnormally low wholesale price. In the case of any dealer, other than a dealer at retail, who shows:

(i) That such maximum price causes him substantial hardship and is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices established for competitive dealers of the same or similar solid fuel; and

(ii) That establishing for him a maximum price, bearing a normal relation to the maximum price established for competitive dealers of the same or similar solid fuel, will not cause or threaten to cause an increase in the level of retail prices.

No application for adjustment filed after November 15, 1942, will be granted under this subparagraph (4).

(5) Long term contract price. In the case of any dealer who shows to the satisfaction of the Administrator that he is subjected to undue hardship because he is thereby required not to exceed a price specified in a long term contract with a consumer, other than a household consumer, which contract was in effect during the period December 15–31, inclusive, 1941, and had been entered into prior to July 1, 1941. In such a case the dealer should submit and the Office of Price Administration will consider:

(i) A copy of the long term contract or contracts upon which application is based;

(ii) The tonnage, and the proportion of the total tonnage sold by the dealer in the year 1941, which moved under such long term contract, broken down as to sizes, kinds and qualities;

(iii) The prices listed by the dealer in all advertisements, price circulars, lists or schedules in effect during December 15–31, 1941, for the sizes, kind and qualities of solid fuel involved in such long term contract, for sales to purchasers of the same class, and under similar terms and methods of delivery;

(iv) The weighted average of the prices actually charged by the dealer during December 15–31, 1941, on sales of each size, kind and quality of solid fuel covered by such long term contract but not including the tonnage sold under such contracts;

(v) A summary for each month of the calendar year 1941, of the prices charged by the dealer in sales of each size, kind, and quality of solid fuel covered by such long term contract, exclusive of the tonnage sold under such contract;

(vi) A statement of the mine prices paid by the dealer from and after the date upon which such long term contract was entered into on all purchases of the sizes, kinds and qualities of solid fuel covered by such contract;

(vii) Any other data bearing on the alleged hardships imposed on the dealer by virtue of the effect of such long term contract upon his maximum price;

(viii) Any data showing the necessity, in terms of the war effort, for the granting of the requested adjustment.

The Office of Price Administration may require in connection with any such application full data on costs, profits, and other factors deemed relevant.

No application for adjustment filed after November 15, 1942, will be granted under this subparagraph (5).

Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

(b) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

§ 1340.260 Provision for specific ceiling prices. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may by order establish specific maximum prices in line with those established by this regulation for sales of solid fuels by a dealer or group of dealers in any area or locality.

§ 1340.261 Applicability of other regulations. (a) Section 1499.15 Registration and § 1499.16 Licensing of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to this regulation. No other provision of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to this regulation.

(b) The minimum price established by the Bituminous Coal Division and applicable to members of its Bituminous Coal Code shall be the maximum price for sales of solid fuels by such members if such minimum is greater than the maximum price otherwise established by this regulation.

§ 1340.262 Records and reports.—(a) Base period records. Each dealer in solid fuels shall preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing records relating to:

(1) The prices he charged on deliveries made by him during December 1941;

(2) His offering prices (as defined in Rule 1A of § 1340.254 of this regulation) for delivery during the period December 15-31, 1941;

(3) His customary allowances, discounts and other price differentials;

(4) His charges for all special services and rates of interest on all forms of credit during December 1941;

(5) The prices charged to him by all of his suppliers during the last month of 1941 in which he received each different size, kind and quality of solid fuel.

(b) Current records. Every dealer in solid fuels for whom a maximum price is established by this Regulation shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration records of his sales and purchases of the same type as he has customarily kept.

(c) Reports. Each dealer in solid fuels shall report to his War Price and Rationing Board his maximum prices for sales of solid fuel within no more than ten (10) days after he determines or redetermines his maximum prices pursuant to this revised regulation. However, to the extent that the dealer's maximum prices determined pursuant to Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 are the same as his maximum prices determined pursuant to this Revised Regulation and have been reported to any office of the Office of Price Administration, or to his war price and rationing board, he need not again report such prices.

But each dealer whose sales of solid fuels from all his business establishments totaled $100,000 or more during 1942 and each dealer who is affiliated with his supplier shall, at the time of filing his maximum prices with his war price and rationing board, file an additional report with the Solid Fuels Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., showing his maximum prices, the method of computation thereof, including specifically the margin over delivered cost obtainable on sales at maximum prices of each solid fuel to each different class of purchasers.

§ 1340.263 Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (a) Every dealer of solid fuels shall post all his maximum prices in dollars and cents per net or gross ton or fraction thereof, (or other unit of weight or measurement customarily used by him in his business) in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public for all cash and other sales under all methods and terms of delivery to all classes of purchasers of the purchasing public.

(b) Every dealer who during December 1941 customarily gave purchasers sales slips or receipts shall continue to do so. If a purchaser requests of a seller a receipt showing the name and address of the dealer, the kind, size and quality of the solid fuel sold to him or the price charged, the dealer shall comply with the purchaser's request as made by him.

§ 1340.264 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this revised regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil and enforcement actions, suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this regulation or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1340.265 Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, transportation, process, or use of solid fuel imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the dealer's maximum price for solid fuel and in preparing his records with respect thereto:

(a) As to a tax in effect during December 1941:

(1) If the dealer paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any of his prior suppliers, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the dealer, but the dealer did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during December 1941 the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his supplier, the dealer may not collect such amount in addition to his maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this revised regulation.

(2) In all other cases if, at the time the dealer determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the dealer from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the dealer does state it separately, he may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of the tax paid by any of his prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from the dealer by the supplier from whom he purchased, and the dealer shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this regulation.

(b) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after December 1941, if the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the dealer from stating or collecting the tax separately from his selling price and the dealer does separately state, the dealer may collect, in addition to his maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any of his prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from the dealer by the supplier from whom he purchased.

Chapter IV—War Shipping Administration

PART 306—GENERAL AGENTS AND AGENTS

BONDING OF SHIPS' PERSONNEL RECEIVING ADVANCES FOR ACCOUNT OF WAR SHIPPING ADMINISTRATION

§ 306.61 Bonding of ships' personnel. From and after February 1, 1943 no moneys or property shall be advanced to a Master, purser, or other member of the ship's personnel for the account of the War Shipping Administration, unless such person is under a bond indemnifying the United States against loss of such moneys or property caused, solely or in part, by the dishonesty or lack of care of any such person in the performance of the duties of any position covered by the bond.

§ 306.62 Amount of bond and advances. Such bonds shall be in an amount deemed by the agents to be sufficient to cover, as nearly as possible, the value of all moneys and property that may be advanced to any one person filling a bonded position hereunder at any one time.

§ 306.63 Premiums. The bonds provided for in this order shall be furnished without cost to the United States, but the cost of the premiums of such bonds shall be included in the overhead expense of the agents in calculating any adjustment of compensation under the provisions of sections 10 and 11 of General Order No. 12 (§§ 306.10 and 306.11).

§ 306.64 Form of bond. The form of bond required by the War Shipping Administration to be used by the agents in compliance with the provisions of this general order shall be as follows:

WAR SHIPPING ADMINISTRATION

Position Fidelity Schedule Bond

In consideration of the annual premium of _____ (hereafter called the "Surety") hereby agrees to pay to _____ or its successors (hereafter called the "Agent") or the United States of America, (hereinafter called the "United States"), represented by the Administrator, War Shipping Administration or his successors (hereinafter called the "Administrator"), as their interests may appear, the amount of any pecuniary loss of money or other property caused solely or in part, by reason of the dishonesty or lack of care of any person in the performance of the duties of any position, now or hereafter listed in the "Schedule of Positions and Amounts Pending" part hereof (hereinafter called the "Schedule"), on any vessel from time to time allocated to the Agent by the Administrator.

This bond is executed and accepted subject to the following agreements, limitations and conditions:

FIRST. Liability under this bond with the _____ day of _____, 19__, in respect of each person then filling any position named in the Schedule on any of the vessels then allocated to the Agent by the Administrator. As to any positions becoming vacant during the term of this bond or positions listed in the Schedule on any vessel or vessels hereafter allocated to the Agent by the Administrator, liability under this bond shall attach as soon as such positions are filled, provided the Administrator or the Agent shall within ninety (90) days after the date such position or positions are filled notify the Surety in writing of such position or positions are filled. Upon the Agent and the Administrator relieving the responsibility of the Agent hereunder to the Surety as provided in Paragraph Tenth hereof, the Surety agrees that neither the Agent nor the Administrator need furnish a list of vessels on which positions are filled hereunder at any time during the continuance in force of this bond.

SECOND. If the Agent or the Administrator shall request the Surety to increase or decrease the amount of coverage applicable to any position named in the Schedule, the Surety shall make such change by written acceptance showing the increase or decrease in the amount of coverage and the effective date thereof, which effective date shall not be prior to the date of such request: Provided, however, That if the Administrator shall within ninety (90) days after receipt of notice of a decrease resulting from a request by the Agent advise the Surety that it does not consent to such decrease, such decrease shall become inoperative and coverage shall continue in the amount applicable prior to such decrease as if such decrease had never been made.

THIRD. If the Surety knows or has reason to believe that any person filling any position named in the Schedule has caused any loss of money or property entrusted to him by reason of the dishonesty or lack of care in the performance of the duties of such position, the Surety may terminate the coverage of this bond as to such person by giving notice in writing to the Agent and the Administrator at least thirty days prior to the completion, in a continental United States port, of the then current voyage of the vessel on which such person is filling a position, in which case the coverage of this bond as to such person shall terminate when the crew is paid off upon such completion of the voyage. The Agent may cancel the coverage of this bond (a) as an entirety or (b) as to any position named in the Schedule by giving the Surety fifteen (15) days written notice accompanied by written approval of the Administrator to such cancellation. The Administrator may cancel the coverage of this bond (a) as an entirety or (b) as to any position named in the Schedule upon fifteen (15) days written notice to the Surety. In the event of any such cancellation the Surety shall refund to the Agent any unearned premiums computed pro rata.

FOURTH. After discovery and report to the Agent or the Administrator of any loss hereunder the Agent or the Administrator shall give the Surety written notice thereof, and within ninety (90) days after such written notice to the Surety shall file with the Surety affirmative proof of loss itemized and sworn to on forms furnished by the Surety. Prior discovery and report to the Agent of such loss shall not affect the right of the Administrator to notify the Surety of such loss and to file proof of loss. As between the Agent and the Administrator, it shall be the responsibility of the Agent, to give the notice to and file the proof of loss with the Surety as provided herein. "Discovery and report" as used herein is defined in Paragraph tenth hereof.

FIFTH. Any suit to recover on account of any loss hereunder shall be brought before the expiration of five years from the report to the Agent or the Administrator of the act causing such loss.

SIXTH. The Agent will declare at the original effective date of this bond, and at each subsequent premium anniversary date, the total number of persons then filling each position named in the Schedule, and the annual premium will be computed for the ensuing year on the basis of the aggregate coverage represented by such declaration. Upon such premium anniversary date there will be a computation of additional premium or refund of premium in proportion to the change in coverage each year.

SEVENTH. Settlement of any claim hereunder shall be made by check payable to the Agent unless otherwise instructed by the Administrator, but no settlement of any claim hereunder may be made for an amount less than the full amount of the loss for which the claim is made without the written consent of the Administrator thereto.

EIGHTH. The Surety shall not be entitled to any reimbursement, salvage or recovery—except from insurance, reinsurance, collateral or indemnity taken by the Surety for its own benefit—on account of any loss hereunder until the Agent or the Administrator, as their interests may appear, is reimbursed in full.

NINTH. No modification or change of any nature of the provisions of this bond shall take effect unless the Administrator shall have given his written consent thereto, except that the Agent may increase the coverage hereunder in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph First hereof without such consent of the Administrator.

TENTH. (a) Any action, approval or consent which by the provisions of this bond is required to be taken or signed by the Administrator shall be effective if taken or signed by the Administrator or by his authorized representative, and wherever and whenever herein any right, power, or authority is granted or given to the Administrator, such right, power, or authority may be exercised in all cases by his authorized representative, and the act or acts of such authorized representative, when taken, shall constitute the act of the Administrator hereunder.

(b) "Discovery and report" by the Agent as used herein shall be deemed to mean discovery by any person and the report of such discovery to an executive officer or head of a department or division concerned with such discovery and report of the Agent at the Agent's principal place of business within the continental United States. "Discovery and report" by the Administrator shall be deemed to mean discovery by any person and the report of such discovery to an executive officer or head of a division or section concerned with such discovery and report at the Administrator's headquarters.

(c) Notices, approvals and requests required by the provisions hereof shall be sent to the surety addressed to it at its home office at _____.

(d) Notices, acceptances and requests required to be sent to the Agent shall be sent to The Agent, _____

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

[Docket No. B-64]

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION, ETC.

Order granting application filed pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for Disposition of Proceeding without formal hearing, revoking code membership and cancelling hearing.

A complaint, dated October 2, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act") having been duly filed on October 7, 1941, by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 8 (the "Complainant"), alleging that Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., a corporation, operating a mine designated as Mine Index No. 2431, located in Wayne County, West Virginia, District No. 8, wilfully violated the provisions of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code"), rules and regulations respectively promulgated thereunder by the Bituminous Coal Division, and the schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for all shipments except truck, as more fully set forth in the Complaint;

The Complaint herein and Notice of and Order for Hearing issued November 22, 1941, having been duly served on the Code member on December 8, 1941, and the hearing herein having been postponed by Order issued March 2, 1942, to a time and place to be thereafter designated by an appropriate order; and

The Code member having filed with the Division on February 16, 1942, an application, dated February 14, 1942 (the "Application") for the disposition of this compliance proceeding without formal hearing pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure; and

Notice dated March 3, 1942, of the filing of the Application having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 4, 1942, pursuant to said § 301.132, and copies thereof having been duly mailed to interested parties including the complainant herein; and

Said notice of filing having provided that interested parties desiring to do so might within fifteen (15) days from the date of said notice file recommendations or requests for informal conferences in respect to said application and it appearing that no such recommendations or requests have been filed with the Division; and

It appearing from the application that the Code member admits that it wilfully committed the violations alleged in the complaint herein by selling, delivering and offering to sell on various dates between May 25, 1941, and June 8, 1941, inclusive, to the Ann Arbor Railway Company, Norman B. Pitcairn and Frank C. Nicodemus, Jr., Receivers, for use as railway locomotive fuel 450 tons of Size Group 7, or 5" x 2" egg coal produced by the Code member at the Code member's mine located in Wayne County, West Virginia, and designated as Mine Index No. 2431, at a price of $1.85 per net ton f. o. b. said mine, whereas the effective minimum price established for such coal was $2.30 per net ton, f. o. b. said mine at the time said transactions occurred; and it further appearing from the application that the Code member to the best of its knowledge and belief has not committed any violations of the Act, the Code, or rules and regulations thereunder other than those admitted and more particularly described in the application; and

It further appearing from the application that the Code member consents to the entry by the Director of an order cancelling and revoking Applicant's Code membership or of an order directing the Code member to cease and desist from violations of the Code and rules and regulations thereunder, or to an order revoking Applicant's Code membership and also enjoining and restraining the Code member from violations of the Code and regulations made thereunder upon any restoration of the Applicant's Code membership; and

It further appearing from the Application that the Code member consents to the imposition of a tax in the amount of $403.65, payment of which shall be required as a condition precedent to the restoration of code membership of the applicant.

Now, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in the Division by said section 4 II (j) of the Act, authorizing it to adjust complaints of violation and to compose the differences of the parties thereto, and upon the Application of the Code member for disposition hereof without formal hearing, and upon evidence in the possession of the Division; It is hereby found that:

The Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of West Virginia, and engaged in the business of mining and producing bituminous coal in Wayne County, West Virginia, in District No. 8;

Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., filed with the Division its acceptance of Code membership, dated April 23, 1940, which became effective as of April 24, 1940. Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., since April 24, 1940 has been and is now a Code member in District No. 8, operating the mine designated as Mine Index No. 2431, located in Wayne County, West Virginia;

Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., during the period May 25, 1941 to June 8, 1941, wilfully violated the provision of the Act, the Code, rules and regulations and the effective minimum prices thereunder, by offering to sell, selling and delivering approximately 450 tons of Size Group 7, 5" x 2" egg coal produced at its mine, designated as Mine Index No. 2431, to the Ann Arbor Railway Company at a price of $1.85 per net ton f. o. b. said mine for rail shipment, whereas the effective minimum price for said coal was $2.30 per net ton f. o. b. said mine for rail shipment, as established and set forth in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for All Shipments Except Truck.

Now, therefore, on the basis of the above findings and said admissions and consent of Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., contained in its Application filed pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure;

It is ordered, That the Application be and the same hereby is granted; and

It is further ordered, That pursuant to section 5 (b) of the Act, the membership of Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., in the Code be, and the same hereby is, revoked and cancelled, said revocation and cancellation to become effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof; and

It is further ordered, That prior to the restoration of Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., to membership in the Code, there shall be paid to the United States a tax in the amount of $403.65 as provided in section 5 (c) of the Act; and

It is further ordered, That the Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., its representatives, servants, agents, officers, employees, attorneys, receivers, successors and assigns and any and all persons acting or claiming to act on its behalf or in its interest, cease and desist and they hereby are permanently enjoined and restrained from violating the Bituminous Coal Act, the Bituminous Coal Code and Rules and regulations issued thereunder, and that the provisions hereof shall continue in full force and effect in respect to Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., its representatives, servants, agents, officers, employees, attorneys, receivers, successors and assigns and any and all persons acting or claiming to act on its behalf or in its interest upon any conditional or unconditional restoration of Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., to membership in the Code under section 5 (c) of the Act.

It is further ordered, That the hearing herein heretofore postponed by order dated March 2, 1942, to a date and place to be thereafter designated by appropriate order be, and the same hereby is, cancelled; and

It is further ordered, That upon any failure to comply with the restraining provisions of this order, the Division may apply to any Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States having jurisdiction for the enforcement hereof, or take other appropriate action.

Dated: January 7, 1943.

WASSON COAL CO.

ORDER DIRECTING CODE MEMBER TO CEASE AND DESIST

District Board 10 filed a complaint with the Bituminous Coal Division on November 12, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 alleging wilful violation of section 4 II (e) and 4 II (i) 6 of the Bituminous Coal Act, the Code and rules and regulations thereunder and the Order of the Director, dated October 9, 1940, in General Docket No. 19, by Wasson Coal Company, code member, operating the Wasson Mine (Mine Index No. 183) located in Saline County, Illinois, in District 10. The complaint prayed that the Division cancel and revoke code membership, or, in its discretion, direct it to cease and desist from further violation of the Code and regulations thereunder.

Complainant alleged that during the period from November 18, 1940 to May 27, 1941, both dates inclusive, code member sold substantial quantities of reject or gob (refuse) coal produced at Mine Index No. 183 to H. A. Foster, Muddy, Illinois, at a price of two cents per net ton, whereas no minimum prices had been established for such coals; or, in the alternative, during the period from November 18, 1940 to May 27, 1941, both dates inclusive, code member disposed of substantial quantities of various sizes of coals produced at Mine Index No. 183 to H. A. Foster, Muddy, Illinois, at a price of two cents per net ton which was below the effective minimum price for such coals, and that during the period from November 18, 1940 to May 27, 1941, both dates inclusive, code member allowed H. A. Foster, Muddy, Illinois, to reclaim marketable coal from reject or gob (refuse) coal for resale in local competition, thereby allowing a privilege not extended to all purchasers under like terms and conditions.

Pursuant to an order of the Acting Director dated January 14, 1942, and after due notice to interested persons, a hearing in this matter was held on February 20, 1942, before W. A. Shipman, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, at a hearing room thereof in Harrisburg, Illinois, at which all interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and otherwise be heard; Wasson Coal Company and District Board 10 appeared at the hearing and all interested parties joined in waiving the preparation and filing of a report by the Examiner; and the record of the proceeding was thereupon submitted to the undersigned.

The undersigned made Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law and rendered an opinion in this matter which are filed herewith.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That Wasson Coal Company, its representatives, servants, agents, employees, attorneys, administrators, successors or assigns, and all persons acting or claiming to act in its behalf or interest, cease and desist from violating the provisions of section 4 II (e) of the Act, the Code and Price Instruction No. 4 of the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 10 for Truck Shipments or from otherwise violating the Act, the Code or rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Notice is hereby given to code member that if it, or its representatives, fails or refuses to comply with this order the Division may apply to a Circuit Court of Appeals for the enforcement thereof, or may take other appropriate action as authorized by the Act.

Dated: January 8, 1943.

ORDER DIRECTING CODE MEMBER TO CEASE AND DESIST

District Board 10 filed a complaint on November 12, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 alleging wilful violation of section 4 II (e) and section 4 II (i) 6 of the Act, the Code, and the rules and regulations thereunder, the Order of the Director dated October 9, 1940, in General Docket No. 19, and Rule 6 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, by Wasson Coal Company, code member operating Wasson No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 184, located in Saline County, Illinois, in District 10. The complaint prays that the Division revoke and cancel the code membership of Wasson Coal Company, or, in its discretion, direct it to cease and desist from further violations of the Code and regulations thereunder.

Code member filed an answer on February 12, 1942, amended at the hearing.

Pursuant to appropriate orders of the Acting Director, after due notice to interested persons, a hearing in this matter was held on February 20, 1942, before W. A. Shipman, a duly designated

All interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses and otherwise be heard; District Board 10 and Wasson Coal Company appeared at the hearing, all interested parties waived the preparation and filing of a Report by the Examiner, and the record of the proceeding was thereupon submitted to the undersigned.

The undersigned has made findings of Fact and Conclusions of law and has rendered an opinion which are filed herewith.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That code member, its agents, representatives, servants, employees, attorneys, successors or assigns, and all persons acting or claiming to act in its behalf or interest, cease and desist from violating section 4 II (e) of the Act, the Code, and Price Instruction No. 4 of the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 10 for Truck Shipments, or from otherwise violating the Act, the Code or rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Notice is hereby given to code member that if it, or its representatives, fails or refuses to comply with this Order the Division may apply to a Circuit Court of Appeals for the enforcement thereof, or may take other appropriate action as authorized by the Act.

§ 803.12a General Order No. 12–A. General Order No. 12, adopted November 12, 1942, is hereby revoked as of December 26, 1942, and in its stead there are adopted the procedures set forth in the Joint Statement of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated December 26, 1942, and attached hereto and made a part hereof.

JOINT STATEMENT OF THE NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD AND THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE

PROCEDURE FOR WAGE AND SALARY ADJUSTMENTS BY STATE, COUNTY, AND MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENTS AND AGENCIES THEREOF

DECEMBER 26, 1942.

On November 12, 1942, the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, pursuant to the Regulations of the Economic Stabilization Director, established a procedure whereby adjustments in salaries or wages of state, county, or municipal employees would be submitted to the Board or the Commissioner, as the case might be, for approval. It was provided that each such adjustment would be deemed approved upon certification by the particular state or local agency that the adjustment was necessary "to correct maladjustment, or to correct inequalities or gross inequities as contemplated by Executive Order No. 9250". It was further provided that if a proposed adjustment would raise wages or salaries above the prevailing level of compensation for similar services in the area or community, application for approval should be filed with the Board or the Commissioner, as the case might be.

Since the announcement of the foregoing procedure was made, a multitude of certificates of wage or salary adjustments have been received from state and local agencies. In the course of a detailed examination of the facts set forth in these certificates, neither the Board nor the Commissioner has had occasion to question any adjustments made by any of the state or local agencies. In the light of this experience, which indicates that statutory budgetary controls are operating to keep salary and wage movements of state and local agencies within very narrow bounds, the Board and the Commissioner have determined to make the following changes in procedure effective forthwith:

1. In all cases where an adjustment in wages or salaries by a State, county or municipal agency is necessary to correct maladjustments, inequalities or gross inequities as contemplated by Executive Order No. 9250, and would not raise salaries or wages above the prevailing level of compensation for similar services in the area or community, the adjustments will be deemed approved without the necessity of filing certificates for the information of the Board or Commissioner.

2. In all other cases, the state or local agency is requested to take the matter up with the Joint Committee on Salaries and Wages, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C. This Committee, with the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director, has been established by the Board and the Commissioner, and has been authorized to advise state and local agencies in these cases whether or not the particular adjustments are in accordance with the national stabilization policy. While the Committee in the performance of its functions will not attempt to exercise any legal sanctions, Congress, in the Act of October 2, 1942, clearly intended that all employers and all employees would be covered by the national stabilization policy, and since millions of public employees are engaged in the same kind of work as private employees, the duty of public employers to conform to that policy is as plain as that of private employers. The way in which governmental agencies have been cooperating with the Board and the Commissioner to date indicates their desire to discharge that duty to the same extent as is required of non-governmental employers.

Adopted January 6, 1943.

L. GARRISON,
Executive Director and General Counsel.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 976—MOTOR TRUCKS, TRUCK TRAILERS AND PASSENGER CARRIERS

[Supplementary Limitation Order L-1-g as Amended Jan. 6, 1943 [1]]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States having created a shortage in the supply of rubber, steel, chromium, nickel and other critical materials required for the production of truck-trailers for defense, for private account and for export, the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 976.17 Supplementary Limitation Order L-1-g [7 F.R. 9609]—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Truck trailer" means a complete semi-trailer or full trailer designed for the transportation of property or persons, or the chassis therefor, but does not include attachment third-axles, whether dead or power-driven. This paragraph (a) (1) shall take effect December 1, 1942.

(2) "Passenger carrier" means a complete motor or electrical coach for passenger transportation, having a seating capacity of eleven (11) or more persons, or the chassis or body therefor.

(3) "Producer" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation or other form of business enterprise engaged in the manufacture of truck-trailers.

(b) Prohibition of production of truck-trailers after June 30, 1942. Except to the extent that production is permitted under paragraph (c) below, effective July 1, 1942, producers of truck-trailers shall not manufacture any such vehicles, irrespective of the provisions of any order heretofore issued by the War Production Board or of the terms of any contract heretofore or hereafter entered into by any such producers.

(c) Exceptions in favor of War Agencies. Nothing in this order shall prevent any producer from manufacturing and delivering truck-trailers pursuant to contracts or orders for delivery to or for the account of the following:

(1) The Army or Navy of the United States or the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development;

(2) The government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom, including its Dominions, Crown Colonies and protectorates, and Yugoslavia;

(3) Any agency of the United States Government, for delivery to, or for the account of, the government of any country listed above, or any other country, including those in the Western Hemisphere, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(d) Passenger carrier production under Limitation Order L-101. As of June 23, 1942 the production of passenger carriers shall in no way be regulated by this order, but shall in all respects be regulated and controlled by General Limitation Order L-101, issued May 21, 1942.

(e) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(f) Reports. All persons affected by this order, shall execute and file with the War Production Board such report and questionnaires as the Board shall from time to time request. No reports or questionnaires are to be filed by any person until forms therefor are prescribed by the War Production Board.

(g) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(h) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal for relief by addressing a letter to the Director General for Operations. Ref.: L-1-g. Washington, D. C., setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(j) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Automotive Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: L-1-g.

(k) Authorized production of trailers. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of this order, producers may manufacture a total of 800 tank trailers in such quantities, of such types and within such periods of time as may hereafter from time to time be specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(2) In addition to the production authorized in the preceding subparagraph (1), the Director General for Operations may hereafter from time to time specifically authorize further production of trailers in such quantities, of such types and within such periods of time as he may determine.

On June 19, 1942 Mutual Cleaners, Inc. purchased and received delivery of ten reconditioned tailor's pressing machines, each with a value in excess of $100.00, without the express authorization of the Director of Industry Operations. The purchase and acceptance of delivery of these machines by Mutual Cleaners, Inc. constituted a willful violation of General Limitation Order L-91.

This violation of General Limitation Order L-91 has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.210 Suspension Order S-210. (a) Mutual Cleaners, Inc., shall not use for any purpose the ten steam pressing machines, Singer Model, Serial Nos. 2615, 2630, 2632, 2625, 2631, 2634, 2635, 2636, 2642, 2643, which it purchased on June 19, 1942, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations: Provided, however, That nothing contained in this paragraph shall prohibit Mutual Cleaners, Inc. from selling or otherwise disposing of any of such machines in accordance with the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(b) For a period of three months from the effective date of this order, deliveries of material to Mutual Cleaners, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations.

(c) For a period of three months from the effective date of this order, no allocation shall be made to Mutual Cleaners, Inc., its successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is covered by any order of the Director of Industry Operations, or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

C. E. DOLE BUILDING MATERIALS

C. E. Dole, an individual doing business as C. E. Dole Building Materials, of Vallejo, California, is engaged in the business of distributing building materials. On or about November 6, 1941, C. E. Dole, doing business as C. E. Dole Building Materials, applied a preference rating of A-2 to his purchase order for 400 kegs of nails which were subsequently delivered to him. Such preference rating had been issued by the Office of Production Management to R. H. Grant Construction Company, of Vallejo, California, under Preference Rating Order P-55 in connection with a private housing project in Vallejo. Of the nails so purchased by C. E. Dole, 365 kegs were resold by him to others than R. H. Grant Construction Company and were used for purposes other than said housing project. This constituted a wilful violation of Preference Rating Order P-55 and Priorities Regulation No. 1.

This violation of Preference Rating Order P-55 and Priorities Regulation No. 1 has resulted in the diversion of scarce material to uses not authorized by the Office of Production Management. In view of the foregoing facts; It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.212 Suspension Order No. S-212. (a) Deliveries of materials to C. E. Dole individually, or doing business as C. E. Dole Building Materials or otherwise, his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of Preference Rating Certificates, Preference Rating Orders, General Preference Orders or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Regional Compliance Chief of the San Francisco Regional Office, War Production Board.

(b) No allocations shall be made to C. E. Dole individually, or doing business as C. E. Dole Building Materials or otherwise, his successors or assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve C. E. Dole, doing business as C. E. Dole Building Materials or otherwise, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on January 16, 1943, and shall expire on April 16, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 11th day of January 1943.

Director General for Operations.

PART 3049—SOFTWOOD LUMBER

[Conservation Order M-208, as Amended Jan. 12, 1943]

Section 3049.1 Conservation Order M-208 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of softwood lumber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3049.1 Conservation Order M-208—(a) Definitions. Wherever used in this order:

(1) "Softwood lumber" means any sawed lumber (including shingles and lath) of any size or grade, whether rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, of any species of softwood: Provided, however, That "softwood lumber" shall not include the following:

(i) Box shook, cooperage, plywood, veneer, used lumber;

(ii) Restricted Douglas fir lumber sold, shipped or delivered by producers pursuant to paragraph (b) (1) of Limitation Order L-218;

(iii) Restricted Douglas fir lumber sold, shipped or delivered by producers pursuant to an authorization on Form PD-423 which designates specified persons as recipients of, or specific uses for, such lumber, issued under paragraph (b) (4) of Limitation Order L-218, as distinguished from an authorization on Form PD-423 that does not particularize persons or uses.

(2) "Restricted Douglas fir lumber" means any sawed lumber (except shingles or lath) of any size or grade, whether rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, of the species of Pseudotsuga taxifolia, produced in those parts of Oregon and

Washington lying west of the crest of the Cascade Mountain Range, but not including No. 3 boards, No. 3 dimension or No. 3 timbers, or any grade of factory or shop lumber, and not including plywood, veneer or used lumber.

(b) Assignment of ratings for particular uses of lumber. (1) In addition to any other preference ratings that have been or are hereafter assigned, applied or extended pursuant to any order, regulation or certificate of the War Production Board and subject to the restrictions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (b), the following preference ratings are hereby assigned to deliveries of softwood lumber:

(i) AA-2X for the uses specified in List A attached to this order;

(ii) AA-3 for the uses specified in List E attached to this order;

(iii) AA-4 for the uses specified in List C attached to this order;

(iv) AA-5 for the uses specified in List D attached to this order.

(2) The preference ratings assigned in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b) may be applied or extended in the manner and to the extent permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 3, except that they shall not be applied or extended to deliveries rated prior to January 12, 1943, under this or any other order, regulation or certificate of the War Production Board.

(3) Any person to whom a preference rating was applied or extended prior to January 12, 1943, under this order as then in effect may extend such rating in the manner and to the extent permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 3, except that preference ratings of AA-3 or lower shall not be extended for replacement in inventory of softwood lumber shipped or delivered prior to January 12, 1943.

(4) The assignment of a preference rating in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b) shall not constitute authorization to begin construction under Conservation Order No. L-41, and shall not authorize the use or delivery of any material, or the application or extension of any preference rating in violation of the provisions of any conservation, limitation or other order or regulation heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, the Office of Production Management, or by the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board.

(c) Additional restrictions on use of specified items of softwood lumber. (1) Notwithstanding the terms of any contract or purchase order, and notwithstanding the fact that such an order may bear a preference rating, no person shall, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations on Form PD-423, use:

(i) Douglas fir (if softwood lumber as defined in paragraph (a) above), Southern pine or Western larch when these species are sold as meeting specifications of 1800 or 2000 lbs. fiber stress per square inch, or 1300 or 1450 lbs. compression stress per square inch, except on orders rated AA-1 or higher;

(ii) Douglas fir (if softwood lumber as defined in paragraph (a) above), Southern pine, cypress or Western larch when these species are sold as meeting specifications of 1400 or 1600 lbs. fiber stress per square inch, or 1100 or 1200 lbs. compression stress per square inch, except on orders rated AA-2X or higher;

(iii) Douglas fir (if softwood lumber as defined in paragraph (a) above), West Coast hemlock, Noble fir or Sitka spruce, of grades No. 1, No. 2, or any higher common grade, except on orders rated AA-5 or higher;

(iv) Southern pine of grades No. 1, No. 2 or any higher common grade, or of No. 1 box, or No. 2 box (not including D or better flooring, ceiling, drop siding or partition) except on orders rated AA-5 or higher;

(v) Idaho white pine, Northern white pine, Eastern white pine, Norway pine, Ponderosa pine, sugar pine, lodgepole pine, jack pine, cypress, white fir, Eastern hemlock, Englemann spruce or Western white spruce, of grades No. 2 or No. 3, except on orders rated AA-5 or higher;

(vi) Eastern spruce of grades selected merchantable and grade No. 1 (merchantable), except on orders rated AA-5 or higher.

(d) Further restrictions on delivery. No person shall sell, ship, or deliver, or cause to be sold, shipped, or delivered any item of softwood lumber which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of the provisions of paragraph (c) of this order.

(e) Extension of preference ratings to softwood logs. On and after August 27, 1942, no preference rating shall have any force or effect with respect to deliveries of softwood logs whether to be used for lumber or any other purpose.

(f) Allocations. The Director General for Operations may, from time to time, allocate specific quantities of softwood lumber to specific persons. He may also direct the specific manner and quantities in which delivery shall be made to particular persons, and direct or prohibit particular uses of softwood lumber, or the production by any person of particular items of softwood lumber. Such allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made in the discretion of the Director General for Operations, without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular purchase orders or contracts. The Director General for Operations may also take into consideration the possible dislocation of labor and the necessity of keeping a plant in operation so that it may be able to fulfill war and essential civilian requirements.

(g) Applicability of priorities regulations. All transactions affected by this order are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board as enacted or amended from time to time.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provison of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the Lumber and Lumber Products Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-208

(k) Limitation Order L-121. Effective August 27, 1942, the provisions of Limitation Order L-121, and authorizations granted thereunder shall have no force or effect.

PART 3116—DOUGLAS FIR LUMBER

[Limitation Order L-218, as Amended Jan. 12, 1943]

Section 3116.1 Limitation Order L-218 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of Douglas Fir lumber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3116.1 Limitation Order L-218—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Restricted Douglas fir lumber" means any sawed lumber (except shingles or lath) of any size or grade, whether rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, of the species of Pseudotsuga taxifolia, produced in those parts of Oregon and Washington lying west of the crest of the Cascade Mountain Range, but not including No. 3 boards, No. 3 dimension or No. 3 timbers, or any grade of factory or shop lumber, and not including plywood, veneer or used lumber.

(2) "Producer" means any plant which processes, by sawing, edging, planing or other comparable method, 25% or more of the total volume of logs and lumber purchased or received by it, and which sells as lumber the product of such processing. "Volume" means board foot volume processed or sold within the last six calendar months immediately prior to the transaction affected by this order.

(3) "Procuring Agency" means the Central Procuring Agency of the Construction Division of the Corps of Engineers of the United States Army.

(b) General limitations. No producer shall sell, ship or deliver (including delivery by a producer to any distribution yard of such producer) any restricted Douglas fir lumber except that:

(1) Any producer may sell, ship or deliver (either directly or through one or more intervening persons) any restricted Douglas fir lumber to or for the account of the Procuring Agency or to or for the account of any contractor or other person designated by such agency; but only if there is endorsed on the purchase order or contract for such lumber a statement in substantially the following form, signed by the purchaser or by a responsible official duly designated for such purpose by the purchaser:

All restricted Douglas fir lumber covered by this purchase order (or contract) is to be sold, shipped or delivered to, or received by the Procuring Agency or a contractor or other person designated by such Agency, as required by Limitation Order L–218, with the terms of which I am familiar.

(Purchaser)

By ---
(Title or rank)

Date ---

Provided, however, That when a producer has received written directions from the Procuring Agency to sell, ship or deliver restricted Douglas fir lumber to any contractor or other person designated by such Procuring Agency, such producer may comply with such directions and no such endorsed purchase order or contract shall be required from such contractor or other person. Each endorsement made under the provisions of this order shall constitute a representation to the producer and to the War Production Board that the restricted Douglas fir lumber referred to therein will be sold, shipped, delivered, or received in accordance with such endorsement.

(2) Any restricted Douglas fir lumber which was actually in transit on October 29, 1942, may be delivered to its ultimate destination.

(3) Any producer may sell, ship or deliver any restricted Douglas fir lumber to any other producer.

(4) Any producer may sell, ship or deliver any restricted Douglas fir lumber upon the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations on Form PD–423, or upon the direction of the Director General for Operations pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order. Restricted Douglas fir lumber authorized to be sold, shipped or delivered on Form PD–423 may be authorized to be sold, shipped or delivered to specified persons or uses, or it may be authorized to be sold, shipped or delivered subject to the restrictions of Conservation Order M–208, as amended January 12, 1943, without particularizing persons or uses.

(c) Allocations. The Director General for Operations may, from time to time, allocate specific quantities of restricted Douglas firm lumber to specific persons. He may also direct the specific manner and quantities in which delivery shall be made to particular persons, and direct or prohibit particular uses of restricted Douglas fir lumber, or the production by any person of particular items of restricted Douglas fir lumber. Such allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made, in the discretion of the Director General for Operations, without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular purchase orders or contracts. The Director General for Operations may also take into consideration the possible dislocation of labor and the necessity of keeping a plant in operation so that it may be able to fulfill war and essential civilian requirements.

(d) Effect of preference ratings. No preference rating shall have any force or effect with respect to deliveries of Douglas fir logs, or deliveries by producers of restricted Douglas fir lumber except restricted Douglas fir lumber authorized to be sold, shipped or delivered on Form PD–423 without particularizing persons or uses and specifically made subject to the restrictions of Conservation Order M–208 as amended January 12, 1943.

(e) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order should be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed as follows: Lumber and Lumber Products Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–218.

(h) Application of Order M–208. After January 12, 1943, the provisions of Conservation Order M–208 shall not apply to restricted Douglas fir lumber sold, shipped or delivered by producers in accordance with the provisions of this order except restricted Douglas fir lumber authorized to be sold, shipped or delivered on Form PD–423 without particularizing persons or uses and specifically made subject to the restrictions of Conservation Order M–208 as Amended January 12, 1943.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 1]

§ 3175.1 CMP Regulation 1—(a) Purpose and scope. The purpose of this regulation is to define the rights and obligations under the Controlled Materials Plan of persons outside of the Claimant Agencies and the War Production Board. This regulation and other CMP regulations to be issued from time to time implement the "Controlled Materials Plan" which was published by the War Production Board, for informational purposes only, under date of November 2, 1942. In case of any inconsistency between such publication (or any other descriptive literature which may be published from time to time) and any CMP regulation, the provisions of the CMP regulation shall govern. Other CMP regulations contain, or will contain, provisions regarding such matters as inventory restrictions, preference ratings, warehouses, dealers, maintenance, repair and operating supplies, construction and facilities, and reports.

(b) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply for the purposes of this regulation, and for the purposes of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Controlled material" means steel—both carbon (including wrought iron) and alloy—copper (including copper base alloys) and aluminum, in each case only in the forms and shapes indicated in Schedule I attached.

(2) "Controlled Materials Division" means the Steel Division, the Copper Division or the Aluminum Division of the War Production Board.

(3) "Industry Division" means the Division, Bureau, or other unit of the War Production Board which is charged with supervision over the operations of a particular industry. The term also includes any other government agency which, by arrangement with the War Production Board, may perform similar functions with respect to a particular industry.

(4) "Claimant Agency" means the following government offices and such others as may be designated from time to time. (Identifying symbols are indicated in parentheses.)

War Department (W)—except Ordnance which is identified by the symbol (O).
Navy Department (N).
Maritime Commission (M).
Aircraft Resources Control Office (agent for Army Air Forces and Bureau of Aeronautics of United States Navy) (C).
Office of Lend-Lease Administration (L).
Board of Economic Warfare (E).
Office of Civilian Supply (S).
Department of Agriculture (A).
Office of Defense Transportation (T).
Office of Rubber Director (R).
Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board (F).
Petroleum Administration for War (P).
National Housing Agency (H).

(5) "Allotment" means (i), a determination by the Requirements Committee of the War Production Board of the amount of controlled materials which a Claimant Agency may receive during a specified period, or (ii) a further determination pursuant thereto by a Claimant Agency, Industry Division, prime consumer or secondary consumer, as to the portion of its allotment of controlled materials which may be received by one of its prime consumers or secondary consumers, as the case may be.

(6) "Prime consumer" means any person who receives an allotment of controlled material from a Claimant Agency or an Industry Division.

(7) "Secondary consumer" means any person who receives an allotment of controlled material from a prime consumer or another secondary consumer.

(8) "Class A product" means any product which is not a Class B product (as defined in subparagraph (9) below), and which contains any steel, copper or aluminum, fabricated or assembled beyond the forms and shapes specified in Schedule I, other than such steel, copper or aluminum as may be contained in Class B products incorporated in it as parts or sub-assemblies.

(9) "Class B product" means any product listed in the "Official CMP Class B Product List" issued by the War Production Board, as the same may be modified from time to time, which contains any steel, copper or aluminum, fabricated or assembled beyond the forms and shapes specified in Schedule I, other than such as may be contained in other Class B products incorporated in it as parts or sub-assemblies.

(10) "Program" means a plan specifying the total amount of an item or class of items to be provided in a specified period of time.

(11) "Authorized program" means a program specifically authorized by the Requirements Committee or by a Claimant Agency or Industry Division within the limits of its allotment.

(12) "Production schedule" means a plan specifying the total amount of an item or class of items to be produced by an individual consumer in a specified period of time.

(13) "Authorized production schedule" means a production schedule specifically authorized within the limits of an authorized program by a Claimant Agency or by an Industry Division with respect to a prime consumer, or specifically authorized by a prime or secondary consumer with respect to a secondary consumer producing products for it as required to meet an authorized production schedule.

(14) "Delivery order" means any purchase order, contract, release or shipping instruction which constitutes a definite and complete instruction from a purchaser to a seller calling for delivery of any material or product. The term does not include any contract, purchase order, or other arrangement which, although specifying the total amount to be delivered, contemplates that further instructions are to be given.

(15 "Authorized controlled material order" means any delivery order for any controlled material as such (as distinct from a product containing controlled material) which is placed pursuant to an allotment as provided in paragraph (s) of this regulaion or which is specifically designated to be such an order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(c) General allotment procedure—(1) Allotments by Requirements Committee to Claimant Agencies. The Requirements Committee of the War Production Board will distribute the available supply of controlled materials by making allotments to the Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions for each quarter, designating the amount of each form of controlled material available, during each month of the quarter, to each Claimant Agency or Industry Division for allotment to its prime and secondary consumers.

(2) Allotments by Claimant Agencies to prime consumers producing Class A products. Each Claimant Agency will distribute the allotments received by it by making further allotments to the prime consumers who produce Class A products for it. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during each month of the quarter, for use by it or allotment to the secondary consumers producing Class A products as parts or sub-assemblies for it. A prime consumer producing Class A products for several Claimant Agencies shall obtain separate allotments from each. A Claimant Agency, may, in particular cases, make allotments through an Industry Division.

(3) Allotments by Industry Divisions to producers of Class B products. Unless otherwise specifically directed, allotments to producers of Class B products will be made only by Industry Divisions, both in the case of Class B products which are end-products and in the case of Class B products which are incorporated in other products whether Class A or Class B. Allotments made by the Requirements Committee may be made available to the Industry Divisions for this purpose by the Claimant Agencies. Each Industry Division will make allotments to the prime consumers producing Class B products under its jurisdiction. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during each month of the quarter, for use by it or allotment to secondary consumers producing Class A products for it. A manufacturer of several Class B products coming under the jurisdiction of different Industry Divisions shall obtain separate allotments from each. A consumer producing Class B products is always a prime consumer with respect to such production.

(4) Allotments by prime and secondary consumers. Each prime consumer receiving an allotment may use that portion of the allotment which he requires to obtain controlled materials as such for his authorized production schedule, and shall allot the remainder to his secondary consumers producing Class A products for him, to cover their requirements for controlled materials. Allotments by secondary consumers to secondary consumers supplying them may be made in the same fashion. A secondary consumer producing Class A products for several other consumers shall obtain separate allotments from each.

(5) Advance allotments. Advance allotments by Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions to prime consumers may be made within specified limits before receipt of allotments from the Requirements Committee in order to assure fulfillment of long term programs and schedules. Prime consumers receiving such advance allotments may, in turn, make allotments to their secondary consumers, and secondary consumers may make further allotments, in the same manner as in the case of ordinary allotments, but no consumer shall make any allotment in advance of receiving his own allotment.

(6) Allotment numbers. Allotments shall be identified by allotment numbers consisting of a Claimant Agency letter symbol and nine digits. The Claimant Agency symbol is indicated after the name of each Agency in paragraph (b) (4) of this regulation. The first four digits identify the authorized program of the Claimant Agency. The next three digits identify the authorized production schedule of the prime consumer. The last two digits indicate the month for which the allotment is valid. Months are numbered consecutively beginning with January 1942 (not 1943). Thus, 16 will denote April, 1943.

(d) Bills of materials, applications for allotments and other information serving as basis for allotments. (1) The basis for an allotment to a consumer shall be his actual requirements for controlled materials in connection with the fulfillment of an authorized production schedule. The production schedule shall be authorized as provided in paragraph (n) of this regulation. Information as to requirements shall be in the form of a bill of materials, an application for allotment and or other information as provided below in this paragraph (d).

(2) A bill of materials shows the amounts of controlled materials required by a consumer and his secondary consumers, irrespective of time of delivery and inventory, for production of one unit or a specified number of units of his product. Bills of materials shall be prepared in the manner specified in "General Instructions on Bills of Materials," on forms CMP–1, CMP–2 and CMP–3 or on such other forms as may be prescribed. No consumer shall be required to furnish a bill of materials on any form which is not officially prescribed (as indicated by a Bureau of Budget number), but in cases where another form is in use which gives the same information as the official form, the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer to whom a bill of materials is to be furnished may accept it on such other form.

(3) An application for allotment shows the aggregate amount of each form of controlled material required (after taking inventories into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2) by a consumer and his secondary consumers during each month of a quarter for his entire production of a specified product or class of products for the same customer, in the case of Class A products, or for all customers (unless otherwise directed) in the case of Class B products. Applications are to be made by manufacturers of Class A products on Form CMP–4A as issued by the appropriate Claimant Agency, and by manufacturers of Class B products on Form CMP–4B as issued by the War Production Board, or on such other forms as may be prescribed.

(4) A bill of materials or application for allotment shall not include controlled materials required for manufacture of Class B products which will be incorporated in the product with respect to which the bill of material or application is submitted, although information as to the number or value of such Class B products is to be given in bills of materials to the extent required by the instructions.

(5) Requirements for maintenance, repair or operating supplies shall not be included in bills of materials or applications for allotment. Requirements for such purposes are to be obtained separately as provided in CMP Regulation No. 5.

(6) Bills of materials and applications for allotments shall be filed with the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer by whom the allotment is to be made, as indicated in paragraph (c) of this regulation. Bills of materials shall be filed only when and as called for by such Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer. Manufacturers of Class A products shall file applications for allotments only when and as called for by the Claimant Agency or other consumer for whom they make their products. Manufacturers of Class B products who will require controlled materials from controlled materials producers during the second quarter of 1943 (or whose secondary consumers will require the same) must file applications for allotments on Form CMP–4B not later than February 9, 1943, or by such other date as may be designated or approved by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency). Those manufacturers of Class B products who will obtain their requirements of controlled materials for the second quarter of 1943 entirely from warehouses or retailers, and whose secondary consumers will do the same, need not file any applications for allotments. Procedures for obtaining controlled materials from warehouses or retailers, and limitations on the amount which may be obtained will be provided in CMP Regulation No. 4.

(7) Each person making an allotment may require such other information in lieu of, or in addition to, a bill of materials or application for allotment as is required to enable him to make the allotment requested or to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him. If the consumer from whom such other information is requested is of the opinion that compliance with such request would be unreasonably burdensome he may appeal for relief as provided in paragraph (z) of this regulation.

(8) Any consumer making an allotment may waive the furnishing of a bill of materials or application for allotment, or both, if he has other information as to actual requirements of his secondary consumers (taking into account the inventory restrictions of CMP Regulation No. 2) which is sufficiently accurate and detailed to enable him to make the allotment and to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him.

(e) Responsibility for statements of requirements, including those of secondary consumers; duty to correct overstatements. (1) The furnishing of any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information as to requirements by a consumer, shall constitute a representation by him to the person to whom it is furnished, to the appropriate Claimant Agency and to the War Production Board, that the statements contained therein are complete and accurate, to the best of his knowledge and belief, not only with respect to such consumer's own requirements but also with respect to those of his secondary consumers.

(2) Any person who ascertains that he has overstated (whether by inadvertence or otherwise) his requirements, or those of his secondary consumers, for any form of controlled material, shall immediately report such error to the person to whom the statement of requirements was furnished. If he has already received an allotment based on such overstatement, he shall immediately cancel or reduce the same (or an equivalent amount of other allotments received for the same authorized production schedule) to the extent of such excess, and report such cancellation or reduction to the person from whom the allotment was received, or, if he is unable for any reason to make such cancellation, he shall immediately make a full report to the person from whom he received the allotment, and shall send a copy of such report to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division, if the allotment was received from another consumer.

(3) If any consumer receives any statement of requirements which he knows or has reason to believe to be substantially excessive (whether by inadvertence or otherwise), he shall withhold any allotment based thereon (either entirely or in an amount sufficient to correct the maximum excess) until satisfied that the statement is not excessive or that it has been appropriately modified. If unable to obtain sufficient information or an appropriate modification, he shall promptly report the matter to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to withhold allotments or to make such report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(4) If, after making any allotment, a consumer ascertains or has reason to believe that the allotment was substantially in excess of actual requirements, he shall either (i) correct the excess by cancelling or reducing the allotment or other allotments made by him to the same consumer, or (ii) report the matter promptly to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to make such correction or report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(f) Forms in which controlled materials are allotted. Each allotment, whether made by a Claimant Agency, an Industry Division or a prime or a secondary consumer, shall specify the form of the controlled material allotted. Allotments of steel shall be in terms of (1) carbon steel (including wrought iron) and (2) alloy steel, without further breakdown. Allotments of copper and aluminum shall be broken down as indicated in Schedule I. A consumer may make allotments only in the same forms of controlled materials in which he has received his allotment.

(g) Allotments by consumers. (1) No consumer shall make any allotment in an amount which exceeds the related allotment received by him, after deducting all other allotments made by him and all orders for controlled materials placed by him pursuant to his related allotment.

(2) No consumer shall make any allotment in excess of the amount required, to the best of his knowledge and belief, to fulfill the related authorized production schedule of the secondary consumer to whom the allotment is made (including the schedules of any secondary consumers supplying the latter).

(3) No consumer shall make any allotment for the production of Class B products and no person shall accept any allotment from a consumer for the production of Class B products.

(4) No consumer who has received his allotment for an authorized production schedule shall place any delivery order (other than small orders placed pursuant to paragraph (l) of this regulation) for any Class A product required to fulfill said schedule, unless concurrently therewith or prior thereto, he makes an allotment to the person with whom the order is placed, in the amount required by such person to fill said order (taking such person's inventory into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2).

(h) Methods of allotment. (1) A consumer may make an allotment to his secondary consumer by either:

(i) Executing and returning one of the copies of the application (Form CMP–4A, or such other form as may be prescribed) furnished to the consumer by his secondary consumer or, in the event an application has been waived, by indicating on the prescribed application form the controlled materials allotted and executing and delivering such form to the secondary consumer;

(ii) Placing on or affixing to his delivery order for one or more Class A products the short form of allotment (Form CMP–5) set out in Schedule II attached hereto, subject to the accompanying instructions; or

(iii) Telegraphing the information required under subdivision (i) or (ii) above and confirming the same with the appropriate written form.

(2) Every consumer shall place on each allotment made by him the full allotment number which is on the related allotment received by him, except that he shall specify the month numbers for only those months as to which he is making an allotment. If a consumer places a delivery order for which he has made an allotment by separate instrument, he shall place the appropriate number on said order.

(i) Method of cancelling or reducing allotments. A person who has made an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by notice in writing to the person to whom it was made. A person who has received an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by making an appropriate notation thereon and notifying the person from whom he received it. In either case, if an allotment received by a person is cancelled he must cancel all allotments which he has made, and all authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, on the basis of the allotment; and, if an allotment received by a person is reduced, he must cancel or reduce allotments which he has made, or authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, to the extent that the same exceed his allotment as reduced. If such cancellation or reduction is not practicable, he may make equivalent cancellations or reductions with respect to other allotments received by him for the same production schedule. If he deems such course of action impracticable, he shall immediately report to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division for instructions.

(j) Assignment of allotments. No consumer shall transfer or assign any allotment in any way unless:

(1) Delivery orders placed with him, in connection with which the allotment was made to him, have been transferred or assigned to another consumer;

(2) The authorized production schedules of the respective consumers have been duly adjusted;

(3) Use of the allotment by the assignee or transferee will not involve a violation of the inventory limitations of CMP Regulation No. 2; and

(4) The transfer or assignment is approved in writing by the person who made the allotment.

(k) Grouping of small allotments. A consumer who has received a number of different allotments for the same form of controlled material and who has occasion to make several allotments of small quantities thereof may combine in one allotment any number of such small allotments provided that:

(1) Each of the small allotments so combined is for less than the following amounts:

Carbon steel (including wrought iron but excluding tool steel)	5 tons
Carbon tool steel	500 lbs.
Alloy steel (excluding stainless and tool steel)	1 ton.
Stainless steel	500 lbs.
Alloy tool steel	500 lbs.
Copper or copper base alloys	200 lbs.
Aluminum	100 lbs.

(2) Each of the combined allotments is for the same month; and

(3) In lieu of an allotment number he shall endorse the combined allotment made by him with a statement in substantially the following form:

The within allotments have been combined pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (k) of CMP Regulation No. 1 and are supported by allotments bearing the Claimant Agency symbols, or by delivery orders bearing other prescribed letter symbols, as indicated below for the quantities of each form of controlled material specified opposite each symbol:

Form of controlled material	Symbol	Quantity (by weight)
----------	------	----------

(l) Placing of orders for Class A products requiring small quantities of controlled material, without making allotments. (1) A person requiring any Class A product in a quantity constituting a "small order," as defined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (l), and who is entitled to obtain such product by using an allotment number, may, in lieu of making an allotment, place on his order the applicable allotment number followed by the symbol SO; Provided, however, That no person shall subdivide his requirements for Class A products into small orders for the purpose of coming within this provision.

(2) As used in this paragraph (l), "small order" means a delivery order for a Class A product placed with the manufacturer thereof by a consumer, where the aggregate amounts of controlled material required to fill such order, together with all delivery orders for the same Class A product placed by the same consumer with the same manufacturer calling for delivery during the same month, do not exceed the following:

Carbon steel (including wrought iron)	1 ton
Alloy steel	400 lbs.
Copper and copper base alloys	100 lbs.
Aluminum	20 lbs.

(3) A manufacturer of Class A products who receives small orders may obtain his requirements of controlled materials to fill the same from warehouses or retailers, in amounts and subject to the limitations prescribed in CMP Regulation No. 4. If his requirements exceed the amounts available under CMP Regulation No. 4, he may obtain such materials by following the procedure indicated in paragraph (s) of this regulation, with respect to the placing of delivery orders with controlled materials producers, except that in transmitting his customer's allotment number he shall add the symbol SO, and, if he groups the orders as permitted by paragraph (s) (3), he shall group his requirement for small orders separately under the symbol SO instead of the Claimant Agency symbol. Delivery orders complying with this subparagraph (3) shall be deemed authorized controlled material orders.

(4) No manufacturer of Class A products receiving a small order for such products shall be required to furnish his customer with a bill of materials, application for allotment or equivalent information with respect thereto, other than a statement, if requested, that the controlled materials required come within the limits of a small order.

(m) Relationship between allotments and authorized production schedules. Every allotment made by a consumer must include or be accompanied by authorization of a production schedule with respect to the products to be supplied to him, and no consumer shall authorize a production schedule for a secondary consumer unless he concurrently allots the controlled materials required to fulfill the schedule; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not apply to any delivery order bearing a symbol (such as a small order bearing the symbol SO) which may be placed without making an allotment as expressly permitted by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(n) Manner of authorizing production schedules. (1) A production schedule for each prime consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the appropriate Claimant Agency on Form CMP–4A, or such other form as may be prescribed. A Claimant Agency may, in particular cases, authorize a production schedule through an Industry Division.

(2) A production schedule for each secondary consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the consumer for whom such Class A product is to be produced, on the form on which the related allotment is made; provided, however, that the delivery date specified on a delivery order shall constitute an authorization of the minimum production schedule required to permit delivery on such date.

(3) A production schedule for each consumer producing a Class B product shall be authorized by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency) on Form CMP-4B, or such other form as may be prescribed.

(4) A consumer receiving allotments from several persons shall obtain separate authorized production schedules from each.

(5) Prior to authorizing a production schedule, a Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer may furnish a tentative production schedule to be used as a basis in submitting requirements, but such action shall not constitute authorization of a schedule.

(o) Compliance with authorized production schedules. (1) Each consumer receiving an authorized production schedule shall fulfill the same unless prevented by circumstances beyond his control, except that a manufacturer of Class B products need not produce more than required to fill orders bearing preference ratings.

(2) No consumer who has received an authorized production schedule shall exceed such schedule in any month, except that (i) a deficiency in meeting an authorized production schedule during any month may be made up in any subsequent month or months, (ii) production authorized for any month may be completed at any time after the 15th of the preceding month and, (iii) where a delivery order calls for deliveries, in successive months, of Class A products in quantities which are less than the minimum practicable production quantity, and compliance with monthly production schedules would result in substantial interruption of production and consequent interference with production to fill other delivery orders, the consumer may produce (and his customer may order) in the first month the minimum practicable quantity which may be made without such interference. A person shall be deemed to exceed an authorized production schedule if his completion of finished products exceeds the limits authorized, or if his rate of fabricating, assembling, or otherwise processing, or acquiring raw materials or parts, exceeds the practicable working minimum required to meet the authorized production schedule.

(p) Rejection of orders in excess of capacity. No prime or secondary consumer shall accept a delivery order for a Class A or Class B product manufactured by him calling for delivery after March 31, 1943, if he does not expect to be able to fulfill the same by the requested delivery date, subject to unexpected contingencies and to any period of grace which may be specified in the delivery order. If the person whose order is rejected is unable to find another manufacturer who is in a position to accept it, he should report the facts to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division.

(q) Reconciliation of conflicting schedules. In any case where, for any reason, a manufacturer of Class A or Class B products is unable to fulfill conflicting authorized production schedules which he has accepted from different persons, he shall immediately report to the appropriate Industry Division for directions, except that such report shall be made to a Claimant Agency if all conflicting schedules bear its symbol or if all Claimant Agencies whose schedules conflict have stipulated a single Claimant Agency for such purposes.

(r) Alternative procedure for simultaneous allotments. A prime or secondary consumer who has several secondary consumers in different degrees of remoteness and finds it impracticable to determine the exact allotments to be made to each of his immediate secondary consumers, for their needs and those of their secondary consumers, may, at his option, make simultaneous direct allotments to each secondary consumer, of all degrees of remoteness, by adopting the following procedure:

(1) The consumer who is to make the allotment (hereafter in this paragraph (r) called the originating consumer) shall maintain a complete list of all secondary consumers making Class A products for incorporation in his product. He shall keep this list current at all times by requiring each of his immediate secondary consumers to report promptly to him any change with respect to the source of each secondary consumer's Class A purchased products.

(2) Immediately upon receiving an allotment, the originating consumer shall notify each secondary consumer on the list (either directly or through intervening secondary consumers) of the authorized schedule for which the allotment has been made to him. Such notice shall not include an allotment number. It shall identify the product to be delivered by the secondary consumer to whom the notice is sent and state the quantity to be delivered and the time when delivery is required.

(3) Promptly upon receipt of such preliminary notice, each secondary consumer shall report to the originating consumer directly (not through intervening secondary consumers the amount of each form of controlled material required by him each month in order to make the deliveries indicated. Each such secondary consumer shall include only his own requirements of controlled materials, not those of his secondary consumers. No form is prescribed for such statement.

(4) The originating consumer shall then determine the total requirements of all his secondary consumers under the schedule, checking the list to make certain that a preliminary statement of requirements has been received from each secondary consumer.

(5) If such summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers for each form of controlled material do not exceed the allotment made to him for the schedule, he may then allot directly to each secondary consumer on the list the amount indicated in the preliminary statement of requirements. No form is prescribed for such allotment, and it may be made by telegram, but it must include the complete allotment number and a statement substantially as follows: "This allotment is made in accordance with the alternative procedure for simultaneous allotments provided in paragraph (r) of CMP Regulation No. 1." If aggregate requirements do not exceed his allotment, the originating consumer shall be under no obligation to check the accuracy of the preliminary statements received from his secondary consumers before making allotments to them, but otherwise he and his secondary consumers shall remain subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this regulation regarding responsibility for statements of requirements.

(6) If the summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers exceed the allotment made to him with respect to any form of controlled material, the originating consumer shall not make any allotment or place any authorized controlled material order for the production schedule covered by his allotment until and unless:

(i) Requirements have been revised by himself or by one or more of his secondary consumers to the extent necessary to eliminate such excess, or

(ii) With the express permission of the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division after he has reported the facts to it, he withholds an amount sufficient to cover all adjustments which must be made in the requirements of his secondary consumers in order to bring them within his allotment.

(s) Placement of orders with controlled materials producers. (1) A delivery order placed with a controlled materials producer for controlled material shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order if, but only if, it complies with the provisions of this paragraph (s) or is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(2) A consumer who has received an allotment may place an authorized controlled material order with any controlled materials producer, unless otherwise specifically directed. An allotment to a prime consumer may include a direction to place delivery orders for controlled materials with one or more designated controlled materials producers.

In such event the consumer shall use the allotment only to obtain controlled materials from the designated controlled materials producer or producers or to make allotments to secondary consumers, designating therein only producers named in the allotment received by him. Except as required by the allotment which he has received, no consumer shall impose any such restriction in any allotment made by him.

(3) A delivery order for any controlled material, other than steel castings, placed with a controlled materials producer shall be accompanied by three copies of Form CMP-6. A consumer placing a delivery order for steel castings shall endorse the appropriate allotment number on such order, except that delivery orders for small amounts may be combined in the same manner as provided in paragraph (k) hereof with respect to grouping of allotments.

(4) An authorized controlled material order must be in sufficient detail to permit entry on mill schedules and must be received by the controlled materials producer at such time in advance of the requested delivery date as is specified in Schedule III attached, or at such later time as the controlled materials producer may find it practicable to accept the same, provided that no controlled materials producer shall discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting late orders.

(5) Controlled materials required for fulfillment of a production schedule which has not yet been authorized may be ordered for delivery before July 1, 1943, under applicable priorities regulations and orders (as the same may be modified from time to time), without placing an authorized controlled material order. Authorized controlled material orders shall, however, take precedence over other orders to the extent provided in CMP Regulation No. 3 regarding preference ratings.

(6) A delivery order placed by a consumer before he has received his allotment and authorized production schedule may be converted into an authorized controlled material order either by furnishing a copy of the order conforming to the requirements of this paragraph(s) or by furnishing in writing the requisite information clearly identifying the order, accompanied in either case by Form CMP-6, except that such form is not required for delivery orders for steel castings.

(t) Controlled materials producers—(1) Each controlled materials producer shall comply with such production directives as may be issued from time to time by the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(2) A controlled materials producer shall accept authorized controlled material orders in the order in which received by him except:

(i) He may reject orders for less than the minimum mill quantities specified in Schedule IV attached, but shall not discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting such orders.

(ii) In any case where he is of the opinion that the filling of the order would substantially reduce his over-all production owing to the large or small size of the order, unusual specifications, or otherwise, he shall apply to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division which may direct that the order be placed with another supplier or take other appropriate action.

(iii) He shall refuse any order for shipment of any product in any month if such order, together with all his authorized controlled material orders already on hand for delivery during that month and any orders carried over from the preceding month, plus such amounts as he may be directed by the Controlled Materials Division to deliver or set aside for delivery to warehouses or nonintegrated mills or otherwise, total 110% of the production of such product specified in his production directive, or, if no production directive is currently in effect with respect to such product, total 105% of his expected production. As soon as such limits of 110% and 105% respectively have been reached, each controlled materials producer shall promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division in writing.

(iv) He shall reject orders to the extent required by specific direction of the Controlled Materials Division.

(3) No controlled materials producer shall, after March 31, 1943, make any delivery of controlled material except:

(i) A delivery made to fill an authorized controlled material order;

(ii) A delivery which is completed before July 1, 1943, and which is made in compliance with applicable priorities regulations and orders;

(iii) A delivery made pursuant to a specific direction of the Director of the Controlled Materials Division.

A controlled materials producer's use of controlled material produced by him (except use in processing which does not convert the same into any form or shape other than one specified with respect to such controlled material on Schedule I) shall be deemed a delivery for the purposes of this paragraph (t).

(4) A controlled materials producer shall make delivery on each authorized controlled material order as close to the requested delivery date as is practicable in view of the need for maximum production and compliance with production schedules. If it is not practicable to make delivery during the month indicated by the last two digits of the allotment number, delivery may be made:

(i) After the 15th of the preceding month, provided such delivery does not interfere with delivery on authorized controlled material orders designating shipment in such preceding month or earlier months, and provided production to meet such delivery would not violate any production directive in effect; or

(ii) As early as practicable in the month following the month indicated by the last two digits of the allotment number: Provided that, In such case, the controlled materials producer shall promptly notify the customer of such delay. If such delay will interfere with the customer's authorized production schedule, the customer should immediately apply to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division for relief.

(5) If, after accepting an authorized controlled material order, the producer cannot make delivery before the end of the month following the month designated by the allotment number, he shall promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division in writing stating the allotment number, the name of the customer and the material covered by the order, but he shall not thereafter fill the order unless specifically directed to do so.

(6) All directions to controlled materials producers affecting production and distribution of controlled materials shall be issued by and through the Controlled Materials Divisions.

(u) Restrictions on use of allotments or materials or products obtained by allotments. (1) No consumer shall use an allotment, or any controlled material or Class A product obtained pursuant to an allotment for any purpose except:

(i) to fulfill the authorized production schedule for which the allotment was received, or for such other purpose as may be permitted by the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division;

(ii) to restore to a practicable working minimum his inventory of such material or product if the same has been depleted in fulfilling such production schedule or such purpose, subject, however, to the inventory limitations of CMP Regulation No. 2;

(iii) as permitted or required by Priorities Regulation No. 13, pertaining to special sales, or any other applicable regulation of the War Production Board; or

(iv) as specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations, or by the appropriate Claimant Agency where only such Agency's schedules are affected or where a single Claimant Agency has been stipulated for the purpose by all Claimant Agencies whose schedules are affected.

(2) The provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (u) shall not require physical segregation of inventories used for different authorized production schedules provided the restrictions applicable to any specific lot of material or product are observed with respect to an equivalent amount of the same material or product.

(v) Adjustments on account of controlled materials or Class A products obtained without use of allotments. Each consumer shall promptly reduce, in the manner provided in paragraph (i) of this regulation, any allotment received by him, to the extent that, either before or after receiving the allotment, he fills any of his requirements covered by the allotment through the acquisition of controlled materials or Class A products in any other manner than by use of the allotment, including without limitation:

(1) Transactions covered by preference ratings (including preference ratings assigned on PRP Certificates or otherwise);

(2) Transactions not affected by preference ratings;

(3) Purchases from warehouses or retailers pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 4 or otherwise;

(4) Purchases pursuant to Priorities Regulation No. 13 or otherwise, from persons not regularly engaged in the business of selling the material or product;

(5) Purchases on small orders pursuant to paragraph (l) of this regulation;

(6) Purchases of second-hand materials or products.

(w) Adjustments for changes in requirements. If a consumer's requirements for controlled materials or Class A products are increased after he receives his allotment, he should apply for an additional allotment from the person who made the same. If his requirements decrease, for any reason, he shall promptly cancel or reduce his allotment in the manner provided in paragraph (i) of this regulation.

(x) Other War Production Board regulations and orders. Nothing in this regulation (or any other CMP regulation) shall be construed to relieve any person from complying with any applicable priorities regulation or any order of the War Production Board (including orders in the "E," "L," "M" and "P" series) except as expressly provided, or except where such compliance would require violation of a provision of this regulation (or any other CMP regulation).

(y) Records and reports. (1) Each consumer making or receiving any allotment of controlled materials shall maintain at his regular place of business accurate records, by allotment numbers, of all allotments received, of procurement pursuant to all allotments, and of the subdivision of all allotments among his direct secondary consumers.

(2) Each controlled materials producer shall report to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division, on the forms and for the periods prescribed, such information on production, consumption and distribution of controlled materials as may be prescribed by the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(3) Each prime or secondary consumer and each controlled materials producer shall retain for two years at his regular place of business all documents on which he relies as entitling him to make or receive an allotment or to deliver or accept delivery of controlled materials or Class A products, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or Claimant Agencies, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection.

(z) Appeals and applications for relief. (1) Any person who is subject to any requirement of any regulation, direction, order or other action under the Controlled Materials Plan, may appeal for relief by filing a letter in triplicate with the appropriate authority specified below in this paragraph (z), setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief.

(2) Except as provided in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph (z) or as otherwise specifically directed, an appeal by a producer of Class A products should be filed with the appropriate Claimant Agency, and an appeal by a producer of Class B products should be filed with the appropriate Industry Division, unless the matter affects only production schedules of a single Claimant Agency or where a single Claimant Agency has been stipulated for the purpose by all Claimant Agencies whose schedules are affected, in which case the appeal should be filed with such Claimant Agency.

(3) An appeal concerning the operations of a controlled materials producer (whether filed by such producer, by a consumer, or by a Claimant Agency) shall be filed with the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(4) A producer of Class B products may apply for permission to be treated as a producer of Class A products. A producer of Class A products making a large variety of items which are sold to many customers and whose allotments originate from several Claimant Agencies, may make application to be treated as a producer of Class B products, but such permission will not be granted with reference to component parts or subassemblies, unless the necessary adjustments in bills of materials which include such component parts or sub-assemblies can be made without difficulty. Application for reclassification should be filed with the CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., and may be filed either directly by the producer or by a Claimant Agency on his behalf.

(5) In case of any disagreement between any persons as to the interpretation of any provisions of this regulation or any other regulation, direction, or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, the matter should be referred to the Inquiry and Service Branch, CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

(aa) Penalties. Any person who willfully purports to make any allotment of controlled materials or to place authorized controlled material orders in excess of the amount allotted to him, or violates any other provision of this regulation, or any other regulation, direction or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, or who knowingly or willfully makes any false or fraudulent statement or representation with respect to requirements for controlled materials or in any other matter under the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States under the Controlled Materials Plan, is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by a fine up to $10,000 or by imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries or allotments of controlled material or from making or obtaining any further deliveries of, or from processing or using, any material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

SCHEDULE II.—SHORT FORM OF ALLOTMENT

Allotment number (including last two digits showing month as to which allotment is made)	Controlled Material Products allotted

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE OF SHORT FORM OF ALLOTMENT—Form CMP-5

The above short form of allotment may be used by any consumer for the purpose of making an allotment to a secondary consumer producing Class A products for him. The short form of allotment must be either placed on or physically attached to the delivery order calling for delivery of the Class A products. If it is attached the delivery order number or other identification must be indicated on the form.

The form must be followed by the signature of an authorized official of the consumer making the allotment, but need not be separately signed if it is placed on the delivery order in such a position that the signature of the delivery order by such an authorized official clearly applies to the allotment as well as to the order itself.

The size of the form may be varied, but all information called for by the form must be supplied and the general arrangement and wording of the form must be followed.

Under the heading "Controlled Material Products Allotted" the person making the allotment must designate the forms which are allotted. These must be shown in the breakdowr prescribed in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1, and must be within the allotments received by such consumer for the same forms. Additional columns may be added depending on the number of forms of controlled material allotted. A sample form follows:

Allotment number (including last two digits showing month as to which allotment is made)	Controlled Material Products allotted
	Carbon steel	Copper base alloy tubing and pipe	Copper plate sheets and strip	Aluminum castings
N-1234-567-18	Tons 100	Lbs. 10,000	Lbs. 8,000	Lbs. 100

SCHEDULE III.—Time for Placing Authorized Controlled Material Orders

NOTE: Delivery orders may be placed in advance of receiving allotments, and converted into authorized controlled material orders on receipt of allotments, as provided in paragraph (s) (6) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

PART 1389—APPAREL

[MPR 287,[1] Amendment 1]

MANUFACTURERS' PRICES FOR WOMEN'S, GIRLS' AND CHILDREN'S OUTERWEAR GARMENTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment is issued herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new § 1389.356a is added; in § 1389.365 (a), subparagraphs (1) and (2) are amended.

§ 1389.356a Special pricing rules—(a) Optional method of pricing garments contracted to be sold prior to December 15, 1942. Rule 10. Any manufacturer, including a manufacturing-retailer, may establish the maximum price for those garments which he contracted to sell prior to December 15, 1942, by Rule 10. He may use Rule 10 only for those garments which he has contracted to sell in the same selling price lines and category numbers that he has listed in his Pricing Chart prepared pursuant to § 1389.353 (a) or in the supplement to his pricing chart prepared pursuant to Rule 11 paragraph (c) of this section. A manufacturer is not required to use Rule 10, but may do so at his option.

(b) How to use Rule 10. A manufacturer shall establish his maximum price by taking a margin over direct cost no higher than the maximum allowable margin listed for that selling price line and category number in his pricing chart.

EXAMPLE: Assume that on December 10, 1942, the manufacturer whose report is illustrated in Appendix B (§ 1389.371) contracted to sell 1,000 dresses of style 629, in Category Number 22, at $3.75, less 8%. On January 8, 1943, he places into production 100 dresses of this order. His direct cost of manufacturing the Style 629 garment is $2.80. His Pricing Chart indicates that his maximum allowable margin for his $3.75 selling price line in Category Number 22 is 22 per cent. He may sell these 100 dresses of Style 628 at $3.59, less 8%. The $3.59 selling price is calculated by taking a 22% margin on $2.80 cost. These garments may be sold in a $3.59 selling price line even though the manufacturer does not have a $3.59 selling price line listed in his pricing chart.

(c) Optional selling price lines. Rule 11. In addition to the selling price lines which a manufacturer has listed in his Pricing Chart, prepared pursuant to § 1389.353 (a) he may also, at his option, sell garments in any selling price line at which he actually delivered garments of that category number during March 1942. He shall take as his maximum allowable margin, the maximum allowable margin listed in the pricing chart, prepared pursuant to § 1389.353 (a), for the selling price line, in the same category number, which is next lower to the selling price line in which the garment is being sold.

EXAMPLE: Assume that the manufacturer whose report is illustrated in Appendix B (§ 1389.371) also delivered dresses in Category No. 22 during March 1942 at $7.75 and $5.50. These selling price lines are not listed in his pricing chart because on the occasion of the first cutting of these styles, they were offered to his general trade at $6.75 and $5.75 respectively. Rule 11 gives the manufacturer the option to use $7.75 and $5.50 as additional selling price lines. Garments which he sells in a $7.75 selling price line must have a maximum allowable margin of 46%, and a minimum allowable cost of $4.19. Garments which he sells in his $5.50 selling price line must have a maximum allowable margin of 27% and a minimum allowable cost of $4.02.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

M'KEON CANNING CO., INC.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1449 Authorization of maximum prices for sales of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy, 29-ounce glass containers by the McKeon Canning Company, Inc., Burbank, California, and by wholesalers and retailers. (a) On and after January 12, 1943, the maximum price for sales by the McKeon Canning Company, Inc., Burbank, California of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy packed in 29-ounce size glass containers shall be $1.30 per dozen f. o. b. factory.

(b) Wholesale grocers shall determine their maximum prices for Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy packed by McKeon Canning Company, Inc. by multiplying their net delivered cost of these items by 1.135.

Net delivered cost for wholesale grocers when used in this paragraph means the invoice price for 29-ounce size glass containers of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy packed by the McKeon Canning Company, Inc., Burbank, California, delivered in a customary quantity by a customary mode of transportation to the wholesaler's customary receiving point, less all discounts allowed, except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for local unloading or local trucking shall be included in net delivered cost.

(c) Retailers shall determine their maximum prices for Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy packed by McKeon Canning Company, Inc. by multiplying their net delivered cost by 1.250.

Net delivered cost for a retailer when used in this paragraph means his invoice price for 29-ounce size glass containers of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy packed by the McKeon Canning Company, Inc., Burbank, California, delivered to his customary receiving point in a customary quantity by a customary mode of transportation and from a customary source of supply, less all discounts allowed him except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for local unloading or local trucking shall be included.

Where a maximum price per container size determined by the provisions of this paragraph is a fractional part of a cent and the fraction of a cent is less than one-half cent the price per container size shall be lowered to the next lower cent. If the fraction is one-half cent or larger, the retailer is permitted to increase his maximum price per container size to the next higher cent.

(d) No seller, except a seller at retail, shall change his customary discounts, allowances and price differentials applying to comparable items in making sales of 29-ounce size glass containers of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy unless such change in these customary discounts, allowances and price differentials results in lower selling prices.

(e) On and after January 12, 1943, the McKeon Canning Company, Inc., shall supply a written notification to each wholesaler at the time of the first delivery of 29-ounce size glass containers of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy to such wholesaler and for a period of three months thereafter and shall include with each shipping unit of 29-ounce size glass containers of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy a written notification to retailers. If such retailer notification is enclosed within a shipping unit, a legend shall be affixed outside of such unit to read "Retailer's Notice Enclosed". The written notification for each type of purchaser shall include the following statements:

Notification from McKeon Canning Company, Inc. to Wholesalers

The OPA has authorized us to charge wholesalers $1.30 per dozen f. o. b. factory for 29-ounce size glass containers of Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy subject to all customary allowances and discounts. Wholesalers are authorized to establish a ceiling price by multiplying their net delivered cost of these items by 1.135. Net delivered cost is the invoice cost at the customary receiving point, less all discounts, other than for prompt payment, and excluding charges for local hauling. Retailers shall establish a ceiling price by multiplying their net delivered cost by 1.250. Each individual ceiling price determined by any seller shall be figured to the nearest even cent (raise one-half cent fractions to the next even cent). A copy of notification to retailers is included in every shipping unit of these items. If the initial sale of these items to any retailer is a split case sale, wholesalers are required to provide such retailer with a copy of the retail notification so enclosed. CPA requires that you keep this note for examination.

Notification from McKeon Canning Company, Inc. to Retailers

The OPA authorizes retailers to establish ceiling prices for Fancy Golden Hominy and Fancy White Hominy packed in 29-ounce size glass containers by multiplying their net delivered cost by 1.250. Net delivered cost is the invoice cost at the customary receiving point, less all discounts other than for prompt payment, and excluding charges for local hauling. Such ceiling price shall be figured to the nearest even cent (raise one-half cent fractions to the next even cent). OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

PART 1545—PETROLEUM SUPPLY

[Petroleum Administrative Order 1, as Amended Jan. 11, 1943]

Section 1545.1 Petroleum Administrative Order No. 1 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1545.1 Petroleum Administrative Order No. 1—(a) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Motor fuel" means liquid fuel, including Diesel fuel, used for the propulsion of motor vehicles or motor boats and shall include any liquid fuel to which Federal gasoline taxes apply except liquid fuel used for the propulsion of aircraft.

(3) "Fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum product commonly known as fuel oil, including grades No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, Bunker "C", Diesel oil, kerosene, range oil, gas oil, or any liquid petroleum product used for the same purposes as the above designated grades.

(4) "Refinery" means any manufacturing establishment within District One which processes, refines, or compounds crude petroleum or finished or unfinished petroleum products, including, but not limited to, the terminal, storage, and distribution facilities at such establishment.

(5) "Bulk terminal" means any terminal or storage facility within District One to which motor fuel or fuel oil from any point outside of the District is delivered for redelivery.

(6) "Supplier" means any person designated as such on Schedule A.

(7) "Secondary supplier" means any person other than a supplier who regularly receives motor fuel or fuel oil for redelivery.

(8) "District One" means the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida (east of the Apalachicola River), and the District of Columbia.

(9) "Zone" means any of the six territorial divisions of District One, as follows:

Zone 1: The States of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island.

Zone 2: The entire eastern part of the State of New York up to and including the Counties of Cayuga, Tompkins, and Chemung; the entire eastern part of the State of Pennsylvania up to and including the Counties of Bradford, Sullivan, Columbia, Montour, Northumberland, Dauphin, and York; and the States of New Jersey and Delaware.

Zone 3: The States of Maryland and Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Zone 4: The States of North Carolina and South Carolina.

Zone 5: The State of Georgia and that part of the State of Florida east of the Apalachicola River.

Zone 6: That part of the States of New York and Pennsylvania not included in Zone 2, and the State of West Virginia.

(10) "Quota" means the specific quantities of motor fuel and fuel oils specified on Schedule A to be available to any supplier for delivery or withdrawal in each zone of District One from bulk terminals and refineries located in such zone during each quota period specified on Schedule A, excluding withdrawals or deliveries for export: Provided, That direct deliveries of motor fuel or fuel oil to any person within any zone by any supplier from any point outside of District One other than deliveries to a refinery or bulk terminal owned or operated by a supplier shall be deemed to be a delivery or withdrawal by the delivering supplier from a bulk terminal or refinery in the zone in which the delivery is made.

(11) "Quota period" means the period of time specified in Schedule A for the withdrawal or delivery by any supplier of any quota assigned on such schedule to such supplier.

(b) Restrictions on delivery of motor fuel and fuel oil. (1) No supplier shall withdraw or deliver, or cause to be withdrawn or delivered, any motor fuel or fuel oil from any bulk terminal or refinery in District One in any quota period except:

(i) Withdrawals or deliveries of any motor fuel or fuel oil from any refinery or bulk terminal for delivery to any bulk terminal in District One; or

(ii) As specifically directed by the Petroleum Administrator for War pursuant to a directive issued under paragraph (c) of this order; or

(iii) As specifically authorized upon application filed under paragraph (f) of this order; or

(iv) As permitted under the terms of paragraph (d) of this order.

(c) Directed deliveries. The Petroleum Administrator for War may at any time issue specific directions to any supplier or secondary supplier with respect to the withdrawal or delivery of any motor fuel or fuel oil.

(d) Unrestricted deliveries. Withdrawals or deliveries of any motor fuel or fuel oil from any refinery or bulk terminal for delivery to another supplier pursuant to (1) the provisions of Directive 59 of the Petroleum Coordinator for War, 7 F.R. 7759, and any amendments or modifications thereof, (2) repayments of loans, or (3) exchanges, shall not be deducted from the quota of the delivering supplier but such deliveries, if not otherwise exempt from quota restrictions under the provisions of this order, shall be deemed to have been withdrawn from a bulk terminal or refinery by the receiving supplier.

(e) Permitted deliveries. (1) Nothing contained in this order shall restrict the withdrawal or delivery by any supplier from any bulk terminal or refinery of the quantities of motor fuel and fuel oil listed on Schedule A, as the quota of such supplier: Provided, That all of the following conditions are met:

(i) Any such withdrawal or delivery is made within the quota period specified on Schedule A for the withdrawal or delivery of such quota;

(ii) The quantity of any such withdrawal or delivery by the supplier does not, when added to all preceding deliveries and withdrawals by such supplier during the quota period, exceed any quota specified on Schedule A for such supplier;

(iii) Such withdrawal or delivery is made, so far as practicable, so that the quota against which it is charged will be withdrawn or delivered ratably during the quota period;

(iv) Such withdrawal or delivery is made for ultimate use within the zone in which is located the bulk terminal or refinery from which the withdrawal or delivery is made: Provided, That this limitation shall not apply to any delivery between zones which are made in the established and regular course of business, and such deliveries shall be charged against the quota of the delivering supplier in the zone from which the delivery is made.

(f) Inventory restrictions. No person may deliver or otherwise supply motor fuel or fuel oil to any storage location (other than a refinery or bulk terminal) owned, operated or controlled by such person or by any other person and no person may accept delivery of:

(1) Motor fuel at such a storage location where the amount of motor fuel at such storage location is equal to or exceeds the amount of motor fuel which would normally be withdrawn from such storage location to meet rationed demands during the 10 days next following the date upon which the delivery is made; or

(2) Fuel oil at such a storage location where the amount of fuel oil at such storage location is equal to or exceeds the amount of fuel oil which would normally be withdrawn from such storage location under normal weather conditions to meet rationed demands during the 10 days next following the date upon which the delivery is made:

Provided, (i) That any single delivery of motor fuel or fuel oil by means of a transportation facility generally used in such delivery, which brings the amount of motor fuel or fuel oil at such a storage location to an amount equal to or in excess of the foregoing amounts, may be completed, and (ii) that nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to apply to the delivery of motor fuel or fuel oil to any agency referred to in paragraph (g), and (iii) that nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to apply to the delivery of motor fuel to any retail filling station or to the delivery of fuel oil to any private dwelling (as defined in Ration Order No. 11, as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration).

(g) Preferential deliveries. Each supplier shall, in making any withdrawal or delivery of motor fuel or fuel oil, give preference to the requirements of the Army and the Navy of the United States, the Coast Guard, the War Shipping Administration, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Office of Lend-Lease Administration; and any supplier shall, upon demand by any one of the said agencies withdraw and deliver to such agency any part or all of such supplier's undelivered quota.

(h) Application for authorization. Each supplier seeking authorization to withdraw or deliver motor fuel or fuel oil pursuant to paragraph (b) (1) (iii) hereof, shall apply in writing to the Petroleum Administrator for War, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons he considers such withdrawal or delivery to be necessary in the public interest.

(i) Records. All suppliers affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning withdrawals and deliveries by such suppliers from bulk terminals and refineries.

(j) Reports. Each supplier to whom this order applies shall file with the Petroleum Administrator for War by noon of each Monday a report for each zone in which such supplier has a quota, stating the quantity of motor fuel and fuel oil broken down by grades, withdrawn or delivered by him from any bulk terminal or refinery in each zone during the week ending at the close of business on the preceding Wednesday.

(k) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: The District Director in Charge, Petroleum Administration for War, 122 East 42nd Street, New York, New York, Ref: PAO 1.

(l) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(n) Effective date. This order shall be effective on and after the date of issuance.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans Administration

PART 2—ADJUDICATION: VETERANS' CLAIMS

PROOF OF RELATIONSHIP AND DEPENDENCY

§ 2.1046 Evidence to establish age or relationship. Age or relationship for the purpose of payment of any benefits under any law administered by the Veterans Administration shall be established by the best evidence obtainable, as follows:

(a) A certified copy of the public record of birth or a certified copy of the church record of baptism, the certification to be made by the custodian of such records. If the name of the person appearing on the copy of the record is not the same as that appearing upon the records of the Veterans Administration, an affidavit will be required identifying the person having the changed name as the person whose name appears in the record of birth. A public birth record established more than four years after the birth shall be accepted as proof of age or relationship provided it is not inconsistent with material of record with the Veterans Administration or if it shows on its face that it is based upon evidence which would itself be acceptable under any of the other paragraphs of this section. A record of baptism performed more than four years after birth shall not be accepted as proof of age or relationship unless it is consistent with material of record with the Veterans Administration, which shall include at least one reference to age or relationship made at a time when such reference was not essential to establishing title to the benefit being claimed. Where neither of the foregoing records is furnished, and at the time of birth public records were maintained where the birth occurred, an explanation shall be required as to why a copy of the public record cannot be furnished.

(b) In the absence of a certified copy of the public record or church record mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section, secondary evidence may be accepted as outlined below:

(1) Affidavit of the physician or midwife in attendance at birth, or

(2) Copy of Bible or other family record certified to by a notary public or other officer with authority to administer oaths for general purposes, who should state in what year the Bible or other book in which the record appears was printed, whether the record bears any erasures or other marks of alteration, and whether from the appearance of the writing he believes the entries to have been made recently or at the time reputed, or

(3) Affidavits of two or more persons, preferably disinterested, who shall state their ages, showing the name, date and place of birth of the person whose age or relationship is being established, and that to their own knowledge such person is the child of such parents (naming the parents), and stating the source of their knowledge, or

(4) A census record.

(c) The fact that evidence to establish age or relationship as outlined in the preceding paragraphs of this section is not obtainable, in a particular case, will not preclude the acceptance of other evidence, such as two or more of the following: insurance policies, school, employment, immigration, and naturalization records. (January 12, 1943.)

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

[Docket Nos. A–1807, A–1808]

DISTRICT BOARD 1

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

In the matters of the petitions of District Board No. 1 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices, for changes in seam designations and price classifications, for the establishment of an additional shipping point, and for corrections and changes in railroad loading points and designations, respectively, for the coals of certain mines located in District 1; Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808.

In the matters of the petitions of District Board No. 1 for changes in seam designations, price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Thompson No. 1 Mine (Mine Index No. 2151) of George Thompson and the Keystone Mine (Mine Index No. 1158) of H. P. Burkholder, located in District 1; Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, Part II.

Memorandum opinion and order severing Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, Part II from Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, and notice of and order for hearing in Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, Part II.

Original petitions, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, were filed with the Division by the above-named party, requesting, in part, that relief, both temporary and permanent, be granted with respect to the seam designations and price classifications for the coals produced at the Thompson No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 2151, operated by George Thompson and for the Keystone Mine, Mine Index No. 1158, operated by H. P. Burkholder, respectively.

With respect to the relief requested for the Thompson No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 2151, it is alleged in the original petition filed by the above-named party in Docket No. A–1808, that this mine is presently designated as operating in the "Pittsburgh" seam, is classified as "G" in Size Group 3 for all shipments except truck, and is priced at $2.35 per ton f. o. b. the mine in this size group for truck shipments. It is further alleged in the petition that investigation by District Board No. 1 discloses that this mine is opened in the same tract of coal as the Thompson No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 3432, which is properly designated as operating in the "E" seam. It is also alleged in this petition that the "Pittsburgh" seam does not overlie the "E" seam at these mines.

On the basis of these facts, the District Board in its original petition filed in Docket No. A–1808, proposes that the seam designation for the Thompson Mine, Mine Index No. 2151, be changed from "Pittsburgh" to "E"; that the classification of the coals produced at this mine be changed from "G" to "H" in Size Group 3 for all shipments except truck, and that the minimum f. o. b. mine price for said coals be changed from $2.35 to $2.30 per net ton, for truck shipments.

With respect to the relief requested for the Keystone Mine, Mine Index No. 1158, it is alleged in the original petition filed by the above-named party in Docket No. A–1808, that this mine is presently designated as operating in the "Pittsburgh and Redstone" seams, is classified as "G" in Size Group 3 for all shipments except truck, and is priced at $2.35 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, in this size group for truck shipments. It is further alleged in this petition that investigation by District Board No. 1 discloses that this mine is presently operating in the "Redstone" seam only, due to the fact that the "Pittsburgh" seam is completely flooded and probably will never be worked again.

On the basis of these facts, the District Board, in its original petition filed in Docket No. A–1808, proposes that the seam designation for the Keystone Mine, Mine Index 1158, be changed from "Redstone and Pittsburgh" to "Pittsburgh"; that the classification of the coals produced at this mine be changed from "G" to "H" in Size Group 3 for all shipments except truck, and that the minimum f. o. b. mine price for said coals be changed from $2.35 to $2.30 per net ton for truck shipments.

In view of the fact that the proposal of the District Board as set forth above involves changes in price classifications and minimum prices heretofore established for the coals produced at the said Thompson and Keystone Mines, the Director is of the opinion that that portion of the consolidated petitions which relate to the relief requested by District Board No. 1 for the said Thompson No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 2151, and the said Keystone Mine, Mine Index No. 1158, should be severed therefrom and designated as Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, Part II, and that said severed portion should be scheduled for hearing.

However, with respect to that portion of the consolidated petitions which is designated as Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, in which the District Board proposed the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices and other relief for other mines, the Director being of the opinion that such relief should be granted with respect to such other mines, an order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief has been issued in said Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808.

It is, therefore, ordered, That those portions of the original petitions which relate to the coals of the Thompson No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 2151, operated by George Thompson, and the Keystone Mine, Mine Index No. 1158, operated by H. P. Burkholder, respectively, be, and the same hereby are, severed from Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, and that such severed portions be, and the same hereby are, designated as Docket Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, Part II.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in Dockets Nos. A–1807 and A–1808, Part II, under the applicable provisions of said Act and rules of the Division be held on January 28, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at a hearing room of the Division in Washington, D. C. On such day the chief of the records section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, continue said hearing from time to time, and submit to the undersigned proposed findings of fact, conclusions, and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in these proceedings and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before January 23, 1943.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of this petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition of District Board No. 1 for a change in the seam designation for the Thompson No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 2151 operated by George Thompson, from the "Pittsburgh seam" to the "E" seam, and for a change in the seam designation for the Keystone Mine, Mine Index No. 1158, operated by H. P. Burkholder, by deleting therefrom the "Pittsburgh" Seam, so that hereafter said mine will be designated under the "Redstone" Seam, and for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for such coals in the Schedules of Effective Minimum Prices in District 1 for All Shipments Except Truck and For Truck Shipments, which reflect such changes in seam designation.

Dated: January 8, 1943.

[Docket No. A–1737]

DISTRICT BOARDS 7 AND 8

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

In the matter of the petition of District Boards Nos. 7 and 8 for an increase in minimum prices, pursuant to section 4 II (a) and (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

Memorandum opinion and order denying temporary relief and notice of and order for hearing.

On November 12, 1942, the Bituminous Coal Producers Boards for District Nos. 7 and 8 (hereinafter sometimes referred to as petitioners) filed a joint petition for an order increasing the minimum prices in such a manner as to increase the minimum price realization for coals produced in Minimum Price Area 1 by such amount as the Director may find to be the increase in the weighted average of the total costs per net ton of 2,000 pounds of the tonnage produced in Minimum Price Area 1 over and above the determination thereof made by the Director in General Docket No. 21, without, however, changing the coordination of such minimum prices heretofore established by the Director.

Petitioners also allege that they are informed and believe that the weighted average of the total costs of production in Minimum Price Area 1 have increased at least five cents per net ton of 2,000 pounds, exclusive of seasonal changes, over and above the determination of such costs in General Docket No. 21. Petitioners, therefore, request an immediate temporary order revising the minimum prices heretofore established for coals produced in Minimum Price Area 1 in such a manner as to increase the minimum price realization for Minimum Price Area 1 by at least five cents per net ton of 2,000 pounds, without, however, changing the coordination of such minimum prices heretofore established between districts.

A preliminary compilation prepared by the Economics Branch of the Bituminous Coal Division from verified cost reports of individual producers of Minimum Price Area 1 and attached hereto as Exhibit A indicates that reported costs are two cents or more per net ton in excess of the weighted average of the total costs for Minimum Price Area 1 heretofore determined.

In view of the allegations of the above-mentioned petition the Director believed a preliminary conference would be helpful for the purpose of discussing matters related to the petition and a proceeding for redetermination of costs and revision of minimum prices. Such a conference was held on December 17, 1942, and was attended by representatives of the Division, District Boards 1–11 and 13, Consumers' Counsel, and American Coal Sales Association. At that time, it was stated by representatives of various district boards that they were opposed to an early hearing in a proceeding to redetermine costs and revise minimum prices. Similar opposition was voiced by representatives of District Boards 14–20, 22 and 23 at a conference held with representatives of the Division on January 6 and 7, 1943. Among objections urged by such district boards at the conferences were the objections that a hearing at this time was unnecessary, that several months would be required for certain district boards to obtain complete data and exhibits for proper presentation, and that cost factors should be considered in the next cost proceeding in addition to those which can now readily be shown. Nevertheless, in view of the pendency of the petition of District Boards Nos. 7 and 8 and their request for immediate temporary relief, it is appropriate to grant the request of the petitioners that a hearing be held for the purpose of affording them and others an opportunity to make a showing concerning cost changes in Minimum Price Area 1 and suitable revisions of minimum prices.

The Bituminous Coal Division, under section 4 II (b) of the Act, is empowered from time to time to review and revise the effective minimum prices in accordance with the standards set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of section 4 II upon satisfactory proof that there has been a change in any minimum price area in excess of two cents per net ton in the weighted average of the total costs.

The Director is of the opinion, however, that the Act does not empower him, prior to a redetermination of costs and at this state of the proceeding to grant temporary relief as requested by petitioners.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the temporary relief, requested by petitioners, be and the same hereby is denied.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter be held on February 24, 1943, at 10 o'clock a. m. at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That C. R. Larrabee or any other officer or officers of the Bituminous Coal Division designated by the Director thereof for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, to prepare and submit to the Director proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law, and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

It is further ordered, That the verified cost reports upon which the compilation in Exhibit A attached hereto is based be and the same hereby are made a part of the record of this proceeding, subject to appropriate objection at the hearing. Such cost reports will be available for inspection by the interested persons and parties (who have filed notices in accordance with the provisions hereof) as soon as practicable and prior to the commencement of the hearing, at Room 502, Walker Building, 734 Fifteenth Street NW., Washington, D. C.

It is further ordered, That on or before February 10, 1943, District Boards Nos. 7 and 8, the petitioners herein, shall file in this docket and serve copies thereof upon all district boards, Consumers' Counsel, and all parties who have filed notices herein, written statements concerning (a) the specific changes, in the weighted average costs of production for Minimum Price Area 1, which petitioners claim have occurred since the determinations thereof in General Docket No. 21 and upon which petitioners propose that revisions of minimum prices be based, (b) the specific proposals of the changes in minimum prices which petitioners seek to have established in this proceeding for Minimum Price Area 1 and any other minimum price area, (c) the cost, distribution, and realization data upon which such claimed changes in costs and proposed minimum prices are based, and the extent to which petitioners intend to rely upon data made available by the Bituminous Coal Division.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for each district, to all code members, to the Consumers' Counsel, and to all other persons who may have an interest in this matter. Any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect, setting forth clearly the nature of the interest of such person in this proceeding, with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before January 29, 1943. Thereafter and within 10 days after service of the aforesaid statement by petitioners, each interested person or party shall file a statement or a petition of intervention setting forth in detail the position of such person or party with regard to its specific requests or proposals, if any, and the specific requests or proposals of petitioners. Copies of such statement or petition of intervention shall be served upon all other interested persons or parties. Each interested person or party shall be limited in the presentation of evidence, argument and briefs to those matters specifically alleged in the statement or petition of intervention filed. No person who fails to file an appropriate and timely notice and statement or petition of intervention as herein required shall be admitted as an interested person or party, or heard in this proceeding except upon good cause shown and after the making of an appropriate order or ruling by the Examiner.

At such hearing, interested persons or parties will be afforded an opportunity to be heard and to present evidence relating to the correctness or incorrectness of Exhibit A attached hereto or otherwise relating to the subject matter of this proceeding.

The matter concerned herewith is (a) the determination of the extent, if any, to which there has been a change in excess of two cents per net ton in the weighted average of the total costs heretofore determined by the Division in General Docket No. 21 for Minimum Price Area 1, and (b) the making of such revision of the effective minimum prices as may be required in Minimum Price Area 1 or any other minimum price area by reason of any such changes in costs for the coals produced in Minimum Price Area 1, and in order to assure that the effective minimum prices established herein (1) will return a realization which approximates the weighted average of the total costs for Minimum Price Area 1, and (2) also comply in other respects with the standards of section 4 II (a) and (b) of the Act.

Dated: January 9, 1943.

C., beginning at 10 a. m., E. W. T., January 18, 1943, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Washington marketing area. These amendments have not received the aproval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to the economic or marketing conditions which relate to the amendments or any modification thereof, which are hereinafter set forth. Such evidence may also include economic or marketing data relative to the provisions of the said tentatively approved marketing agreement and order which will be affected by approval of the proposed amendments or any modification thereof. The amendments which have been proposed are set forth below:

Proposed by Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers' Association, Inc.

1. In § 945.1 (a) (5), delete the words "or cream" in line 5 and add the words "from which no milk was shipped to the marketing area as milk during the preceding year" at the end of the definition of a "producer."

2. Delete § 945.4 (b) (1) and (2) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Class I milk. All milk disposed of in the form of fluid milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored or manufactured milk drinks, the butterfat in cottage cheese and plant shrinkage.

(2) Class II milk. All milk the cream therefrom which is disposed in the form of cream.

3. Amend § 945.5 (c) as follows:

(a) Delete the words "and cream" in the title paragraph (c).

(b) In subparagraph (1), delete the words "or cream" in line 1 and the words "and cream" in line 7; at the end of line 11 change the period to a semi-colon and add the words "and that the allocation shall not violate the provision relating to 'Emergency Supplies' in subparagraph (2) below."

(c) Delete subparagraph (3) and substitute therefor the following:

(3) Milk, skim milk, and cream designated as "emergency supplies" shall be classified as Class II, except any of these "emergency supplies" in excess of the total amount of Class II used by the receiving handler shall be allocated to Class I; Provided that "emergency supplies" shall be deemed to be any milk or cream received by a handler from plants outside the marketing area, except from plants from which milk was delivered to the marketing area in May 1942.

4. Delete § 945.4 (d) (1) and (2) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Class I milk. Combine into one total the pounds of products disposed of as Class I, plus the milk equivalent of butterfat in cottage cheese and in plant shrinkage.

(2) Class II milk. Deduct the total pounds of Class I milk determined in (1) above from the gross receipts of milk and milk equivalent of cream from all sources.

5. Amend § 945.5 (a) as follows:

(a) In subparagraph (1), substitute "$4.50" in line 1 for "$3.57"; in line 4 and line 8 substitute "$4.04" for "$3.11."

(b) In subparagraph (2) (i), substitute "$1.00" in line 7 for "28 cents"; in line 7 and line 8 delete the words "and subtract 23½ cents."

(c) Add a new subparagraph as follows:

(3) Sales outside the marketing area. For handlers shipping emergency supplies of milk or cream into the marketing area, the price for milk or cream disposed by these handlers outside the marketing area shall be such prices as were paid the majority of farmers in the market where such milk was disposed of, in lieu of the class prices set forth in (a) of this section.

6. Delete § 945.7 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Computation of value for each handler. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the value of milk disposed of by each handler receiving milk from other producers as follows: Multiply the hundredweight of milk in each class by the price applicable to § 945.5; add the resulting values together; deduct the product obtained by multiplying the Class II price by the hundredweight of milk equivalent (at the average test of milk received from producers) in the butterfat in cream received from plants at which no milk is received from producers; then deduct the products obtained by multiplying the applicable class price by the milk designated as "emergency supplies", and divide the remaining sum by the hundredweight of milk received from producers, exclusive of milk designated as "emergency supplies."

7. Amend § 945.8 (a) as follows:

(a) Delete subparagraph (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Semi-monthly payments. On or before the 20th day of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to producers for the approximate value of milk received during the first 15 days of each delivery period and on or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to producers for the approximate value of milk received from the 16th to the end of the delivery period.

(b) In subparagraph (2), substitute "15th" for "18th."

8. In § 945.8 (d), substitute a semicolon for the period after the word "plant" and add thereto the following:

Provided, That in the case of handlers delivering milk qualifying as "emergency supplies" pursuant to § 945.4, paragraph (c), then in lieu of the $.18 location adjustment specified above, the handler may deduct an amount per hundredweight equivalent to the cost of transporting such milk to the marketing area but in no event shall this amount exceed the railroad rates established by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Proposed by Embassy-Fairfax Dairy, Inc.

1. Provide for a market-wide pool instead of the present individual handler pool.

2. Provide for a receiving station differential of 18 cents per hundredweight and a transportation differential of 50 cents per hundredweight for milk received at plants located in Queen Anne's County, Maryland.

3. Provide that plant loss of 2 percent be placed in Class II instead of Class I.

Proposed by Chestnut Farms-Chevy Chase Dairy Company

1. Provide for the classification of plant loss not to exceed 2 percent by volume of receipts in "Class II milk."

Proposed by Martin's Dairy

1. In § 945.5, add a paragraph as follows:

(b) Sales outside the marketing area. In lieu of prices set forth in this section, the prices to be paid by handlers for Class I milk and Class II milk disposed of from those wagons or trucks which do not travel within the marketing area at any time while containing any milk or cream shall be such prices as were paid to farmers in the market where such milk was disposed of for milk of equivalent use, as ascertained by the market administrator.

Proposed by Dairy and Poultry Branch, Food Distribution Administration

1. Delete § 945.3 (b) (2) and substitute therefor the following:

(2) (i) Those facilities necessary for the checking of the weighing and sampling of milk and adequate records for determining the utilization of milk or cream by the handler.

(ii) In establishing the classification of any milk or cream received at a plant from producers, the burden rests upon the handler who received the milk from producers to show that it should not be classified as Class I milk.

Copies of this notice of hearing, of the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and of the order, as amended, now in effect, may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 1331 South Building, Washington, D. C., or may be there inspected.

TANK CARS

PURCHASE, SALES, EXCHANGES AND COMMON USE OF FACILITIES

The diversion for war of a large part of the American and foreign registry tanker fleet, the loss through enemy action of other vessels of that fleet, and the increasing requirements for certain materials transported in tank cars to the war effort, has resulted in an acute shortage of tank cars and other tankage facilities. In order to minimize this shortage, it is necessary to increase and supplement means of overland transportation of these materials and to obtain the maximum efficient use of the available supply of tank cars and other tankage facilities.

Now, therefore, pursuant to Certificate No. 27 of the Chairman of the War Production Board to the Attorney General of the United States, under section 12 of Public Law No. 603, approved June 11, 1942, it is hereby requested that:

Purchase, sales, exchanges, and common use of facilities. All persons engaged in producing, transporting or distributing the materials listed on Schedule X annexed (herein referred to as Schedule X) shall make such purchases, sales, exchanges, or loans of Schedule X materials, and shall arrange for such common use of tank cars and other tankage facilities as may be required in order to attain the most efficient utilization thereof. All such purchases, sales, exchanges or loans, and arrangements for common use of tank cars and tankage facilities shall remain subject to review and adjustment by the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board to the end that no supplier or distributor or producer of any Schedule X material shall be deprived of an opportunity to share equitably in the available supply and use of tank cars and other tankage facilities.

Reports. All persons effecting purchases, sales, exchanges, or loans of products, or arrangements for joint use of tank cars or other tankage facilities as referred to herein shall promptly inform the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, Ref: Transportation Request No. 1.

PART 1405—FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

CITRUS FRUIT REQUIRED TO BE SET ASIDE

Pursuant to authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, issued December 5, 1942, and in order to assure an adequate supply of citrus fruit juice and other citrus fruit products to meet war requirements; It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1405.2 Citrus fruit—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Citrus fruit" means oranges, lemons, grapefruit, and limes, but does not include tangerines or any of the foregoing unfit for human consumption or for processing into juice.

(2) "Handler" means any person who first prepares citrus fruit for marketing in fresh form, but does not include any person engaged solely in harvesting or producing citrus fruit.

(3) "Processor" means any person in the business of extracting juice from citrus fruit for processing and packing for shipment as juice, concentrated or unconcentrated, for human consumption.

(4) "Producing area" means the States of California, Arizona, Texas, and Florida.

(5) "Shipping period" means one calendar week unless the Director shall otherwise specify by order.

(6) "Ship" means to deliver for transportation by any common, contract, private, or other carrier by rail, truck, or other means, and includes the placing of citrus fruit in any conveyance for transportation, but does not include delivery for transportation directly from groves to the place where fruit is first prepared for market, delivery for transportation to processors, or delivery to charitable uses.

(7) "Government agency" means any agency of the United States purchasing citrus fruit for processing into concentrated or unconcentrated juice for delivery to the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, War Shipping Administration, or to or for the account of the government of any country, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(8) "Director" means Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(b) Restrictions on delivery of citrus fruit by handlers. (1) Without regard to existing contracts, every handler in the producing area or such portions thereof as the Director may designate, shall, during each shipping period, set aside for the requirements of Government agencies and processors a quantity equal to such percentage as the Director may from time to time order of each type and variety of citrus fruit shipped by such handler during such period or the shipping period immediately preceding such period. The quantities of citrus fruit set aside during each period shall be retained by each handler for such length of time for each type and variety as the Director may order. Such set aside fruit shall be retained and stored under conditions customarily observed in the storage of citrus fruit.

(2) Citrus fruit set aside pursuant to this order may be sold or delivered at any time to any Government agency or to any processor or may at any time be processed by the handler into citrus fruit juice, subject to all orders restricting and regulating the production of such juice.

(3) If no Government agency has contracted for or declared its intention to contract for any portion of citrus fruit set aside and if no processor has contracted for any portion thereof prior to the expiration of the time specified by the Director for the holding of such fruit, such fruit shall be released from the restrictions of this order. Quantities set aside may also be released at any time by notice to that effect from the Director.

(c) Restriction on processors. No processor shall sell or deliver into fresh fruit channels any citrus fruit which at any time was set aside under this order by any handler.

PART 1490—MISCELLANEOUS FOOD PRODUCTS

RESTRICTING THE SALE AND DELIVERY OF PACKAGED CHICORY

Pursuant to Executive Order No. 9280, issued December 5, 1942, and in order to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of chicory; It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1490.1 Sales and delivery of packaged chicory restricted—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Processor" shall include any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of processing or packaging chicory.

(2) "Packaged chicory" shall mean chicory in consumer size packages intended for or suitable for retail distribution.

(3) "Chicory" shall mean roasted chicory whether granulated or in rolls or in compressed tablets or in any other form.

(4) "Director" shall mean and include the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(c) Records and reports. All processors affected by this order shall maintain such records for such periods of time, and shall execute and file such reports and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe.

(d) Audits and inspections. Every processor shall permit inspection during reasonable business hours of his books, records, and accounts by the Director.

(e) Appeals. Any processor affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and undue hardship on him may appeal in writing to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts in justification of such appeal, together with a statement of the nature of the relief requested. The Director may, upon the basis of such appeal and other information, take such action as he deems appropriate.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any person who in the judgment of the Director, is found to have violated any of the terms or provisions of this order may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of chicory, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the United States Department of Agriculture, Food Distribution Administration, Washington, D. C., Ref: FD 6.

(h) Delegation of authority. The Director is hereby designated and authorized to administer the provisions hereof and to issue all orders necessary to the effectuation of the purposes and provisions of this order. The Director shall have final authority for the purposes of this order to determine whether any particular lot of oranges, grapefruit, lemons, or limes is fit for human consumption or for processing into juice.

(i) Effective date. This order shall be effective on January 13, 1943.

PART 30—REGULATIONS UNDER THE EXCESS PROFITS TAX ACT OF 1940

EXCESS PROFITS TAX

Regulations 109 amended to conform to section 227 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress).

Regulations 109 [Part 30, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1941 Sup.] are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 30.734–1 the following:

SEC. 227. AMENDMENTS TO SECTION 734 (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) In General. Section 734 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 734. ADJUSTMENT IN CASE OF POSITION INCONSISTENT WITH PRIOR INCOME TAX LIABILITY.

(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this section:

(1) Taxpayer. The term "taxpayer" means any person subject to a tax under the applicable revenue Act.

(2) Income tax. The term "income tax" means an income tax imposed by Chapter 1 or Chapter 2A of this title; Title I and Title IA of the Revenue Acts of 1938, 1936, and 1934; Title I of the Revenue Acts of 1932 and 1928; Title II of the Revenue Acts of 1926 and 1924; Title II of the Revenue Acts of 1921 and 1918; Title I of the Revenue Act of 1917; Title I of the Revenue Act of 1916; or section II of the Act of October 3, 1913; a war profits or excess profits tax imposed by Title III of the Revenue Acts of 1921 and 1918; or Title II of the Revenue Act of 1917; or an income, war profits, or excess profits tax imposed by any of the foregoing provisions, as amended or supplemented.

(3) Prior taxable year. A taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, shall not be considered a prior taxable year.

(4) The term "predecessor of the taxpayer" means:

(A) A person which is a component corporation of the taxpayer within the meaning of section 740; and

(B) A person which on April 1, 1941, or at any time thereafter, controlled the taxpayer. The term "controlled" as herein used shall have the same meaning as "control" under section 112 (h), and

(C) Any person in an unbroken series ending with the taxpayer if subparagraph (A) or (B) would apply to the relationship between the parties.

(b) Circumstances of adjustment.

(1) If:

(A) In determining at any time the tax of a taxpayer under this subchapter an item affecting the determination of the excess profits credit is treated in a manner inconsistent with the treatment accorded such item in the determination of the income-tax liability of such taxpayer or a predecessor for a prior taxable year or years, and

(B) The treatment of such item in the prior taxable year or years consistently with the determination under this subchapter would effect an increase or decrease in the amount of the income taxes previously determined for such taxable year or years, and then the correction shall be made by an adjustment under this section. If in a subsequent determination of the tax under this subchapter for such taxable year such inconsistent treatment is not adopted, then the correction shall not be made in connection with such subsequent determination.

(C) On the date of such determination of the tax under this subchapter correction of the effect of the inconsistent treament in any one or more of the prior taxable years is prevented (except for the provisions of section 3801) by the operation of any law or rule of law (other than section 3761, relating to compromises),

(2) Such adjustment shall be made only if there is adopted in the determination a position maintained by the Commissioner (in case the net effect of the adjustment would be a decrease in the income taxes previously determined for such year or years) or by the taxpayer with respect to whom the determination is made (in case the net effect of the adjustment would be an increase in the income taxes previously determined for such year or years) which position is inconsistent with the treatment accorded such item in the prior taxable year or years which was not correct under the law applicable to such year.

(3) Burden of proof. In any proceeding before the Board or any court the burden of proof in establishing that an inconsistent position has been taken (A) shall be upon the Commissioner, in case the net effect of the adjustment would be an increase in the income taxes previously determined for the prior taxable year or years, or (B) shall be upon the taxpayer, in case the net effect of the adjustment would be a decrease in the income taxes previously determined for the prior taxable year or years.

(c) Method and effect of adjustment.

(1) The adjustment authorized by subsection (b), in the amount ascertained as provided in subsection (d), if a net increase shall be added to, and if a net decrease shall be subtracted from, the tax otherwise computed under this subchapter for the taxable year with respect to which such inconsistent position is adopted.

(2) If more than one adjustment under this section is made because more than one inconsistent position is adopted with respect to one taxable year under this subchapter, the separate adjustments, each an amount ascertained as provided in subsection (d), shall be aggregated, and the aggregate net increase or decrease shall be added to or subtracted from the tax otherwise computed under this subchapter for the taxable year with respect to which such inconsistent positions are adopted.

(3) If all the adjustments under this section, made on account of the adoption of an inconsistent position or positions with respect to one taxable year under this subchapter, result in an aggregate net increase, the tax imposed by this subchapter shall in no case be less than the amount of such aggregate net increase.

(4) If all the adjustments under this section, made on account of the adoption of an inconsistent position or positions with respect to a taxable year under this subchapter (hereinafter in this paragraph called the current taxable year), result in an aggregate net decrease, and the amount of such decrease exceeds the tax imposed by this subchapter (without regard to the provisions of this section) for the current taxable year, such excess shall be subtracted from the tax imposed by this subchapter for each succeeding taxable year, but the amount of the excess to be so subtracted shall be reduced by the reduction in tax for intervening taxable years which has resulted from the subtraction of such excess from the tax imposed for each such year.

(d) Ascertainment of amount of adjustment. In computing the amount of an adjustment under this section there shall first be ascertained the amount of the income taxes previously determined for each of the prior taxable years for which correction is prevented. The amount of each such tax previously determined for each such taxable year shall be (1) the tax shown by the taxpayer or by the predecessor, upon the return for such prior taxable year, increased by the amounts previously assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, and decreased by the amounts previously abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of such tax; or (2) if no amount was shown as the tax by such taxpayer or such predecessor upon the return, or if no return was made by such taxpayer or such predecessor, then the amounts previously assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, but such amounts previously assessed, or collected without assessment, shall be decreased by the amounts previously abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of such tax. There shall then be ascertained the increase or decrease in each such tax previously determined for each such year which results solely from the treatment of the item consistently with the treatment accorded such item in the determination of the tax liability under this subchapter. To the increase or decrease so ascertained for each such tax for each such year there shall be added interest thereon computed as if the increase or decrease constituted a deficiency or an overpayment, as the case may be, for such prior taxable year. Such interest shall be computed to the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the excess profits tax taxable year with respect to which the determination is made. There shall be ascertained the difference between the aggregate of such increases, plus the interest attributable to each, and the aggregate of such decreases, plus the interest attributable to each, and the net increase or decrease so ascertained shall be the amount of the adjustment under this section with respect to the inconsistent treatment of such item.

(e) Interest in case of net increase or decrease.

(1) If an adjustment under this section results in a net decrease, or more than one adjustment results in an aggregate net decrease, the portion of such net decrease or aggregate net decrease, as the case may be, subtracted from the tax which represents interest shall be included in gross income of the taxable year in which falls the date prescribed for the payment of the tax under this subchapter.

(2) If an adjustment under this section results in a net increase, or more than one adjustment results in an aggregate net increase, the portion of such net increase or aggregate net increase, as the case may be, which represents interest shall be allowed as a deduction in computing net income for the taxable year in which falls the date prescribed for the payment of the tax under this subchapter.

(b) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendments made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939.

PAR. 2. Section 30.734-1 (b), as added by Treasury Decision 5045, approved May 3, 1941, and amended by Treasury Decision 5112, approved January 26, 1942, is further amended by striking out subparagraph (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

* * * * *

(2) The term "predecessor of the taxpayer" shall have the meaning assigned to such term by section 734 (a) (4). It is specifically provided that the term "controlled" as used in such definition shall have the same meaning as "control" under the definition contained in section 112 (h). Accordingly, a person is a predecessor of the taxpayer if, on April 1, 1941, or at any time thereafter, such person owned stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the taxpayer. For the purpose of section 734 it is immaterial that such control did not exist during the taxable year in respect of which the incorrect treatment of the item or transaction occurred, or during the taxable year in respect of which the inconsistent position is adopted in the determination of the excess profits credit of the taxpayer.

Any person which is a component corporation of the taxpayer under the definition contained in section 740 is a predecessor of the taxpayer within the meaning of section 734. Such person may be a corporation, partnership or a sole proprietor. Any such component corporation is a predecessor of the taxpayer irrespective of the method employed in computing the excess profits credit of the taxpayer.

Under the terms of the definition, any person which is a predecessor of a predecessor in an unbroken series ending with the taxpayer is a predecessor of the taxpayer within the meaning of section 734.

The limitation of the term "predecessor of the taxpayer" to certain cases, and the resulting exclusion of other cases, should not be construed to affect the established judicial doctrines commonly known as estoppel, recoupment, set-off, etc. which may be applied by the courts in appropriate cases.

PAR. 3. Section 30.734-2, as added by Treasury Decision 5045 and amended by Treasury Decision 5112, is further amended by inserting at the end thereof the following paragraph:

* * * * *

The rule relative to the burden of proof to establish, in any board or court proceeding, that an inconsistent position has been taken, is prescribed in section 734 (b) (3). If the net effect of the adjustment by reason of the alleged inconsistency would be an increase in the income taxes previously determined for the prior taxable year or years, the burden of proof is upon the Commissioner. If the net effect of such adjustment would be a decrease in the income taxes previously determined for the prior taxable year or years, the burden of proof is upon the taxpayer. Inasmuch as the adjustment under section 734 is a factor in the determination of the excess profits tax liability, the provisions relative to the burden of proof in a Board or court proceeding do not relieve the taxpayer from responsibility for a full disclosure of the facts necessary to the correct determination of the tax liability.

PAR. 4. Section 30.734-3, as added by Treasury Decision 5045, is amended by inserting immediately preceding the last paragraph thereof the following:

* * * * *

If the authorized adjustments with respect to one excess profits tax taxable year result in an aggregate net decrease and the amount of such decrease exceeds the excess profits tax (computed without regard to the provisions of section 734) for such year, the excess may be carried over and subtracted from the excess profits tax in each succeeding taxable year until such excess is exhausted. If excesses result from adjustments with respect to two or more excess profits tax taxable years, such excesses shall be carried over in the order of their occurrence.

Example.

Tax (computed without regard to provisions of section 734)	$10,000	$20,000	$15,000	$7,000	$3,000	$5,000
Aggregate net decrease under section 734	(40,000)		(20,000)
Excess	($30,000)		($5,000)

(1) The $30,000 excess from 1942 will be subtracted from the tax of $20,000 for 1943; the remaining $10,000 will not be subtracted from any 1944 tax since such tax has been absorbed by the $20,000 net decrease for that year; such remaining $10,000 will, however, be subtracted from the $7,000 tax for 1945, and the $3,000 tax for 1946.

(2) The full $5,000 excess from 1944 will be subtracted from the tax of $8,000 for 1947 since the excess from 1942 has been exhausted in 1946 and the tax for 1946 has been reduced to zero.

* * * * *

PAR. 5. Section 30.734-4, as added by Treasury Decision 5045, is amended by striking out the example and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

* * * * *

Example. In December 1934, the X Corporation in pursuance of a plan of reorganization transferred all of its assets except cash to the Y Corporation in exchange for all of the stock of the Y Corporation, such stock having a fair market value of $300,000. The assets transferred, consisting of real estate and securities, had an adjusted basis in the hands of the X Corporation of $400,000. Among such assets was a building, which was acquired by the X Corporation in 1924, and which had an adjusted basis in the hands of the X Corporation of $100,000 and an estimated remaining life of 20 years. The building had a fair market value of $80,000 at the time of the transfer. Both corporations made their returns on the calendar year basis. The exchange was treated as taxable and the loss of $100,000 realized by the X Corporation was recognized. For each of the years 1935 to 1941, inclusive, the Y Corporation was allowed a deduction for depreciation in the amount of $4,000 computed on the cost basis of $80,000. In its excess profits tax return for the calendar year 1942, the Y Corporation claimed that the assets acquired from the X Corporation should have a basis of $400,000 for invested capital purposes, including a basis of $300,000 for the building, and claimed a deduction of $5,000 for depreciation on the building for such year. This position was based upon the contention that the 1934 exchange was a nontaxable reorganization, resulting from the acquisition by Y Corporation in exchange solely for its voting stock of substantially all of the properties of X Corporation; and that the basis in the hands of the Y Corporation of the assets acquired upon the exchange was the same as the adjusted basis in the hands of the transferor. Timely claims for refund based upon the allowance of additional deductions for depreciation for the taxable years 1939, 1940 and 1941 were filed. The statute of limitations prevents any refund of overpayments or assessment of deficiencies for the taxable years 1934 to 1938, inclusive. The Commissioner's determination of the excess profits tax liability for the calendar year 1942 adopts the inconsistent position asserted by the Y Corporation and, accordingly, if the computation under section 734 (d) discloses a net increase in the taxes previously determined for the taxable years for which correction is prevented, an adjustment is authorized under the provisions of section 734.

The X Corporation was not subject to the income tax imposed by Title IA of the Revenue Act of 1934. Its tax previously determined for the taxable year 1934 is $4,125.00 computed upon an income of $30,000. The corporation omitted from its gross income an item of rental income amounting to $3,000 and neglected to take a deduction for interest amounting to $1,500. During the taxable year it realized a gain of $10,000 from the sale of a capital asset.

The increase in the tax of the X Corporation previously determined for 1934, plus the interest thereon, is computed as follows

Tax previously determined for 1934	$4,125
Net income for 1934 upon which tax previously determined was based	30,000
Plus: Capital loss previously allowed (limited to capital gain plus $2,000)	12,000
Net income	42,000
Tax as recomputed	5,775
Tax previously determined	4,125
Increase in tax previously determined	1,650
Interest on increase in tax	792
Total increase for 1934	2,442

In accordance with the provisions of section 734 (d), the recomputation does not take into consideration the item of $3,000, representing rental income which was omitted from gross income, or the item of $1,500, representing interest paid, for which no deduction was allowed.

The Y Corporation was not subject to the income tax imposed by Title IA of the Revenue Acts of 1934, or 1936, or 1938. The decrease in the tax of the Y Corporation previously determined for each of the taxable years 1935, 1936, 1937, and 1938, which results solely from the allowance of an additional deduction of $1,000 for the depreciation in each of such years, plus the interest on each such decrease, is assumed to be as follows:

Year	Tax	Interest	Total
1935	$137.50	$57.75	$195.25
1936	220.00	79.20	299.20
1937	220.00	66.00	286.00
1938	100.00	45.60	235.60

The amount of the adjustment to be added to the excess profits tax of the Y Corporation otherwise determined for the taxable year 1942 is as follows:

Increase for 1934		$2,442.00
Less: Decrease for 1935	$195.25
Decrease for 1936	299.20
Decrease for 1937	286.00
Decrease for 1938	235.60	1,016.05
Net increase (amount of adjustment authorized)		1,425.95

PAR. 6. There is inserted immediately after § 30.734-4 the following:

§ 30.734-5 Interest. The portion of an adjustment under section 734 which represents interest is characterized as interest for certain tax purposes and is includible in gross income, or allowable as a deduction in computing net income, as the case may be, for the taxable year in which falls the date prescribed for the payment of the excess profits tax for the taxable year to which the adjustment or, in the case of an adjustment involving a carry-over, the portion of such adjustment is applied, regardless of the method of accounting employed by the taxpayer. The date prescribed for payment of the tax is, in the case of a domestic corporation, the 15th day of the third month following the close of the taxable year and, in the case of a foreign corporation not having an office or place of business in the United States, the 15th day of the sixth month following the close of the taxable year, except that, in the case of a taxable year ending before December 31, 1940, the date prescribed for payment of the tax of either a domestic or a foreign corporation is March 15, 1941.

Under the rule prescribed, if the adjustments in respect of an excess profits tax taxable year result in a net increase, or an aggregate net increase, the portion of such increase which represents interest shall be allowed as a deduction in computing net income for the succeeding taxable year. Thus, under the facts set forth in the example contained in § 30.734-4, the portion of the net increase which represents interest is $543.45 (interest on increases, $792.00, minus interest on decreases, $248.55), and such interest is allowable as a deduction in computing net income for the calendar year 1943.

If the adjustments in respect of an excess profits tax taxable year result in a net decrease, or an aggregate net decrease, the interest contained in that portion of such decrease which is subtracted from the tax for any taxable year shall be included in the gross income for the succeeding taxable year. For such purpose, no portion of the amount subtracted in any taxable year shall be deemed to represent interest until the portion of the net decrease which represents tax has been exhausted.

Example. For the calendar year 1942, Corporation X had an excess profits tax liability of $9,000 (computed without regard to section 734) and an authorized adjustment under section 734 resulting in a net decrease of $12,000 of which $8,000 represents tax and $4,000 represents interest. In giving effect to the adjustment, $9,000 will be subtracted from the tax for 1942 and the balance will be carried over to succeeding taxable years. Since $8,000 of the net decrease represents tax, only $1,000 of the amount subtracted in 1942 represents interest and hence $1,000 will be included as interest in the taxpayer's gross income for 1943. The entire amount of the $3,000 to be carried over and subtracted from the tax for a succeeding taxable year represents interest since the portion of the net decrease which represents tax is exhausted in 1942.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Interpretation 1 to Priorities Regulation 13 as Amended to Sept. 23, 1942]

The following official interpretation is hereby issued with respect to § 944.34 of Priorities Regulation No. 13, as amended to September 23, 1942:

Priorities Regulation No. 13 deals with special sales of idle or excess materials. Paragraph (c) (3) of the regulation provides that any person may, subject to paragraph (e) of the regulation, make a special sale of any war material to another person engaged in the same business as the seller if an order or other action of the Director applicable generally to the persons engaged in such business expressly permits such a sale. Several orders of the War Production Board have been issued allowing special sales under this section. Among such orders are L-97-a-1, dealing with railroad equipment, P-46, dealing with utilities, P-98-c, dealing with petroleum operators, and L-49, dealing with beds, springs and mattresses.

These orders do not remove the material which they affect from the operation of other provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 13. Other special sales of material permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 13 may be made notwithstanding the issuance of orders referring to paragraph (c) (3) of the regulation. Likewise, any specific requirements of inventory or other reports must be complied with, and any idle or excess materials remain subject to redistribution programs of the War Production Board. The issuance of the orders referred to above merely provides an additional channel within which idle and excess stocks may be redistributed § 1068.1 Conservation Order M-81—(a) Definitions. (1) "Can" means any unused container which is made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste, and which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container closure or fitting made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste, but does not include a closure or fitting to be used on or as a part of a glass container. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers, as defined in Conservation Order M-200.

(2) "Tinplate" means sheet steel coated with tin, and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste", and all other forms of tinplate except waste.

(3) "Terneplate" means sheet steel coated with a lead-tin alloy, and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste", and all other forms of terneplate except waste.

(4) "Blackplate" means any sheet steel 29 gauge or lighter, other than tinplate or terneplate. The term includes "rejects" and all other forms of blackplate except waste.

(5) "Waste" means scrap tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate, produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing cans.

(6) "Pack", unless particularly specified, means the quantity, by area measurement, of tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate required for the manufacture of all sized cans used by a person for packing a particular product during the base period specified.

(b) Restrictions upon manufacture, sale, and delivery of cans. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any can except under a purchase order or contract validated by a delivery to such person of a purchaser's certificate, manually signed by the purchaser or an authorized official of the purchaser, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any can which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of any provision of this order.

(2) No person shall manufacture any can smaller than 5 gallons, with ears, balls, or handles.

(c) Restrictions upon purchase, acceptance of delivery, and use of cans. (1) No person shall, during the calendar year 1943 (or the seasonal year 1942–1943, when specified), purchase, accept delivery of, or use for packing a product any can except to the extent permitted in Schedules I, II, and III, attached to this order: Provided, however, That a jobber or retail store may obtain and sell cans in conformity with the provisions of this order.

(2) The schedules attached to this order list the only products permitted to be packed in cans, packing quotas, sizes of cans, and the kinds of plate permitted for the manufacture of cans.

The calendar year basis shall obtain except for products for which a seasonal year is specified. A seasonal year for a particular product represents a twelve months' period beginning in one calendar year and ending in the next.

The sizes of the can specified for a particular product indicate the only sized cans which may be used for packing that product, except that such product may, subject to all other restrictions imposed by this order, be packed in cans larger than the largest size specified therefor.

When tinplate is specified for the manufacture of cans for packing a particular product, the coating indicated represents the maximum weight of tin coating per single base box. When SCMT is specified, Special Coated Manufacturers' Terneplate is referred to. When blackplate is specified, the specification includes chemically treated blackplate (CTB).

(3) No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a can or any other container, by the same or a different person, in the same or a different form, except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedule attached to this order.

(4) No dried or frozen fruit or vegetable shall be packed in a can, except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(d) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of the following cans:

(i) Cans for packing any product which is not to be sold.

(ii) Fiber or paper bodied cans with ends made of waste, for packing any food product for human consumption, and antiseptic or medicinal powders.

(iii) Cans for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such cans were completely manufactured on or before December 9, 1942, or when all the component parts for such cans were cut to individual size or were partially assembled before said date: Provided, That this paragraph (d) (1) (iii) shall not apply when such cans can be used for any products otherwise permitted by this order, and provided that this paragraph (d) (1) (iii) shall not apply to open-top sanitary cans.

(iv) Cans for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such cans are to be delivered pursuant to a letter of intent approved by, or a purchase order or contract negotiated for or with the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration of the United States.

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions pertaining to the size of cans or the materials from which cans may be manufactured, but subject to quota restrictions imposed by this order, a person may use for packing any product listed in the schedules attached to this order, any cans which were completely manufactured on or before December 9, 1942, or any cans for which all component parts were lithographed, cut, or otherwise prepared for assembly, on or before said date.

(3) No certificate shall be required for the sale or delivery of cans to any purchaser who has already filed a certificate with his seller under Conservation Order M-81.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(3) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-81.

In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further delivery of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) 1942 Calendar year pack. Until December 31, 1942, no person packing on a calendar year basis shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use any can for packing any product except in accordance with Conservation Order M-81, as amended June 27, 1942, (including amendments thereto).

[Conservation Order M-115 as Amended Jan. 13, 1943]

Section 1147.1 Conservation Order M-115 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of tin for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1147.1 Conservation Order M-115—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Tube" means any collapsible container in the shape of a tube, including but not limited to any such container made in whole or in part of tin, lead, or any combination thereof and includes closures, crowns and caps for such tubes.

(3) "Class I tube" means a tube used or intended to be used to pack any product listed on Table I annexed hereto within such limitations, including but not limited to tube size and end use, as may be specified with respect to any such product in said table.

(4) "Class II tube" means a tube used or intended to be used to pack any product listed on Table II, annexed hereto.

(5) "Class III tube" means a tube used or intended to be used to pack any product listed on Table III, annexed hereto.

(6) "Non-essential tube" means any tube other than a tube described in subparagraphs 3, 4 and 5 above.

(8) "Retailer" means a person other than a distributor who sells or distributes tubes to the ultimate purchaser.

(9) "Distributor" means a person who sells or distributes tubes to retailers, including, but not limited to, wholesalers, jobbers, tube users, and tube manufacturers when they are engaged in such sale or distribution.

(10) "Ultimate purchaser" means a person who acquires filled tubes for the satisfaction of personal needs (with or without paying any consideration therefor), as distinguished from one acquiring tubes for industrial or other business purposes or for further distribution.

(c) Restrictions upon the manufacture, sale and delivery of blanks and tubes and upon the use of tubes for packing—(1) Non-essential tubes. No person shall manufacture or sell, for non-essential tubes, blanks containing any tin (but not including tin present as an impurity amounting to 0.5% or less); no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell non-essential tubes containing any tin (but not including tin present as an impurity amounting to 0.5% or less); and no tube user shall use any tubes containing any tin (but not including tin present as an impurity amounting to 0.5% or less) to pack any product not listed on Tables I, II, or III.

(2) Class I tubes. Notwithstanding the provisions of Conservation Order M-43-a, as amended, and until further order by the Director General for Operations there shall be no restriction upon the percentage of tin which may be used in the manufacture of Class I tubes, nor on the number of such tubes manufactured or used for packing products listed on Table I.

(3) Class II tubes. No person shall manufacture or sell for Class II tubes blanks containing more than 7½% of tin by weight; no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell Class II tubes containing more than 7½% of tin by weight; and no tube user shall use any tube containing more than 7½% of tin by weight to pack any product listed on Table II.

(4) Class III tubes for period prior to April 1, 1943. Until April 1, 1943, no person shall manufacture or sell for Class III tubes blanks containing more than 5% of tin by weight; and no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell Class III tubes containing more than 5% of tin by weight; and no tube user shall use any tube containing more than 5% of tin by weight to pack any product listed on Table III.

(5) Class III tubes after April 1, 1943. On and after April 1, 1943, no person shall manufacture or sell for Class III tubes blanks containing more than 3% of tin by weight; and no tube manufacturer shall manufacture or sell Class III tubes containing more than 3% of tin by weight; and no tube user shall use any tube containing more than 3% of tin by weight to pack any product listed on Table III.

(6) Quota for Table III products. No tube user shall pack in tubes, during the calendar year 1943, more than 75% of the amount of products listed on Table III which he packed in tubes during the calendar year 1942: Provided further, That no tube user shall pack in tubes during each of the three-month periods beginning January 1, 1943, April 1, 1943, July 1, 1943, and October 1, 1943, respectively, more than 25% of the amount of products listed in Table III of this order which he is permitted to pack in tubes during the entire calendar year 1943 pursuant to the preceding provisions of this subparagraph. All percentages above mentioned shall be based upon volumetric weight. Said percentages shall be in addition to the products listed on Table III which are packed in tubes and sold and delivered to the Army or Navy of the United States or the United States Coast Guard (including but not limited to post exchanges, ships' stores, ships' service stores, and marine exchanges), and in addition to products listed on Table III which are packed in tubes having no greater tin content than that prescribed in paragraph (c) (1) of this order for non-essential tubes.

(d) Further conservation of tin. (1) All manufacturers and users of all the kinds of tubes covered by this order shall cooperate in effectuating as rapidly and as completely as possible a program of reducing the thickness of the tin coating on such tubes to the minimum thickness which will be sufficient for satisfactory packing of the particular product packed.

(2) All manufacturers of all kinds of tubes permitted to be manufactured or filled by this order and all tube users packing products in such tubes are ordered to concentrate to the greatest extent practicable upon the larger-size tubes and to manufacture and to use for tube filling respectively as high a proportion of larger-size tubes (as compared with smaller-size tubes) as may be feasible and practicable. All such manufacturers and tube users are further ordered to substitute, for all tubes made in whole or in part of tin, containers made of other materials to the extent that such substitution may be feasible and practicable.

(3) No retailer shall sell or deliver any filled metal tube containing dental cleansing or shaving preparations to any ultimate purchaser (except as bona fide samples, manufactured prior to the 15th day of June, 1942, which are distributed indiscriminately and without any conditions) unless such purchaser delivers to such retailer concurrently with his purchase one used metal tube of any kind for each metal tube delivered to such purchaser. All such used tubes, together with any other used tubes held by retailers, shall be held by such retailers and shall not be disposed of by them except as follows:

(i) To the Tin Salvage Institute, 411 Wilson Avenue, Newark, New Jersey, as agent for Metals Reserve Company;

(ii) To any wholesaler of products packed in tubes, who is a duly authorized representative of the Tin Salvage Institute as agent for the Metals Reserve Company; or

(iii) To any other person who is such a representative.

Such deliveries may be made by such retailers at any time and in any manner consented to by the person to whom delivery is to be made, and shall be made, upon demand of such person and at the expense of such person, in such manner and at such time as such person may request. In no case shall any consideration be paid or received for any used tubes so delivered and no person (including, but not limited to, wholesalers of products packed in tubes and dealers in scrap metal and junk) shall, except as otherwise expressly permitted by this paragraph (d) (3), deliver any used tube of any kind to any person except those designated above. Damaged or unused tubes shall, at the option of the holder, be returned for credit to the party from whom they were purchased or delivered to the Tin Salvage Institute as agent for Metals Reserve Company.

(4) Nothing in this order shall prevent the manufacture, sale, delivery, purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of tubes, made from blanks manufactured on or before the dates hereinafter specified and containing no more than the permitted tin content respectively specified, within the limits set forth opposite each such date.

Date of manufacture of blank	Permitted tin content	Permitted use
April 1, 1942 ... October 5, 1942 ...	Unrestricted ... 75 percent by weight.	Unrestricted ... For packing products listed in Table III and shaving preparations.
The 15th day of January 1943	1½ percent by weight.	For packing shaving preparations.

Provided, however, That the volumetric weight of any products listed in Table III which are packed in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph shall be subtracted from the quota allowed to the tube user pursuant to paragraph (c) (6) of this order.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, gift kits or combination set boxes holding multiple units, including filled Class III or shaving preparation tubes, the value of which comprises not over 25 percent of the total value of the package, may be disposed of without complying with the used tube exchange provision set forth in paragraph (d) (3) hereof; provided that any such boxes are delivered or sent direct by the seller to a member of the Army or Navy of the United States or of the United States Coast Guard.

(6) Compliance with the used tube exchange provision set forth in paragraph (d) (3) hereof shall not be required in connection with the sale or distribution of Class III or shaving preparation tubes when made by the following agencies or instrumentalities of the United States Government: namely, army exchanges, ships stores, ships service stores, and marine exchanges; if made under any of the following circumstances:

(e) Certificates and reports relating to all the kinds of tubes covered by this order—(1) Certificates of tube users. Each tube user who purchases any tubes shall furnish to the tube manufacturer from whom he buys, a certificate, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, that such tube user is familiar with the terms of this order (in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time) and that, during the life of this order, he will not use any tubes purchased from such tube manufacturer in violation of its terms. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given tube manufacturer need be furnished by a tube user to that tube manufacturer (who shall retain such certificate), but no tube manufacturer shall be entitled to rely on any such certificate if he knows, or has reason to believe it to be false.

(2) Certificates of retailers. Each retailer who purchases any filled Class III or shaving preparation tubes shall furnish to the manufacturer or distributor from whom he buys a certificate, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit B, that such retailer is familiar with the terms of this order (in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time) and that, during the life of this order, he will not use any tubes purchased from such manufacturer or distributor in violation of its terms. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Sales of tin. No person shall hereafter sell or deliver tin to any tube manufacturer or tube user if he knows or has reason to believe that such tin is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(4) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-115.

PART 3132—PROCESSORS OF METAL SCRAP

[Preference Rating Order P-136 as Amended Jan. 13, 1943]

For the purpose of facilitating the acquisition of material for operating supplies and for the maintenance and repair of equipment used by recognized processors for the sole purpose of locating, processing or transporting metal scrap (up to its delivery at point of shipment to ultimate consumer), and to promote the national defense, preference ratings are hereby assigned to deliveries of such materials on the terms and within the limitations hereinafter set forth:

§ 3132.1 Preference Rating Order P-136—(a) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Processor" means any person operating an automobile graveyard or scrap yard physically situated within the limits of the United States or Canada who has been certified by the Scrap Processors Branch of the Conservation Division of the War Production Board as being experienced in the metal scrap trade and cooperative in expediting the movement of metal scrap to consumers.

(3) "Material" means any commodities, equipment, accessories, parts assemblies, or products of any kind.

(4) "Maintenance" means upkeep necessary to continue the working condition of essential operating equipment used by a processor at its then current rate of production.

(5) "Repair" means the restoration of equipment used by a processor to a sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction or failure of parts, or the like, have made such equipment unfit or unsafe for service.

(6) "Operating supplies" means any material which is essential to the operation of equipment used by a processor and which is generally carried as processor's stores and charged to operating expense accounts.

(7) "Supplier" means any person with whom a rated purchase order or contract has been placed by a processor or by another supplier for material:

(i) Directly required by a processor for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, or

(ii) To be physically incorporated in other material so required by a processor.

(b) Assignment of preference ratings. Subject to the terms of this order, the following preference ratings are hereby assigned, but nothing herein contained shall prevent the use of any other or higher rating to which any person may be entitled by reason of any other preference rating certificate or order:

(1) AA-2x to deliveries to a processor of material for repair of equipment used for any of the purposes set forth in the first paragraph of this order, when and only when there has been an actual breakdown or suspension of operations because of damage, wear and tear, destruction or failure of parts, or the like, and the essential repair parts are not otherwise available.

(2) AA-3 to deliveries to a processor of repair material, described in paragraph (b) (1), up to the minimum required to make reasonable advance provision to avert an actual breakdown of existing facilities or suspension.

(3) A-1-a to deliveries to a processor of material for other repairs to, for maintenance of, and for operating supplies for, equipment used for any one of the purposes set forth in the first paragraph of this order. The A-1-a rating assigned by this paragraph (b) (3) shall not be applied in any calendar quarter to material in excess of a total dollar value of $500.00 (including materials delivered under the provisions of paragraphs (b) (1) and (2) above), unless a specific authorization is obtained in advance from the Director General for Operations.

(c) Persons entitled to apply preference ratings. The preference rating hereby assigned may, in the manner and to the extent hereby authorized, be applied by:

(1) A processor;

(2) Any supplier of material to the delivery of which a preference rating has been applied as provided in paragraph (d).

(d) Application of preference rating. (1) No processor shall apply any preference rating assigned by paragraph (b) until:

(i) He shall have filed with the Scrap Processors Branch, Conservation Division, War Production Board, a statement in the form prescribed by the Director General for Operations, setting forth amounts of raw material used for repair, maintenance and operating supplies for the preceding calendar quarter, inventories of such material at the beginning and end of such period, and an estimate of requirements of such material for the current quarter, and further stating that he accepts the terms and conditions of this order.

(ii) He shall have received from the Scrap Processors Branch, War Production Board, a serial number which shall thereafter be endorsed on all purchase orders or contracts for material by him or for his account which are rated pursuant to this order.

(2) The preference ratings herein granted shall be applied and extended pursuant to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 3 (§ 944.23).

(3) Each processor shall immediately file with the nearest District Office of the War Production Board a copy of each purchase order or contract covering any material to which an AA-2X or an AA-3 rating has been assigned under paragraph (b) (1) or (b) (2) of this order. Processors in Canada shall file copies of such purchase orders or contracts with the Ottawa Branch, Canadian Review Division of the War Production Board.

(e) Restrictions on use of rating. (1) Restrictions on processor. No processor may apply any rating hereby assigned to obtain delivery of material on earlier dates than required for the operation, maintenance or repair of its equipment.

(2) Restrictions on supplier. (i) No supplier may apply the rating to obtain material in greater quantities or on earlier dates than required to enable him to make on schedule a delivery rated hereunder or, within the limitations of (ii) below, to replace in his inventory material so delivered. He shall not be deemed to require such material if he can make his rated delivery and still retain a practicable working minimum inventory thereof; and if, in making such delivery, he reduced his inventory below such minimum, he may apply the rating only to the extent necessary to restore his inventory to such minimum.

(ii) A supplier who supplies material which he has not in whole or in part manufactured, processed, assembled or otherwise physically changed may defer applications of the rating hereunder to purchase orders or contracts for such material to be placed by him until he can place a purchase order or contract for the minimum quantity procurable on his customary terms; provided, that he shall not defer the application of any rating for more than three months after he becomes entitled to apply it.

(f) Restrictions of inventory. (1) A processor shall not, during any calendar quarter, accept, and a supplier shall not knowingly make to a processor, deliveries (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) of any material to be used as operating supplies or for maintenance or repair the aggregate dollar volume of which shall exceed 55 percent of the aggregate dollar volume of the withdrawals for such purposes by the processor from stores or inventory during the preceding calendar half-year unless such deliveries shall be specifically authorized in advance by the War Production Board on the processor's application therefor.

(2) A processor shall not at any time accept deliveries (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) of any material to be used as operating supplies or for maintenance or repair until the processor's inventory and stores of such material have been reduced to a reasonable minimum, unless such delivery shall be specifically authorized in advance by the War Production Board on the processor's application therefor. Such reasonable minimum shall in no case exceed 125 percent of the aggregate dollar volume of such material in inventory and stores on the last day of the preceding calendar half-year.

(g) Relief. If the sound working condition of a processor is adversely affected by any provision or application of this order or by inability to obtain material essential for repair, maintenance or operating supplies, the processor may apply for relief to the Director General for Operations. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(h) Resale of material prohibited. Except with specific permission of the Director General for Operations, a processor shall not resell any material acquired for repair, maintenance or operating supplies (whether or not obtained pursuant to rating assigned by this order); provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit sale by the processor of used material acquired prior to October 31, 1942.

(i) Records, audits and reports. Each processor and each supplier shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of all transactions affected by this order and shall submit from time to time to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. Each processor and each supplier shall execute and file with the War Production Board or other designated agency such reports and in such form as the War Production Board shall from time to time require.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Revocation or modification. This order may be revoked or modified by the Director General for Operations at any time as to any processor or supplier. In the event of revocation or modification, or upon expiration of this order, deliveries already rated pursuant to this order shall be completed in accordance with said rating, unless said rating has been specifically revoked or modified with respect thereto. No additional application of said rating to any other deliveries shall thereafter be made by any processor or supplier affected by such revocation, modification or expiration.

(l) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Reference P-136.

(d) Subpart D explains the way in which interpretations of the meaning or effect of provisions of maximum rent regulations are given by officers or employees of the Office of Price Administration.

(e) Subpart E contains miscellaneous provisions, and definitions.

SUBPART A—LANDLORDS' PETITIONS AND TENANTS' APPLICATIONS

§ 1300.202 Right to file petition. A petition for adjustment or other relief may be filed by any landlord subject to any provision of a maximum rent regulation who requests such adjustment or relief pursuant to a provision of the maximum rent regulation authorizing such action.

§ 1300.203 Method of filing, form, and contents. A petition for adjustment or other relief provided for by a maximum rent regulation shall be filed with the rent director of the Office of Price Administration for the defense-rental area within which the housing accommodations involved are located. Petitions shall be filed upon forms prescribed by the Administrator and pursuant to instructions stated on such forms and may be accompanied by affidavits or other documents setting forth the evidence upon which the petitioner relies in support of the facts alleged in his petition.

§ 1300.204 Joint petitions, consolidation. Two or more landlords may file a joint petition for adjustment or other relief where the grounds of the petition are common to all landlords joining therein. A joint petition shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of petitions filed by one landlord. A landlord's petition may include as many housing accommodations as present common questions which can be expeditiously determined in one proceeding. Whenever the rent director deems it necessary or appropriate, he may order the filing of separate petitions or he may consolidate separate petitions presenting common questions which can be determined expeditiously in one proceeding.

§ 1300.205 Tenants' applications. All tenants' applications provided for by any maximum rent regulation shall be filed with the rent director for the defense-rental area within which the housing accommodations involved are located. The application shall be filed on forms prescribed by the Administrator and pursuant to directions set forth on such forms. Action upon any tenant's application shall be within the discretion of the rent director and the procedure thereon shall be the same as in proceedings initiated by the rent director pursuant to provisions of a maximum rent regulation authorizing such action.

§ 1300.206 Investigation of petitions and applications. Upon the filing of a petition or application pursuant to the provisions of this regulation, the rent director may make such investigation of the facts involved in the petition or application, hold such conferences, and require the filing of such reports, evidence in affidavit form or other material relevant to the proceeding, as he may deem necessary or appropriate for the proper disposition of the petition or application.

§ 1300.207 Action by rent director on his own initiative. In any case where the rent director pursuant to the provisions of a maximum rent regulation, deems it necessary or appropriate to enter an order on his own initiative, he shall, before taking such action, serve a notice upon the landlord of the housing accommodations involved stating the proposed action and the grounds therefor.

§ 1300.208 Action by the rent director on petitions for adjustment or other relief. (a) Upon receipt of a petition for adjustment or other relief, and after due consideration, the rent director may either:

(1) Dismiss any petition which fails substantially to comply with the provisions of the applicable maximum rent regulation or of this regulation; or

(2) Grant or deny in whole or in part, any petition which is properly pending before him; or

(3) Notice such petition for oral hearing to be held in accordance with §§ 1300.229 to 1300.237, inclusive, of this regulation; or

(4) Provide an opportunity to present further evidence in affidavit form, in connection with such petition.

(b) An order entered by a rent director upon a petition for adjustment or other relief, or an order entered by the rent director on his own initiative may be revoked or modified at any time upon due notice to the petitioner.

APPLICATION FOR REVIEW OF RENT DIRECTOR'S ACTION

§ 1300.209 Applications for review. Any landlord whose petition for adjustment or other relief has been denied in whole or in part by the rent director, or any landlord subject to an order entered by the rent director on his own initiative, may within fifteen days after the date on which notice of such denial or order was mailed to him, file with the rent director an application for review of such denial or order by the regional administrator for the region in which the defense-rental area office is located. An application for review shall be filed in triplicate upon forms prescribed by the Administrator and pursuant to instructions stated on such forms, and shall be accompanied by three copies of all the evidence, in affidavit form, upon which the landlord intends to rely in support of his objections to the denial of the petition for adjustment or other relief, or to the order entered by the rent director on his own initiative. Immediately upon the filing of an application for review of such denial or order, the rent director shall forthwith forward the record of the proceedings with respect to which such application is filed to the appropriate regional administrator. If a petition for adjustment or other relief is denied by the regional administrator upon such application for review, or if an order entered by the rent director on his own initiative is affirmed, such denial or affirmance shall be final subject only to protest as provided in §§ 1300.214 to 1300.228, inclusive, of this regulation.

§ 1300.210 Action on applications for review. Upon the filing of a proper application for review thereof pursuant to § 1300.209 of this regulation, and after due consideration, the regional administrator shall grant or deny in whole or in part the petition for adjustment or other relief, or affirm or revoke in whole or in part the order entered by the rent director on his own initiative, as the case may be.

SUBPART B—PETITION FOR AMENDMENT

§ 1300.211 Right to file petition. A petition for amendment may be filed at any time by any person subject to or affected by a provision of a maximum rent regulation. A petition for amendment shall propose an amendment of general applicability and shall be granted or denied on the merits of the amendment proposed. The denial of a petition for amendment is not subject to protest or judicial review under the Act.

§ 1300.212 Time and place for filing petitions for amendment; form and contents. A petition for amendment shall be filed with the Secretary, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. Five copies of the petition and of all accompanying documents and briefs shall be filed. Each copy shall be printed, typewritten, mimeographed, or prepared by a similar process, and shall be plainly legible. Copies shall be double spaced, except that quotations shall be single spaced and indented. Every such petition shall be designated "Petition for Amendment" and shall contain, upon the first page thereof, the name of the defense-rental area and the number and date of issuance of the maximum rent regulation to which the petition relates, and the name and address of the petitioner. The petition shall specify the manner in which the petitioner is subject to or affected by the provision of the maximum rent regulation involved, and shall include a specific statement of the particular amendment desired and the facts which make that amendment necessary or appropriate. The petition shall be accompanied by affidavits setting forth the evidence upon which the petitioner relies in his petition.

§ 1300.213 Joint petitions for amendment. Two or more persons may file a joint petition for amendment, where the amendments proposed are identical or substantially similar. Joint petitions shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of petitions filed by one person. Whenever the Administrator deems it to be necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint petitions, he may treat such joint petitions as several, and, in any event, he may require the filing of relevant material by each individual petitioner.

§ 1300.214 Action by the Administrator on petition. In the consideration of any petition for amendment, the Administrator may afford to the petitioner and to other persons likely to have information bearing upon such proposed amendment, or likely to be affected thereby, an opportunity to present evidence or argument in support of, or in opposition to, such proposed amendment. Whenever necessary or appropriate for the full and expeditious determination of common questions raised by two or more petitions for amendment, the Administrator may consolidate such petitions.

SUBPART C—PROTESTS

§ 1300.215 Right to protest. Any landlord subject to any provision of a maximum rent regulation or of an order issued under §§ 1300.209 and 1300.210 of this regulation, may file a protest in the manner set forth below. A landlord is, for the purposes of this regulation, subject to a provision of a maximum rent regulation or of an order, only if such provision prohibits or requires action by him. Any protest filed by a landlord not subject to the provision protested, or otherwise not in accordance with the requirements of this regulation, may be dismissed by the Administrator.

§ 1300.216 Time and place for filing protests. Any protest against a provision of a maximum rent regulation, or an order issued under §§ 1300.209 and 1300.210 of this regulation, shall be filed with the Secretary, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within a period of sixty days after the date of issuance of such regulation or order, regardless of the effective date thereof: Provided, That a protest against a provision of a maximum rent regulation based solely on grounds arising after the date of issuance of such maximum rent regulation shall be filed within a period of sixty days after the protestant has had, or could reasonably have had, notice of the existence of such grounds.

§ 1300.218 Assignment of docket number. Upon receipt of a protest it shall be assigned a docket number, of which the protestant shall be notified, and all further papers filed in the proceedings shall contain on the first page thereof the docket number so assigned and the information specified in § 1300.217 of this regulation.

§ 1300.219 Contents of protest. Every protest shall set forth the following:

(a) The name and the post office address of the protestant, the manner in which the protestant is subject to the provision of the maximum rent regulation or order protested, and the location, by post office address or otherwise, of all housing accommodations involved in the protest.

(b) The name and post office address of the person filing the protest on behalf of the protestant and the name and post office address of the person to whom all communications from the Office of Price Administration relating to the protest shall be sent.

(c) A clear and concise statement of all objections raised by the protestant against the provision of the maximum rent regulation or order protested, each such objection to be separately stated and numbered.

(d) A clear and concise statement of all facts alleged in support of the objections.

(e) A statement of the relief requested by the protestant including, if the protestant requests modification of a provision of the maximum rent regulation or order, the specific changes which he seeks to have made therein.

(f) In cases where the protest is based upon grounds arising after the date of issuance of the maximum rent regulation, a clear and concise statement of facts showing the time when such grounds arose.

(g) A statement signed and sworn to (or affirmed) by the protestant personally or, if a partnership, by a partner or if a corporation or association, by a duly authorized officer, that the protest and the documents filed therewith are prepared in good faith and that the facts alleged are true to the best of his knowledge, information and belief. The protestant shall specify which of the facts are known to him to be true and which are alleged on information and belief.

§ 1300.220 Affidavits or other written evidence in support of protest. Every protestant shall file together with his protest the following:

(a) Affidavits setting forth in full all the evidence, the presentation of which is subject to the control of the protestant, upon which the protestant relies in support of the facts alleged in the protest. Each such affidavit shall state the name, post office address, and occupation of the affiant; his business connection, if any, with the protestant; and whether the facts set forth in the affidavit are stated from personal knowledge or on information and belief. In every instance, the affiant shall state in detail the sources of his information: Provided, That on a protest of an order, the evidence and all documents in proceedings had in connection therewith, shall be a part of the record on protest and need not be filed by the protestant.

(b) A statement by the protestant in affidavit form setting forth in detail the nature and sources of any further evidence, not subject to his control, upon which he believes he can rely in support of the facts alleged in his protest.

(c) If necessary, a further statement by the protestant in affidavit form setting forth the nature and sources of any evidence which the protestant is unable to present solely because of the time limit for the filing of protests and supporting material. Such further statement may contain a request for an opportunity to present such further evidence, which request shall state specifically the amount of time needed for preparation of such evidence. Any affidavits providing further evidence, pursuant to order, shall contain the information required by subparagraph (a) of this section.

§ 1300.221 Submission of brief by protestant. The protestant may file with his protest and accompanying evidential material a brief in support of the objections set forth in the protest. Such brief shall be submitted as a separate document, distinct from the protest and evidential material.

§ 1300.222 Joint protests. Two or more landlords may file a joint protest. Joint protests shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of protests filed severally. A joint protest shall be verified in accordance with § 1300.219 (g) of this regulation by each protestant. A joint protest may be filed only where at least one ground is common to all persons joining in it. Whenever the Administrator deems it to be necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint protests, he may treat such joint protests as several, and, in any event, he may require the filing of relevant materials by the individual protestants.

§ 1300.223 Amendment of protest and presentation of supplemental evidence. (a) The protestant may amend his protest or his affidavits and briefs submitted therewith, or may add to such material within a period of sixty days after the issuance of the maximum rent regulation or order against a provision of which the protest is filed, or, in the case of a protest based solely on grounds arising after the date of issuance of a maximum rent regulation, within sixty days after the protestant has had or could reasonably have had notice of the existence of such grounds.

(b) After the time prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, a protestant may be granted permission to amend his protest or to present further evidence in connection therewith, when, in the judgment of the Administrator, such permission will not unduly delay the completion of proceedings on the protest. No amendment which adds a new ground of protest will be permitted.

§ 1300.224 Protest and evidential material not conforming to this regulation. In any case where a protest or accompanying evidential material does not conform, in a substantial respect, to the requirements of this regulation, the Administrator may dismiss such protest, or, in his discretion, may strike such evidential material from the record of the proceedings in connection with the protest.

§ 1300.225 Action by the administrator on protest. (a) Within a reasonable time after the filing of any protest in accordance with this regulation, but in no event more than thirty days after such filing or ninety days after the issuance of the maximum rent regulation or order against a provision of which the protest is filed, whichever occurs later, the Administrator shall:

(1) Grant or deny such protest in whole or in part; or

(2) Notice such protest for oral hearing, to be held in accordance with the provisions of §§ 1300.229 to 1300.237, inclusive of this regulation; or

(3) Provide an opportunity to present further evidence in connection with such protest. Before, or within a reasonable time after, the presentation of such further evidence, the Administrator may notice such protest for oral hearing in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this section, may include additional material in the record of the proceedings in connection with the protest in accordance with § 1300.226 of this regulation, or may take such other action as may be appropriate to the disposition of the protest.

(b) Notice of any such action taken by the Administrator shall promptly be served upon the protestant.

(c) Where the Administrator has ordered a hearing on a protest or has provided an opportunity for the presentation of further evidence in connection therewith, he shall, within a reasonable time after the completion of such hearing or the presentation of such evidence, grant or deny such protest in whole or in part.

§ 1300.226 Statements in support of maximum rent regulation or order. (a) Any person affected by the provisions of a maximum rent regulation, or of an order issued thereunder, may at any time after the issuance of such regulation or order submit to the Administrator a statement in support of any such provisions. Such statement shall include the name and post office address of such person, the nature of his business, and the manner in which such person is affected by the maximum rent regulation or order in question, and may be accompanied by affidavits and other data. Each such supporting statement shall conform to the requirements of § 1300.220 of this regulation.

(b) In the event that a protest has been, or is subsequently, filed against a provision of a maximum rent regulation or order in support of which a statement has been submitted, the Administrator may include such statement in the record of the proceedings taken in connection with such protest. If such supporting statement is incorporated into the record, and is not so incorporated at an oral hearing, copies of such supporting statement shall be served upon the protestant, and the protestant shall be given a reasonable opportunity to present evidence in rebuttal thereof.

§ 1300.227 Inclusion of material in the record by the Administrator. The Administrator shall include in the record of the proceedings on the protest such evidence, in the form of affidavits or otherwise, as he deems appropriate in support of the provision against which the protest is filed. When such evidence is incorporated into the record, and is not so incorporated at an oral hearing, copies thereof shall be served upon the protestant, and the protestant shall be given a reasonable opportunity to present evidence in rebuttal thereof.

§ 1300.228 Consolidation of protests. Whenever necessary or appropriate for the full and expeditious determination of common questions raised by two or more protests the Administrator may consolidate such protests.

ORAL HEARINGS

§ 1300.229 Requests for oral hearing. Any protestant or petitioner may request an oral hearing. Such request shall be accompanied by a showing as to why the filing of affidavits or other written evidence and briefs will not permit the fair and expeditious disposition of the protest. In the event that an oral hearing is ordered in connection with a protest, or with proceedings under section 8 of this regulation, notice thereof shall be served on the protestant or petitioner not less than five days prior to such hearing. The time and place of the hearing shall be stated in the notice. Any such oral hearing may be limited in such manner and to the extent deemed appropriate to the expeditious determination of the proceeding.

§ 1300.230 Conference prior to oral hearing. At any time prior to the commencement of the oral hearing, the protestant or petitioner may be requested to appear at a conference to consider (a) the simplification of issues; (b) the possibility of obtaining stipulations of fact which will avoid unnecessary proof; and (c) such other matters as may expedite the conduct of the oral hearing. No transcript of such conference shall be kept, but the officer authorized to conduct such conference shall incorporate in the record of the proceedings any written stipulations or agreements made at, or as a result of, the conference. If the circumstances are such that an oral conference is impracticable, such negotiations may be conducted by correspondence.

§ 1300.231 Continuance or adjournment of oral hearing. The oral hearing shall be held at the time and place specified by the notice of hearing but may be continued or adjourned to a later day or to a different place. Notice of such adjournment or continuance may be by announcement at the oral hearing.

§ 1300.232 Conduct of the oral hearing. (a) An oral hearing on a protest or petition shall be conducted by the Administrator or such officer or employee of the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter referred to as the "presiding officer") as the Administrator may appoint or designate for that purpose. Any such appointment or designation may be made or revoked at any time.

(b) The oral hearing shall be conducted in such manner as will permit the protestant or petitioner to present evidence and argument to the fullest extent compatible with expeditious decision of the issues. To this end:

(1) The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling; and

(2) The presiding officer, having due regard to the need for expeditious decision and for fair treatment to the protestant or petitioner, may restrict oral argument and the examination and cross-examination of witnesses: Provided, That in no event shall this section be construed to limit the right of the protestant or petitioner to submit affidavits or other written evidence or arguments.

§ 1300.233 Filing of briefs. The presiding officer shall allow the protestant or petitioner to file briefs or written arguments within such time as he shall designate.

§ 1300.234 Subpoenas. (a) Any protestant or petitioner may apply for a subpoena in connection with an oral hearing. Applications for subpoenas when made prior to the oral hearing shall be filed as follows: (1) in connection with a protest against a provision of a maximum rent regulation or order, with the Secretary, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.; (2) in connection with a proceeding under section 8 of this regulation with the rent director or regional administrator, as the case may be, before whom such proceeding is pending. The Administrator may grant or deny an application for a subpoena or refer it to the presiding officer appointed or designated under § 1300.232 who may thereafter grant or deny the application. Applications for subpoenas made during the oral hearing shall be submitted to the presiding officer, who may grant or deny such application.

(b) All applications for subpoenas shall specify the name of the witness and the nature of the facts to be proved by him and, if calling for the production of documents, shall specify them with such particularity as will enable them to be identified for purposes of production.

(c) Service of a subpoena upon a person named therein shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to such person and by tendering to him the fees and mileage specified in section 202 (f) of the act. When the subpoena is issued at the instance of the Administrator, fees and mileage need not be tendered.

§ 1300.235 Witnesses. Witnesses summoned before the presiding officer at any hearing shall be paid the fees and mileage specified by section 202 (f) of the Act. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the person at whose instance the witness appears.

§ 1300.236 Contemptuous conduct. Contemptuous conduct at any oral hearing shall be ground for exclusion from the hearing. The refusal of a witness to answer any question which has been ruled to be proper shall, in the discretion of the presiding officer, be ground for the striking out of all testimony previously given by such witness on related matters.

§ 1300.237 Stenographic report of oral hearing. A stenographic report of the oral hearing shall be made, a copy of which shall be available for inspection during business hours in the office of the Secretary, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., or in the appropriate regional office or defense-rental area office.

OPINION AND TRANSCRIPT ON PROTESTS

§ 1300.238 Opinion denying protest in whole or in part. In the event that the Administrator denies any protest in whole or in part, he shall inform the protestant of the grounds upon which such decision is based, and of any economic data and other facts of which the Administrator has taken official notice. Any order entered in such protest proceedings shall be effective from the date of its issuance unless otherwise provided in such order.

§ 1300.239 Treatment of protest as petition for amendment or for adjustment or other relief. Any protest filed against a provision of a maximum rent regulation may, in the discretion of the Administrator, be treated not only as a protest but also as a petition for amendment of the regulation protested, or as a petition for adjustment or other relief pursuant thereto, when the facts produced in connection with the protest justify such treatment.

any other organized group of persons or tion shall become effective February 1,

§ 1300.240 Transcript for judicial review. The transcript for judicial review shall include:

(a) The designation of the defense-rental area;

(b) The rent declaration;

(c) The maximum rent regulation or order against a provision of which the protest was filed;

(d) The protest;

(e) A statement setting forth, as far as practicable, the economic data and other facts of which the Administrator has taken official notice; and

(f) Such other portions of the proceedings in connection with the protest as are material under the complaint.

Action taken in reliance upon and in conformity with an official interpretation and prior to any revocation or modification thereof or to any superseding thereof by regulation, order or amendment, shall constitute action in good faith pursuant to the provision of the act, or of the regulation or order to which such official interpretation relates. An official interpretation shall be applicable only with respect to the particular person to whom, and to the particular factual situation with respect to which, it is given unless issued as an interpretation of general applicability.

If the inquirer has previously requested an interpretation on the same or substantially the same facts, his request shall so indicate and shall state the official or office to whom his previous request was addressed. No interpretation shall be requested or given with respect to any hypothetical situation or in response to any hypothetical question.

§ 1300.244 Revocation or modification of interpretations. Any official interpretation, whether of general applicability or otherwise, may be revoked or modified by a publicly announced statement by any official authorized to give interpretations of general applicability or by a statement or notice by the Administrator or general counsel published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. An official interpretation addressed to a particular person may also be revoked or modified at any time by a statement in writing mailed to such person and signed by the general counsel or any associate or assistant general counsel. An official interpretation addressed to a particular person by a regional attorney, a regional rent attorney, or a chief rent attorney for a defense-rental area office may also be revoked or modified at any time by a statement in writing mailed to such person and signed by the attorney who issued it or by his successor.

(2) F. o. b. mill basis. Where shipments of toilet tissue are made on an f. o. b. mill basis the manufacturer's maximum price, which in no event may exceed the prices charged by the manufacturer during March, 1942, shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) (1) of this section, except that $0.12 must be deducted from the applicable price factor. Freight charges to the point of delivery may be added to the resulting f. o. b. price: Provided, That in no event shall such maximum price, including freight charges, exceed the maximum zone price which would apply at the given destination.

* * * * * *

(4) Provisions for determining maximum prices for sales to the Army, Navy or Lend-Lease Administration under certain conditions. (i) Any manufacturer who, prior to the effective date of Maximum Price Regulation No. 266, had agreed, offered, or contracted to supply toilet tissue to the Army, Navy, Lend-Lease Administration or any other agency of the United States under "Emergency Alternate Federal Specification E–UU–P–556b" at prices in excess of the maximum prices established under paragraph (b) (2) above, must adjust such prices to conform with these provisions. Such manufacturer may make additional charges for the net difference in cost of casing materials, including metal strapping where such strapping is specified, if the f. o. b. mill price, without the addition of such charges, does not cover his manufacturing costs plus the weighted average margin of profit realized during 1942 from the sale of his largest volume industrial toilet tissue item at a carload price established by this regulation. Such manufacturer desiring to make such additional charges shall file with the Office of Price Administration a statement that he had not prior to November 26, 1942, offered, agreed or contracted to supply such toilet tissue at the maximum prices provided in paragraph (b) (2) above, or less, and a detailed statement in affidavit form of all the costs of producing such tissue, including such adidtional charges, and a proposed maximum f. o. b. mill price, which may in no event exceed his manufacturing costs plus the weighted average margin of profit realized during 1942 from the sale of his largest volume industrial toilet tissue item at a carload price established by this regulation. If, within ten (10) days after such filing is received in Washington, D. C., the proposed maximum price has not been disapproved, or the time extended by letter by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer may sell at such price subject to non-retroactive adjustment by this Office. This provision shall also apply to manufacturers who did not bid or make such offers, agreements or contracts prior to the effective date of this regulation.

(ii) Supplementary Order No. 34 shall not apply to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 266.

(i) The highest markup which the manufacturer applied to sales of toilet tissue of a given grade to a purchaser of the same class during the period of October 1 to October 15, 1941 or

(ii) In the event that the mark-up as determined under paragraph (c) (1) and (2) above is less than 85% of the mark-up set forth in paragraph (c) (1) above, the maximum price shall be computed by multiplying the manufacturer's maximum price by 85% of such mark-up set forth in paragraph (c) (1).

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

ADJUSTED AND FIXED MARK-UP REGULATION FOR SALES OF CERTAIN FOOD PRODUCTS AT RETAIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of Amendment No. 8 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 238 has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Two new §§ 1351.608a and 1351.608b are added to read as set forth below:

At the end of 3 months following the opening of the new retail outlet, the new retailer must ascertain his gross sales volume for the 3 month period, and multiply that figure by four to arrive at an estimated annual gross sales volume. If this figure is an amount that would place the new retailer in a class different from the one in which he is placed by the foregoing paragraph, he must, within 10 days following the 3 month period recalculate his maximum prices in accordance with his new classification and also notify in writing his local war price and rationing board of his new classification. He shall apply the applicable figure as set forth in Appendix A or B to the "net cost" used in calculating his maximum prices in effect at the end of the 3 month period.

(b) How a new retailer calculates his maximum prices. A new retailer shall calculate his maximum prices in accordance with §§ 1351.602 and 1351.603 of this regulation except that in calculating the first maximum prices under this regulation the "net cost" of the item being priced shall be based on the new retailer's first purchase of the item.

(c) Recording of maximum prices by a new retailer. Within 60 days after the opening of the new retail outlet, a new retailer must calculate and record on Form 338.1 (or a copy thereof) as set forth in Appendix C of this regulation all of his maximum prices for any item of food product covered by this regulation, except that in place of the date in column 2 of Appendices A and B, he shall insert the date which is 60 days from the day he opens his new retail outlet, and in place of the date in column 3 of Appendices A and B, he shall insert the date which is 70 days from the day he opens his new retail outlet.

If the new retailer's classification changes after his first 3 months of operation, he shall, within 10 days after the end of the 3 month period, insert in the copy of Form No. 338.1 retained by him his new maximum prices in accordance with his new classification in place of the maximum prices previously calculated by him.

No sales of any item of food product covered by this regulation shall be made by a new retailer before he calculates, records and posts his maximum prices as required by §§ 1351.602 and 1351.603, or in the case of a reclassification, before he calculates, records and posts his new maximum prices.

(d) Filing of maximum prices by a new retailer. Within 70 days after the opening of the new retail outlet, a new retailer must report all of his maximum prices determined under this regulation to the war price and rationing board of the Office of Price Administration which has charge of the area in which his outlet is located on form No. 338.1 (or a copy thereof) as set forth in Appendix C of this regulation. This form shall be signed and subscribed and sworn to before a notary or other proper official.

If the new retailer's classification is changed after his first 3 months of operation he shall, within 10 days after he recalculates his new maximum prices in accordance with his new classification report in writing all of his new maximum prices to the war price and rationing board of the Office of Price Administration which has charge of the area in which his outlet is located.

§ 1351.608b Special retailer classifications—(a) Retail route sellers—(1) Classification and definition of retail route sellers. A "retail route seller" shall for the purpose of this regulation be classified as a Class 1 retailer, regardless of whether or not he falls into another class by reason of his annual gross sales volume, or because he is a member of a chain.

A "retail route seller" is a person who customarily makes sales at retail of the food products covered by this regulation from a truck or wagon operated by a driver-salesman over a regular route.

The provisions in § 1351.608a, applicable to a "new retailer", shall apply to a new "retail route seller" except that a "retail route seller" who commences his business subsequent to the effective date of this regulation is not required to reclassify himself on the basis of his gross sales volume for his first 3 months in business, but he shall remain a Class 1 retailer under this regulation.

(2) Calculation, recording and filing of maximum prices by a "retail route seller". A "retail route seller" shall calculate his maximum prices in accordance with §§ 1351.602 and 1351.603 of this regulation; he shall record his maximum prices in accordance with § 1351.608 (a) and shall report all of his maximum prices to the war price and rationing board of the Office of Price Administration which has charge of the area in which his outlet is located in accordance with § 1351.606 (b).

If a "retail route seller" has already calculated a maximum price under this regulation, as a retailer other than Class 1, for a food product for which the "last date for calculating maximum prices" as set forth in Appendix A or B has expired, then such a "retail route seller" may calculate a new maximum price by applying the applicable figure for a Class 1 retailer to the "net cost" used in calculating his maximum price in effect on the effective date of this amendment.

§ 1351.617a Effective dates of amendments. * * *

(h) Amendment No. 8 (§§ 1351.608a and 1351.608b) to Maximum Price Regulation No. 238 shall become effective on January 12, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment 85 to Supp. Reg. 14[1] to GMPR[2]]

COFFEE AND COFFEE COMPOUNDS SOLD IN NEW CONTAINERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* Two sentences are added to the text of subparagraph (7) of § 1499.73, and a new subparagraph (53) is added to paragraph (a) of § 1499.73 as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services, and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for commodities, services and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:

(7) Food products sold in new containers. * * *

This subparagraph (7) shall not apply to coffee and coffee compounds sold in new containers. For coffee and coffee compounds sold in new containers, see subparagraph (53) of paragraph (a) of this section.

* * * * * *

(53) Coffee and coffee compounds sold in new containers. This subparagraph establishes maximum prices for brands of coffee or "coffee compounds" which were delivered or offered for delivery during March, 1942 in a metal or glass container but not in a paper or cardboard container, and which now or in the future are sold in a paper or cardboard container. A "coffee compound" is a blend of coffee with any other ingredient or ingredients in any proportions.

This Amendment No. 85 supersedes subparagraph (7) to § 1499.73 (a) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation as to coffee and coffee compounds sold in new containers.

"Maximum price" as used in this subparagraph means the maximum price to a purchaser of the same class for the seller's customary unit of sale whether per case, per dozen or per can, jar, bag or the like.

(i) Sales by manufacturers. Manufacturers shall compute their maximum prices by applying either inferior subdivision (a) or inferior subdivision (b) which follow:

(a) The manufacturer shall subtract from his maximum price for coffee packed in metal or glass container two and three-fourths (2¾¢) cents per pound; or

(b) The manufacturer shall

(1) Subtract from his maximum price for the coffee in the metal or glass container the "direct cost" of that container, and

(2) Add to this figure the "direct cost" of the new paper or cardboard container. "Direct cost" means delivered cost of the container, label, cap and outgoing shipping carton, but it does not include cost of filling, closing, labeling or packing. If this addition results in a fraction, it shall be raised or lowered to the nearest quarter cent.

The higher of these resulting figures shall be the manufacturer's maximum price for coffee or coffee compound in the new container.

(ii) Sales by wholesalers and retailers. A seller at wholesale or retail of coffee or coffee compound for which the maximum price has been determined by the roaster in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph, shall determine his maximum price by applying the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 237, if he is a wholesaler, and Maximum Price Regulation No. 238 if he is a retailer.

(iii) Report of prices. Within 30 days after determining a maximum price under the provisions of this subparagraph, the manufacturer shall report this price to the Imported Foods Section, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in a statement which shall set forth (a) the brand and size of the coffee for which a maximum price is determined; (b) a brief description of the container in which the brand was delivered or offered for delivery in March and a description of the new paper container, and (c) the maximum price or prices to each class of purchaser for the brand in metal or glass delivered in March and the maximum price or prices to each class of purchaser for the brand in the new container.

If the manufacturer computes his price by applying (i) (b) above, his statement shall contain the following additional information: (d) the "direct cost" of the metal or glass container and (e) the "direct cost" of the new paper or cardboard container.

(b) Effective date. * * *

(86) Amendment No. 85 (§ 1499.73 (a) (1)) to Supplementary Regulation No. 14 shall become effective January 18, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Freight shall not include unloading or local trucking, but shall include charges for unloading cars for sale only at the terminal market.

§ 1351.1404 Definition and maximum prices of packers, commission merchants, brokers, auction markets and terminal sellers. (a) For the purposes of this regulation:

(1) A "packer" is a person who grades, sizes, packs, whether or not washed or waxed, or prepares citrus fruits for shipment to market. A person who has citrus fruit packed for him for sale shall be deemed to be a packer and the point of shipment shall be deemed his packing house.

(2) A "broker" is a person who acts as the packer's agent in the sale of citrus fruits and who does not warehouse, storage, or customarily distribute the citrus fruits.

(3) An "auction market" is a market to which citrus fruits are delivered and sold at auction for the account of the packer and which market charges a fee for such services.

(4) A "terminal seller" is a person who buys citrus fruits from a packer and customarily sells ex track, ex truck, or ex shipping shed, at the terminal market, who does not customarily warehouse and does not customarily deliver the citrus fruits beyond the terminal market area.

(5) A "commission merchant" is a person who receives citrus fruits on consignment from a packer and who sells in the same or similar manner as other wholesalers, for the account of the packer.

(b) The maximum price for direct sales of citrus fruits sold by a packer, f. o. b. packing house, shall be as set forth in this section and in § 1351.1416, Appendix A, of this regulation.

(c) The maximum price for direct sales of citrus fruits by a packer, on a delivered basis, shall be the packer's maximum price, f. o. b. packing house, plus freight to the point of delivery.

(d) The maximum price for sales of citrus fruits through a broker shall be the packer's maximum price for direct sales multiplied by 1.015. If the sale is made f. o. b. packing house, the packer's maximum price for direct sales, f. o. b. packing house, shall be used in such computation. If the sale is made on a delivered basis, the packer's maximum price for direct sales at the point of delivery shall be used in such computation.

(e) The maximum price for sales of citrus fruits at an auction market shall be the packer's maximum price for direct sales, delivered at the market, plus the usual auction charge or fee, computed on the basis of such delivered maximum price.

(f) The maximum price for sales of citrus fruits through a commission merchant shall be the packer's maximum price for direct sales, delivered at the commission merchant's customary receiving point, plus the usual charges, commissions or fees of the commission merchant, computed on the basis of such delivered maximum price.

(g) The maximum price for sales of citrus fruits by a terminal seller shall be the packer's maximum price for direct sales, delivered at the terminal market, multiplied by 1.015.

(h) Every sale of citrus fruits by a packer, commission merchant, broker, auction market or terminal seller, to an intermediate seller, shall be accompanied by a notification in writing to the intermediate seller, showing the maximum price permitted for such sale, which price shall be called the "base price" in such notice. The "base price" so reported shall be the maximum price determined under the foregoing paragraphs of this section, whether or not such maximum price was paid, except that in the event of a direct sale by a packer, or a sale by a packer through a broker, on an f. o. b. packing house basis, the "base price" so reported shall be the maximum price for such sale on a delivered basis at the purchaser's customary receiving point.

(i) Each packer, commission merchant, broker, auction market and terminal seller shall make and preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, such records as he or it customarily kept relating to the prices charged for each item of citrus fruits after the effective date of this regulation.

§ 1351.1405 Definition and maximum prices of intermediate sellers. (a) For the purposes of this regulation, the term "intermediate sellers" means any wholesale sellers, jobbers or any other persons who take title and purchase for the purpose of reselling and who customarily make sales to other wholesalers, retailers, or industrial, institutional or commercial users, except that the term "intermediate sellers" shall not include packers, commission merchants, brokers, auction markets, terminal sellers or retailers as defined in this regulation.

* * * * *

(c) The "base price" of any intermediate seller who purchases from a packer or broker, shall be the "base price" furnished to him by his supplier. The "base price" of any intermediate seller who purchases from an auction market, commission merchant, or terminal seller shall be the "base price" of his supplier, except that if his supplier is not within local hauling distance of his customary receiving point, the intermediate seller shall compute a new "base price" by adding to that "base price" the freight to his customary receiving point. If he resells to another intermediate seller, he shall give such purchaser notice in writing of his "base price," which shall be the "base price" reported to him by his § 1361.53 Maximum prices: items modified since March 31, 1942, sold by the manufacturer. * * *

(c) Approval of prices. If the Office of Price Administration approves the proposed maximum prices or fails to disapprove them within thirty days after receiving such report, the proposed maximum prices shall become the maximum prices applicable to all subsequent sales and deliveries: Provided, That if the Office of Price Administration later determines that such prices were not calculated in accordance with this section such prices may at that time be disapproved, but such disapproval shall not be retroactive as to any deliveries made before the date of such disapproval. If the proposed maximum prices are at any time disapproved by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer shall file revised prices properly computed in accordance with the appropriate pricing formula provided in paragraph (a), and the provisions of this section shall apply in all respects to such revised prices. In the event that the office of Price Administration finds that the manufacturer's production experience does not yet warrant the establishment of a permanent maximum price, the Office of Price Administration may give temporary approval to a proposed maximum price and require a further filing under this section at a later date. Any disapproval of prices will be embodied in an order upon request made within thirty days of such disapproval.

§ 1364.22 Maximum prices for dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts. * * *

(e) When products are delivered to the buyer. Dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts shall be deemed to be delivered to the buyer at the point where physical possession is taken by the buyer or his agent, or where the dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts, consigned to the buyer,

(1) Are received by a common carrier or contract carrier, other than a railroad, and the charges of such carrier are paid directly to such carrier by the buyer;

(2) Are received by a railroad, for shipment at the railroad carload rate or for shipment to an agency of the United State government and the charges of such railroad are paid directly to such railroad by the buyer.

(f) Maximum prices of wholesale pork cuts not listed in Appendix A. Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, if the maximum price for any wholesale pork cut delivered to the buyer cannot be determined under the provisions of the foregoing paragraphs of this section, such maximum price shall be that of the nearest similar wholesale pork cut derived from the same primal cut or combination of primal cuts, making adjustment for the differences in the cost of producing such cuts. Each seller shall file with the Office of Price Administration, within 10 days of computation, each maximum price computed under the provisions of this paragraph (f) together with a sworn statement of the method of such computation and the comparative costs included therein, including costs of labor, materials and overhead, and shrinkage or gain in weight. Any maximum price so computed shall be subject to revision by the Price Administrator. No person shall sell any wholesale pork cut not listed in Schedule I of Appendix A (§ 1364.35), except fabricated pork cuts and canned meats made entirely from pork, without first filing with the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., a maximum price for such cut as required by the provisions of this paragraph (f).

(g) Maximum prices of dressed hogs, invoices. (1) The maximum price for each dressed hog, dressed packer style or shipper style, delivered to the buyer shall be that ascertained in accordance with the pricing instructions contained in Schedule IV of Appendix A (§ 1364.35); and no person shall sell hogs dressed otherwise than packer style or shipper style.

(2) Every person who sells dressed hogs shall invoice such dressed hogs to the buyer by weight ranges set forth in the table in Schedule IV (a) of Appendix A (§ 1364.35), and dressed hogs falling in each such weight range shall be invoiced separately.

(h) Maximum prices of products sold for export, canned products, and fabricated cuts sold by hotel supply houses. * * *

(2) (i) The maximum price for each brand, type and container size of canned meat made entirely from pork shall be the highest price at which such brand or type and container size of canned meat was listed in the price list or lists upon the basis of which the seller made sales and deliveries at the delivery point during the period February 16, 1942 to February 20, 1942, inclusive, plus 1½ cents per lb.: Provided, That the seller must continue to allow all the deductions or discounts from his price list or lists which were customary during the 90-day period prior to March 9, 1942.

(ii) If the maximum price for any brand, type or container size of canned meat made entirely from pork cannot be determined under paragraph (h) (2) (i) of this section, the seller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for authorization to establish a maximum price, setting forth in such sworn application a detailed description of the canned meat and container size for which a price is sought, including, where appropriate: a description of the wholesale cuts used in processing such canned product and the nature and degree of processing; the maximum price, if any, established for the sale by the seller of other brands or types and container sizes of canned meat made entirely from pork, and the manner in which such other canned products differ from that for which the price application is being made; a statement of the reasons why the new manner of canning or processing is being undertaken; a statement of the price requested, and the method by which the requested price was arrived at; and a statement by the seller as to whether the granting of his application will require any price adjustment on behalf of the wholesalers or retailers to whom he proposes to sell his products. Authorization to establish a maximum price for such canned meat made entirely from pork shall be accompanied by instructions as to the method for determining the maximum price. Within ten days after such price has been determined, the seller shall report the price to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The price so reported shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(iii) The provisions of this paragraph (h) (2) shall not apply to any sales of canned meats to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation or to any purchasing agency of the armed forces of the United States.

(3) The maximum price for each fabricated pork cut sold by a hotel supply house to a purveyor of meals shall be determined as follows:

(i) The hotel supply house shall fix a price for each such fabricated pork cut on the basis of the relationship which prevailed during the month of October, 1942, between the price of such fabricated pork cut and the prices of other fabricated pork cuts derived from the same wholesale pork cut.

(ii) In the event that the total gross proceeds obtainable through sales at the prices so fixed of all fabricated pork cuts derived from such wholesale pork cut and sales at the maximum prices of all bones, fat, waste, trimmings and/or processed products obtained in making such fabricated pork cuts exceed by more than 15 percent the maximum price for such wholesale pork cut, the hotel supply house shall adjust downward the prices of such fabricated cuts to remove the excess. In making such adjustments, the hotel supply house shall not change the relationship of the prices of the fabricated cuts as established pursuant to paragraph (h) (3) (i). The price so fixed and adjusted shall be the maximum price of such hotel supply house for such fabricated pork cut.

(iii) "Fabricated pork cut" means any part or portion of a wholesale pork cut (i. e., pork chops, center ham slices, etc.) made for a purveyor of meals, which part or portion is obtained by boning or sawing through the bones of the wholesale pork cut so as to prepare the fabricated pork cut for cooking without further cutting or trimming and to produce a cut substantially different from any wholesale pork cut for which a price is listed in Appendix A (§ 1364.35). Wholesale pork cuts from which at least 25 percent of the bone has been removed in preparing them as roasts shall also be considered fabricated pork cuts.

(2) Every person making sales to purveyors of meals pursuant to the provisions of § 1364.22 (h) (3) shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, is in effect, a complete and accurate record in schedule form for each calendar month commencing with February 1943, showing separately

(i) The total inventory in pounds at the beginning of each month of all dressed hogs and each wholesale pork cut and fabricated pork cut, pork offal and pork by-product (bones, fat, waste, etc.); the total additions to inventory in pounds during the month of each such item; and the total inventory in pounds at the end of each month for each such item;

(ii) The total sales in pounds during the month of dressed hogs, each wholesale pork cut, fabricated pork cut, pork offal and pork by-product; bones, fat, waste, etc.; showing separately the sales in pounds of dressed hogs, each wholesale pork cut, and each fabricated pork cut to purveyors of meals and the sales in pounds made to other buyers;

(iii) The total sales realization for each dressed hog, and each type of wholesale pork cut and fabricated pork cut and the average ceiling price therefor.

(b) Persons subject to or affected by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 shall submit to the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C.: * * *

(4) On or before January 30, 1943, sworn statements of the maximum prices of all fabricated pork cuts sold by them to purveyors of meals, which maximum prices shall be determined as provided in § 1364.22 (h) (3).

(c) Every person making a sale of any wholesale pork cut or fabricated pork cut shall furnish to the purchaser at the time of delivery of such pork cut a written statement setting forth the name and address of the buyer and seller; identifying by weight and description each such pork cuts sold; and setting forth the quantity and the price charged and received therefor.

(b) Definitions. As used in this regulation, the term

(1) "Packer style" means a dressed hog with the head off, kidneys and leaf fat out, and ham facings off.

(2) "Shipper style" means a dressed hog with the head on, kidneys and leaf fat in, and ham facings on.

(3) "Current Chicago live hog price" of hogs other than oily hogs, stags and boars means the highest price quoted, for live hogs of the applicable weight, in the current Chicago Daily Livestock Market Report of the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "Current Chicago live hog price" of oily hogs means a price determined by deducting from the highest price quoted, for live butcher hogs of the applicable weight, in such current report, $1.00 per cwt. "Current Chicago live hog price" of stags and boars means a price determined by deducting from the highest price quoted for live sows or butcher hogs of the applicable weight, in such current report, $1.50 per cwt. in the case of stags, and $4.00 per cwt. in the case of boars. As to all shipments of dressed hogs from points east of the 85th meridian the current report shall be deemed to be that for the third market day preceding shipment of such dressed hogs. As to all shipments of dressed hogs from points west of the 109th meridian the current report shall be deemed to be that for the fifth market day preceding such shipment. As to all shipments of dressed hogs from points east of the 109th meridian and west of the 95th meridian and from points east of the Mississippi River, south of Kentucky and west of the 85th meridian, the current report shall be deemed to be that for the second market day preceding such shipment. As to all shipments of dressed hogs from any other point, the current report shall be deemed to be that for the market day preceding such shipment.

(4) "Designated transportation differential" means a transportation differential determined as provided in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of § 1364.22 (d).

(c) Price instructions. Except as provided in § 1364.22 (h), the maximum price for each dressed hog shall be fixed as follows:

(1) Ascertain the weight range applicable to the dressed hog to be priced. (Weight ranges for packer style dressed hogs are in the first column of the table in paragraph (a) of this Schedule IV, and weight ranges for shipper style dressed hogs are in the second column.) Ascertain the related live hog weight classification of such dressed hog (on the same line in the table, but in the third column). Multiply the current Chicago live hog price, for hogs of such related live hog weight classification, by the appropriate seasonal denominator (on the same line in the table, but in one of the last four columns).

Example: A butcher hog dressed shipper style and weighing 190 pounds falls in the 189 to 213 pound weight range and in the 240 to 270 pound related live hog weight classification. If it were slaughtered in New York City and shipped on November 24, 1942, the appropriate seasonal denominator would be 1.315 and the current Chicago live hog price would be that reported for Thursday, November 19, 1942, three market days prior to Tuesday, November 24, 1942 or $14.00 per cwt. $14.00 multiplied by 1.315 equals $18.41.

(2) To the price determined under paragraph (c) (1) of this Schedule, add 25¢ per cwt. if the seller delivers such dressed hog by a local delivery to a point more than 50 miles away from the shipping point.

Example: If in the example stated in paragraph (c) (1), such local delivery were made, 25¢ would be added to $18.41, giving a price of $18.66 per cwt.

(3) To the price determined under paragraph (c) (2), add the following permitted fresh kill addition, if the dressed hog is derived from a hog killed in the region where the addition is applicable and delivered by local delivery within such region on the same day as or on the day after killing or sold to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation:

Region	Permitted addition per cwt.
(I) New England, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia and those portions of New York and Pennsylvania lying east of the 77th meridian	50¢
(II) Those portions of Pennsylvania and New York lying west of the 77th meridian	35¢
(III) Virginia; West Virginia; Kentucky; Ohio; Indiana; Chicago, Illinois; and the local peninsula of Michigan (that part of Michigan lying between Lake Michigan and Lake Huron)	15¢

Example: In the example stated in paragraph (c) (2), if the dressed hog is sold to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, or if local delivery is made to a buyer within the region described in subparagraph (3) (I), 50¢ would be added to $18.66, giving a price of $19.16 per cwt.

(4) The maximum price for each dressed hog delivered to the buyer within the Central Price Zone, or delivered outside the Central Price Zone by a local delivery beginning in the Central Price Zone, shall be the applicable price determined under paragraph (c) (1) or (c) (2) of this Schedule.

(5) Except as provided in paragraph (c) (4) of this Schedule, the maximum price for each dressed hog delivered to the buyer in the Chicago Price Zone, or delivered to the buyer outside the Chicago Price Zone and the Central Price Zone by a local delivery beginning in the Chicago Price Zone, shall be the applicable price determined under paragraph (c) (1), (c) (2) or (c) (3) of this Schedule, plus 25¢ per cwt.

(6) Except as provided in paragraphs (c) (4) and (c) (5) of this Schedule, the maximum price for each dressed hog delivered to the buyer outside the Central Price Zone and the Chicago Price Zone shall be the applicable price determined under paragraph (c) (1), (c) (2) or (c) (3) of this Schedule, plus the designated transportation differential.

(d) Brokers' fees. The maximum prices fixed pursuant to paragraph (c) of this Schedule IV shall include all charges for brokerage and no addition to such prices may be made for brokers' fees. If the seller pays no brokerage fees on shipments of carload lots, the maximum price shall be reduced by $0.125 per cwt. If the seller pays brokerage on such shipments in an amount less than $0.125 per cwt., the maximum price shall be reduced by the difference between the amount of brokerage actually paid by the seller and $0.125 per cwt.

COCA COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF JAMESTOWN

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

The Coca Cola Bottling Company of Jamestown, Jamestown, North Dakota, a corporation, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of specific charges of violations of Rationing Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in Bismarck, North Dakota, on November 16, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been considered by the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is an industrial user of sugar, doing business at 109 Second Avenue, S. E., Jamestown, North Dakota, and is engaged in the business of manufacturing soft drink beverages for sale at wholesale.

(b) Respondent has violated Rationing Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations (§§ 1407.83 and 1407.84), in that in registering as industrial user of sugar on OPA Form R-310 respondent declared that the inventory of sugar owned by it on April 28, 1942, was 14,400 pounds, whereas the inventory of sugar owned by respondent on that date was, in fact, 30,130 pounds, as respondent then knew.

[1] 7 F.R. 7100, 9003, 9437, 10025.

(c) Respondent has violated Rationing Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations, (§§ 1407.83 and 1407.85), in that on April 28, 1942, in registering as an industrial user of sugar, respondent declared on OPA Form R–310 that it used monthly quantities of sugar aggregating 109,400 pounds during the year 1941 in the production of bottled beverages, flavoring extracts and syrups; whereas, in fact, respondent used only 72,216 pounds of sugar during said year for such purposes as respondent then knew.

(d) By means of the misrepresentations made by respondent on OPA Form R–310 filed on April 28, 1942, concerning respondent's inventory of sugar on April 28, 1942, and the amount of sugar used by it during each of the twelve months of the year 1941, respondent obtained sugar purchase certificates for 25,350 pounds to which it was not entitled.

(e) Respondent has violated Rationing Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations, (§ 1407.141), in that on July 28, 1942, it assigned and transferred sugar purchase certificate No. C–29531488, having a weight value of 5,800 pounds, to the M. A. Nashold Company, a corporation, without receiving sugar in exchange therefor.

(f) On September 18, 1942, respondent, in filing an amended registration as an industrial user of sugar, declared on OPA Form R–310 that it used monthly quantities of sugar aggregating 84,116 pounds during the year 1941 in the production of bottled beverages, flavoring extracts and syrups; whereas, in fact, respondent used only 72,216 pounds of sugar during said year for such purposes.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of sugar in the United States, respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 3, Sugar Rationing Regulations, have resulted in the diversion of sugar from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears to the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken. It is therefore ordered:

(g) The amended registration filed by respondent on or about September 18, 1942, is hereby cancelled; but respondent may re-register as an industrial user of sugar and shall show in such registration the actual amount of sugar used by it for industrial purposes during each month of the year 1941.

(h) 50,700 pounds of sugar shall be deducted from the weight value of the sugar purchase certificates that respondent would otherwise be entitled to receive under the sugar rationing regulations upon his re-registration in accordance with paragraph (g) hereof. Respondent shall not receive any sugar purchase certificates until 25,350 pounds of this amount have been deducted. Deduction of the balance of 25,350 pounds may be spread over several allotment periods, but in no allotment period shall respondent be granted sugar purchase certificates for more than fifty per cent of its allotment for such period until such time as deductions have been made for the entire balance of 25,350 pounds.

(i) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 184 that are defined in the sugar rationing regulations shall have the meaning therein given them.

(Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; sec. 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Law 89, 77th Cong. and by Pub. Law 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); W.P.B. Directive No. 1 (7 F.R. 562); W.P.B. Supplementary Directive No. 1E (7 F.R. 2965))

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

MODIFICATION OF JAPANESE BEETLE QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

Revision of Regulations 3 and 5, effective January 14, 1943.

Introductory Note: Extensions of the regulated areas in Maryland, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia are made in the following revision of regulation 3 (§ 301.48–3). In Maryland, considerable territory on both the Eastern and Western Shores of the State has been brought under regulation, resulting in the inclusion of the entire State except for the southernmost section of the Western Shore and two small areas in the westernmost counties of the State. In New York, the village of Silver Creek, in Chautauqua County, and the cities of Fulton and Oswego, in Oswego County, have been added. In Pennsylvania, the borough of Wesleyville, in Erie County, is the only addition. Virginia extensions include the towns of West Point, in King William County, Pulaski, in Pulaski County, Woodstock, in Shenandoah County, and the cities of Radford and Roanoke. The area in West Virginia has been extended to include the counties of Barbour, Lewis, and Upshur, and the city of Hinton, in Summers County, the districts of Charleston, Elk, Loudon, and Malden, the town of South Charleston, in Kanawha County, and the town of Rowlesburg, in Preston County.

Under regulation 5 (§ 301.48–5) the area from which the movement of fruits and vegetables by motortruck or refrigerator car is regulated has been extended to include a magisterial district each in the Virginia counties of Norfolk and Princess Anne, the remaining sections of the Eastern Shore of Maryland previously excluded from this heavily infested area, 9 townships in Cumberland and York Counties, Pa., and a few townships each in Bergen, Morris, Passaic, and Warren Counties, N. J.

(b) Conditions of certification. (1) When the fruits and vegetables moving by motortruck have actually been inspected by the United States Department of Agriculture and found free from infestation. The number of inspection points for such certification will be limited and their location determined by shipping needs and further conditioned on the establishment at such points of provisions satisfactory to the inspector for the handling and safeguarding of such shipments during inspection. Such inspection may be discontinued and certification withheld by the inspector during periods of general or unusual flight of the beetles.

(2) When the fruits and vegetables have been handled or treated under the observation of an inspector in manner and by method to free them from any infestation.

(3) When the fruits and vegetables have originated outside the areas designated in this section, and are to be reshipped directly from freight yards, transfer points, or unloading docks within such areas, under provisions satisfactory to the inspector for safeguarding of such shipments pending certification and reshipment. Certificates on this basis will be issued without inspection only in cases where, in the judgment of the inspector, the shipments concerned have not been exposed to infestation while within such freight yards, transfer points, or unloading docks.

(4) When the fruits and vegetables were grown in districts where the fact has been established to the satisfaction of the inspector that no infestation exists and are to be shipped directly from the farms where grown to points outside the areas designated in paragraph (a) (1) of this section, or are shipped from infested districts where the fact has been established to the satisfaction of the inspector that the Japanese beetle has not begun or has ceased its flight.

(5) When the fruits and vegetables moving via refrigerator car from the area designated in this section have been inspected and loaded in a manner to prevent infestation, in a refrigerator car with closed or adequately screened doors and hatches, which car prior to loading has been determined by an inspector as fumigated or thoroughly swept and cleaned by the common carrier in a manner to rid it of infestation. During the interval between fumigation or cleaning and loading, such refrigerator car must be tightly closed and sealed. (For further requirements on the cleaning of refrigerator cars, see § 301.48–13.)

(6) When the fruits and vegetables moving via refrigerator car from the area designated in this section have been fumigated in the car, when deemed necessary in the judgment of the inspector, and when the doors and hatches of the car have been tightly closed or adequately screened under the supervision of an inspector.

Subchapter B—Director General for Operations

TRU VAL PETROLEUM CO.

Sidney Smook, doing business as Tru Val Petroleum Company, located at Main Street and Carlton Avenue, Port Washington, New York, is engaged in the marketing of motor fuel to service stations and the maintenance and operation of service stations. During the months of April, May and June, 1942, Tru Val Petroleum Company delivered to five service stations including the Sidney Smook Service Station located at Farmingdale, New York, which is owned and operated by Tru Val Petroleum Company, approximately 48,476 gallons of motor fuel in excess of the amounts permitted to be delivered to such service stations in accordance with the provisions of Limitation Order L-70.

These violations of Limitation Order L-70 have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting motor fuel to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.211 Suspension Order S-211. (a) Sidney Smook, doing business under the name of Tru Val Petroleum Company, or under any other name, his or its successors and assigns, shall not deliver or cause to be delivered, directly or indirectly, to any of the service stations listed below any motor fuel as the same is defined in Limitation Order L-70, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations:

Bellwein Service Station, Inc., Great Neck New York.
Glen Shore Service Station, Inc., Glen Cove, New York.
Sidney Smook Service Station, Farmingdale, New York.
Boulevard Auto Service, Port Washington, L. I.
Boulevard Auto Service, Freeport New York.

(b) Sidney Smook and any other person or persons who may now or hereafter occupy the service station located at Farmingdale, New York, now or recently occupied by said Sidney Smook, shall not accept at that service station the delivery of any motor fuel as the same is defined in Limitation Order L-70, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

[1] Not filed as part of the original document.

(c) No persons shall deliver any motor fuel as the same is defined in Limitation Order L-70 to the service station located at Farmingdale, New York, now or recently occupied by Sidney Smook.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Sidney Smook, doing business under the name of Tru Val Petroleum Company or under any other name, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on January 15, 1943, and shall terminate on April 15, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-213]

JULIUS HAAS

Julius Haas is the owner of the premises known as 2015 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On or about September 7, 1942, Mr. Haas began construction, ordered, purchased and accepted delivery of materials in order to begin construction on the remodeling of said premises from a house into nine apartments, at an estimated cost of approximately $8,200.00, without having obtained specific authorization from the Director General for Operations. The construction is now partially completed, work having been stopped by the War Production Board approximately two months ago. At the time this construction began Julius Haas knew or should have known of the restrictions contained in Conservation Order L-41 and his acts constituted a wilful violation of said order.

This violation of Conservation Order L-41 has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.213 Suspension Order S-213. (a) Neither Julius Haas nor any other person shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any other manner secure or use material or construction plant in order to continue or complete construction of the apartment house located at 2015 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) For a period of three months from the effective date of this order, no application filed by Julius Haas or any other person for authorization to complete the apartment house mentioned in paragraph (a) hereof, shall be granted.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Julius Haas from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on January 15, 1943.

(e) In the gasoline shortage area, upon the allowance by the Board of any mileage whatsoever the Board's action may be reviewed by the District Manager, State Director or Regional Administrator as provided in § 1394.8111.

§ 1394.7757 Issuance of rations for use with vehicles operated on dealer plates. • • •

(b) Such ration shall be issued in the same manner as a fleet ration under the conditions provided in §§ 1394.7754 and 1394.7755, and application for such ration shall be made to a Board on Form OPA R–551: Provided, That the certification therein contained as to ownership of tires by the registered owner of the vehicle shall be revised to constitute a certification as to tires owned by the owner of the vehicle. If the term of the lease remaining from the date of issuance of the ration is less than the valid period of the ration as determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of § 1394.7755, the Board shall issue a ration containing coupons sufficient to allow the allowed mileage for only the remaining term of the lease, and shall remove from the ration book or books issued all coupons in excess of such number, and in such case the expiration date of the ration shall be the date on which the lease terminates.

• • • • •

Renewal of Rations and Issuance of Further Rations

§ 1394.8051 Renewal of rations. • • •

(e) In the gasoline shortage area the Board when renewing a supplemental ration issued after December 9, 1942, or a fleet or official ration or a ration issued pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.7757 or § 1394.7758 may issue books or coupons for a valid period no longer than the valid period of the books in the current ration or coupons not in excess of the number issued for the vehicle or vehicles in the current ration. In renewing supplemental rations issued before December 9, 1942 a Board in the gasoline shortage area may issue a ration which would permit driving not in excess of 75 per cent of the mileage allowed by the current ration.

(f) No Board in the gasoline shortage area (unless otherwise directed by the District Manager, State Director or Regional Administrator) may in renewing any of the rations specified in paragraph (e) issue a ration or coupons in excess of the amounts, or having a shorter valid period than that specified in paragraph (e), unless the application for renewal is reviewed and such issuance is recommended by the District Manager, State Director or Regional Administrator is provided in § 1394.8111.

§ 1394.8052 Issuance of further ration for use prior to expiration date of current ration. • • •

(c) If the Board determines that, for one or more of the reasons specified in paragraph (a) of this section, more mileage is needed, or in the case of a nonhighway ration, more gasoline is required than that stated in the application on the basis of which the current ration was issued, it may grant a further ration in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1394.8054. In any case in which application hereunder is made to compensate for a reduction in the unit value of Class A, B or C coupons held by the applicant the Board (unless otherwise directed by the District Manager, State Director or Regional Administrator) may not issue a further ration to compensate for mileage lost by reason of a reduction in the unit value of Class B or Class C coupons unless the application is reviewed by the District Manager, State Director or Regional Administrator as prescribed in § 1394.8111. The Board may grant a further ration to compensate for mileage lost by reason of a reduction in the unit value of Class A coupons only if it finds that the applicant still required the mileage lost by reason of such reduction.

• • • • •

§ 1394.8111 Review and modification of rations by District Managers, State Directors and Regional Administrators in the gasoline shortage area. (a) Any District Manager or State Director subject to the direction of the Regional Administrator, and any Regional Administrator, shall have power to review any supplemental, fleet or official ration or any ration under § 1394.7757 or § 1394.7758 issued after the date of this amendment or any renewal of any such ration or any further ration granted under § 1394.8052, or any application therefor, if such ration, renewal or further ration includes or represents a restoration of the reduction in mileage caused to any ration holder by change in unit value of coupons. Such review shall be made as the Regional Administrator may direct either before or after the issuance of any such ration, renewal or further ration. Pursuant to such review and in order to meet the deficiencies in supply, to conserve gasoline for the most essential uses, and to give full effect to the provisions in this order with reference to ride-sharing and alternative means of transportation, the District Manager or State Director, subject to the direction of the Regional Administrator, or the Regional Administrator may order, or direct the Board to order such ration to be withheld, modified, suspended or revoked in whole or in part.

(b) In making such review or in ordering such withholding, modification, suspension or revocation, the District Manager or State Director, as the Regional Administrator may direct, or the Regional Administrator, may obtain such additional information as he deems necessary. Any person whose ration has been withheld, suspended, modified, or revoked hereunder may appeal from such action on the part of the Board, the District Manager, the State Director or the Regional Administrator in accordance with the procedure of Procedural Regulation No. 9.

(b) (1) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy.

(2) Where, during June, 1942, a room was rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy except that he is not required to rent for that term more than the greatest number of rooms which were rented for the term at any one time during June, 1942. The Honey Butter Products Corporation, Groton, New York, has made application under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation for determination of maximum prices for its product known as "Golden Bar Honey Butter". Due consideration has been given to the application, and an opinion in support of this order issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* For the reasons set forth in the opinion under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in accordance with § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, It is hereby ordered That:

§ 1499.1451 Authorization of maximum prices for the Honey Butter Products Corporation. (a) On and after January 15, 1943, the Honey Butter Products Corporation may sell and deliver to wholesalers and chain stores its product known as "Golden Bar Honey Butter" at the following prices:

Size:	Maximum price per dozen

(b) The prices set out next above shall be the maximum prices which the Honey Butter Products Corporation may receive for "Golden Bar Honey Butter" delivered in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia.

(c) The maximum prices which the Honey Butter Products Corporation may receive for its product delivered to states other than those set forth in paragraph (b) shall be the maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a), plus the actual transportation charges incurred from the plant to the place of destination less 80¢ per cwt.

(d) Sellers at wholesale shall determine their maximum delivered selling price by adding to their net cost per dozen of each size a maximum profit of 25% of their net cost. "Net cost" for a wholesaler shall be his invoice cost at his customary receiving point less all discounts allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. No local hauling, loading or unloading charges shall be included in the net cost.

(e) Sellers at retail shall determine their maximum delivered selling price per item by adding to their net cost per dozen a maximum profit of 40% and dividing the figure so obtained by 12. When the maximum prices so determined result in fractions of a cent the price per item may be adjusted to the next higher cent if the fraction is ½ cent or more, it shall be adjusted downward if the fraction is less than ½ cent. "Net cost" to a retailer shall mean his invoice price at his store less all discounts allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment.

The Honey Butter Products Corporation shall supply to their buyers, at the time of their first sale to such buyer, a written notice as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized Honey Butter Products Corporation to sell "Golden Bar Honey Butter" at the following maximum delivered prices:

3½ ounce---------- $1.20 per dozen
12 ounce---------- $3.60 per dozen.

These are our maximum prices for "Golden Bar Honey Butter" delivered in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia. Our maximum prices for these items delivered to states other than the aforementioned are the same as the prices set out above, plus the transportation from our plant less 80¢ per cwt.

The Office of Price Administration has authorized wholesalers to determine their maximum delivered selling prices per dozen by adding 25% to their net cost per dozen. "Net cost" means the invoice price less all discounts, except the discount for prompt payment.

(f) Honey Butter Products Corporation shall place on or in the smallest packing unit of each size a printed notice reading as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized maximum ceiling prices for "Golden Bar Honey Butter" by specific Order No. 215. As a retailer, you are to determine your maximum delivered selling prices according to the provisions of this Order No. 215. This Order permits retailers to add to their net cost per dozen a maximum profit margin of 40% of this net cost. "Net cost" means the invoice price at your store less all discounts, except the discount for prompt payment. To arrive at your maximum selling price per item, divide the figure so obtained by 12. When the maximum prices so determined result in fractions of a cent, the price per item may be adjusted to the next higher cent if the fraction is ½¢ or more, and shall be adjusted downwards to the next lowest cent if the fraction is less than ½¢.

(g) This Order No. 215 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

§ 115.114 Statutory authority. The act of January 21, 1895 (28 Stat. 635; 43 U.S.C. 956), authorizes the Secretary of the Interior under such regulations as may be fixed by him to permit the use of rights-of-way over the public lands of the United States, for tramroads to the extent of 50 feet on each side of the center line of the tramroad, by any citizen or association of citizens of the United States, engaged in the business of mining, or quarrying, or of cutting timber and manufacturing lumber.

Section 5 of the Act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 875), providing for the conservation management of the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands, authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to perform any and all acts and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying the provisions of the Act into full force and effect.

By section 2 of the Act of June 9, 1916 (39 Stat. 219) and section 3 of the act of February 26, 1919 (40 Stat. 1180), the general laws relating to the granting of rights-of-way over or permits for the use of public lands were made applicable to the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands.

§ 115.115 Tramroads defined. Tramroads are considered as including tramways, narrow-gage railroads, and wagon or motor-truck roads, to be used in connection with mining, quarrying, logging, and the manufacturing of lumber.

§ 115.116 Application. All applications for permits for the temporary use of rights-of-way for logging road purposes over the Oregon and California Railroad and Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands and intermingled public lands in the State of Oregon, under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, should be submitted in duplicate, on form 4-980, which is made a part hereof,[1] and filed in the office of the Chief Forester, Oregon and California Revested Lands Administration, 410 Custom House, Portland, Oregon. Application forms will be furnished by the Chief Forester, upon request.

§ 115.117 Showing which must accompany application. Application by an individual must be accompanied by evidence of citizenship. The applicant must state in the application whether he is native born or a naturalized citizen. If naturalized, he must furnish the usual proof of naturalization.

(a) Application by a private corporation must be accompanied by a copy of its articles of incorporation duly certified by the proper officer of the company under its corporate seal or by the Secretary of the State where organized; also an uncertified copy. A company incorporated in a State other than the State of Oregon, must submit the certificate of the proper officer of the State of Oregon, that it has complied with the laws of that State governing foreign corporations to the extent required to entitle the company to operate in the State. If the company shall have previously filed the papers herein required, the requirement shall be held to be met if, in making subsequent applications specific reference is made to date and case number of such previous filings.

(b) A map prepared on tracing linen, with two print copies thereof, on a scale of 4 inches or 8 inches to the mile, showing the survey of the right-of-way properly located with relation to the public land surveys, so that the right-of-way may be accurately located on the ground by any competent engineer or forest officer. The map should comply with the following requirements:

Courses and distances of the center line of the right-of-way should be given; the courses referred to the true meridian and the distance in feet and decimals thereof.

The initial and terminal points of the survey should be accurately connected by course and distance to the nearest corner of the public land surveys.

All subdivisions of the public lands surveys any part of which is within the limits of the survey should be shown in their entirety, based upon the official subsisting plats with subdivision, section, township and range clearly marked.

The width of the right-of-way should be given and if not of uniform width, the location and amount of change must be definitely shown.

The map should bear upon its face the affidavit of the engineer who made the survey and the certificate of the applicant. (Forms 1 and 2 which are made a part hereof).[1]

§ 115.118 Trespass. The filing of an application for a temporary right-of-way permit will not authorize the applicant to use the right-of-way in any manner or for any purpose until a permit has been duly executed by the Chief Forester. Any unauthorized use of the right-of-way is a trespass. The Chief Forester will report such unauthorized use to the Regional Field Examiner and in no event shall a permit be issued for the right-of-way so used, or for any right-of-way, unless and until settlement has been made for the trespass.

§ 115.119 Rental charge. The charge for the use of rights-of-way for logging roads under a temporary permit shall be at the rate of five dollars ($5) per mile or fraction thereof per annum or any part thereof, the minimum charge to be five dollars ($5). No fee will be required on the filing of an application.

§ 115.120 Agreement required as a condition to issuance of permit. Before a permit will be issued for a logging road, the applicant will be required to execute and file an agreement on form 4-980a,[1] which is made a part hereof and shall constitute and form a part of the permit.

§ 115.121 Term of permit. When the necessary basic information has been secured, the Chief Forester, may in his discretion issue temporary permits for periods not to exceed two years.* When the permit expires, it may be renewed for periods not to exceed two years, in the discretion of the Chief Forester, upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

§ 115.122 Action on application. When an application is received, the Chief Forester will assign thereto a number similar to that used in timber sales, with the symbol R.W.A., which will identify it as a right-of-way application and will secure from the Register of the District Land Office a status report of the lands involved. If the status of the lands is such as would not preclude the issuance of a permit the Chief Forester will then cause a field examination to be made, if necessary, to ascertain the amount of Government timber to be cut, removed or destroyed, if any, in the construction and operation of the road, and will make a determination as to the advisability of approval of the application. In making such determination, consideration will be given to the effect that the permit for the right-of-way will have on the removal of Government timber from the adjoining and adjacent revested and reconveyed areas, and as to whether the approval of the application will in any way interfere with the proper administration of the lands affected, or be inconsistent with the object of the Government, or adversely affect or impair watershed protection, stream-flow regulation and other conservation features enumerated in the act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874).

Upon determination that the use of the right-of-way applied for will not be contrary to public interest or inconsistent with the object of the Government, the Chief Forester will prepare a draft of agreement and permit, in quadruplicate, together with 2 copies thereof and shall transmit to the applicant the draft of agreement, in quadruplicate, for execution, allowing the applicant 10 days from receipt thereof in which to return the executed agreement, accompanied by such sum as may be specified by him as due in payment of the estimated damage to the Government timber which will be cut, removed, or destroyed, if any, in the construction of the road, plus the sum to cover the rental charge for the use of the right-of-way for the entire period specified in the agreement and permit. If the executed agreement is not returned, accompanied by the amounts due as rental and payment for damage to the Government timber, if any, or an application filed for the modification of any of its provisions, within the time specified, the application will be considered as abandoned and will be rejected.

If, within the time allowed, the applicant shall return the agreement properly executed, together with the sum due as rental and in payment for the damage to the Government timber, if any, the Chief Forester will date and sign the permit in quadruplicate, and make appropriate notations on the records of his office of the issuance of the permit.

§ 115.123 Disposition of papers and money. Upon the approval of the permit, the Chief Forester will forward one original to the permittee. One original permit and the duplicate application and a copy of the map will be retained by the Chief Forester for the files of his office. Two original permits with the two copies thereof, the original application, the original map and copy thereof, will be forwarded by the Chief Forester to the Register of the District Land Office for the district in which the land affected is located. The Register will not assign a serial number thereto but will make appropriate notations on his records of the permit, retaining one copy thereof and the copy of the map, and will transmit the two original permits and remaining copy together with the original application and map, to the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

(a) The moneys received in payment of rental charges and for damage to Government timber on revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands will be disposed of by the Chief Forester in the same manner as money received from the sale of Government timber on such lands. In all cases involving other than revested or reconveyed lands, the Chief Forester will transmit to the Register of the appropriate District Land Office, the rental for disposition in accordance with the regulations approved August 7, 1939 (43 CFR 244.9a; Circ. 1459).

§ 115.124 Causes for cancelation of permit. If the permittee shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of these regulations, or makes default in the performance or observation of any of the terms and conditions of the agreement and permit, and such default shall continue for 10 days after service of written notice thereof by the Chief Forester, then that officer may in his discretion terminate and cancel the permit.

§ 115.125 Disposition of property on termination of permit. Upon the termination of the permit by expiration or by prior cancelation, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, the permittee will be allowed 6 months in which to remove or otherwise dispose of all property, or improvements of any kind owned or controlled by him; but if not removed within this period, all such property and improvements shall become the property of the United States.

§ 115.126 Assignment of permit. Proposed assignment of a permit must be submitted in duplicate to the Chief Forester, accompanied by the same showing by the assignee of qualification, as is required of the applicant for a permit; and must be supported by a stipulation that the assignee agrees to comply with and be bound by the terms and conditions of the permit.

§ 115.127 Appeals and other proceedings. All action taken by the Chief Forester adverse to the applicant or the permittee will be subject to appeal under the Rules of Practice of the Department of the Interior as in cases initiated before the Registers of the District Land Office.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

EDWARD WEISNER

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE AND DIRECTING ITS SURRENDER

In the matter of Edward Weisner, Licensee. Proceeding for Revocation of License.

No. 10——3

To: Edward Weisner, Fallon, Montana.

Based upon the records in this matter, I, R. R. Sayers, Director of the Bureau of Mines, make the following findings of fact:

1. On December 17, 1942, a Specification of Charges against you, setting forth violations of the Federal Explosives Act (55 Stat. 863) and regulations pursuant thereto of which you were accused, was mailed to you at the above, your last known address, giving you notice to mail an answer within 15 days demanding a hearing if you wished to be heard on the charges against you.

2. More than 20 days have elapsed since the giving of said notice. The length of time required for mail to be delivered to the office of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C., from Fallon, Montana, does not exceed five days. The only communication which I have received from you was your answer of December 23 in which you admitted having sold explosives to persons not licensed under the Federal Explosives Act. Your answer seeks to excuse your illegal actions on the grounds of ignorance of the law and your own personal knowledge of the persons to whom the sales were made. You have not demanded a hearing.

3. The charges against you are true. The excuse offered by you is not sufficient in view of the extended violations which you have committed and of the evidence before me indicating your actual and constructive notice of the Federal Explosives Act.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by sections 8 and 18 of the Federal Explosives Act (55 Stat. 863) and § 301.22 of the regulations pursuant thereto (7 F.R. 5901), It is hereby ordered, That Vendor's License No. 38927 and all other licenses, if any, issued to you under the Federal Explosives Act (55 Stat. 863) be and they are hereby revoked; And it is further ordered, That you shall immediately surrender said licenses and all certified or photostatic copies thereof, if any, by delivering or mailing the same to the Director of the Bureau of Mines, Interior Department, Washington, D. C.

This order is effective on and after its date, except that you will be allowed not to exceed 10 days thereafter within which to sell or otherwise dispose of or to destroy all explosives or ingredients thereof now on hand. Sales must be only to persons licensed under the Federal Explosives Act and in accordance with the provisions of the act and the regulations thereunder. This exception does not authorize you to use explosives or ingredients thereof now on hand, nor does it authorize you to purchase or otherwise acquire explosives or ingredients thereof.

Failure to comply with any of the provisions of this order will constitute a violation of the Federal Explosives Act, punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both by such fine and imprisonment.

Dated: January 11, 1943.

R. R. SAYERS,
Director.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

On October 1, 1942, Sunset Electric Company, 300 Westlake North, Seattle, Washington, filed a protest against the provisions of Revised Price Schedule No. 88. For the reasons set forth in the opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

Adjustment of maximum prices of all S. A. E. grades of Hyvis (Pennsylvania grade) motor oil sold to retail dealers by Sunset Electric Company. (2) There shall be deducted from the foregoing maximum prices for sales in bulk, one and five-quart cans, the quantity discounts which Protestant had in effect on October 1, 1941. The maximum prices stated above for sales in 54 gallon drums and carload quantities are net prices.

(b) The adjustment granted to Sunset Electric Company in paragraph (a) is subject to the following conditions:

(1) Sunset Electric Company shall give written notification to its retail dealers in all S. A. E. grades of Hyvis (Pennsylvania grade) motor oil of the adjustment permitted by this Order by advising them as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has permitted us to increase our bulk plant prices for all S. A. E. grades of Hyvis (Pennsylvania grade) motor oil, exclusive of taxes from $.67 a gallon to $.775 a gallon in bulk, from $.77 a gallon to $.89 a gallon in one-quart cans, from $.77 a gallon to $.875 a gallon in five-quart cans, from $.640 a gallon to $.745 a gallon in 54 gallon drums, and from $.56 to $.665 a gallon in carload quantities. (c) This Order No. 9 may be revoked or amended at any time.

(b) Personnel on duty outside continental limits of United States whose dependents are residing in same country in which such personnel may be serving. Under the provisions of the act of March 2, 1899 (30 Stat. 981), as amended, the military and civilian personnel enumerated therein, while on duty outside the continental limits of the United States, may authorize monthly deductions from their pay for the support of their dependents where such dependents are residing in the same country in which such personnel may be serving, provided payments are not prohibited by Treasury Department regulations.

(c) Personnel on duty outside continental limits of United States whose dependents are residing in foreign country other than that in which such personnel may be serving. Under the provisions of the act of March 2, 1899 (30 Stat. 981), as amended, the military and civilian personnel enumerated therein, while on duty outside the continental limits of the United States, may authorize allotments from their pay for the support of their dependents where such dependents are residing in a foreign country other than that in which the allotters may be serving and in which foreign country an Army disbursing officer is stationed, provided payments of such allotments are not prohibited by Treasury Department regulations. Such allotments will be known as class X allotments.

(d) On return of personnel and dependents to United States. Class X allotments will be discontinued upon return of personnel and their dependents to the United States.

(e) On return of personnel without dependents to United States. In case military personnel who are allotters return to the United States without their dependents, and it is desired that the allotments continue to be paid, the local disbursing officer in the United States will follow the procedure set forth in Army regulations. Civilian employees are authorized to make allotments of their pay only when on duty in Alaska or outside the continental limits of the United States. PART 75—ADMISSION TO THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY[1]

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS, ETC.

Sections 75.1, 75.7, 75.9 and 75.10, 75.12, 75.14, 75.18, and 75.19, 75.22, 75.23, and 75.25 are hereby amended as follows:

All sections of Part 75 are issued under the authority contained in R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22.

The regulations contained in Part 75 are also contained in Information Relative to the Appointment and Admission of Cadets to the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., W. D., November 28, 1942, the particular paragraphs being shown at the end of sections.

§ 75.1 The Military Academy. (a) The United States Military Academy is an institution established by the Government for the practical and theoretical training of young men for the military service. Its cadets are given a comprehensive and general education of collegiate grade and a sufficient basic military education and training to enable them to pursue their careers as officers of the Army.

(b) Direction and supervision of the Military Academy are vested by law in the War Department under such officer or officers as the Secretary of War may select, and, in accordance with this provision, the Secretary of War has placed it under the jurisdiction of the Commanding General, Services of Supply, except for the curriculum and doctrine which is under the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–3, War Department. [Pars. 1 and 2]

§ 75.2 How to enter the Military Academy. The candidate for a cadetship, who must never have been married and who will at the time of his proposed entrance come within the prescribed age limits and be a citizen of the United States, should follow the steps outlined below. He must first obtain an appointment to a vacancy, existing or prospective. He must then demonstrate that he measures up to certain physical and educational standards. His physical fitness is determined by examination; his educational qualifications may be shown by regular mental examination or by the submission of certain prescribed certificates with validating examination, or, in certain special cases, by certificate without mental examination. (See §§ 75.13 and 75.14.) If he be accepted, he reports at the academy on the first weekday in July and, prior to admission, he is required to take the oath of allegiance and to subscribe to an engagement to serve the United States for a time subsequent to his graduation. (See § 75.23 (c).) [Par. 3]

§ 75.3 Course as a cadet. (a) The normal course at the Military Academy is 4 years. For the duration of the war, however, the course has been temporarily shortened to 3 years in accordance with an act of Congress approved October 1, 1942.

(b) During the war the classes will be designated as follows:

First year cadets—4th class.
Second year cadets—3d class.
Third year cadets—1st class.

There will be no 2d class in the 3-year course.

(c) Those cadets who take flying instruction are designated as "Air Cadets" while those not taking flying instruction are designated as "Ground Cadets."

(d) The academic year extends from September to May, inclusive, while the three summer months are devoted exclusively to military training. During his academic year a cadet receives from 1 to 2 hours of military training a day in addition to his academic studies.

(e) During the time he remains a cadet, he is paid $780 per annum and allowed the cost of 1 ration per day, which varies with the cost of food. Upon graduation he may be commissioned as a second lieutenant in one of the arms or services of the Army.

(f) The points brought out briefly in the paragraphs above are explained in detail in the following pages. [Par. 4]

§ 75.4 Strength of the corps of cadets. (a) Under an act of Congress approved June 3, 1942, the Corps of Cadets shall hereafter consist of 2,496 cadets, appointed in number and from sources as follows:

8 from each State at large	384
4 from each congressional district	1,740
4 from each Territory (Hawaii and Alaska)	8
6 from the District of Columbia	6
4 from natives of Puerto Rico	4
2 from Panama Canal Zone	2
172 from the United States at large [1]	172
180 from among the enlisted men of the Regular Army and of the National Guard, in number as nearly equal as practicable	180
Total	2,496

[1] Of whom 3 are appointed upon the recommendation of the Vice President, 40 are selected from among the honor graduates of those educational institutions designated as "honor military schools," and 40 are chosen from among the sons of veterans who were killed in action or died prior to July 2, 1921, of wounds received or disease contracted in line of duty during the first World War.

(b) Section 2 of the act of Congress approved June 3, 1942, provides: When on the date of admission of a new class the total number of cadets is below the number authorized, the Secretary of War may bring the Corps of Cadets to full strength by appointing qualified alternates and candidates recommended by the academic board, two-thirds thereof from qualified alternates and one-third thereof from qualified candidates: Provided, That any appointment made under this section shall be an additional appointment and shall not constitute an appointment otherwise authorized by law. [Par. 5]

§ 75.5 Filipino cadets. (a) In addition to the 2,496 mentioned above, the Secretary of War is authorized to permit not exceeding four Filipinos, to be designated by the President of the Commonwealth of the Philippine Islands, to receive instruction at the United States Military Academy, under the provision of the act of Congress approved May 28, 1908, as amended. These students execute an agreement to comply with all regulations for the police and discipline of the Academy to be studious, and to give their utmost efforts to accomplish the courses in the various departments of instruction.

(b) The act of Congress approved July 2, 1942, making appropriations for the Military Establishment for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, contains a provision which reads as follows:

> That no part of any appropriation contained in this Act shall be available for the pay of any person, other than military personnel, not a citizen of the United States, unless in the employ of the Government or in a pay status on the date of approval of this Act, under appropriations for the War Department, but nothing herein shall be construed as applying • • • to citizens of the Commonwealth of the Philippines, or to nationals of those countries allied with the United States in the prosecution of the war and whose employment is determined by the Secretary of War to be necessary, or to persons employed outside the continental limits of the United States • • •. [Par. 6]

§ 75.6 Appointments, how made. (a) The numbers mentioned above represent the maximum allowed at the Military Academy at any one time from the respective sources; consequently, no appointment can be made from any source except to fill a vacancy therefrom.

(b) All appointment are made by the President and as follows:

(1) From States at large and from congressional districts, upon the recommendations of the respective Senators and Representatives in Congress.

(2) From the Territories, upon the recommendations of the respective Delegates in Congress.

(3) From the District of Columbia, upon the recommendations of the commissioners thereof.

(4) From Puerto Rico, upon the recommendation of the resident commissioner. (Those cadets appointed from States at large, from congressional districts, from the Territories, from the District of Columbia, and from the island of Puerto Rico, must, under the law, be actual residents thereof, respectively.)

(5) From among the sons of civilians residing in the Canal Zone and the sons of civilian personnel of the United States Government and the Panama Railroad Company residing in the Republic of Panama to be selected by the Governor of the Panama Canal Zone.

(6) From among the honor graduates of educational institutions designated as "honor military schools," upon the recommendations of the heads of the respective schools.

(7) In 1943 the sources of admission from among members of the National Guard and Regular Army have been combined for the duration of the present war and opened to all enlisted men of the Army of the United States upon the recommendations of the commanding generals of the respective service and foreign commands.

(8) Appointments from the United States at large (excepting those from "honor military schools," those chosen from among the sons of deceased World War veterans, and those appointed upon the recommendation of the Vice President) are made by the President upon his own selection, and as the result of a competitive examination, identical in every respect with the regular entrance examination.

(9) Only such candidates as are fully qualified may be nominated subsequently to the holding of the scheduled examinations, and no nomination for appointment will be accepted if received in the War Department later than midnight on June 30th, preceding the regular date of admission to the Military Academy on July 1st. Letters whose post-office marks clearly show that they were placed in the mail prior to midnight of June 30th are held to meet the foregoing requirement. [Par. 7]

§ 75.7 Selection of candidates—(a) From States at large, congressional districts, and Territories. (1) The selection of candidates, by competitive examination or otherwise, for appointment from any State at large or congressional district, is entirely in the hands of the Senator or Representative in Congress who has the vacancy at his disposal, and all applications for appointment from those sources should be addressed to the proper Senator or Representative.

(2) For each vacancy from a State at large or congressional or Territorial district, four candidates should be nominated, one to be named as principal, one as first alternate, one as second alternate, and one as third alternate. The first alternate, if qualified, will be admitted in the event of the failure of the principal; the second alternate, if qualified, will be admitted in the event of the failure of both the principal and the first alternate; and the third alternate, if qualified, will be admitted in the event of the failure of principal, first and second alternate.

(3) In choosing candidates selected for appointment under the provisions of section 2 of the act of June 3, 1942, as quoted in paragraph 5, the Academic Board studies the records of all eligible candidates and makes its selection based upon consideration of the academic grades and other pertinent factors which affect the qualifications of the various candidates to become officers of the Army. The only candidates who are considered eligible for such appointments are those who have successfully passed the entrance examinations or otherwise qualified for entrance within the past 12 months.

(4) These candidates must, at date of admission, be between the ages of 17 and 22 years.

(b) From "honor military schools." Honor graduates of "honor military schools" are selected for appointment as cadets of the United States Military Academy in the following manner:

(1) There is maintained in the office of The Adjutant General a roster of "honor military schools" as determined by annual War Department inspections of educational institutions. At an early date in each year The Adjutant General will anticipate the vacancies in the Corps of Cadets which are open to honor graduates and will make an equitable distribution of those vacancies among the "honor military schools" and notify them accordingly.

(2) Each designated institution will at a specified time notify The Adjutant General of the names of the selected honor graduates, designating them as principal, first, second, and third alternate candidates. In considering graduates for this designation the institution is not limited to those graduating during the current year.

(3) An honor graduate, designated as principal, of a selected institution will be appointed a cadet of the United States Military Academy upon the certificate of the head of the institution that the appointee is an honor graduate of that institution of a year for which the institution was designated an honor military school. No student will be rated as honor graduate unless he has in his school work shown proficiency in subjects amounting to not less than the 15 units prescribed by the regulations for admission to the United States Military Academy. A certificate will be forwarded to the Adjutant, United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., when the appointment is made.

(4) In the event that the honor graduate designated as principal does not accept the appointment or fails to qualify for admission, the first alternate will, if qualified be appointed; in the event that neither the principal nor the first alternate qualifies, the second alternate will, if qualified, be appointed; and in the event that the principal, first, and second alternate candidates fail to qualify, the third alternate will, if qualified, be appointed.

(5) These candidates must at date of admission be between the ages of 17 and 22 years.

(6) All honor graduates are appointed subject to the same tests for mental and physical qualifications as are required of other candidates. (See §§ 75.13 and 75.14.)

(c) From among sons of World War veterans. (1) An act of Congress approved June 8, 1926, as amended by an act of Congress approved December 1, 1942, authorized 40 cadets to be appointed by the President from among the sons of officers, soldiers, sailors, and marines of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps of the United States, including members of the Army Nurse Corps (female) and Navy Nurse Corps (female) employed in the active service by the War Department or Navy Department, who were killed in action or have died, or may hereafter die, of wounds or injuries received, or disease contracted, or preexisting injury or disease aggravated in active service during the World War (as defined by existing laws providing service connected compensation benefits for World War veterans and their dependents).

(2) Candidates appointed under this act must be between the ages of 17 and 22 years and meet the usual physical requirements, and will be required to undergo the regular entrance examination competitively, the vacancies available from this source being awarded to those physically qualified competitors who make the highest proficient ratings in the order of merit established by the examination mentioned. There is no restriction as to residence in the case of these appointees.

(3) No form is prescribed for making application, which should be by letter addressed to The Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C., showing the full name, date of birth, and address of applicant, and the name, grade, and organization of the veteran parent, together with a brief statement showing the time and place of death, injury or disease contracted. If the parent was an enlisted man, his serial number should also be given.

(d) From the National Guard and the Regular Army. (1) The sources of admission from among members of the National Guard and the Regular Army have been combined for the duration of the present war and opened to all enlisted men of the Army of the United States. The law authorizing appointments from this source prescribes that the applicant must, at the date of admission, be between the ages of 19 and 22 years, and must have served as an enlisted man for not less than 1 year. It is not essential that the service shall have been continuous; therefore, prior Army or National Guard service may be counted in determining a soldier's eligibility.

(2) The candidates nominated for cadetships allotted to the enlisted men of the Army of the United States shall not exceed three times the number of existing vacancies from that source, and shall be distributed equitably among the service commands and foreign commands by the War Department. No preliminary mental examination will be conducted in order to determine the eligibility of applicants. Each designated candidate will be given a letter of appointment authorizing him to report for the regular Military Academy entrance examination, which he must undergo in competition with the entire number of Army candidates, the available vacancies being awarded to those physically qualified competitors making the highest proficient averages in the order of merit established at the last-mentioned examination, without regard to the service command or foreign command from which designated. The selections being made throughout by competition, alternates cannot be considered under any circumstances, nor can these candidates submit educational certificates with a view to qualifying in whole or in part thereon. Failure for any cause to appear for the examination at the time and place authorized will vacate the appointment. [Pars. 8, 9, 10, and 11]

§ 75.9 Entrance examination, when held. (a) The regular Military Academy entrance examination and the examination for validating certain classes of certificates are held beginning on the first Tuesday in March each year. Each candidate designated to take one of these examinations will receive from the War Department a letter of appointment, and he must appear for examination at the time and place designated therein before a board of Army officers convened by the War Department. Enlisted men appointed from the Army also receive authority from the War Department to report for examination, and must report at the time and place specified. No other regular mental examination is held during the year. The failure of candidates holding noncompetitive appointments to appear for examination unless prevented by sickness or other unavoidable cause shall vacate the appointment; the failure of candidates holding competitive appointments to report for examination for any cause shall vacate the appointment.

(b) A second validating examination is held on June 21 at West Point, N. Y., but is only for emergency vacancies which remain unfilled or occur after the March examination. Candidates appointed to such emergency vacancies must qualify by certificate or by certificate supplemented by the validating examination mentioned above. [Par. 13]

§ 75.10 Entrance examination, where held. Boards of officers are convened at certain designated places, which are listed below, for the purpose of conducting the regular entrance examinations. The place of examination selected by the War Department for each candidate is the one nearest or most convenient to his home or to the school at which he is in regular attendance.

§ 75.12 Admission by regular mental examination (See § 75.8 (a)). (a) All candidates take the regular mental examination who cannot qualify under §§ 75.13 or 75.14.

(Inasmuch as candidates from the United States at large and the Army of the United States are appointed to vacancies in the order of merit competitively established as a result of the regular mental entrance examination, such candidates are not permitted to submit educational certificates in lieu of that examination, and therefore, cannot qualify under §§ 75.13 or 75.14.)

(b) Subjects. * * *

(5) History. (i) Candidates will be required to pass a satisfactory examination in United States history and ancient history.

(ii) The examination in United States history will cover: Early discovery and settlements; the forms of government in the Colonies; the birth and development of a constitutional form of government; the causes, leading events, and results of wars; important events in the political and economic history of the Nation from its foundation to and including the national election of 1940; the location of places, areas, boundaries, and routes of outstanding historical significance.

(iii) The examination in ancient history will cover the period 750 B. C. to 814 A. D., emphasizing the rise, development, and decline of Greek and Roman civilization. It will also include the history of Mediterranean states in the period specified, and the development of western Europe after the break-up of the Roman Empire. The location of places, areas, boundaries, and routes of outstanding historical importance will be required. [Pars. 16, 17, and 21]

§ 75.14 Admission by certificate (See § 75.8 (c)). (a) The academic board will consider and may accept without other mental requirement:

(1) A properly attested college certificate that the candidate is, or was upon leaving, a regularly enrolled student in good standing without condition in a university, college, or technical school accredited by the United States Military Academy: Provided, That he entered college with the secondary school credits prescribed in § 75.13 (a); And provided further, That he has completed successfully at least one semester in college. If he lacks not more than 2 units of the prescribed secondary school credits, required or optional, he may make up this deficiency in college at the rate of one semester of college work to one year of secondary school study.

A full record of academic work at college, giving subjects taken and grades attained in each, should be presented on form I, which must be submitted in all cases where college work covers one semester or more.

If the college certificate covers less than 1 full year's work in college, it must be accompanied by a certificate covering work in secondary school, and the two certificates will be considered together in determining the candidate's mental qualifications.

(2) A properly attested certificate from the College Entrance Examination Board that the candidate has shown proficiency in the examinations set by the board in subjects amounting to the 15 units listed in § 75.13 (a).

(3) A properly attested certificate from the College Entrance Examination Board that the candidate has shown proficiency in the examination set by the board in the 8 required units from the list given below, and a properly attested certificate from the preparatory or public high school accredited by the United States Military Academy showing proficiency in 7 units of the optional subjects given hereafter. A College Entrance Examination Board certificate that does not cover all of the 8 required units will not be considered.

(4) A secondary school certificate as described in § 75.13 (a) and (b) supplemented by a report from the College Entrance Examination Board that the candidate has taken its Scholastic Aptitude Test and Mathematics Attainment Test[1] (Beta Section): Provided, The grades earned on these tests ars satisfactory. In case the candidate has graduated from secondary school prior to the date set for the validating examination (March or June), the Scholastic Aptitude Test and Mathematics Attainment Text[1] (Beta Section) must also have been taken and reported upon prior to that date. In case the candidate is in actual attendance in his senior year at a secondary school at the time set for the validating examination in March and has not yet taken these tests, he may decline to take the validating examination, electing instead to undergo the Scholastic Aptitude Test to be given by the College Entrance Examination Board in April of the same year. This privilege of electing to substitute the Scholastic Aptitude Test to be taken later is allowed for the March validating examination only.

(b) (1) A candidate, whose certificate has been rejected under § 75.14, will be required to take the regular entrance examination except in cases where the academic board approved his credits under § 75.13 for admission subject to the validating examination.

(2) The academic board may reject any certificate for low grades, or upon any evidence, whether contained in the certificate or not, that creates a reasonable doubt as to the candidate's mental qualifications for admission. A record in the entrance examination of a former year is considered excellent evidence of mental qualifications for admission and is given great weight when certificates are being evaluated. Taking the examination, when unprepared, merely for practice and failing on the same may, therefore, have an adverse effect if entrance by certificate is sought in a later year.

(3) A candidate, whose certificate has been accepted unconditionally under § 75.14, is excused from the mental examination but must appear for the physical examination.

(4) A candidate, whose certificate is approved under § 75.14 (a) (4) subject to later passing of the College Entrance Examination Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test,[1] is accepted as mentally qualified for admission if his record in this test proves satisfactory. He is rejected as mentally unqualified if it proves unsatisfactory. [Par. 23 and 24]

§ 75.18 General information as to certificates. (a) All necessary papers, including a set of blank certificate forms (Except form III which is sent only upon application), are furnished by The Adjutant General, Washington, D. C., to each duly nominated candidate (except where competition is specified) with his letter of appointment.

(b) Certificates should be submitted not later than February 15. A certificate received between February 15 and the examination will receive consideration, but, in view of the short time left to the academic board to investigate its value, no assurance will be given that such certificate can be acted on in time to exempt the candidate from the regular mental examination. Certificates received at West Point too late for full investigation and appraisal before 9 a. m. on the first Tuesday in March of each year will be filed without action thereon. Candidates will be notified of the time and date of the receipt of such certificates.

(c) Candidates who submit certificates on a date which does not allow the academic board sufficient time to investigate their value and notify them regarding the final action thereon prior to the day set for the examination should proceed with the regular examination.

(d) Candidates who are informed that their certificates have been accepted either provisionally or unconditionally, must present themselves at the regular time and place, as herein prescribed, for physical examination and, if required, for the validating examination.

(e) A candidate submitting a secondary school certificate who has taken the College Entrance Examination Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test should have his record in this test forwarded to the Adjutant, West Point, N. Y., at the same time as his school certificate. He should state on the latter that this is being done.

(f) A candidate in his last year in secondary school who elects not to take the validating examination in March but to depend for validation of his certificate upon the Scholastic Aptitude Test of April of the same year should include a statement to that effect when submitting his educational certificate. The latter should be submitted, as in the general case, when the blank form is received from The Adjutant General.

(g) A candidate whose certificate qualifications have been approved, provided he completes his regular high-school or preparatory-school course with good grades and graduates, must bring with him, and present on the day he reports for admission, his diploma or certificate of graduation, together with a certified statement of the grades attained in his academic work, in order that the academic board of the Military Academy may determine whether or not these provisions have been fulfilled. If approval of his certificate was also subject to passing the College Entrance Examination Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test at a later date, he should have a report of his record on this test sent to the Adjutant, West Point, N. Y., as soon as the marks are available. The foregoing does not apply to a candidate whose certificate has been approved unconditionally.

(h) A candidate who has once satisfactorily fulfilled all the mental requirements for entrance will be regarded as qualified at any subsequent apportunity which may arise for entrance with the same class.

(i) A certificate which is accepted as satisfactory for one examination will be regarded as satisfactory for any other examination which may be set for entrance with the same class, unless it has been voided in the meantime by failure in the first examination, in which event it will be reconsidered in connection with the results of that examination, should the candidate be reappointed with a view to admission the same year.

(j) Any certificate accepted for entrance with one class is not valid for entrance with a succeeding class unless reapproved. It must be resubmittted, accompanied by a full statement of the candidate's educational work in the interim, and both certificate and statement will be subject to careful scrutiny by the academic board.

(k) A candidate, not an ex-cadet who has once been declared mentally qualified for entrance upon written examination, either regular or validating, need not undergo a second mental examination in case of any subsequent appointment unless the requirements for entrance have been changed in the meanwhile. A candidate reported not qualified mentally in one or more subjects on one examination will be required to qualify in all subjects at any subsequent examination.

(l) Information on the Scholastic Aptitude Test mentioned in this pamphlet may be obtained from the College Entrance Examination Board. Address it for this purpose at P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J.

(m) Inasmuch as candidates from the United States at large and the Army of the United States are appointed to vacancies in the order of merit competitively established as a result of the regular entrance examination, such candidates are not permitted to submit educational certificates in lieu of the regular examination. [Par. 38]

§ 75.19 Requirements as to age, height, and physical condition. (a) Candidates are eligible for admission from the day they are 17 (or 19 if from the Army of the United States) until the day they become 22 years of age, on which latter day they are not eligible. The age requirements for all candidates as well as the service requirements for appointment from the Army of the United States are statutory and cannot be waived.

(b) No candidate shall be admitted who is less than 5 feet 6 inches in height, or who is deformed or afflicted with any disease or infirmity which would render him unfit for the military service, or who has, at the time of presenting himself, any communicable disease.

(c) Candidates must never have been married.

(d) Each candidate must, on reporting at West Point, present a certificate showing successful vaccination within 1 year; or a certificate of two vaccinations, made at least a month apart, within 3 months. [Par. 39]

§ 75.22 Physical requirements—(a) Hearing. Hearing must be normal (20/20) in each ear for the whispered voice and the ears must be free from acute or chronic disease. The following-named conditions are causes for rejection: The total loss of an ear, marked hypertrophy or atrophy, or disfiguring deformity of the organ; atresia of the external auditory canal, or tumors of this part; acute or chronic suppurative otitis media, or chronic catarrhal otitis media; mastoiditis, acute or chronic; existing perforation of the membrana tympani from any cause whatever.

(b) Vision. (1) Vision as determined by the visual test types (without a cycloplegic) must not fall below 20/30 in either eye without glasses, corrected with glasses to 20/30 in each eye, when no organic disease in either eye exists. Both eyes must be free from acute or chronic disease. Errors of refraction, if considered excessive, may be a cause for rejection even though the visual acuity falls within acceptable limits. Total hyperopia of more than two diopters or total myopia of more than three quarters (.75) diopter in any meridan in either eye is cause for rejection.

(2) The following-named conditions are also cause for rejection: Manifest disturbance of muscle balance; esophoria of more than 10 prism diopters, exophoria of more than 5 prism diopters, or hyperphoria of more than 1 prism diopter; impairment of the sense of color perception in a pronounced degree; trachoma, or xerophthalmia; chronic conjuctivitis; pterygium encroaching upon the cornia; complete or extensive destruction of the eyelids, disfiguring cicatrices, adhesions of the lids to each other or to the eyeball; inversion or eversion of the eyelids, or lagophthalmus; trichiasis, ptosis, blepharospasm, or chronic blepharitis; epiphora, chronic daeryocystitis, or lachrymal fistula; chronic keratitis, ulcers of the cornea, staphyloma, or corneal opacities encroaching on the pupillary area and reducing the acuity of vision below the standard noted above; irregularities in the form of the iris, or anterior or posterior synechiae sufficient to reduce the visual acuity below the standard; opacities of the lens or its capsule, sufficient to reduce the acuity of vision below the standard, or progressive cataract of any degree; extensive coloboma of the choroid or iris, absence of pigment, glaucoma, iritis, or extensive or progressive choroiditis, retinitis, detachment of the retina, neuroretinitis, optic neuritis, or atrophy of the optic nerve; loss or disorganization of either eye, or pronounced exophthalmus, pronounced nystagmus; or permanent or well-marked strabismus; diplopia, or night blindness; abnormal conditions of the eyes due to disease of the brain; malignant tumors of lids or eyeballs; asthenopia accompanying any ocular defect.

[1] In cases where the Scholastic Aptitude Test taken includes a methematical section, the Mathematics Attainment Test is not required. These tests, prepared by the College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West One Hundred Seventeenth Street, New York, N. Y., are the only such tests accepted for exemption from entrance examinations. General information concerning such examinations may be obtained from the College Entrance Examination Board. Address it for this purpose at P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Tests prepared by State or other testing agencies are not accepted.

(c) Teeth. (1) No candidate will be accepted unless he has a minimum of 6 serviceable vital masticating teeth (bicuspids and molars) above and 6 below serviceably opposing and also 4 serviceable vital incisor teeth (incisors and cuspids) above and 4 below serviceably opposing. Therefore, the minimum requirement consists of a total of 12 masticating teeth and 8 incisor teeth, all of which must be so opposed as to serve the purpose of incision and mastication.

(2) Vital teeth properly filled with permanent filling material, or well crowned, will be considered serviceable if otherwise acceptable. A single tooth replacement by a standard method of fixed bridgework will be accepted in lieu of a serviceable vital tooth when the abutment teeth are otherwise acceptable and the bridge well constructed.

(3) A tooth will not be considered serviceable if it fails to enter into serviceable occlusion with an opposing tooth, if it has an unfilled cavity, if it supports a defective filling or crown, if it is nonvital, or if there is destruction of the supporting tissues of the tooth, such as results from chronic gingivitis, pyorrhea, etc.

(4) Causes for rejection are: Failure to meet the standard of minimum requirements outlined above; the loss of three adjoining masticating teeth in either side of the upper or lower jaw; disfiguring spaces between anterior teeth, such as result from the extraction of a tooth; marked irregularity of the teeth; and marked malocclusion. No candidate will be accepted until all cavities in the teeth have been filled with proper permanent fillings.

(d) Physical exercises. Due to the nature of the new cadets' training during their first 2 months at the academy, the physical requirements must, of necessity, be rather strenuous and exacting. Experience has indicated that those cadets who, prior to admission, have hardened themselves physically meet these requirements best. The cooperation of parents is enjoined to encourage future cadets to participate in some form of physical exercise prior to their arrival at the academy.

(e) Physical proportions for height, weight, and chest measurements for all candidates except Filipinos. (1) The requirements of the following tables of physical proportions are for growing youths and are for guidance in connection with the other data of the examination, a consideration of all of which will determine the candidate's physical eligibility. Mere fulfillment of the requirements of the standard tables does not determine eligibility.

Height, inches	Weight, pounds		Chest measure at expiration, inches
	Minimum	Maximum
66	120	170	30 50
67	124	176	30 50

74	152	148	33 00
75	156	201	33 00
76	160	204	33 50

NOTE: Height to be taken without shoes, and weight without clothes.

(2) Fractions greater than ½ inch in height will be considered as an additional inch, but candidates must be at least 66 inches in height.

(3) Medical examiners will recommend rejection of individuals who show poor physical development and those who appear to be undesirable candidates because of excess fat, even though their measurements may come within the figures stated in the above table. In such instances, the report will show in detail the findings upon which recommendation for rejection is based.

(4) Recommendations for waiver of excess weight should be made in cases in which the general appearance and conformation of the candidate and the rest of the examination clearly indicate that he is of the robust type and that there is no tendency to obesity, endocrine imbalance, cardiovascular disease, or other defect which is likely to shorten the period of useful active service normally expected of an Army officer.

§ 75.23 Admission to the academy—(a) Date of admission. Candidates who fully conform to the requirements set forth in the preceding sections, and who report in person to the superintendent on the first week day in July, before 12 m., shall be admitted as cadets to the United States Military Academy and shall receive their warrants of appointment as soon as practicable. Candidates are received beginning at 8 a. m., and it is to their advantage to report as soon as practicable after that hour. Facilities are not available for the housing and feeding of new cadets reporting before that time.

* * * * *

§ 75.25 Pay of cadets. (a) The pay of a cadet is $780 per year plus the cost of 1 ration per day which varies with the cost of food, to commence with his admission to the academy.

(b) Mileage, at 5 cents per mile, while proceeding from his home to the Military Academy, is credited to the account of each cadet after his admission to the academy, except when War Department orders directing him to proceed to the Military Academy are received at a place other than his home and nearer to the Military Academy; in such cases the account will be credited with mileage only from the place of receipt of orders to report to the Military Academy.

(c) A cadet's initial deposit, together with his salary, is sufficient to meet his actual needs at the academy. It is not sufficient, however, to meet, in addition, the expenses of leaves of absence, especially if these involve considerable travel.

(d) Obtaining money from outside sources is regarded with disfavor, unless it be for the purpose of liquidating indebtedness at the cadet store or of defraying the expenses of a leave of absence.

(e) Whenever candidates possessing Government life insurance enter the Military Academy and wish to authorize pay roll deductions for premium payments, provisions may be made whenever outside funds are available for the deposit of additional funds equal to the amount of Government insurance premium payments. Such deposits may be made with the Treasurer, U. S. M. A., monthly, quarterly, semiannually, or annually. In this manner a cadet who authorizes pay roll deductions for insurance premiums will not tend to reduce the balance in his account to a lower level than the average of other cadets. [Par. 50]

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 20 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Vulcan Mine.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Vulcan Mine (Mine Index No. 205) of the Vulcan Fuel Company in Subdistrict 1 in District No. 20 for shipments by rail and for shipments by truck; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 340.4 (Code member price index) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I, § 340.5 (General prices; minimum prices for shipment via rail transportation) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–II, and § 340.21 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Petitioner requested price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Vulcan Mine for rail shipments moving only into Market Areas 234, 237 to 241, inclusive, and 247 to 254, inclusive. Price classifications and minimum price heretofore established for the coals of all other mines in Subdistrict 1 of District No. 20 for rail shipments apply to coals moving into all market areas. Therefore, for the purpose of uniformity, it is deemed advisable to establish price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Vulcan Mine for shipment by rail to all market areas.

PART 977—MANILA FIBER AND MANILA CORDAGE

[General Preference Order M-36, as Amended Jan. 15, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of Manila fiber and Manila cordage for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That:

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Manila fiber" means fiber which is commonly known in the trade by this term and also known as abaca or Manila hemp (either stripped or decorticated), Sumatra abaca and Panama abaca. Except as provided in paragraph (d) (1), Manila fiber does not mean the fiber grades of T, O, W, or Y, as established by the Insular Government of the Philippine Islands.

(2) "Manila cordage" means cable and ropes $\frac{3}{16}$ inch in diameter and larger, and twines used for fishing nets, in which Manila fiber either alone or in combination with other materials is used, but does not include Manila cordage sold or delivered for its scrap value.

(3) "Class A cordage" means Manila cordage which contains such a combination of grades of Manila fiber as will at least equal the fiber quality requirements of Federal Specification T-R-601a.

(4) "Class B cordage" means Manila cordage which contains such a combination of grades of Manila fiber as will give a Becker value not in excess of thirty-nine, such Becker value to be determined according to the methods set forth in said Federal Specification T-R-601a.

(5) "Cordage processor" means any person other than the Navy of the United States who spins, twists, weaves or otherwise uses Manila fiber in the production of Manila cordage.

(6) "Processing" means any use of Manila fiber for the manufacture of any other article or commodity into which the Manila fiber goes or of which it becomes a part.

(7) "Dealer" means any person who procures Manila cordage for storage or for sale, and includes selling agents, and other commerciallly recognized agents acting for their own account or for others, whether or not acquiring title to such Manila cordage, but shall not include an importer.

(8) "Basic monthly poundage" with respect to any cordage processor shall be the average number of pounds per month of Manila cordage sold by such processor during the period January 1 through December 31, 1939. Where this order specifies a percentage of the basic monthly poundage to be processed, sold or delivered during any period, any cordage processor keeping his books on a weekly basis shall apply the said percentage to the weekly periods most nearly approximating the period specified.

(9) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States, including the Philippine Islands. It includes shipments into a free port, free zone or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States, and shipments in bond into the continental United States for transshipment to Canada, Mexico or any foreign country.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries of Manila fiber. No person shall hereafter make or accept delivery of any Manila fiber unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations: Provided, however, That deliveries of Manila fiber may be made:

(1) By and to the Navy of the United States.

(2) By and to the Defense Supplies Corporation.

(3) By and to persons importing or otherwise handling Manila fiber in accordance with written instructions from the Navy of the United States or from Defense Supplies Corporation, provided that such Manila fiber is to be delivered, either processed or unprocessed, directly, or through one or more other persons, to the Navy of the United States or to Defense Supplies Corporation.

(4) By importers to cordage processors of Manila fiber rejected by the Navy of the United States or Defense Supplies Corporation as unfit for their use.

(5) By cordage processors to cordage processors of Manila fiber which at the time of any such delivery had been previously imported into the United States.

(d) Restrictions on processing of Manila fiber. (1) No person shall begin the processing of any Manila fiber, including the fiber of grades T, O, W, or Y, as established by the Insular Government of the Philippine Islands, except for the purpose of manufacturing Class A or Class B cordage for sale or delivery to fulfill the orders hereafter specified in paragraph (e) (2), or such cordage as may be required to meet the specifications of orders of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration or its operating or general agents.

(2) No cordage processor shall put into process in any month, commencing January 1, 1943, more Manila fiber than 37% of his basic monthly poundage, of which percentage not more than 20% shall be put into process to fill purchase orders for Manila cordage uses specified in paragraph (e) (2) (ii).

(3) No person, other than the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or its operating or general agents, the Defense Supplies Corporation, the Metals Reserve Company or an importer, shall hereafter order or accept delivery of any Manila cordage if the amount of the Manila cordage held or under control of such person exceeds one and one half months' supply for such person; and no person, other than those hereinabove excepted, shall have outstanding at any one time orders for future deliveries of Manila cordage in an amount greater than one month's supply for such person. "Supply" as used in this paragraph means the average monthly amount of Manila cordage withdrawn from the inventory of such person, which has been resold or put into actual use by such person, in the three calendar months immediately preceding the calendar month in which said order is placed or delivery is accepted, or in the three calendar months of the previous year which immediately follow the calendar month of that year corresponding with the month in which said order is placed or delivery is accepted, whichever shall be the higher: Provided, however, No person shall be entitled to count as withdrawn from inventory and resold or put into actual use, for the purpose of calculating his permitted supply, any lots of Manila cordage purchased expressly for and resold or delivered to the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the Defense Supplies Corporation, or the Metals Reserve Company, but every such person shall be entitled to include in the said calculation as withdrawn from inventory and resold or put into actual use any lots of Manila cordage sold to any of the foregoing from his general supply of Manila cordage where such lots, or their equivalent, were not purchased by him expressly for such resale: And provided further, That nothing herein contained shall prohibit the importation of, or restrict the inventory of, imported Manila cordage which may be held by any dealer for whose account such Manila cordage was imported.

(h) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of Manila fiber conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion for nondefense work to defense work, may appeal to the Director General for Operations by letter or telegram Ref: M-36, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief, or upon such form or forms as may hereafter be prescribed. (9) "Sets of parts" means parts for office machinery produced at plants in the United States for shipment to foreign countries for assembly into new office machinery of the types listed on Lists A, B, and C.

(b) Restrictions on production—(1) List A and List B quotas. No manufacturer of any kind of new office machinery listed on List A or List B or of sets of parts for such kinds of machinery shall manufacture any such machinery or sets of parts in excess of the sum of the quotas established by paragraphs (b) (1) (i) and (b) (1) (ii) of this order.

(i) 1942 quotas. Between June 1, 1942, and December 31, 1942, inclusive, a manufacturer of new office machinery of any kind listed on List A or List B, or of sets of parts for such kind of machinery, may manufacture a total dollar value of new office machinery of such kind (including sets of parts, but excluding special machines to be delivered under paragraph (c) (3) of this order and machines to be delivered free of restrictions pursuant to an election under paragraph (e) (1) (iv) of the original order L–54–c) equal to seven (7) times the percentage specified in Column I of List A or List B of the average monthly dollar value during the calendar year 1941 of the new office machinery of such kind billed to customers by such manufacturer plus the new office machinery of such kind exported in the form of sets of parts.

(ii) 1943 quotas. Between January 1, 1943 and December 31, 1943, inclusive, a manufacturer of new office machinery of any kind listed on List A or List B, or of sets of parts for such kind of machinery, may manufacture a total dollar value of new office machinery of such kind (including sets of parts, but excluding special machines to be delivered under paragraph (c) (3) of this order and machines to be delivered free of restrictions pursuant to an election under paragraph (e) (1) (iv) of the original order L–54–c) equal to the percentage specified in Column II of List A or List B of the total dollar value of the new office machinery of such kind billed to customers by such manufacturer during the calendar year 1941 plus the new office machinery of such kind exported in the form of sets of parts during the calendar year 1941.

(iii) Basis of leased machinery. Any manufacturer whose customary practice has been to lease substantially all of any particular kind of new office machinery shall base his production quota of such kind of new office machinery upon the aggregate of the average monthly number of new units assembled and sets of parts exported during the calendar year 1941. The number of sets of parts exported in 1941 shall be considered as equal to the number of units into which such sets of parts were ultimately assembled.

(iv) Valuation of production. The dollar value of assembled new office machinery billed during the calendar year 1941 by the manufacturer to either domestic or foreign customers, and the dollar value of assembled new office machinery manufactured after June 1, 1942, shall be based upon the retail list price of such machinery to domestic customers. The dollar value of sets of parts shall be based upon the retail list price of the same kind of machinery, when assembled, to domestic customers. The number of sets of parts exported shall be considered as equal to the number of units into which such sets of parts were ultimately assembled.

(2) Further restrictions on List A production. (i) No manufacturer shall commence fabrication, or cause fabrication to be commenced, of any material for parts, or contract to purchase parts, for the assembly of any new office machinery listed on List A other than the machinery which he is allowed to produce under the terms of this order.

(iii) After December 31, 1943, no manufacturer shall assemble any of the kinds of new office machinery listed on List A.

(3) Further restrictions on List B production. (i) No manufacturer shall commence fabrication, or cause fabrication to be commenced, of any material for parts, or contract to purchase parts, for the assembly of any new office machinery listed on List B other than the machinery which he is allowed to produce under the terms of this order.

(ii) After December 31, 1942, no manufacturer shall fabricate, cause to be fabricated, or contract to purchase, more than 25% of the parts required for the assembly of the new office machinery listed on List B (except calculating and computing machines) which he is permitted to manufacture during the entire period from June 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942.

(iii) After March 31, 1943, no manufacturer shall fabricate, cause to be fabricated or contract to purchase, parts for the assembly of new calculating or computing machines.

(4) Restrictions on List C production. (i) No manufacturer shall manufacture any new office machinery listed on List C or sets of parts therefor, except machines to fill orders approved under paragraphs (c) (2) through (c) (5) inclusive of this order, to fill orders of the Army or Navy of the United States or of the Maritime Commission which were actually on hand on November 11, 1942, and to maintain the minimum practicable working inventory under the circumstances.

(ii) No manufacturer shall commence fabrication, or cause fabrication to be commenced, of any material for parts, or contract to purchase parts, for the assembly of any new office machinery listed on List C other than the machinery which he is allowed to produce under the terms of this order.

(5) Restrictions on List D production. No manufacturer shall fabricate, cause to be fabricated, or contract to purchase, parts for the assembly of any new office machinery listed on List D. No manufacturer shall assemble any new office machinery listed on List D.

(6) Repair and service parts. The restrictions upon the manufacture of new office machinery contained in this paragraph (b) shall not apply to the manufacture of parts to be used to service or repair any kind of office machinery listed on Lists A, B, C, and D.

(7) Discontinued new office machinery. No manufacturer shall fabricate parts for any new office machinery or assemble any new office machinery of any kind which he elected to deliver free of all restrictions pursuant to paragraph (e) (1) (iv) of the original order L–54–c.

(c) Restrictions on delivery—(1) General restrictions. Regardless of the terms of any contract of sale or purchase, or other commitment, or of any preference rating, or any blanket preference rating order, no manufacturer or dealer shall deliver any restricted office machinery except as provided in paragraphs (c) (2) to (c) (7) inclusive of this order other than machines which may be delivered free of restrictions pursuant to an election under paragraph (e) (1) (iv) of the original order L–54–c.

(2) Back orders. A manufacturer or dealer may deliver restricted office machinery to fill orders of the Army or Navy of the United States which were actually on hand on June 1, 1942.

(3) Special orders. Manufacturers or dealers may apply for authorization to deliver special restricted office machinery which, on June 1, 1942, was assembled, or in the process of fabrication and assembly, but which could not otherwise be delivered under the terms of this order. Such application may be made by filing with the War Production Board, in triplicate, plainly marked "Ref: L–54–c", a letter containing a list of all such orders, together with such information as will support the representation of the manufacturer or dealer that the machinery is special. As used in this paragraph, a "special" machine is a machine built to special specification for a customer, with features which render it unusable except by a small class of persons similarly situated.

(4) Future orders of the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission. From time to time, the Director General for Operations will notify manufacturers and dealers, on Form PD–423, of quantities of restricted office machinery which may be delivered without further authorization for the use of the Army or Navy of the United States, or the Maritime Commission, in preference to any other deliveries except when specifically instructed otherwise by the Director General for Operations. Manufacturers and dealers may not deliver restricted office machinery on preference rating certificates PD–3 and PD–3a, except to fill back orders of the Army or Navy of the United States pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) of this order.

(5) Future orders of other persons. (i) Except as provided in paragraphs (c) (2), (c) (3), (c) (4), and (c) (7) of this order, no manufacturer or dealer shall deliver any restricted office machinery to fill any order unless the order is accompanied by a preference rating certificate PD–1A issued after May 31, 1942 and prior to December 1, 1942, or by an authorization to deliver the machinery on a Form PD–688 signed by the Director General for Operations, surrendered to the manufacturer or dealer. Such preference rating certificate PD–1A, or Form PD–688, may be used to secure restricted office machinery only by the person to whom it was directly issued and only when such office machinery is expressly specified on the certificate.

(ii) Persons entitled to restricted office machinery by virtue of a preference rating certificate PD–1A who do not surrender such certificate, but retain the same, as permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended from time to time, shall, in addition to furnishing the endorsement required by such Priorities Regulation No. 3, certify to the manufacturer or dealer from whom the machinery is to be acquired that the certificate was originally issued to such person and that the machinery was expressly specified on the certificate.

(iii) Except when specifically instructed otherwise by the Director General for Operations, the sequence of deliveries of machines authorized on PD–688 certificates shall be determined by the delivery dates specified in the respective certificates. In any case where delivery dates are the same, or it is impossible to make all deliveries on schedule, the sequence of deliveries shall be determined by the respective dates on which the PD–688 certificates were received by the supplier named in such certificates.

(6) Intracompany deliveries. Without further authorization, a manufacturer may for the purpose of redelivery, but not for use, deliver restricted office machinery from one branch, division or section of his enterprise, including majority-owned sales, distribution and manufacturing subsidiaries, to another branch, division or section of the same enterprise, including majority-owned sales, distribution and manufacturing subsidiaries, except that he may not deliver to a subsidiary, branch, or other outlet located outside of the United States, its territories, and possessions.

(7) Delivery to dealers and returns to manufacturers. Without further authorization, dealers may return restricted office machinery to any manufacturer willing to accept the same and manufacturers may accept all such restricted office machinery from dealers. Without further authorization, manufacturers or dealers may deliver restricted office machinery to dealers in the following instances only:

(i) To fill an order, authorized by the terms of the original order L–54–c or this order L–54–c as amended, already received by such dealer, or to replace restricted office machinery delivered by such a dealer from his inventory to fill an order authorized by the terms of the original order L–54–c or this order L–54–c as amended. In either case, such dealer shall furnish to the manufacturer or to the other dealer a photostat or certified copy of the PD–1A, PD–688, or other authorized basis for delivery of restricted office machinery. Reproduction of any PD–1A, PD–688, or any other document for such purpose is hereby permitted.

(ii) To store or display such restricted office machinery on the dealer's premises in the United States, its territories and possessions, provided that the restricted office machinery so stored or displayed is in the absolute control and ownership of the manufacturer or delivering dealer and may be removed, transferred or shipped by such manufacturer or delivering dealer at any time in his discretion.

(8) Deliveries under General Conservation Order L–148. The issuance of an authorization on Form PD–423 or on Form PD–688 to deliver a time stamp machine, a time recording machine, or collateral equipment shall constitute a preference rating of A–7 or higher within the meaning of § 1095.4, General Conservation Order L–148, for the particular items authorized to be delivered.

(d) Special procedures and information. (1) Private contractors engaged in construction work for the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or Defense Plant Corporation and private operators of any plant, shipyard, training school or other enterprise controlled or financed, on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis or otherwise, by the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission or any other agency of the United States Government shall, when requesting restricted office machinery on Form PD–688, furnish a certification by the Government inspector assigned to the project (i) that no Government equipment is available for use in lieu of the equipment requested, (ii) that the contractor or operator has no equipment available from any other source for use in lieu of the equipment requested, and (iii) that the equipment requested is to be used exclusively by the contractor's or operator's private personnel for the duration of the project on work which the contractor is required to perform under the terms of his contract.

(2) Lend-Lease purchasers shall accompany their applications on Form PD–688 with a formal recommendation by the Lend-Lease Administration that such request be granted.

(3) Any person, other than the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, or any Lend-Lease purchaser, desiring to acquire restricted office machinery for export from the United States, except to Canada, must first apply to the Office of Export Control, Board of Economic Warfare, Washington, D. C., for an Export License accompanying such application with an application on Form PD–688 for permission to receive delivery. If the Office of Export Control decides that an Export License should be issued to the applicant, a statement of such decision, together with the application on Form PD–688 and a formal recommendation that the application be granted, is to be forwarded to the War Production Board.

(e) Sets of parts. No person shall deliver any sets of parts for export from the United States unless the Director General for Operations has authorized such delivery on Form PD–423. Any person desiring to deliver sets of parts for export shall apply by letter to the War Production Board, enclosing with his application a Form PD–423 duly prepared for authorization. He shall state in his application the number of units of machinery which may be assembled from such sets of parts, the model numbers of such machines, and the equivalent retail price of similar completed machines when sold in the United States. The authorization to produce sets of parts given by paragraph (b) of this order and the authorization to deliver sets of parts for export given by the Director General for Operations on Form PD–423 shall not be construed to authorize the exportation of such sets of parts unless an export license can be secured. No manufacturer so producing and delivering sets of parts for export shall directly or indirectly import any new office machinery of the kinds listed on List A, List B, or List C into the United States.

(f) Restrictions on types, styles, models, specifications, and use of materials—(1) Elimination of models. The Director General for Operations may, from time to time, order the cessation of production or delivery of any model, style, or type of office machinery, including attachments or repair parts thereof.

(2) Issuance of schedules. The Director General for Operations may, from time to time, issue schedules establishing simplified practices with respect to the types, sizes, forms, materials, or specifications of office machinery. After the effective date of any such schedule, no office machinery shall be fabricated or assembled, except such as conforms to the issued schedule and except as specifically permitted by such schedule.

(3) Elimination of motor driven machines. (i) On and after November 1, 1942, no manufacturer of new duplicating machines of the spirit, gelatin, or stencil types shall incorporate electric motors in more than 20 percent of the aggregate number of duplicating machines of those kinds that he is permitted to produce under his quotas. The incorporation of electric motors in other types of duplicating machines by their manufacturers shall be discontinued except for those styles of machines where motors are essential to their operation.

(ii) No manufacturer of adding machines shall incorporate any electric motor in a new adding machine except a machine for the assembly of which all the necessary parts, including motors not useful for any other purpose, were available or in process on September 8, 1942.

(g) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(i) Records. All manufacturers and dealers affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventory, production and sales of restricted office machinery, and shall, upon request, make such records available for audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(j) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and answers to questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time request.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who wilfully furnishes false information to the Director General for Operations in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations.

(l) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, all communications concerning this order, and all applications shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Services Division, Washington, D. C.; Ref: L–54–c.

INTERPRETATION 1

Under paragraph (e) (1) (iii) (a) of Order L–54–c, the Director General for Operations notifies manufacturers and dealers, on Form PD–423 of quantities of new office machinery which "shall be delivered to the Army, the Navy, or the Maritime Commission, without further authorization." Under paragraph (e) (1) (iii) (b) of the same order, manufacturers and dealers may not deliver new office machinery except pursuant to an order "(other than an order for the Army, the Navy or the Maritime Commission)" accompanied by a preference rating on Form PD–1A.

Whether a delivery is "to" the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission within the meaning of paragraph (e) (1) (iii) (a) and whether an order is "for" the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission within the meaning of paragraph (e) (1) (iii) (b) are determined by the use to be made of the machinery. Delivery is considered as being made "to" the person for whose use the machinery is intended, whether delivery is made directly to such person or through an intermediary. An order is considered to be "for" the person for whose use the machinery is intended, whether the order is placed directly by such person or through an intermediary.

The terms "Army of the United States," "Navy of the United States" and "Maritime Commission" are defined in paragraph (a) (6) to exclude certain cost-plus-fixed-fee contractors. Accordingly, if an order is placed for machinery to be installed by such a contractor but intended for use by the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission, authorization should be secured on Form PD–423. On the other hand, if an order is placed for machinery to be used by such a contractor during the performance of his contract, it must be accompanied by a preference rating on Form PD–1A. These rules apply irrespective of the person or agency which places the order. (Issued August 18, 1942.)

(3) Lettering on standard glass containers for protective coatings shall be limited to the manufacturers' identification (which may include trademark, name, symbol), place of manufacture, date of manufacture by year, design number, and mold or cavity number.

(d) Manufacture. On and after the 7th day of December, 1942, no molds may be manufactured for a protective coating jar or finish which does not conform to the specifications of a standard glass container for protective coatings, nor may any mold for a glass container for protective coatings be replaced—whether because of wear or for any other reason—except by a mold which conforms to the said specifications.

PART 3025—FLUID MILK SHIPPING CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M–200, as Amended Jan. 15, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain metals and materials used in the production of fluid milk shipping containers, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3025.1 Conservation Order M–200—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order: (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Fluid milk shipping container" means a steel container, suitable for use in connection with the transportation in bulk of fluid milk and fluid milk products, which possesses the following characteristics:

(i) A substantially cylindrical shape.

(ii) A coating of tin or a substitute sanitary coating.

(iii) A "necked in" top so that the opening is smaller than any part of the body cylinder.

(3) "Cover" shall mean the device affixed or to be affixed on a fluid milk shipping container for the purpose of protecting and retaining the contents within the container.

(4) "Neck diameter" means the measurement of the diameter of the neck or throat of a fluid milk shipping container at any point between the base and the upper rim of such neck or throat, and, in addition, shall mean that design of opening or neck which is commonly referred to by manufacturers of fluid milk shipping containers by the dimensions stated.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture. On and after the 1st day of October, 1942, no person shall manufacture fluid milk shipping containers or covers except those complying with the following conditions, limitations, and specifications:

(1) Capacity. 4-quart, 8-quart, 10-quart, 12-quart, 20-quart, 32-quart, and 40-quart fluid milk shipping containers shall be manufactured exclusively.

(2) 20-quart fluid milk shipping containers—(i) Steel gauge. Subject to rolling mill tolerances, 20-quart fluid milk shipping containers shall be constructed of the following maximum U. S. Standard gauge steel:

Breasts and necks, 20 gauge steel;
Cylinders, 22 gauge steel;
Bottoms, 18 gauge steel.

(ii) Neck diameter. Subject to normal operating tolerances, neck diameters are to equal $6\frac{1}{8}$" or 7"

(3) 32- and 40-quart fluid milk shipping containers—(i) Steel guage. Subject to rolling mill tolerances, 32- and 40-quart fluid milk shipping containers shall be constructed of the following maximum U. S. standard gauge steel:

Breasts and necks, 18 gauge steel;
Cylinders, 18 gauge steel;
Bottoms, 16 gauge steel

(ii) Neck diameter. Subject to normal operating tolerances, neck diameters of 32-quart fluid milk shipping containers to equal $6\frac{1}{8}$" or $7\frac{1}{4}$", and neck diameters of 40-quart fluid milk shipping containers to equal $6\frac{1}{8}$", 7", or $7\frac{1}{4}$".

(4) Standards applying to 20-quart, 32-quart and 40-quart fluid milk shipping containers—(i) Covers. Sunken cup type covers without umbrella—commonly known in the industry as "plug covers"—only are to be manufactured. Covers to be constructed of 20 gauge steel (U. S. standard), maximum. Both fluid milk shipping containers and covers are to be so constructed as to enable the latter to be used interchangeably on all containers with the same or similar neck diameters.

(ii) Handles. Stamped steel upright handles, not tubular in form or construction, only, shall be manufactured and used for 20-quart, 32-quart, and 40-quart fluid milk shipping containers.

(c) Restrictions on use of steel. During the period from July 1, 1942 to June 30, 1943, no person shall put into process or process, for the manufacture of fluid milk shipping containers and covers, iron and steel of a total weight greater than the following:

(1) 65 percent of the total weight of iron and steel which he processed or put into process for said purpose during the period between July 1, 1941, and June 30, 1942, plus

(2) The difference between the weight of iron and steel actually put into process or processed for the manufacture of fluid milk shipping containers and covers since July 1, 1942, and prior to January 15, 1943, and that which would have been processed or put into process if all fluid milk shipping containers and covers so manufactured had conformed to the specifications of paragraph (b) of this order except with regard to capacities.

(d) Exceptions. (1) The provisions of subparagraphs (2), (3) and (4) of paragraph (b) hereof shall not apply to fluid milk shipping containers of other than 20-quart, 32-quart and 40-quart capacities.

(2) Nothing in this order shall be construed to prevent any person now engaged in the manufacture of fluid milk shipping containers from using steel of a gauge heavier than that permitted by paragraph (b) of this order, or material for handles other than that permitted by paragraph (b) (4) (ii) of this order, which he had on hand or on order on or before the 1st day of October, 1942, in the manufacture of any part of a fluid milk shipping container: Provided, That the manufacture of said fluid milk shipping container is completed on or before the 1st day of November, 1942.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years after October 1, 1942, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, and sales.

(3) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that compliance therewith would disrupt or impair any program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, or that compliance therewith would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of materials conserved, may apply for relief to the War Production Board by letter or other written communication, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason or reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he may deem appropriate.

(6) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M–200.

PART 3122—ELECTRICAL MOTORS AND GENERATORS

[General Conservation Order L–221, as Amended Jan. 15, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials and facilities used in the manufacture of electric motors for defense, for private account, and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3122.1 General Conservation Order L–221—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Motor" means any new rotating equipment or device used to transform electric energy into mechanical energy, and having a rating of one horsepower or more; except motors used in the operation of passenger automobiles, trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers and off-the-highway motor vehicles, as defined in Order L–158, or in the operation of stationary automotive type engines.

(3) "Generator" means any new rotating equipment or device used to transform mechanical energy into electric energy, and having a rating of not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ KW and not more than 6000 KW; except generators used in the operation of passenger automobiles, trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers and off-the-highway motor vehicles, as defined in Order L–158, or in the operation of stationary automotive type engines.

(4) "Manufacture" means the fabrication or assembly of motors or generators.

(5) "Manufacturer" means any enterprise to the extent that it is engaged in the business of manufacturing motors or generators.

(6) "Dealer" means any enterprise to the extent that it acquires motors or generators for resale.

(7) "Used motor or generator" includes reconditioned and rebuilt motors or generators.

(8) "Delivery" includes delivery of a motor or generator from one affiliate to another or from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same enterprise where the recipient affiliate, branch, division or section will use the motor or generator or incorporate it into other machinery.

(9) "Order" means any commitment or other arrangement for the delivery of a new motor or generator whether by purchase, lease, rental or otherwise.

(10) "Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration" does not include any privately operated plant or shipyard financed by, or controlled by any of those organizations, or operated on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance and delivery of orders. (1) On and after January 15, 1943 no manufacturer or dealer shall accept any order for any motor or generator, except where the following conditions exist; and on and after February 1, 1943 no manufacturer or dealer shall make delivery, and no person shall accept delivery from a manufacturer or dealer, of any motor or generator, unless:

(i) The purchaser shall have no idle motor or generator in his possession which is adaptable to the purpose for which the new motor or generator is sought to be purchased;

(ii) The purchaser shall have attempted to obtain, from at least three dealers, a used motor or generator for the purpose for which the new motor or generator is sought to be purchased: Provided, however, That the provisions of this subparagraph shall not apply to any order for 10 or more new motors of an identical kind and rating by a purchaser who fabricates or assembles machinery or equipment into which such motors will be incorporated;

(iii) The motor or generator is not purchased for replacement of existing equipment; and

(iv) The motor or generator is required for installation within the shortest practicable time after delivery and is not for standby purposes. As applied to a person who purchases motors or generators for incorporation into other machinery manufactured by him, "installation" as used above refers only to such incorporation and not to the use of the other machinery. For the purpose of this subparagraph, a motor or generator shall be deemed installed (and not standby) equipment when it is connected to the purchaser's load and electrical system, notwithstanding that the purpose of such equipment may be emergency relief service.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) shall not apply to (i) any order for motors or generators for the use of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or for incorporation into any machinery or equipment to be used by said agencies, or (ii) any order for special motors, by a person who fabricates or assembles machinery or equipment into which such special motors are to be incorporated: Provided, That, as of December 2, 1942, such special motors were required by the function and design of such machinery or equipment. As used in this subparagraph, the term "special motor" means any motor other than a general purpose, horizontal, continuous duty, open type 40° C. rise motor.

(3) On and after January 15, 1943, no manufacturer or dealer shall accept any order for any motor or generator, unless the order has a preference rating of AA–5 or higher.

(c) Restrictions on types of motors. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein or authorized by the Director General for Operations, on and after December 10, 1942 no manufacturer or dealer shall accept any order for any motor; and on and after February 1, 1943 no manufacturer or dealer shall deliver, and no person shall accept delivery from a manufacturer or dealer, of any motor; unless the motor is in compliance with the following standards and is otherwise of the simplest practicable mechanical and electrical design:

(1) Mechanical and electrical design. The following minimum standards shall be applied with respect to electrical and mechanical design:

(i) No motor shall have a temperature rise less than 40° C, for open type; 50° C, for splash-proof type; and 55° C for totally enclosed type motors: Provided, however, That the temperature rise of the motor may vary from the above standards to the extent that the manufacturer has heretofore provided tolerance therefrom in his design and manufacture of the same or a similar type motor rated 40° C, 50° C, or 55° C, as the case may be.

(ii) No motor shall include a special enclosure to make it other than open type; except that (a) a motor may be explosion proof type if it is to be used in a Class I hazardous location, as defined in Paragraph 5005, Article 500, Chapter 5 of the National Electrical Code approved by the American Standards Association August 7, 1940; (b) a motor may be totally enclosed if it is to be used in a Class II hazardous location, as defined in Paragraph 5006, Article 500, Chapter 5 of the above Code, or if it is to be used generally in an atmosphere which is corrosive or which contains such quantities of material particles, dust or fumes as to be destructive of an open type motor; (c) a motor may be splash-proof type in any case where the motor is to be permanently installed outdoors without other protection or where the motor will be subjected to continually falling material particles, or to drops of splashing or jet propelled liquids falling at regular intervals of not less than once a day; and that (d) the provisions of this paragraph (c) (1) (ii) shall not apply to any motor to be used on board any vessel owned or operated by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration: Provided, however, That in any case where the requirements of General Limitation Order L–147, or any action taken by the Director General for Operations thereunder shall be more restrictive than the requirements of this subparagraph, the former shall apply.

(iii) Where practicable, AC polyphase motors shall be single voltage.

(iv) All alternating current multi-speed motors shall be single-winding; except motors for use in metal cutting machines.

(v) No motor shall be of slip ring type, except for hoist, crane, conveyor, elevator, tow, or dragline duty.

(vi) No motor shall be direct current type; except (a) where only direct current is available to the user; or (b) for use on a metal cutting machine or on testing equipment; or (c) where speed matching is required.

(vii) No direct current motor shall have a lower base speed than as prescribed below:

Horsepower rating:	Minimum base speed
1 to 5 incl.	600 r. p. m.
5.1 to 25 incl.	450 r. p. m.
25.1 to 75 incl.	400 r. p. m.

(2) Horsepower loading. The following standards shall be applied in determining horsepower loads for motor ratings:

(i) Horsepower required for purposes of ascertaining load as provided herein shall be determined by test or, where test is impossible, by careful calculation or comparison with known power requirements of similar apparatus.

(ii) Where the motor rated voltage will be maintained and the ambient temperature, normally, will be below 40° C, and will only occasionally, and for short periods, equal or exceed 40° C: (a) in the case of alternating current motors rated 40° C open type, continuous duty, the horsepower rating shall be not more than 80% of the determined horsepower load; (b) in the case of alternating current or direct current motors rated 50° C semi-enclosed, or 55° C totally enclosed, continuous duty, the horsepower rating shall be not more than 91% of the determined horsepower load; and (c) in the case of direct current motors rated 40° C open type, continuous duty, the horsepower rating shall be not more than 87% of the determined horsepower load: Provided, however, That in any case where the application of any of the above formulae results in a horsepower rating, which is not a standard horsepower rating, the rating may be the standard horsepower rating next above the rating resulting from the application of the formula.

Example: Where the horsepower required as determined in subdivision (i), is 9.3 HP, of which 80% would be 7.44, a motor not exceeding 7.5 standard HP should be delivered.

(3) Speed. The following minimum standards shall be applied in determining motor speed:

(i) All alternating current motors, 25 horsepower and below shall have a synchronous speed of at least 1800 R. P. M. at 60 cycles (four pole winding), and corresponding speeds at other frequencies: Provided, however, That in any case where the purchaser deems such speed impracticable he shall endorse on the certification required by paragraph (d) below such facts as shall demonstrate such impracticability, and if the manufacturer shall likewise certify such impracticability on the order, the provisions of this subdivision (i) shall not apply.

(ii) All other motors shall be of the highest practicable speed for the purposes for which purchased.

(d) Certification. (1) Each person placing an order on and after December 10, 1942 with a manufacturer or dealer for delivery of a motor or generator, and each person who receives delivery of a motor or generator from a manufacturer or dealer on and after February 1, 1943, pursuant to an order placed prior to December 10, 1942, shall certify to the manufacturer or dealer, as a condition to receiving delivery, the following (in substantially the form described below) on the purchase order or in a separate document (except that there may be omitted therefrom any portion relating to provisions of this order which are inapplicable in the particular case):

The undersigned hereby certifies that:

(A) (i) He has no idle motor (or generator) in his possession, except the following which is not adaptable to his purpose for the reasons stated below:

(ii) He has been unable to obtain a used motor (or generator) for his purpose from the following dealers (at least three):

(iii) The motor (or generator) is not for purposes of replacement of existing equipment (except as otherwise authorized by the Director General for Operations, upon appeal, when copy of authorization is to be attached):

(iv) The motor (or generator) is required for installation within ——— days after delivery and is not for standby purposes.

(B) The motor or motors described in the within (or attached) order, or orders, are in compliance with paragraph (c) (1) of General Limitation Order L–221 as follows:

(Here explain how design of motor meets requirements of each subdivision of paragraph (c) (1)).

(C) Horsepower required has been carefully determined in accordance with paragraph (c) (2) (i) and the horsepower rating of the motor or motors is in accordance with paragraph (c) (2) (ii) as follows:

(Here describe method of determining horsepower rating in accordance with said paragraph)

(D) (If the motor is AC, 25 horsepower or below, and does not have a synchronous speed of at least 1800 R.P.M. at 60 cycles (4 pole winding) and corresponding speeds at other frequencies, here provide the purchaser's certification required by paragraph (c) (3) (i)).

(Authorized official)

In any case where an order relates to motors or generators of the identical kind and rating covered by a certification previously furnished to the same manufacturer or dealer, any facts included in the previous certification and which have remained unchanged may be incorporated in the certification required with respect to the current order by reference to the previous certification.

(2) Such certification shall be signed by a duly authorized and responsible official, employee, or agent of the purchaser, and shall constitute a representation to the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, as well as to the supplier, of the facts certified therein.

No person shall make delivery under this order who has reason to believe that the purchaser has furnished a false certification; and no person shall falsely furnish the certification specified above.

Any manufacturer or dealer may rely upon the facts furnished in the above mentioned certification and shall not be responsible for any action taken by him under this order in reliance upon inaccurate or untrue statements therein, unless he has reason to believe that such statements are inaccurate or untrue.

(3) Each manufacturer who manufactures a motor for delivery as part of other machinery or equipment which he also manufactures shall provide and retain in his records, with respect to each such motor, a certification similar to that provided for in subparagraph (1) and (2) above, signed by a duly authorized and responsible official or employee connected with the production of such motor; but no certification shall be required by the purchaser of the machinery which includes the motor. Such certification by the manufacturer shall constitute a representation to the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, of the facts certified therein.

(e) Authorization of Director General for Operations. Application for the authorization of the Director General for Operations to deviate from the standards and conditions of paragraph (c) shall be made by the purchaser or proposed purchaser of the motor (or by the manufacturer in any case where the motor is to be incorporated into other machinery manufactured by the same manufacturer) by letter or telegram or other communication addressed to the General Industrial Equipment Division, War Production Board, setting forth facts sufficient to enable the Director General for Operations to determine the necessity for such authorization. If granted, the authorization shall be transmitted by the purchaser to his supplier.

(f) Exemptions. The limitations and restrictions of paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this order shall not apply (1) until March 2, 1943, to any motor or generator delivered to and for the direct use of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration; (2) to any motor or generator delivered for use in any foreign country (except Canada); (3) to any motor or generator delivered to any manufacturer or dealer for resale as a motor or generator and not as part of other machinery or equipment: Provided, however, That all the limitations and restrictions of this order shall apply to any resale of any such motor or generator; (4) to any motor or generator to be used above deck on any vessel or to be used in the operation of combat equipment. As used herein, "combat equipment" means any combat end product (including but not limited to, ammunition and other ordnance, tanks, warships, and aircraft) prescribed for field or combat use by the Army or Navy of the United States.

(g) Production schedules. (1) On and after February 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall manufacture any motor or generator unless the motor or generator is included in a production schedule approved by the Director General for Operations as provided below.

(2) On or before the 20th day of December and of each succeeding calendar month, every manufacturer shall file with the Director General for Operations a report on Form PD–738 which shall include such manufacturer's proposed production schedules of motors and generators so far as then planned, and such other information as shall be required by said Form PD–738. The production schedule for the calendar month following the date of filing shall be deemed to be approved by the Director General for Operations upon receipt of the above mentioned report by the War Production Board unless and until the Director General for Operations shall otherwise direct. Regardless of the terms of any other order or rule or regulation of the War Production Board, or of any commitment by the manufacturer or any customer, the Director General for Operations may at any time change any schedule; direct the cancellation of any order held by any manufacturer whether or not included or reflected in any schedule; prescribe any other schedule for production; allocate any order theretofore received by the manufacturer to any other manufacturer; or direct the delivery of any motor or generator, in production or completed to any person, at the established price and terms. No manufacturer shall alter any approved or prescribed production schedule unless authorized or directed to do so by the Director General for Operations.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, and sales.

All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as the Director General for Operations shall from time to time request.

(2) Other limitation orders. Nothing in this order shall be construed to permit any person to sell, deliver, or otherwise transfer, or any manufacturer to purchase, receive delivery of or otherwise acquire any raw materials, semi-processed parts, or finished products in contravention of the terms of any L or M Order, or amendments or supplements thereto or other regulations of the War Production Board effective at the date of any such sale, delivery, or other transfer. Where the limitations imposed by any other L or M Order are applicable to the subject matter of this order, the most restrictive limitation shall apply, unless otherwise specifically provided herein.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be adressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: L–221.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Supp. Order 5,[1] Amendment 3]

LICENSING DEALERS SELLING WASTE, SCRAP AND SALVAGE MATERIALS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) (1) of § 1305.7 are amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1305.7 * Provisions licensing dealers selling waste, scrap and salvage materials to consumers (and in the case of iron and steel scrap to consumers or their brokers)—(a) License required. A license as a condition of selling is required of every dealer now or hereafter selling to a consumer (and in the case of iron and steel scrap to a consumer or his broker) any waste, scrap or salvage material for which maximum prices are established by the price schedules and price regulations specified in paragraph (b) hereof, or by any other price schedule or regulation now or hereafter issued or amended by the Office of Price Administration making applicable by reference the provisions of this order. No person whose license is suspended in proceedings under section 205 (f) (2) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall, during the period of suspension, sell any waste, scrap or salvage materials as to which his license to sell is suspended.

(b) License granted. Effective May 20, 1942, every dealer now or hereafter selling to a consumer (and in the case of iron and steel scrap, to a consumer or his broker) any waste, scrap or salvage material for which maximum prices are established by Revised Price Schedules and Price Regulations Nos. 2, 3, 4, 8, 12, 20, 30, 47, 55, 70, 87, 90, 115, and 123, respectively[1] (as now or hereafter amended or supplemented), or by any other price schedule or regulation now or hereafter issued or amended by the Office of Price Administration making applicable by reference the provisions of this order, is by this Supplementary Order No. 5 granted a license as a condition of selling any such waste, scrap or salvage material. The provisions of this Supplementary Order No. 5 and of the price schedules and price regulations specified in this paragraph shall be deemed to be incorporated in the license hereby granted, and any violation of any provision so incorporated shall be a violation of the provisions of said license. § 1427.8 Adjustable pricing. It is permissible under this regulation to provide in a contract that the price shall be adjustable to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

C.

(c) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 5 [1]—Licensing, are applicable to every dealer subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 302 selling magnesium scrap to a consumer. "Dealer" shall have the meaning given to it by Supplementary Order No. 5.

§ 1427.13 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 302 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1427.14 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 302, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Magnesium scrap" includes all materials containing more than 50 percent magnesium by weight which are the waste or by-product of any kind of metal working or of any industrial use of magnesium. The term also includes articles containing more than 50 percent magnesium by weight which have been discarded from their original use because of obsolescence, failure or other reasons; it does not include articles, other than the waste or by-product materials referred to above, which are still useful in their existing state for their original purpose if such articles are bought and sold for reuse in their existing state for their original purpose.

(3) "Remelt magnesium ingot" includes all kinds and grades of ingot containing more than 50 per cent magnesium by weight, if the magnesium contained in such ingot is derived principally from magnesium scrap.

(4) "Consumer" includes any person whose business consists, in whole or in part, of smelting, refining, melting, or otherwise processing scrap into a form other than scrap or of having such scrap so processed for his account by another person under a toll or conversion agreement. Any parent or subsidiary of a consumer and any person owned, operated, affiliated with, under common control with, or otherwise controlled by, a consumer, and any person owned, operated or otherwise controlled by an officer, director, partner, or proprietor of a consumer shall also be considered to be a consumer for the purposes of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 302.

(5) "Point of shipment" means the point at which magnesium scrap is first loaded on a conveyance for transportation directly to the buyer's receiving point. This is usually the seller's plant, warehouse, or yard, but if the scrap is shipped directly to the buyer's receiving point from some point other than the seller's plant, warehouse, or yard, such other point is the point of shipment. In the case of scrap shipped by water from outside the limits of the continental United States, the point of shipment means the place within the limits of the continental United States where the material is loaded on a conveyance for transportation directly to the buyer's receiving point. If such scrap is brought into the continental United States by overland shipment from Mexico or Canada, the point of shipment means the freight station in the continental United States at or nearest the point on the boundary between the United States and Mexico or Canada, as the case may be, at which the scrap first enters the United States.

(6) "At the buyer's receiving point" means that magnesium scrap or remelt magnesium ingot has arrived at the buyer's plant, warehouse or yard and is ready for unloading.

§ 1427.15 Effective date of Maximum Price Regulation No. 302. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 302 (§§ 1427.1 to 1427.17 inclusive) shall become effective January 20, 1943.

§ 1427.16 Appendix A: Maximum prices for magnesium scrap—(a) Transportation charges. The maximum prices established for magnesium scrap in this § 1427.16 are f. o. b. point of shipment. Actual costs of transportation from the point of shipment to the buyer's receiving point, and also the cost of returning steel drums or other containers to the seller, may be charged to, and paid by, the buyer.

(b) Schedule of maximum prices.

Grade 2:
Solids	9	10
Borings & turnings	6	7
(3) Obsolete scrap:
Uncontaminated	11	12
Contaminated	9	10

NOTE 1. (a) "Plant scrap" means scrap which is generated in the course of fabrication or manufacture and includes new material or parts rejected or discarded because defective, damaged in processing, or otherwise unfit for use.

(b) The terms "solids" and "solid plant scrap" mean plant scrap generated by shearing, clipping, cutting, blanking, or other similar process, also defective or rejected castings and forgings, and gates, sprues, risers and similar foundry scrap.

(c) Magnesium scrap shall not be deemed to be segregated, whether in the form of solids or in the form of borings, turnings or other machinings, unless it consists of one alloy only and is so identified, handled and kept free from contamination as to conform to chemical specifications issued by the American Society for Testing Materials for the type of material from which it is generated (such as ASTM Designation B 80-41T, Sand Castings): Provided, That the alloys designated 4 and 17 may be combined.

(d) "Pure" solids shall contain 99.8 % or more magnesium by weight.

NOTE 2. (a) All plant scrap other than segregated plant scrap shall be deemed to be "mixed or contaminated" plant scrap.

(b) Mixed or contaminated plant scrap Grade 1, shall consist of scrap which conforms to the specifications set forth in § 1427.17 (c), Note 2, for Class B ingot.

(c) Mixed or contaminated plant scrap Grade 2, shall consist of scrap which conforms to the specifications set forth in § 1427.17 (c), Note 3, for Class C ingot.

(d) Mixed or contaminated plant scrap not conforming to the specifications of either Grade 1 or Grade 2 shall be bought and sold for not more than a price, below the maximum prices herein established for Grade 2, fairly reflecting the relative value of such scrap.

NOTE 3. (a) "Obsolete" scrap includes all scrap other than plant scrap.

(b) Obsolete scrap shall be deemed to be uncontaminated only if it is free from all metals, other than magnesium, which are not ingredients of an alloy containing more than 50% magnesium by weight. If obsolete scrap is contaminated the maximum prices herein established may be paid only on the basis of the actual weight of magnesium or magnesium alloy contained, and not for any metal not an ingredient of such an alloy.

NOTE 4. If borings and turnings contain oil, moisture, cutting compounds, or other forms of contamination, maximum prices may be paid only on the basis of the actual weight of magnesium or magnesium alloy contained; in addition, if such scrap contains more than 10% oil, by weight, the maximum price per pound of magnesium or magnesium alloy contained shall be reduced 1 cent per pound for each of the respective grades of scrap.

NOTE 5. The classification of magnesium scrap according to the grades set forth herein shall be determined by analysis. In all cases the analysis made by the buyer shall be controlling except that, at the election of the parties, the controlling analysis may be made by a third person acting as referee. The compensation of such a referee may be paid in whole or in part by the buyer: Provided, That no part of such compensation shall be directly or indirectly paid to or received by the seller.

NOTE 6. In determining whether the maximum prices set forth in Column I or those in Column II are applicable, the weight of any steel drums or other containers shall be deducted and the weight of the remaining material, at the buyer's receiving point, shall be used in all cases.

NOTE 7. The maximum prices herein established shall not be increased by any commission or other service charge, nor shall any premium for special preparation be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

NOTE 8. Neither this Maximum Price Regulation No. 302 nor the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to sales or deliveries of magnesium residues such as drosses, sludge, sawings, grindings, sweepings and filings.

§ 1427.17 Appendix B: Maximum prices for remelt magnesium ingot—(a) Delivery charges. The maximum prices for remelt magnesium ingot established in this § 1427.17 include transportation costs to any destination within the continental United States, not exceeding the lowest carload rate of rail freight, but in no event to exceed 75 cents per hundredweight. Actual transportation costs in excess of those so included may be charged to, and paid by, the buyer.

(b) Quantity differentials. The maximum prices established herein for remelt magnesium ingot are applicable if such ingot is sold or delivered in quantities of 20,000 pounds or more. The following premiums may be charged, in addition to the maximum prices set forth below, for the quantities specified:

Quantity:	Premium (cents per pound)
10,000 to 20,000 pounds	¼
1,000 to 10,000 pounds	½
Less than 1,000 pounds	1

In determining whether the quantity differentials herein provided are applicable, the quantity sold or the quantity delivered to one buyer at one time, whichever is larger, shall be used in all cases, and regardless of the fact that such sale or shipment may be composed of different classes of ingot: Provided, That if the quantity sold exceeds the amount which the buyer is authorized by the War Production Board to receive in any allocation period, the amount which the buyer is so authorized to receive may be used instead of the quantity sold.

Prices at which such sales take place shall be submitted with a complete description of the shape involved and a detailed description of the cost factors justifying the higher price to the Office of Price Administration. If the Price Administrator disapproves the price submitted, the selling price shall be revised downward to the maximum price which the Price Administrator may approve for that shape and any payment made in excess of the price so approved shall be refunded to the buyer. Thirty days after such price is submitted, in the absence of a notification to the contrary from the Office of Price Administration, the price shall stand approved and shall be the maximum price applicable to sales of primary lead in that particular shape.

Contracts entered into prior to January 20, 1943, for primary lead in ingots, linked ingots, or other special shapes under the terms of and at prices in conformance with Revised Price Schedule No. 69, may be carried out at contract prices until February 19, 1943.

When used in paragraph (a) of this section, in reference to carload lots, the term "base price" means the price quoted in paragraph (c) of this section at the point of delivery. If the point of delivery is not listed, the price listed for the nearest point in distance to the point of delivery shall prevail.

The above grades of primary lead are to be determined in accordance with the specifications of the American Society for Testing Materials. Primary lead which fails to meet such standards should be sold at normal differentials below the established maximum prices.

The minimum quantity making up a carload lot for the purposes of Revised Price Schedule No. 69 shall be the minimum weight, as set forth in the tariffs of railroad carriers, upon which the lowest railroad carload rate from the point of shipment to the point of destination is based: Provided, however, That where a smaller quantity is shipped which would move at any railroad carload rate rather than at a railroad less-than-carload rate between such points, because a lower transportation charge is produced thereby, such smaller quantity shall be considered a carload lot. The seller may, upon shipping such smaller quantity, add to the carload lot prices applicable an amount per pound not to exceed the difference between (1) the rail transportation charge, on a per pound basis, actually paid for the quantity shipped and (2) the lowest railroad carload rate, on a per pound basis, applicable to a shipment from such point of shipment to such point of destination. Any such amount added as a transportation charge must be shown in all records or reports required to be kept or submitted in accordance with any provision of this schedule or any amendment thereto, and in all price quotations, bills, and invoices.

Whenever primary lead of two or more grades or forms is sold, shipped, delivered or transferred to the same purchaser, consignee, or transferee in carload lots, the carload lot maximum price shall apply to each grade or form although the amount of any such grade or form so sold, shipped, delivered or transferred may not alone constitute a carload lot.

(b) Sold and shipped, delivered, or carried away in less than carload lots. The term "carload maximum price" referred to in subparagraphs (1) and (2) below means the maximum price as determined in paragraph (a) of this section, except that for the purposes of subparagraphs (1) and (2) below the maximum price shall be determined at the point of shipment instead of at the point of delivery. In this determination, the term "base price" means the price quoted in paragraph (c) of this section at the point of shipment. If the point of shipment is not listed, the price listed for the nearest point in distance to the point of shipment shall prevail.

(1) Sales of primary lead by the producer of the lead sold.

For sale in lots of:	Maximum price, per pound (f. o. b. point of shipment)
20,000 lb. and less than a carload.	Carload maximum price plus .15¢
10,000 lb. and less than 20,000 lb.	Carload maximum price plus .25¢
2,000 lb. and less than 10,000 lb.	Carload maximum price plus .40¢
Less than 2,000 lb.	Carload maximum price plus .50¢

(2) Sales by all other persons except plumbing supply houses.

For sale in lots of:	Maximum price, per pound (f. o. b. point of shipment)
20,000 lb. and less than a carload.	Carload maximum price plus .65¢
10,000 lb. and less than 20,000 lb.	Carload maximum price plus .75¢
2,000 lb. and less than 10,000 lb.	Carload maximum price plus 1.00¢
Less than 2,000 lb.	Carload maximum price plus 1.50¢

(3) Sales by plumbing supply houses. No plumbing supply house shall sell, offer to sell, deliver, or transfer primary lead at higher prices than those resulting from applying to the cost of the material the same percentage mark-up obtained by such supply house on a sale on October 1, 1941, or on the last day previous thereto on which a sale took place of a similar quantity of the same grade of lead.

Any plumbing supply house first selling, offering for sale, delivering, or transferring primary lead after October 1, 1941, shall have his mark-up on such primary lead approved by the Office of Price Administration. Pending such approval by the Price Administrator, any plumbing supply house may sell and deliver or offer to sell and deliver, and any person, in the course of trade or business, may buy, offer to buy, or receive primary lead from a plumbing supply house at the cost of material plus the mark-up submitted for approval. If, however, the Price Administrator disapproves the mark-up submitted, the selling price shall be revised downward to the maximum price calculated by adding to the cost of material the mark-up which the Price Administrator may approve, and any payment made in excess of that price shall be refunded to the buyer. Thirty days after such mark-up is submitted, in the absence of a notification to the contrary from the Office of Price Administration, the mark-up submitted shall stand approved and shall be the maximum mark-up applicable.

(4) Terms of sale. The maximum prices set forth above are f. o. b. point of shipment. Primary lead in less than carload lots may, however, be sold, offered for sale, delivered, or transferred at a price delivered buyer's receiving point. In such cases, whenever the total delivered price exceeds the maximum f. o. b. point of shipment price fixed by Revised Price Schedule No. 69, in all price quotations (i) the transportation charge must be shown as a separate item and (ii) the price f. o. b. point of shipment, obtained by subtracting the transportation charge from the total delivered price, must not exceed the maximum f. o. b. point of shipment price set forth in Revised Price Schedule No. 69.

Whenever delivery is made in the seller's conveyance, the transportation charge shall not exceed the charge which would be applicable on an identical shipment from the same point of shipment to the same receiving point at the lowest available commercial transportation rate. In such cases the transportation charge must be shown as a separate item in all price quotations.

When used in Revised Price Schedule No. 69, the term "point of shipment" means the point from which the seller ships to the buyer. This is usually the seller's plant, warehouse, or yard, but, where the material is shipped directly to the buyer from some point other than the seller's plant, warehouse, or yard, such other point is the point of shipment.

PART 1355—LEAD

[MPR 70]

LEAD SCRAP MATERIALS; SECONDARY LEAD; BATTERY LEAD SCRAP; AND PRIMARY AND SECONDARY ANTIMONIAL LEAD

The title and preamble are amended, and the sections of Revised Price Schedule No. 70 are renumbered and amended to read as set forth herein.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to revise Revised Price Schedule No. 70. The Price Administrator has given due consideration to the prices of lead scrap materials, secondary lead, battery lead scrap, and primary and secondary antimonial lead prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

The maximum prices established by this regulation are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 70 is hereby issued.

Provided, That the seller may charge and the buyer may pay for the copper content of terminals of submarine batteries in addition to the maximum price established by this section, the maximum price provided by Revised Price Schedule No. 20, as amended—Copper scrap and copper alloy scrap—for such copper scrap.

(2) Single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight. For single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight, not less than $3.00 shall be subtracted from the maximum price for the entire shipment as determined in accordance with subparagraph (a) (1) of this section.

(3) Alternate method of determining the maximum price for single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight. For single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight, the maximum price may be determined without recourse to the formula stated in subparagraph (a) (2) of this section. In that case the maximum price shall be $3.50 per cwt., f. o. b. point of shipment.

(1) Complete delivery is made within a period of 30 days;

(2) The commission is shown as a separate charge on all records;

(3) The broker does not divide the commission with any other person;

(4) The contract is fully performed before the commission, or any portion thereof, is received by the broker; and

(3) Alternate method of determining the maximum price for single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight. For single shipments of less than 8,000 pounds, net shipping weight, the maximum price may be determined without recourse to the formula stated in paragraph (a) (2) of this section. In that case the maximum price shall be $3.50 per cwt., f. o. b. point of shipment.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED, AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 303]

FROZEN CANADIAN SMELTS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the prices of frozen Canadian smelts have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of frozen Canadian smelts prevailing between October 1, 1941, and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable, and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The maximum prices established herein are not below the average price of such commodities in the year 1941.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 303 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1364.851 to 1364.862, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1364.851 Sales of frozen Canadian smelts at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On or after January 21, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver any frozen Canadian smelts, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any Canadian smelts at prices higher than the maximum prices set by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

§ 1365.852 Where the regulation applies. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 1364.853 Sales to which this regulation does not apply. (a) The provisions of this regulation shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of frozen Canadian smelts to a purchaser if prior to January 21, 1943, such frozen Canadian smelts have been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to such purchaser.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(b) The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to any sales at retail. A sale at retail is a sale to an ultimate consumer, other than industrial or commercial user.

§ 1364.854 Relation to other regulations. (a) The provisions of this regulation repeal the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

(b) The maximum price at which a person may export frozen Canadian smelts shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1364.855 Conditional agreement. No seller of frozen Canadian smelts shall enter into an agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices provided by § 1364.861; in the event that this regulation is amended or is determined by a court to be invalid or upon any other contingency: Provided, That if a petition for amendment has been duly filed, and such petition requires extensive consideration, the Administrator may grant an exception from the provisions of this section permitting the making of contracts adjustable upon the granting of the petition for amendment.

§ 1364.856 Records and reports. (a) Every person making a purchase or sale of frozen Canadian smelts in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, other than a purchaser at retail, after January 20, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each such purchase or sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and of the seller, the price contracted for or received, the quantity and a description of the grade or brand, style of pack, and container size of frozen Canadian smelts.

(b) Such person shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1364.857 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to frozen Canadian smelts, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or by changing the grade or style of processing or the packaging of frozen Canadian smelts.

§ 1364.858 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violations of this regulation or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any act or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or of its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1364.859 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1364.860 Definitions. (a) When used in this maximum price regulation the term:

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket Nos. B-112, B-275]

SAMUEL C. HAER AND FRED B. HAER

ORDER ADOPTING PROPOSED FINDINGS OF FACT, ETC.

In the matter of Samuel C. Haer and Fred B. Haer, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of Samuel C. Haer and Fred B. Haer, code member.

In the matter of Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, code member.

Order approving and adopting the proposed findings of fact, proposed conclusions of law and recommendation of the examiner and revoking code membership.

The proceedings herein were instituted upon a complaint filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on October 16, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, by District Board 1, and were duly consolidated into one proceeding. The complaint alleged that Samuel C. Haer and Fred B. Haer, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of Samuel C. Haer and Fred B. Haer, a code member of District 1, operating the Haer mine, Mine Index No. 1464, in District 1, wilfully violated the provisions of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code, and the rules and regulations thereunder, and prayed that the Division either cancel and revoke the code membership of Samuel C. Haer and Fred B. Haer or, in its discretion, direct code member to cease and desist from violations of the code and the rules and regulations thereunder.

Hearings were held in the matters involved herein on January 9, and on July 30, 1942, before duly designated Examiners of the Division, at a hearing room thereof at Altoona, Pennsylvania. All interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and otherwise be heard. District Board 1 and code member appeared at the hearing.

Examiner Cuff, who was authorized to prepare and submit a report on the basis of the entire record, made and entered his Report, Proposed Findings of Fact, Proposed Conclusions of Law and Recommendation in this matter, dated September 10, 1942, finding that Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, a code member, wilfully violated sections 4 II (e) and 4 II (g) of the Act and Parts II (e) and II (g) of the Code by selling (1) during the period from October 3, 1940, through April 26, 1941, 734.66 net tons of run of mine coal produced at code member's Haer Mine, Mine Index No. 1464, located in Indiana County, Pennsylvania, in District 1, at a price of $2.25 per net ton delivered f. o. b. facilities of the purchaser, whereas the effective minimum price for such coal was $2.20 per net ton f. o. b. the mine and the transportation and other incidental charges thereon, were not less than 30 cents per net ton, and (2) during the period from May 3, 1941, through November 21, 1941, 857.73 tons of run of mine coal, likewise produced at said Haer mine, at a price of $2.40 per net ton delivered f. o. b. facilities of the purchaser, whereas the effective minimum price for such coal was $2.20 per net ton f. o. b. the mine and the transportation and other incidental charges thereon were not less than 30 cents per ton.

The Examiner further found and recommended that the membership in the Code of said Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, be cancelled and revoked and that prior to their restoration into membership in the Code, the partnership should be required to pay to the United States a tax in the amount of $1,366.27, in accordance with the provisions of section 5 (c) of the Act.

An opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to said Examiner's Report and supporting briefs, and no such exceptions or supporting briefs have been filed.

The undersigned has considered the record in these matters and has determined that the Proposed Findings of Fact, Proposed Conclusions of Law and the Recommendation of the Examiner should be approved and adopted as the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law of the undersigned.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the Proposed Findings of Fact and Proposed Conclusions of Law of the Examiner be, and the same are hereby approved and adopted as the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law of the undersigned;

It is further ordered, That effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof, the code membership of Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, operating the Haer Mine, Mine Index No. 1464, located in Indiana County, Pennsylvania, in District 1, be and it hereby is cancelled and revoked.

It is further ordered, That prior to reinstatement of said Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, individually and as copartners, doing business under the name and style of Samuel C. Haer, Arthur L. Haer and B. C. Stear, into membership in the Code, there shall be paid to the United States a tax, as provided in section 5 (c) of the Act, in the amount of $1,366.27.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 1 for a change of price classifications and minimum prices and for a change in seam designation for the coals of the Getch Coal Co. Mine, Mine Index No. 746 of Ellinger & Getch.

Order severing Docket No. A-1787, Part II from Docket No. A-1787, denying temporary relief in Docket No. A-1787, Part II, and notice of and order for hearing.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been filed with the Division requesting the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices, both temporary and permanent, for the coals of certain mines; corrections in the designations of the shipping points for the coals of certain other mines; a change in shipping point for the coals of Ray S. Walker (Bradford Coal Company) and a change in seam designation for the coals of the Getch Coal Co. Mine, Mine Index No. 746 of Ellinger and Getch; and

Mine, Mine Index No. 746 of Ellinger and Getch be changed from "E" to "D"; that the classification of these coals be raised from "F" to "E" in Size Groups 3, 4, and 5, respectively, for all shipments except truck, and that the minimum f. o. b. mine prices applicable to such coals in Size Groups 3, 4, and 5 be increased to $2.45, $2.30, and $2.25 respectively, for truck shipments, as to which it appears that no final determination should be made at this time; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the portion of Docket No. A-1787 relating to the coals of the Getch Coal Co. Mine, Mine Index No. 746 of Ellinger & Getch be, and it hereby is, severed from Docket No. A-1787 and designated as Docket No. A-1787, Part II.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter under the applicable provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and the rules of the Division be held on January 28, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It further appearing, That the Commission is unable to decide that such proposed new "Longram" classification of telegraph communications provided for in said tariff schedules, and the charges, regulations, practices, and services for and in connection with such "Longram" classification which are provided for in said tariff schedules, are just and reasonable; and that such classification, and such charges, regulations, practices, and services, may be unjust and unreasonable, unjustly, unreasonably, or unduly discriminatory, preferential, prejudicial, advantageous, disadvantageous, or otherwise violative of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; and it being the opinion of the Commission that the effective date of said tariff schedules, insofar as they relate to the "Longram" classification of telegraph communications, should be postponed pending hearing and decision on the lawfulness of such classification, and of the related charges, regulations, practices, and services;

It is ordered, That the Commission, upon its own motion, without formal pleading, enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the "Longram" classification of telegraph communications, provided for in the herein above-cited schedules, and of the charges, regulations, practices, and services for and in connection with such "Longram" classification;

It is further ordered, That the operation of the herein above-cited tariff schedules of The Western Union Telegraph Company and of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company (New York), insofar as they provide for the "Longram" classification of telegraph communications, and for charges, regulations, practices, and services for and in connection with such classification, be suspended until further order of the Commission; that the use of the "Longram" classification, and of the charges, regulations, practices, and services for and in connection with such classification, stated in said tariff schedules, be deferred, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission; and that during said period of suspension no changes shall be made in such classification or in the charges, regulations, practices, and services for and in connection with such classification, unless authorized by special permission of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order be filed in the offices of the Federal Communications Commission with said tariff schedules herein suspended in part; that The Western Union Telegraph Company, the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company (New York), and the carrier parties to said tariff schedules be, and they are hereby, each made a party respondent to this proceeding; and that copies hereof be served upon each party respondent;

It is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and the same is hereby, assigned for hearing on the 3rd day of February, 1943, beginning at 10:00 a. m. at the offices of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C.
